Honorary Degrees

SHIRLEY B. GORDON

Shirley B. Gordon, you are a woman whose commitment to education has enriched the lives of many.

Throughout your career as a science teacher, a university professor, a college administrator and now a college president, you have devoted your life's work to learning.

As President of Highline Community College since 1976, you have led that institution to new levels of achievement, quality and growth.

You have been recognized as an educational leader in the state of Washington and the nation through your service as President of the Washington Association of Community Colleges; and as a member of the Board of Directors for the American Association of Community Colleges.

For several years you have served as a vital member of the National Commission for Excellence in Education, the group whose findings and recommendations have roused the consciousness of America and given us a new hope for revitalizing our educational systems.

Upon you, Shirley B. Gordon, Seattle University proudly confers the degree, Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

JOEL PRITCHARD

Joel Pritchard, you are a public official whose work has been marked by integrity, compassion and strength.

As a member of the Congress of the United States since 1972, your exemplary service has reflected a deep understanding and respect for the sacred trust placed in you by the voters.

Your far-reaching efforts in foreign affairs, especially Asian affairs, has brought us new understanding of the critical need to learn about and work together with our Pacific Rim neighbors.

As one of only four congressmen chosen to serve on the National Commission on Neighborhoods, your efforts brought to the attention of the country the vital need to retain the strengths of our communities.

For those of us in the state of Washington, your service on Congressional committees for the environment, for wildlife conservation, for fisheries, and for the oceans have demonstrated your deep and careful concern for the way of life we cherish in the Northwest today; and, indeed, for our very future.

Upon you, Joel Pritchard, Seattle University proudly confers the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

JOHN D. PHILLIPS

John D. Phillips, you are a leader whose dedication to independent higher education in America has helped ensure our educational progress and diversity.

Your role as a voice for independent colleges and universities has enabled this sector to remain a strong and vital part of America's unique, pluralistic educational system.

As President of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, you have guaranteed thousands of students a continuing opportunity for choice between independent and state supported institutions when they make that most important decision of which college to attend.

You have worked tirelessly throughout your distinguished career for the well-being of students. First, as a professor and administrator at Lewis and Clark College; as an executive for the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Seattle and Washington, D.C.; and as President of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities since 1976.

All of us in the Northwest and throughout the country are grateful for your efforts to influence and enlighten others to the enduring value and countless contributions of the nation's first institutions of higher learning, the independent colleges and universities of America.

Upon you, John D. Phillips, Seattle University proudly confers the degree, Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.
