Library Phone Teams Make Good Headway

Volumes of every kind and description are pouring into the Seattle College library as the book drive under the auspices of the Alumni Association and headed by Rev. Daniel Reidy, S.J., swings into stride to attain its goal of 5000 volumes needed for accreditation.

"At present the number of volumes received is near the 2000 mark," Father Reidy is quoted as saying, "and we have every hope of reaching our goal."

The following young men and young ladies deserve distinguishing mention for their conscientious efforts in this work, according to Father Reidy: Emmet Freely, Harold Millett, Joe Hurley, Frank O'Leary, and Bernadine Casey, Mary McMullen, Muriel Rivers, and Dorothy Robinson.

A set of Encyclopedia Britannica first American edition and a rare volume, "Vita Washingtonii," written and published in Latin by Francis Glass, were among the valuable volumes received last week.

Patrons procured during the past two weeks include: Catholic Daughters of America, St. Martin's Mothers' Club, Providence Hospital, Sisters of Providence, Providence Hospital School of Nursing, Mrs. Hermina Hambach, Mrs. Flora Bookmeyer, Miss Mary Draham, Miss Margaret McMahon, Mrs. F. Raymond Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Daly, Mrs. David G. Black, Mrs. O. L. Boehm, William Smith, P. H. McMullen, and James E. Martin.

Biology Classes To Be Started

Plans for a course in Biology have been changed to provide the pre-medics students with a class in botany, according to Rev. James B. McGoldrick, S. J., dean. The course will be taught by Paul S. Jorgensen, Ph.D. Father McGoldrick considers the Botany class more practical than the one in Biology. The class will begin April 3, which is the beginning of the Spring Quarter.

"The Monkey's Paw" Will Be Presented By College Players

Play Will Be Given March 16 At St. Joseph's Auditorium

"The Monkey's Paw," a stirring drama in three scenes, will be presented on March 16 at 8:15 o'clock by the Seattle College Dramatic Society. The play is a part of a program arranged for an entertainment to be held in St. Joseph's School Auditorium on St. Patrick's Day.

The story, a baffling mystery by W. W. Jacobs, a noted English author, promises to be extremely interesting, and is the first of its kind to be attempted by the Seattle College players.

Rev. John A. Concannon, S.J., director of the production, expects the play to be the best of any yet attempted. He said that the actors themselves would be well polished in their lines by the night of the play and will have mastered the action completely.

The cast has been chosen, and will consist of the following:

Mr. White, Francis Townsend; Mrs. White, Angela Young; Herbert, Leo Sebastian; Sergeant-Major Morris, Frank Harrington; Mr. Sampson, Morgan Boyle.

Two New Professors Will Augment College Faculty

Announcement was made early this week by the Reverend James B. McGoldrick, S.J., that the college faculty will be augmented by two professors at the beginning of the Spring Quarter.

Rev. Maurice Flaherty, S.J., will be dean of the School of Education. Father Flaherty studied at Valkenburg, Innsbruck, and Louvain.

Mr. Paul S. Jorgensen, formerly of the faculty of the University of Washington will head the new course in Botany.

Kelly Taken With Appendicitis

Dan Kelly, a popular student of Seattle College, was stricken early last week with acute appendicitis and was removed to Harborview Hospital, according to reports received at the college. His case became serious when complications set in, but he is now reported as resting easily and is believed to be out of danger.

EDITORIAL

At the student body meeting last week, announcement was made that a dance or spring informal was to be held by the school sometime in April. Now, the students should not just let it go at that and take it for granted that there will be a dance. The idea of announcing this at the meeting at such an early date is to give you fellows enough time to talk it over among yourselves and to decide just what kind of an affair you want, where it will be held, what orchestra will be hired, and all the other particulars necessary, so that when the next student body meeting is held there will be no time wasted in arguing a point which no one has given any consideration. That is one of the reasons why there has been so little done at any of the former meetings. If the students had talked over matters to be considered beforehand, all the business of the group could be quickly and conveniently cleared up in the allotted time. As it is, a good percentage of the students come in and debate every point brought up, and they are just the ones who know the least. So, remember, a little outside discussion can clear all this up.

The Student Observer

By BILL JAHN

Student body elections are less than two months away. The constitution of the associated students provides that nominations for student body offices for the succeeding schol year should be held during the first week in May and the election during the second week. The office of president of the student body is open only to seniors.

No candidates have as yet announced their intention to run for office, but it isn't at all hard to see who is best fitted for the office. A personal selection would be Emmet Freeley. Freeley has perhaps shown more school spirit and organizing ability this year than any other student, with the possible exception of Wendel Shay, the present student president.

A student with high scholastic standing, he has distinguished himself by his work in the dramatic society, as charman of the winter informal, as a member of Father Reidy's book drive phone team, and as a member of the business and editorial staffs of the Spectator. Popular both with the regular students and the young ladies of the afternoon classes, Freeley seems an ideal selection for next year's student body president.

Speaking of the extension students brings up another interesting point in regard to the student election. Are extension students qualified to vote? Inasmuch as they form such an essential element in the various social and group activities of the students, and are subject to all the duties and obligations of the regular students, it would certainly seem that they are entitled to participation in the privileges and honors of student government.

From Centralia Five, 23-18

Displaying the fire and the will to win that has been lacking in the past, the Seattle College Maroon made it two in a row over a stubborn Centralia five last Saturday night at Centralia, and wound up the season in a bitterly contested overtime period.

The college took an early lead only to drop it and lag 11-8 at half time. Coming back strongly in the second half, however, the boys knotted the count at 11-all and then went into the lead 14-12. The Jaysees tied it up and then went into the lead 17-14, only to have Conyne tie it up again with a basket and a free throw.

With three minutes to go, Hurley was fouled, but missed the free throw. The game ended at 17-17.

Finn started out the overtime session with a toss from mid-floor and immediately followed with another, and just before the final whistle, Olmer bagged a cripple to cinch the game.

Conyne, Olmer, and Finn, who was high with 10 points, looked good for College.

INTER-CLASS GAMES GETTING UNDER WAY

Basketball season now drawn to a close, the interest of the students has turned this week to the inter-class tournament which is being staged at the Knights of Columbus Gym.

Advance dope favors the Junior class to cop the school title. They will be represented by Joe Hurley, captain of the '34 Maroon quintet, Art Olmer, Earl Sifferman, Johnny Geis, and Emmet Freeley.

The main hope of the sophs is Jimmie Finn. The lad who was the high scorer for the Maroon will be assisted by Cad Corrigan, "Shine" Steele, Bill McClaire, John McGinley, and Jim Casey. There is a possibility that "Scooter" Quimby will be brought in as a "ringer" for the sophs, according to their coach, Jack Gallagher.

The frosh have the biggest squad in the school. Five members of the college team compose their starting lineup. They are Fred Collins, Jimmy Rothstein, Herb Conyne, Ed Mayovsky, and Bob Smith. The outfit will be backed by Charlie Aicher, Ed Schade, Leo Sebastian, and possibly Don Tobin.

All games will be played at the K. of C. Gym, and there will be no charge for admission.

College Maroon Squad 30-29

Fresh from a victory over their Centralia opponents three weeks ago, the Seattle College Maroon traveled to Mount Vernon on February 24 attempting to upset the dope bucket by taming the up-staters. However, the Mount Vernon squad, led by Ronholt, who bagged 15 points, again took the collegians to camp to the tune of 29-30.

Getting off to a slow start, the Maroon came back late in the first half to lead the Mount Vernon quintet 13-8 at the half. At the start of the final quarter the boys were still in the lead, when the up-staters began to go to work. Slowly but surely a five point lead was overcome and, as the final whistle sounded, Mount Vernon was on the long end of a 30-29 score.

Luncheon And Birthday Party To Be Held By Mother's Club

Members of the Seattle College Mothers' Club from the parish of the Immaculate Conception will sponsor a luncheon on March 13 at the Helen Malloy Tea Room in Rhodes Department Store.

Mrs. K. Logan and Mrs. F. Petschl are co-chairmen for the day. The returns will go toward making the quota needed to meet the interest payment due on the Garrigan Gymnasium.

Plans were also discussed at the last meeting for the tenth annual birthday party to be held April 27 at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Financial Report, Informal, Discussed As Students Meet

Discussion of the assembly of March 1 hinged on the detailed financial report of the account of the Associated Students of Seattle College as read by John Martin, chairman of the auditing committee. At the conclusion of the ensuing arguments the report was approved by the students.

The meeting closed with the request from the chair that thought be devoted to the coming Spring Informal in order that definite plans might be made at the next meeting.

Immediately after the meeting were held the semi-finals of the Sodality Oratorical Contest.

College Students And Alumni To Aid In St. Margaret's Play

"The peppiest meeting of the year" was the comment of several attendants after the alumni meeting last Sunday. Over fifty faithfuls enjoyed the hearty breakfast. ### Trials For Weber Debate Held At Weekly Meetings

Tryouts are being held at the weekly meetings of the debating society to determine the most capable debaters to represent the school against the team from Weber College, which won the Pacific Coast championship at Spokane two weeks ago.

The topic for the debate, which will be held late this month at the Knights of Columbus Hall, will be, Resolved, that the increased powers of the president should be made permanent.

"This is a subject of timely importance," says Mr. Carmody, S.J., director of the debating society, "and will afford sufficient controversy to assure an interesting debate."
