President's Message

Dear Graduates,

On the occasion of this commencement in the 104th year in the history of Seattle University, I want to express my congratulations to each and every member of the Class of 1995.

You have brought the spirit of learning and of service to our campus during these past years. Your diploma represents a great personal achievement. It also represents wonderful potential for leadership and service in the future.

The Class of '95 is blessed with individuals whose accomplishments have drawn recognition as candidates and finalists for academic honors, including the Truman Scholarship, the Mellon Fellowship and the Marshall Fellowship. Graduate study destinations include Stanford Law School, Fordham University, Duquesne University, Columbia University, Cornell University, and Louvain University in Belgium.

While I am proud of the accomplishments of these graduates, I am equally heartened by the academic journey experienced by each and every student, undergraduates and graduates alike, to fulfill the goal of earning a degree.

I sincerely hope you will view this commencement day not as an end to your association with Seattle University, but as a day to commence a new relationship with your alma mater.

Together with the outstanding faculty and staff who have accompanied you on this journey, I offer to each of you my very best wishes and the promise of my prayers today and tomorrow.

Sincerely,

William J. Sullivan, SJ
President

A Graduation to Remember

Seattle University

From humble beginnings 104 years ago, Seattle University is now the largest independent institution in the Northwest. More than 6,000 students are enrolled in 49 undergraduate and 22 graduate programs, including a doctoral program in educational leadership.

The 46-acre campus on Seattle's First Hill has the atmosphere of a small college. Teaching is the faculty's priority at Seattle University. Low student-to-faculty ratios and caring attitudes ensure that faculty members are readily available to students.

As an institution of higher learning, Seattle University's objective and purpose include the discussion, interpretation, and transmission of knowledge, ideas and values.

Under the auspices of the Society of Jesus, Seattle University supports Christian ideals and values. It affirms the belief in unity and totality of all human knowledge, whether experiential, speculative, or divinely revealed. As a community inspired with the Spirit of Christ, the campus atmosphere encourages the development of an unbiased, liberated, and enlightened intelligence in its faculty and student body.

One of 28 Jesuit colleges in the United States, Seattle University offers a broadly based academic program, including a strong liberal arts core curriculum that prepares students for community service and personal fulfillment, as well as professional success.

One of Seattle University's marks of distinction is the nation's first graduate program in software engineering. The university is also known for innovative undergraduate programs, such as the nation's first addiction studies program and the first undergraduate program in environmental engineering in the Northwest.

The true measure of the university's excellence is the success of our graduates. Seattle University's alumni includes distinguished individuals in business, public affairs, education, the performing arts, athletics, and other fields.

The History of the Graduation Cap and Gown

American academic costume (also referred to as academic "dress" or "regalia") had its origins in the ancient European universities. Apparently it was devised to distinguish academic persons such as doctor, licentiates, masters and bachelors from other parts of the population. Gowns probably were a necessity because of unheated buildings, and hoods were needed to cover the heads of medieval scholars. Most universities issued strict regulations concerning the design and use of academic dress.

As they were founded, American colleges and universities inevitably adopted the gown, hood and cap from their European antecedents. Although some common standards and practices were observed, no uniform code or system existed until late in the 19th century.

The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap and the hood. The flowing gown comes from the 12th century. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing underneath. It is black for all degrees, with pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree; long closed sleeves for the master's degree; and round open sleeves for the doctorate degree. The gown worn for the bachelor's or master's degree has no trimmings. The gown for the doctorate degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains.

The wearing of the cap was a privilege won by freed slaves in ancient Rome, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book, although some authorities claim that the mortar board or cap is a symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. The color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline.

Heraldically the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university from which the degree was granted. The length of the hood varies by academic degree. The hood for the doctorate degree is the only one with panels at the sides.

Mary Maxwell Gates

Mary Maxwell Gates, wife, mother, civic leader, and volunteer, was the consummate community servant.

A lifelong resident of Seattle, Mary Gates nurtured her family, including three children, and at the same time devoted herself to voluntarism. She served the Junior League, Children's Orthopedic Hospital as board member and chair, and the United Way of King County where she became the organization's first woman president. In 1983 she was named the first woman to chair the National United Way's executive committee.

Mary Gates was the first woman director of First Interstate Bank of Washington and only the fifth woman to serve as a University of Washington regent, where she served for 18 years until she stepped down due to illness.

At a critical time in the organization's development, Mary Gates took the helm of Washington Gives, a civic project that urges citizens to commit to voluntarism. In 1991, due primarily to her civic contributions, the Gates' were named Philanthropic Family of the Year by Washington Gives.

Mary Gates helped launch Leadership Tomorrow and served on the boards of directors of Uniguard Security, U.S. West, Seattle Symphony, KIRO-TV, and the Children's Hospital Foundation.

Mary Gates died in the summer of 1994. But in gratitude for her service and in honor of her lifelong dedication to her community, Seattle University proudly confers, posthumously, the degree doctor of humanities, honoris causa.

Reverend William E. Hayes, S.J.

The Reverend William E. Hayes, of the Society of Jesus, you have a distinguished record as an educator and academic administrator through your extraordinary career as a leader of Jesuit secondary education in the Northwest.

A native of Seattle, you earned degrees from Gonzaga University and Santa Clara University.

You began your career in secondary schools as vice principal of Jesuit High School in Portland. Your tenure as principal and later president of Gonzaga Preparatory School in Spokane from 1971 to 1976 was distinguished by innovative change. Under your leadership the number of lay faculty doubled, and the institution became co-educational. Meanwhile, the authentic Jesuit spirit was heightened.

From 1977 to 1982 you served Seattle University as executive assistant to the president and as vice president for administration.

You served as pastor of Seattle's St. Joseph's Parish from 1982 to 1984.

You became president of Jesuit High School eleven years ago and the school has experienced significant growth and development since that time. In 1993 Jesuit High School became a co-ed institution. Under your leadership, more than $12 million has been raised to support campus improvements.

Your association with Jesuit educational institutions extends beyond administrative posts. You have been a leader for many years in the Jesuit Secondary Education Association. You are a past trustee of Seattle Preparatory School and Gonzaga University.

You are celebrating your 50-year Jubilee as a Jesuit this year.

Therefore, in recognition of your accomplishments as an educator, administrator, civic leader, and your unflinching service to the Society of Jesus, upon you, William E. Hayes, S.J., Seattle University proudly confers the degree of doctor of humanities, honoris causa.

Denise Levertov

Denise Levertov, your writing during the past half-century has established you as a world-renowned poet. You have published more than 20 books. Your poems and essays have also been published in countless literary journals.

Your poetic theories are quoted by fellow practitioners. You have influenced many aspiring writers through your teachings. Your essay, "Some Notes on Organic Form," is said to present one of the clearest sets of directions for writing a poem.

You have translated poetry from several languages, enabling people the world over to enjoy the beauty of rhythmic language from other cultures.

Your concern for natural beauty, for justice among peoples, and for the sacred in human life has been at the heart of your poetry.

Your life journey and religious search have taken you from your native England to New York City, to campuses across the United States, and, in recent years to the Northwest.

Your work has been recognized by a number of literary awards including the National Institute of Arts and Letters Award, the Longview Award, and the Farnum Prize.

Therefore, in recognition of your accomplishments as a poet, storyteller, and educator, upon you, Denise Levertov, Seattle University proudly confers the degree of doctor of humanities, honoris causa.

Lenny Wilkens

Lenny Wilkens, your career as a collegiate athlete, a professional basketball player and coach, and as a generous friend and citizen, is evidence of your athletic skills, of your ability to extract the best from others, and your humane character.

You demonstrated your abilities as an outstanding collegiate basketball star. You continued to excel in the National Basketball Association.

You participated in a total of nine All-Star games as a player. You were elected to the National Basketball Hall of Fame as a player in 1988.

You have enjoyed unparalleled success during your NBA coaching career, which started in Seattle.

You coached the Seattle SuperSonics to a national championship in 1979. You have competed in the most games as an NBA player or coach. You were chosen as NBA Coach of the Year in 1993-1994.

You served as assistant coach of the USA's 1992 Olympics Dream Team that won a gold medal. You have been named head coach of the 1996 US Olympic basketball team.

Your 939th victory during your 22nd season as a coach in the NBA makes you the league's winningest coach.

You have been very active and supportive of community and civic activities, particularly those involving children, including the Board of Children's Education Foundation, the Boys and Girls Club in Atlanta, the Georgia Center for Children and the Odessa Brown Clinic in Seattle. From 1982 to 1987 you served on Seattle University's board of trustees.

Therefore, in honor of your accomplishments as a student-athlete, a professional basketball player and coach, and as a resident of western Washington where your commitment to your family and your community is well-known and evident through your support of local organizations and institutions, upon you, Lenny Wilkens, Seattle University proudly confers the degree of doctor of humanities, honoris causa.

Richard P. Hickey Award

Recipient: Catherine Ann Jack

Awarded to the outstanding student in the College of Arts and Sciences. Selection is based upon the student's total contribution to academic life and is made by the department chairs and program directors of the college. The award honors the memory of Dr. Richard P. Hickey, professor of English, a beloved and respected teacher at the university from 1947 until his death in 1968.

School of Science and Engineering

Kathleen Mailer, PhD, Dean

Reverend Edmund B. McNulty, SJ, Award

Recipient: Kylie Katsumi Yamatsuka

Awarded to the outstanding graduating engineering student, judged on the qualifications of scholarship, leadership, dedication and inspiration. The award honors the memory of Father Edmund McNulty, founding dean of the School of Science and Engineering.

John S. Ju Award

Recipient: Angi Long

Awarded to the graduating science student who exudes the same profound joy and wonder at new ideas, curiosity to pursue the unknown, and ability to integrate and apply knowledge exhibited by John S. Ju of the class of 1987, whose enthusiasm for learning inspired his peers and teachers to use and appreciate their own intellectual talents.

Matteo Ricci College Award for Excellence

Recipient: Jennifer Claire Cam

Awarded to the student who most closely realizes the Matteo Ricci College ideal; one who marvels at the wealth of human experience, yet wonders at its meaning; is open to diverse explanations, yet demands critical reflection; acknowledges any truth, yet questions its value and relevance; serves the human community, yet asks whether its values accord with the continuing revelation of the divine to humanity.
