

4-7-1933

Spectator 1933-04-07

Editors of The Spectator

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarworks.seattleu.edu/spectator>

Recommended Citation

Editors of The Spectator, "Spectator 1933-04-07" (1933). The Spectator. 9.
<http://scholarworks.seattleu.edu/spectator/9>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by ScholarWorks @ SeattleU. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Spectator by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks @ SeattleU.

~ S P E C T A T O R ~

Vol. 1. No. 4.

Seattle College

Week Ending April 7, 33.

DON'T FORGET DANCE!

1935

ALUMNI MEETING

WELL ATTENDED!

The monthly Alumni meeting was held Sunday, April 2, at the Seattle College High School. After Mass and Communion breakfast was served and the regular meeting was carried on over the coffee cups.

Whether it was due to the beautiful spring morning or to the awakening of the old school spirit, the breakfast was well attended.

The principal business was a discussion of the annual reunion to be held May 8 at St. Joseph's.

Mr. McAteer was appointed chairman of a committee consisting of a member of each graduating class since 1909. The committee has set a goal of 225 members at the reunion.

President Gallagher urged a mouth-to-mouth campaign to insure a record attendance.

The principal speaker was our own Fr. Reidy who gave a resume of the work accomplished by the League of Social Justice, and suggested that the Alumni association adopt this plan as a concrete program for action.

CASABA TOSSERS

GORGE!

The Seattle College basketball team dined at the Wilsonian Hotel the evening of March 30 as the guests of Mr. George Stuntz, Graduate manager, and Fr. Peronteau, Dean of Seattle College. Mr. Walt Gallagher attended and held the stop-watch on the speakers.

After the dinner Fr. Peronteau gave a short talk in which he stated that this was a beginning of the latter half of the ideal of education - a sound mind in a sound body.

Mr. Stuntz, who acted as toastmaster, then spoke briefly, expressing his hopes that the College would regain its former enviable position in Northwest Sports.

Coach Logan summed up the season and commended the team for their faithfulness and sincerity, predicting a very successful season next year.

REPORTER BARRED FROM COURT OF JUSTICE!

In conformance with the policy of giving tomorrow's news today, the Spectator assigned a special correspondent to cover the trial of Julian Marcelino, Seattle's on bid to fame as a crime center.

The reporter left early Tuesday morning, but found thousands there who must have slept there.

But after a process of elbowing and shouldering, our intrepid reporter arrived at the portals of the court - to find it guarded by one of the species of policemen. Assuming a cynical attitude, our news-hound announced that he was a member of the press. The arm of the law demanded credentials and refused to accept three books reports in their stead. So, lighting a Murad, the scribe left with a red face and a dignity that was slightly worn in spots, muttering something about "muzzling the press".

THINGS I NEVER KNEW TILL NOW

SOME CALL IT HUMOR Wit of the Weak

Students living in one of the dormitories at the U of Georgia were recently warned that if they did not refrain from taking so many baths they would be charged an extra fee.

Princeton and Yale have gone on record as opposing water polo, the student papers of the two schools declaring that the game is "too rough and too unhealthy".

Class attendance is considered so important at the U of Maryland that three dollars a cut is charged students.

According to a study made at Dickinson U, students who dance have a seven percent higher grade average than students who don't.

Students of Barnard College have presented college authorities with a petition asking for abolition of the grading system of the college, and the substitution of pass-fail marks only.

A professor at the U of Illinois asserts that men should wear dresses for the sake of health and comfort. Have an orchid, Professor?

Historical note: The earliest system known to science is the loose-leaf system used in the Garden of Eden.

"Ah, my dear young lady!" exclaimed the attendant at the awesome entrance of a silken-hung room. "You wish to consult Madame Maharajah, the great mystic of the Orient?"
"Yep", replied the caller. "Tell her that her kid sister was here and ma says she should get a couple pounds of bologna on her way home".

Tackler: "I say, old top, do you happen to be double jointed in the knee?"

Tackled: "No".

Tackler: "Hm. Then I must have broken your leg".

Overheard at a college dance:

She: "Isn't the floor slippery tonight?"

Sylvester: "No, I just polished my shoes".
(Slap)

"Cache me if you can", remarked the keg of Kentucky brew as it blew out the bung for the third time.

Lucid's theme song:
"There is no objective reality".

Thoughts while drooling: the people next door must be heathens. They've played the Pagan Love Song sixty-four times by actual count. Wonder if any sophomore can eat pork after listening to Hurley and Thompson discuss the process of slaughtering hogs? Ask Sifferman where he was Saturday night. On second thought never mind (I was with him).

The American concept of marriage:

"Say, guy, j'love this girl?"

"Yep, yer honor."

"This your bimbo, girlie?"

"You said a mouthful, judge."

"S'nuff. He's your'n. You're his'n. Ten bucks and take the air on the right. Next!"

Two Jewish boys were sympathizing with each other on the street:

"And anodder thing. I hates to get pimples on my nose becuz dey makes it feel so conspicuous."

As a driver Geis has an advantage over aviators. There is only one logical thing for the pilots to hit, but Geis has an unlimited choice. (And uses it).

STAFF

The Spectator is published once a week by the Associated Students of Seattle College. Persons other than students desiring copies should address the editor.

Executive Editor.....Wendel F. Jahn
Assistant Editor.....Earl Sifferman
Assistant Editor.....Arthur Olmer
Assistant Editor.....Merdie Lecture
Writers--Geis-Casey-Hoeschen-Mc-Claire-Sylvester-Froeloy-Grant
Art work by Francis Townsend.

RADIO CLUB

FLASH-FLASH-FLASH-FLASH-FLASH-FLASH

CASEY SAYS SPRING INFORMAL IMPOSSIBLE

Just before going to press, the Spectator was informed by a member of the dance committee that the Spring Informal in all probability will not be held this year due to the inability of the committee to secure a suitable place to hold the dance at the desired time.

UNNATURAL SCIENCE

Ques. On what does the temperature depend?

Ans. The temperature of a place depends upon the higher and lower positions. If it is too low there will be hot climate--if we dig a deep trench we can at last find fire in it.

So id Cridmad.

Ah, the sprigd,
It is comid.
I know becaud
My node id runnid!

Adyt: Drink old Doc Smoggs Indian bitters--good for man or beast.

At last the long awaited call-letters have arrived. The Club station will be known as W7DAC.

And now we have the pleasure to announce that Earl Sifferman is now a full-fledged ham. His call is W7CZZ. The fly in the ointment however, is that Earl had despaired of an answer to his application, and its unannounced arrival found him unprepared as to receiver, transmitter and powerpack -- not to mention the antenna, so we fear it will be many weeks before our receivers are blocked with his mighty signals.

Other calls received during the week by club members are:
Portable W7CZK -- Carl Robinson
Portable W7DAB -- W.F. Jahn

The following advice is extended to Earl by members of the Club:

Jahn-"Use meters in the proper manner.

Robinson-"Do not place your hands across the output of transformers!"

Gois-"Put up a Hertz"

Martin-"Be careful with the ladder.

Hoeschen-"Lots mooch down to a beer parlor.

The Seattle College Greater Radio Season will be inaugurated during Easter Vacation. A transmitter employing 210 type tubes in push-pull parallel will be brought in and the club members will experiment with a 160 meter phone.

A deplorable discovery was made by Fr. Reidy last Thursday during Religion. There is a racketeer in dear old Alma Mater.

As Father skipped from pupil to pupil with his questions he suddenly ran into a difficulty in this form.

"I have no book, Father."

"Where is your book?"

"I don't know, but I had one."

The same question was put to several more students and he received the same reply.

"What!" cried Father, "Has a thief broken loose in the school?" I certainly can't imagine any boy liking Apologetics so well as to purloin another's book. Surely these books didn't just walk away. Well, how many haven't books?"

Two hands were reluctantly elevated, then another and another until nearly a third of the pupils had their hands in the air.

"It looks like a big day for the book room." Someone said.

"Yes," Replied Fr. Reidy, "Every one of you have a book by next class or don't come back. And now let's get back to the lesson. Again we will have to depend on our old faithful---Freeley, etc., etc.-----

---Lecture & McClaire.

The janitor of the College has spent a great deal of time cleaning up the Campus. Everything that is burnable has been put in a pile and is ready to burn when conditions become favorable.

The aforementioned janitor thinks that St. John's Day would be the opportune time for the fire. Owing to the fact that school will be over by St. John's Day, it is thought best to have the bonfire a day or so before the Spring Informal Dance.

Father Nichols, being asked if he would furnish marshmallows on the day of the fire, remarked that to roast marshmallows was a fine idea but the idea would be still better if someone else furnished them.

If noone else will furnish the marshmallows, why not the school? Dean Peronteau could sell them for a cent a piece and in this way make enough to pay for the postage stamps used in sending overdue tuition notices.

---Grant

"Three-Little Words" is again the theme song-Spring is here! Yes, with poems and bath tubs. If you haven't got a bath tub in your home try a shower, or see a plumber, Ed O'Callaghan will do.

We Wonder--

When John and John, Hoescheh, and Martin will start their tap dancing school....

When Jack Lucid is going to Kirkland...

If John McGliney will be operating a card room and pool hall in the future..

Why McClaire quit wearing rompers....

When Harvey will get engaged....

If Drew and Casey will be "on the water wagon Friday...

If Quimby will ever grow....

When tuition will come down....

How Thompson got that the feminine voice....

If Boyle could play football....

Who Lecture's new blond is....

Where O'Leary got that jacket....

When Donohoe will be on time for class.

When Daubenspeck will take the Freshmen for a cruise...

Who that certain party was that Forrestal was seen with last Friday nite....

---Casey
