President's Inaugural

AS CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES AND BY VIRTUE OF THE POWERS AND AUTHORITY VESTED IN ME BY SAID BOARD, I NOW CONFER UPON YOU, KENNETH WARD BAKER, THE OFFICE OF PRESIDENT OF SEATTLE UNIVERSITY.

WE ASSIGN YOU, THEREFORE, ALL THE AUTHORITY, PRIVILEGES AND POWERS WHICH ACCORDING TO OUR STATUTES ARE PROPER TO THAT OFFICE AND ITS RESPONSIBILITIES. THESE WE CONFER UPON YOU IN THE NAME OF THE FATHER, THE SON AND THE HOLY SPIRIT. WE ASK THE DIVINE WISDOM TO GUIDE YOU IN ALL WAYS IN THE FULFILLMENT OF THIS OFFICE.

GIVEN AND EXECUTED IN THE CITY OF SEATTLE, IN THE STATE OF WASHINGTON ON THIS SEVENTH DAY OF JUNE IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY.

The Presidential Medallion

In ceremonial use for the first time at today's inauguration is a new presidential medallion, the badge of office henceforth to be worn by University presidents on formal academic occasions.

Designed by Robert Matthiesen, the medallion is triangular, carrying forward the motif of the University mace, and symbolizing both the Triune God and the triality of man, creature of body, mind and spirit.

The front surface of the medallion is of etched bronze and carries elements of the University seal. At the top are the letters IHS, drawn from the Greek spelling of Jesus and especially appropriate to the University which is conducted by the Society of Jesus. The American eagle and shield signify the relationship of the University to the nation it serves.

Two wolves hovering over a large pot symbolize the generosity of the house of Loyola, family of the founder of the Society of Jesus, and seven diagonal stripes indicate awards for valor made to the family.

In the lower portion, the crescent is the sign of the Immaculate Conception, patroness of the University; the evergreen tree represents the state in which it is located; and the tepee commemorates Chief Seattle, whose name the University and the city in which it is located both bear.

The reverse side of the medallion is of sterling silver and is engraved with the name of the University in Latin and the date of its founding. Reinhold Eichhorn crafted the metal and engraved the letters.

Charge to the Graduates

In response to a special charge which will be given to them by Very Reverend Kenneth W. Baker, S.J., President of Seattle University, the graduates will recite in unison the following pledge:

WITH A SOLEMN SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY

I PLEDGE MYSELF

TO HOLD MY DEGREE

AS A SACRED TRUST

WITH UNTARNISHED HONOR TO MYSELF

IN GENEROUS LOYALTY TO ALMA MATER

AND WITH FIDELITY TO MY FELLOW MEN

TO MY COUNTRY

AND TO MY GOD.

Award

PRESIDENT'S AWARD

NORMAN B. STOUGH

Awarded to the graduating senior who has maintained the highest scholarship throughout four years.

The President's Award

A new symbol of outstanding academic achievement, the President's Award, replaces the traditional President's Cup beginning with this year's Commencement exercises.

The award, to be given annually to the top student in the graduating class, consists of a medallion, to be hung around the recipient's neck at Commencement, and a base to which the medallion can be permanently mounted, forming an attractive and useful desk set.

The medallion is composed of polished walnut with two stainless steel faces. Engraved upon one face is the seal of the University and upon the other a sketch of the tower of the Liberal Arts Building, best known architectural symbol of the University.

Upon the base are mounted an engraved stainless steel plate bearing these words: "1970—For Outstanding Scholarship" with the recipient's name, and a pen.

Academic Costume

The caps, gowns and hoods universally worn by faculties and candidates for degrees at graduating exercises are a costume dating back to the Twelfth Century. In medieval days the scholars were clerics; the buildings were cold; capes and hoods were required for warmth, and robes of scholars were similar to the cassocks of the clerics.

In the course of years of development, caps with tassels have replaced capes for the head covering, the hooded cape has been modified into the present hood, and the gowns with long flowing sleeves have been redesigned to indicate the character of the degree of the wearer. In 1893, a student movement in the United States endorsed academic apparel as overcoming awkwardness and difference in dress at graduation exercises and resulted in a standardization of academic costume in this country.

The Intercollegiate Code, adopted in 1895, recognizes three styles of gowns: a bachelor's gown, a master's gown, and a doctor's gown. The differences in these gowns are mainly in the cut and shape of the sleeves and in the trimming. Hoods are also recognized for each of the above degrees and vary in shape, size and length. The shell of the hood matches the black material of the gown, and is lined with the color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. The velvet bordering of the hood is of a color indicative of the field of learning to which the degree pertains. The Oxford cap, proper for all degrees, is worn both indoors and outdoors with academic costume. The tassel, worn over the left eye once the degree is conferred, is also symbolic of the degree and conforms to the code of colors for hood trimming. Prior to the actual conferring of the degree the tassel is worn over the right eye. Holders of doctor's degrees are entitled to wear a gold tassel. The tassel of a bachelor's degree indicates the field in which the degree is granted. The color for each field of learning follows:

Arts, Letters and Humanities	White	Laws	Purple
Business	Olive Drab	Library Science	Lemon
Dentistry	Lilac	Medicine	Green
Economics	Copper	Music	Pink
Education	Ice Blue	Nursing	Apricot
Engineering	Orange	Philosophy	Dark Blue
Fine Arts	Brown	Physical Education	Sage Green
Journalism	Crimson	Science	Golden Yellow
		Theology and Divinity	Scarlet
