Angelism

Angels

The Sin of Descartes is the Sin of Angelism.
"What he saw in man's thought was Independence of Things"

Human Intellect

is the least of the spirits & the most remote from the perfection of the Divine Intelligence

The Angels

"Thinking Substances" -

Pure Subsistent forms.

Do not inform matter

Free from the necessities of Time from Movement from Generation & Corruption from the Divisions of Space from the materiality of Individuation (?) of materia signata

Each concentrates in himself more metaphysical stability (?) than the whole human race together

Each is a specific type, -

- Exhausts the perfection of his essence -

Born for the first moment to the complete fullness of their natural possibilities Incorrupt by definition

Each Transparent to his own glance

? Each with full perception of his own substance by that substance

At a single leap knowing God - by analogy but in what a mirror of splendour.

Their intellect always 'in act' with regard to intelligible objects.

but -

Does not derive itself from things, as does ours, but direct from God, who

So

God infuses his ideas into their intellects when he creates them.

Angelic Knowledge.

These innate ideas are derivations from innate to divine ideas - and because of this their intellect knows created things in the creative light itself rule & measure of all that is

They are in the natural order infallible & even impeccable (considered apart fr. the supernatural end)

Autonomous

Self-sufficing - so far as a creature can be so.

Life is an endless outflow of thought.

Knowledge

will.

without weariness or sleep

Their intellect perceives:-

↳ whole substance of the universe.

↳ in ~~the~~ perfect clearness of intuitions all essences

all laws

... Knowing the power + actions of fire, water, air, the stars, the heavens, all other bodies - as distinctly as workmen their work

Without hands or machines

The masters & possessors of nature

They can play upon nature as on a guitar by modifying the movements of the atoms at will

Method of Thinking

He ~~does not~~ neither reasons nor proceeds by reasoning: he has but one intellectual act, which is at once perceiving + judging -

He sees consequences - not successively from the principle, but immediately in the principle.

He is not subject to the progressive actualization of knowledge which constitutes logical movement properly so called.

If his thought travels it is by intuitive leaps, from perfect act to act, from intelligible fulness to intelligible fullness -

! according to the discontinuity of wholly spiritual Time, which is not a succession of instants without duration.

but-

the permanence of a stable instant which lasts motionless so long as it does not give place to another motionless instant of perception

The INTELLECT of the ANGEL is always " in act " (i.e. not just in potentia) with regard to intelligible objects

but does not derive itself from things , as does ours , but direct from God ..

.. Who infuses ideas into their intellects (not their heads - for they haven't got any ! Ed.) when he creates them .

ANGELIC KNOWLEDGE

These innate ideas are derived from Divine Ideas
- and because of this - the angelic intellect knows created things in the Creative Light itself, rule and measure of all that is .

Considered apart from their supernatural end , they are - in the natural order - infallible and even impeccable.....

autonomous ,

self-sufficing - so far as a creature can be so.

The Life of the Angel is an endless outflow of :

thought ,

knowledge ;

will ;

without weariness or sleep .

Their INTELLECT pierces :- the whole substance of the Universe , in perfect clearness of intuition ,

all essences -

all laws - knowing the powers and action of fire water air , the stars , the heavens , and all other bodies - as distinctly as the workman his work .

Without hands or machines they are the MASTERS and POSSESSORS of nature . And they can play upon Nature , as on a guitar , by modifying the movements of the atoms .

THE ANGELIC MODE OF THINKING

The angels neither reason , nor proceed by reasoning : he has but one intellectual act , which is at once perceiving and judging .

He sees consequences - not successively from the principle , but immediately in the principle .

He is not subject to the progressive actualisation of knowledge which constitutes logical movement properly

If the Angels thought travels it is by intuitive leaps , from perfect act to perfect act , from intelligible fulness to intelligible fulness according to the Discontinuity of Wholly Spiritual Time which is not a succession of instants without duration

but the permanence of a stable instant which lasts motionless so long as it does not give place to another motionless instat of perception .
