Honorary Degrees

HENRY J. CASEY

Henry J. Casey, you have been a leader throughout your long and distinguished life in identifying the needs of society and taking action to help to make our lives and society better.

You have served as a role model to countless Americans as a preserver of the democratic ideals of dedication, freedom and patriotism, at a time in our country's history when these are being challenged.

Knowing the special needs of youths without both parents, you joined your family in establishing the respected Casey Family Program. Now more than twenty years in existence, the Program coordinates the long-term placement of foster children.

Through your extraordinary support of higher education, especially in the Pacific Northwest, you have improved the quality of education by creating an environment in which better teaching and learning can take place. We at Seattle University are especially proud of your long time association with our school. Before the turn of the century, you attended church in the Garrard Building, the first building on the Seattle University campus and, at the period, the location of Immaculate Conception Church.

Therefore, in recognition of all these accomplishments, upon you, Henry J. Casey, Seattle University proudly confers the degree, Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

LAURA EDWARDS

Laura Edwards, you are a spiritual leader of great influence among Native American tribes.

You have been called "the spiritual heart of your people," and, at age 90, you continue to combine your active Christian faith with the spiritual heritage and customs of the native Seowyn religion.

Because of your understanding of the tribal culture and your wisdom in bridging the gap to the dominant American culture, you are a trusted and revered elder whose advice is sought throughout Puget Sound and British Columbia.

As a community leader, you have served on the Tribal Senate Health, Education and Social Services Committee and on the Tribal Enrollment Committee. You remain a member of the Skagit County Council on Aging, a VISTA volunteer to the Small Tribes of Western Washington, and a Cultural Advisor for the Burke Museum.

Therefore, in recognition of all these accomplishments, upon you, Laura Edwards, Seattle University proudly confers the degree, Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

LAURA WILBUR

Laura Wilbur, you have worked tirelessly to preserve traditional Native American culture and improve the lives of your people.

At age 85, you remain a powerful leader in all decisions that affect the good of Native Americans in the Northwest.

You inspire all of us with your dedication and commitment to influencing federal policy to preserve tribal government and sovereignty, and improving educational opportunities for Swinomish Tribe youth and community health and beautification.

Through your current role a board member of the Northwest Washington Service Unit Indian Health Board and the Washington State Centennial Commission Indian Committee, you continue to make significant contributions.

Therefore, in recognition of all these accomplishments, upon you, Laura Wilbur, Seattle University proudly confers the degree, Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

GERALD P. MURPHY, M.D.

Gerald P. Murphy, you have dedicated your life to the health and well-being of all Americans.

Your current position as Chief Medical Officer of the American Cancer Society is the culmination of your years of cancer research and care of those burdened with this disease. Now, you have national and world-wide responsibility for all medical professional activities of the American Cancer Society, including funding research.

As an educator for many years at Niagara University and at the State University of New York at Buffalo, you have shared your knowledge and dedication with the next generation of health care providers and researchers. A 1955 graduate of Seattle University, you completed your own medical training at the University of Washington and Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Therefore, in recognition of all these accomplishments, upon you, Gerald P. Murphy, M.D., Seattle University proudly confers the degree, Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.
