Student Book Drive Lags; Two Thousand Books Needed

Failure on the part of the students to work on the book drive during the past week makes it necessary to extend the drive for at least another week, possibly more, according to Rev. Daniel Reidy, S.J.

At present the number of volumes received totals 2800. These are almost entirely from friends outside the College. The drive was opened last week to the student body to be put over the top with the remaining 2500 volumes.

"Any student who fails to do his or her part when the future standing of Seattle College hangs in the balance, cannot lay claim to a semblance of college spirit and might even deserve the uncomplimentary term of 'slacker'," said Father Reidy.

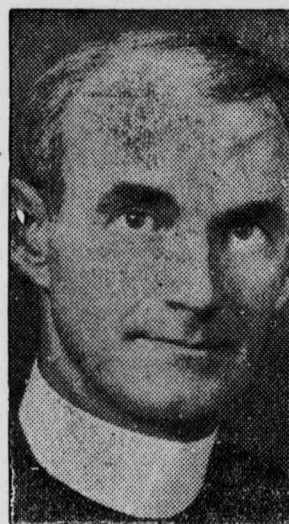

These students have contributed money or books to merit the title library patrons:

Appointment of Rev. John S. Balfe, S.J., as president of Seattle College to succeed Rev. John A. McHugh, S.J., was made known last week with the arrival of Father Balfe. The appointment was received from the Rome offices of the Very Rev. Wlodimir Ledochowski, general of the Jesuit order.

Father Balfe is a native of this state. He was born in Sprague in 1890, and educated in public and parochial schools there and at Gonzaga University. He entered the Society of Jesus in 1914 and studied at Los Gatos, California, and at Mount St. Michael's, Spokane.

The new president was formerly on the faculty of the University of San Francisco. He spent two years in Naples, Italy, studying theology. After being graduated from Woodstock College, Maryland, he was ordained by Archbishop Curley in 1927.

Father Balfe will also take over the office of superior of Jesuits in Seattle.

Father McHugh who has been pastor of St. Joseph's Church here in addition to being president of the college, will continue as pastor of that Church.

Dinner Planned For Next Week To Honor Basketball Players

Featuring the awarding of letters to the players, the annual basketball dinner will be held some evening next week in the Knights of Columbus Clubrooms. This announcement was made yesterday by George Stuntz, director of athletics, who with Walt Gallagher and Bernard Monohan is in charge of arrangements.

Students, alumni and friends of the college who wish to attend may do so provided they phone for reservations at the Knights of Columbus. The dinner will be fifty cents per plate.

Sand Point Chosen For Spring Dance; Bob White's Music

Hurley Demands Heavy Advance Ticket Sales To Assure Success

By BOB SMITH

Striving to present something unique and unusual in the form of entertainment, the students of Seattle College will present their Spring Informal on Saturday, May 5, at the scenic Sand Point Golf and Country Club.

The committee has been fortunate in securing for that evening the services of Bob White's Orchestra fresh from the triumphs of a series of University sorority and fraternity formals. The orchestra consists of six pieces including an excellent vocalist. A few novelty numbers are being arranged for the intermission.

The Country Club is situated approximately a mile from the city limits, overlooking Lake Washington. Being away from the noise and hurry of the city and yet easily accessible the spot is ideal for such a dance as this.

In a Student Body meeting held Friday, the 13th, Joseph Hurley, Chairman of the committee in charge of the dance urged a concerted drive for the entire student body for the advance ticket sale.

"This Informal," said Mr. Hurley, "like all spring dances held out of town, must depend almost entirely for its success on the early sale of tickets. Due to the changeable weather, we can expect very few to attend who have not previously purchased tickets. The key note of the Informal, will not be the size but the quality of the affair. The committee is exerting every effort to make this not the biggest but the finest, most enjoyable function of the year."

Dancing will commence at 9:30 and the tickets are one dollar per couple.

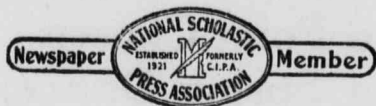

Showing Of "Broken Dishes" Postponed Until May 18

Friday evening, May 18 is the date definitely announced for "Broken Dishes," the next production of the Seattle College Dramatic Society. The play will be presented in the auditorium of St. Joseph's School.

Instead of having two complete casts as previously planned, there will be but one, according to Rev. John Concannon, S. J., director.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE—

To the students of Seattle College:

I have received the pleasing and encouraging information that the present school year has thus far been highly successful.

The advances made along many lines, the broadening of the curriculum, and above all the industry, enthusiasm and loyalty of professors and students alike, mark the year as well nigh epoch-making in the history of Seattle College.

May this high spirit endure so that the good work may continue. Your college years are as important as any other years of life, perhaps more so. As you are trained, and as you cooperate in this training, so you will face and master the problems and difficulties, spiritual and material, of the future.

Continue then, your keen interest in your work so that with God's help not only this year's labor but that your entire college course may return you the profit, the skill and the power it is destined to give you.

With all good wishes,

Fr. Rector

Rev. John J. Balfe, S.J.

SNAP SHOTS

By ART OLMER

They tell us that Mary Jo Welch has developed a strange aversion to radiator caps—especially if they happen to be rolling down stairs.

And, lest we forget, Earl Sifferman sailed last Saturday night for Alaska. When you next encounter him, he will probably be nattily attired in sailor togs. Bon Voyage, Siff!

Wendell Shay's attitude of cool indifference in the presence of the unfair sex nearly made him the object of the plottings of three charmers last week. This is probably news to him, and we'll suppress the rest because we have, among other things, scruples.

* * *

We hear that Dorothy Robinson has the school giggling championship in the bag, although there is still an outside chance for Betty Williams to catch up.

* * *

Ruth Wegner just stopped to glare and remark that if some people lived up to their ideals they would be stooping. But we don't mind—we've been glared at by artists.

* * *

And Daubenspeck says that he may put his money under the pillow every night, but that doesn't mean that he has enough to retire on.

* * *

Besides being a bridge addict, Johnny Geis plays a fair golf game—that is, it's fair if you watch him.

* * *

We wonder—what Betty McConnell did with her velocipede . . . if McMullen has been making any more promises . . . if Marge O'Neill really does go for crooners?

The girls are always complaining that they have so little to wear—and at the K. C. Frolic last Friday they seemed to be wearing it.

* * *

They tell me that when Al Steele goes to a party it's always in front of somebody's house, not in it.

And Leo Sebastian is back in the fold. After talking for ten minutes about one of the sights he saw on his trip, he concluded by saying that it left him speechless.

Support the Spectator! Patronize those business men who by their advertising make the Spectator possible. All of them are friends of the College, and many are alumni as well. Next year we are planning to enlarge the paper if possible, and this means we must depend for even greater support from our advertisers. Show those who make the Spectator possible, that you appreciate their interest by supporting them. Mention the Spectator when you trade with them.

Next week the Vincentian Players offer their first presentation, "Is Zat So," at the Moore Theatre. The St. Vincent de Paul society has assisted generously in the collection of books in the Seattle College book drive, and deserve the full support of the students for this reason alone, aside from any other motive. Buy a ticket if it is at all possible, and help along the good work of the St. Vincent de Paul society.

Alumni News

Now for the Big Reunion on May 6th! Those who have lost contact with former classmates will see them there. Those who want to help Seattle College may do so by merely being there. We're on parade that morning—let's make it a big one.

* * *

Henry Ivers wouldn't miss our monthly meeting—even if he had to swim there. The three Cains, Joe, Alec, and Steve were Abel to hear Father Flaherty talk. Tom Duffy's sport shoes added to the appearance of a real sport—yes, Tom never misses the opportunity to help his Alma Mater.

And look at this list of some of those who volunteered to put the May Reunion across: Geo. McAteer, Geo. Stuntz, Dr. Fitzmaurice, Steve Cain, Virg Keller, John Wall, Vin Ley, Bud Lockwood, Bernie Monohan, Henry Ivers, and Geo. Morry.

The first Sunday in May is the big date. Talk it up! Let's make it the biggest yet.

Swim Classes Open To Students

Swimming classes are being held every week at Crystal Pool under the direction of Francis Walterskirchen, Seattle Prep school athletic coach. College students are invited to join the class and may bring a friend if they so wish, according to Mr. Walterskirchen. A nominal charge of one dollar will be made for the course. This will include seven classes. The student has his choice of swimming, diving, and life-saving instructions, or, he may merely go down for the swim.

Pulling a big surprise last Friday, Two-hig's Tigers knocked the Cookies galley west in a wild game 15-14. The Tigers went on a batting spree in the third inning to score 12 runs, and knocking Gallagher from the hill with a barrage of base blows.

The Cookies kept pecking away in the later innings trying to overcome the Tiger lead. In the last inning they scored three runs and had the bases full when Conyne grounded out to short to end the game.

Since the Cookies' defeat the pennant chase has been tightened up and Frank Woods' club may go into the lead this week.

McGinley is looking for a pitcher and some infield help to bolster his squad and make it a race.

Collins gave Dobler a scare when he held him to a 21-19 score.

Sebastian, seeded number 3, and who drew a bye until the quarter final round will meet either Daubenspeck or Wall.
