Credit Unions Prove
Worth of Co-operatives;
Have Good Start Here

T. M. Donahoe, state supervisor of savings and loan associations, has just released figures showing eighty-six credit unions in operation in the State of Washington at the close of 1936. In the two years ending Dec. 31, 1936, membership increased from 5,733 to 11,938; number of borrowers from 2,148 to 5,943; outstanding loans from $140,798 to $535,444 and share investment by individual members from $168,064 to $559,301.

These credit unions have demonstrated practically the use to which co-operatives could be put to solve the economic problem. But what's more to the point, the co-operatives themselves have demonstrated their own value. Take the Consumer Co-operative Association of North Kansas City, which sells oil, gasoline and farm supplies. It shows what profits it made between 1929 and 1935 and—what nobody knows under the private capitalist co-operative, the corporation—what happened to the profits.

| Year | Operating Profit | Reserves | Patronage Refunds |
|------|------------------|-----------|-------------------|
| 1929 | $5,278.84 | $744.98 | $3,048.61 |
| 1930 | 23,678.51 | 5,029.32 | 14,804.76 |
| 1931 | 47,345.71 | 12,912.53 | 26,134.61 |
| 1932 | 27,463.62 | 11,681.04 | 11,666.70 |
| 1933 | 48,373.10 | 24,939.75 | 14,639.13 |
| 1934 | 68,500.91 | 40,264.85 | 20,345.57 |
| 1935 | 193,837.84 | 67,696.34 | 31,679.57 |

Co-ops Should Come In

To those who hold that a wider distribution of national income is essential to the survival of democratic forms in the United States the co-operatives offer a practical, peaceful, and constitutional answer. In view of Townsend plans, sit-down strikes, and advocacy of Supreme Court reform, the co-operative solution would be more than a relief—it would be a blessing.

Lawrence Lucey writing on co-operatives as the democratic solution in America for April 17, 1937, has this to say:

"For those people with a social conscience who are interested in seeing America become economically democratic as well as politically democratic, who hate a totalitarian economic condition as much as the totalitarian state, there is a solution in the co-operatives. These people can start or join a co-operative and begin to live social justice. Instead of reading, writing and listening to social justice or voting for it these people will be using their purchasing power to bring economic democracy to America."

At the peak of the stock market craze in '29, but two or three million people were owners of stock. This meant that but three million could have shared in the corporations' profits, and then many of them did not receive dividends. Right now, about two million people in the United States are receiving dividends from co-operatives. The co-operatives are doing less than one per cent of the total national business; the corporations, ninety per cent. But the co-operatives are distributing their profits among two million people compared to the corporations' sharing with never more than three million people. Thus, if the co-operatives instead of the corporations were doing ninety per cent of American business, ninety per cent of the American people would receive dividends. And instead of knocking the props from under the profit system, the co-operatives would provide that stimulant the system needs to rejuvenate it—a wider distribution of the national income.

Nominations of ASSC Officers Set for May 7

New Constitution Would Elect Representatives
At Large

Nominations for fourteen offices of the Students' association for the year 1937-1938, will be held Friday, May 7, at the Knights of Columbus hall. Elections will take place on the following Friday.

In the event that the revised constitution now up for adoption is accepted, all students who have been active in the association for two quarters will be eligible for every position except that of the presidency. Nine positions on the advisory board will also be filled at the same meeting, three members being chosen from each of the present freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes.

Should the proposed constitution be adopted, nominations this year will include more candidates than ever before in the history of the College. The subject of the advisory board to the vote of the entire association, instead of the individual classes as was previously done, more than doubles the number of elective offices.

Requirements for the presidency under the proposed document include the following: A candidate for the presidency must be a male student with 110 college credits at the commencement of the quarter in which the regular annual election is to be held, and shall have the intention of graduating the following spring. He must have been an active member of the association for at least one scholastic year preceding such election.

The positions of vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms are open to members of all classes.

In case the new constitution does not meet the approval of the students, the changes in the procedure will include the elimination of advisory board nominations and a change in the requirements for the offices of president and vice-president.

Mendel Club Offices Filled For 1937-38

Mendel club officers for the year 1937-1938 were elected last Thursday at a meeting of that organization. William Carr, a premedics junior, was elected president; Betty Tobin, vice-president; Ernest Tardiff, secretary; and Steve Wood was chosen as treasurer. Joseph LeGrand and Thomas Cunningham were named publicity managers.

Miss Stella Bustrich and Ernest Tardiff were placed in charge of a banquet to be held by the club in the Sorrento hotel's marine room on May 3. This is to be a homecoming affair and all former Mendel club members are invited.

New Device More Than A Mother To Bugs; Bacteriology Laboratory Supply Assured

The bacteriology department has done it again! In keeping with the traditional Seattle college spirit of progress, the biology "lab" is now equipped with a "peachy" new incubator.

For use in raising bugs for the biology students to study, this new piece of apparatus is completely outfitted with a thermostat, lights, and all sorts of controlling devices. Constructed by the Rev. Leo Schmid, S.J., and the Rev. Joseph Nealen, S.J., the incubator maintains a temperature of about 96 degrees F., which is ideal

Robert Smith Elected Editor Of Spectator; Publication Resumed

Robert Smith was elected to edit the Spectator for the remainder of the present year at a staff meeting last week. Smith named Raphael Daigle, managing editor, and Jeanne Testu, news editor. All three were active on the former staff. Other editorial positions remained approximately the same, as the Spectator resumed publication after a forced suspension of two months.

Smith has been active on the Spectator staff for four years, serving as editor last year and associate editor in his sophomore year.

College Mothers Set May 5 For Party at Knights

Celebrating the thirteenth anniversary of its founding, the Seattle College Mothers' club will hold a card party and dance at the Knights of Columbus clubhouse, Wednesday evening, May 5. Mrs. G. D. Runnels is general chairman of the affair and is assisted by Mrs. Garland and Mrs. A. E. Mongrain.

The ladies have planned an attractive program, which includes tables of bridge and whist to be arranged in the council room on the third floor of the clubhouse, and a dance to be held in the ballroom with Carl Schuman's orchestra furnishing the music.

A large and enthusiastic committee is working energetically to make this annual affair an unusually big success and the co-operation of students and their mothers is earnestly sought.

Mrs. Runnels states that since the proceeds of this party will revert to the Mothers' club fund, which is used only to the benefit of the College and prep school, it will work to the students' advantage in more than one way to avail themselves of the opportunity of spending what promises to be a most enjoyable evening. Tickets are 50 cents. Dance programs are $1.

Other committees in charge are: Refreshments, Mesdames E. P. Meagher, George Purdy, E. C. Denning, F. J. Harrigan; prizes, Mesdames Harry Thompson and Alfred Hyde; tickets, Mesdames M. J. Ryan and M. T. Moss; decorations, Mesdames W. P. McCaffrey and J. M. Dougherty; publicity, Mrs. Leo Sullivan.

Professor Of Languages New Faculty Addition

Charles M. Bernier, Ph.D., has been recently added to the faculty of the College to teach several language classes, according to information from the Dean's office.

Mr. Bernier has his bachelor of languages and bachelor of science degrees from the University of Toulouse, France. He received his master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from Boston College.

for bug culture, and it takes a mighty adamant bug to resist multiplying while in it.

Its operation is all very simple; all one needs to do is to put some kind of food or something in the incubator and in no time at all it will be teeming with all sorts of bug life.

Then the students take test tubes and microscopes and proceed to track down the bug and gather complete data on what he does and why he did it.

And then what do the students do? They brew more bugs.

Cast and Crews Of Ceiling Zero Ready to Open

Bras Commends Players;
Promises Smooth Show
For Opening Night

The most important event in the history of Seattle college dramatics is scheduled to take place on the evenings of May 12 and 13 at Providence hospital auditorium when the Drama guild, under the direction of Mr. Charles Bras, presents Frank Wead's stirring drama of the airways, "Ceiling Zero."

In an exclusive statement to the Spectator, Mr. Bras disclosed the fact that this latest offering of the Guild is by far the most pretentious and gripping ever offered by College actors. Mr. Bras also admitted that "As far as the cast goes, I have seldom had as wholehearted co-operation as I am enjoying from this group."

Yesterday a crew of experienced scenic artists went into action under the direction of William Thoreson, technical director of "Ceiling Zero." Asked by a Spectator reporter what was being done in the production end of the show, Mr. Thoreson replied, "To tell you the truth, it would take pages to tell you all the new and interesting things being done for this show, but I might tell you that we have constructed a set that is specially designed for the requirements of "Ceiling Zero" and we are busy obtaining some 260 pieces of property and special effects so we will lack nothing to make the technical side of the show a success."

Those who are working on the production staff are Don Larson, William Brown, Glen Hagen, Ad Smith, and John Tobin.

Spectator Notified Of Winning Honor Rating From Collegiate Press

First class honor rating has been awarded the Spectator by the Associated Collegiate Press, according to a communication received recently from that organization. The Associated Collegiate Press is a division of the National Scholastic Press association.

Major college publications are judged annually by the A. C. P., with the various departments of the paper being criticized according to fixed standards. All the sections of the Spectator were rated high, but the highest honors were given the sports page.

The Rev. Adolph Bischoff, S. J., moderator of the Spectator, announced receiving of the award at a Spectator meeting last week. He disclosed that this now puts the Spectator in the same division with papers published by Santa Clara, Notre Dame, and other colleges that have had years of newspaper experience. He expressed the opinion that with continued efforts and improvement the College paper will soon receive All-American Rating, the goal of all college newspapers.

Those editing the paper during the period it received this award were: Bernard Pearce, editor; Jerome Diemert, managing editor; Frank Hayes, news editor; and E. L. "Doc" Schweitzer, sports editor.

A similar rating was won by the Spectator two years ago when Robert Smith was editor.

Mr. Carroll To Speak

The Rev. Clifford Carroll, S. J., head of the economics department, will deliver an address before an assembly of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women on May 11 in Tacoma. "Co-operatives—Their Rise in Modern Life" is the subject Mr. Carroll has chosen.

New Constitution Up For Adoption

Spring Dance Termed
Success By Chairmen;
Nets Seventy Dollars

After weeks of preparations by Joseph Phillips and Helena Brand, co-chairmen of the affair, and members of the committee, the Spring Informal, given last Friday at the Sand Point Golf and Country club, proved an immense success, both socially and financially. A total sum of approximately $182 was taken in, and, after expenses were paid, there was a net profit of about $70.

"The chairmen offer thanks for the indispensable aid of the committee in making the successful arrangements for the dance, and to the students whose support contributed everything to the social success of the dance," said Mr. Phillips, in commenting on the outcome of the affair.

Trophy Debate To Determine Best Speakers

Four Seattle college debaters will compete for a trophy, to be awarded by the Rev. Francis E. Corkery, S. J., on Monday evening, May 10, in the Providence hospital auditorium. The award will be presented to the best debater of the four and is symbolic of forensic excellence. The contest will be the first of its kind to be held in Seattle college. The five judges for the debate will be announced at a later date.

The teams entered in the competition are comprised of Helen MacDonald and Rosanne Flynn, who will uphold the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the federal government shall encourage consumers' cooperatives," and Maurice O'Brien and Angelo Magnano, who will defend the negative side of the same question.

Mr. Clifford Carroll, S. J., moderator of the Gavel club, anticipates a large attendance of students and friends at the contest. "The competition will be very close among the debaters," said Mr. Carroll; "naturally every member of our organization is anxious to win the coveted award. Those who attend can expect to witness a hotly contested debate."

All four contestants have been active in debating this year, taking part in several intercollegiate matches. The question has not been argued previously by the College debaters.

Scholarship Examinations Announced For May 29; Hi School Seniors Eligible

Two complete scholarships to Seattle college, covering tuition for the period of one year, will be offered by the Rev. Francis E. Corkery, S. J., president, to incoming freshmen. Examinations to determine the recipients will be held at the College Saturday, May 29, from 9:00 to 12:00 a. m. The exam will cover high school English, U. S. history and civics, high school algebra, and plane geometry. All fourth high students in the state of Washington are eligible to compete.

These scholarships are being offered in addition to those previously given to graduates of Seattle Prep, O'Dea, and Marquette high of Yakima. Scholarship winners last year were Robert O'Gorman, Seattle Prep; August Murphy, O'Dea; and Robert Ernsdorff, Marquette. These scholarships will continue to be given.

Meeting Friday Will Determine Future Of Document

"Unnecessary legal interference" may be one of the major problems of the New Deal, but to students of Seattle college, judicial supervision seems so necessary that a miniature supreme court will become an integral part of the student government here if the new constitution, up for ratification Friday, is adopted. A student association meeting will be held that day at 11 o'clock in the Knights of Columbus hall.

The constitution committee was appointed at the end of the fall quarter for the purpose of drawing up a new document. Since that time the committee has held more than a dozen meetings, at which many problems concerning the association were discussed and the constitution adapted to meet them. During the discussions considerable time was spent investigating organizations at other colleges. From these discussions a constitution was evolved embodying a composite of the best features of the various instruments considered.

If the new constitution is adopted, the president will exercise most of the appointive powers now held by the executive committee. A body, to be known as the advisory board, will replace the executive committee, having power to check appointments of the president. In addition, the board will supervise elections, fill temporary vacancies in offices, and prepare all business for discussion at association meetings.

Probably the most important feature of the new document is its provision for an advisory board. Certainly it is most novel, for no such body has functioned before at the College. This board will be composed of three members, who will be final arbiters in any misunderstandings arising from the constitution. It will be the duty of the judicial board to see that the constitution is observed in all instances.

So that everyone will be familiar with the constitution before voting on it, a forum will be held tomorrow at 11:50 o'clock in room 36, at which time a general discussion will be held.

Frank Hayes was chairman of the committee.

Women Students Set May 20 As Date For Initial College Tolo

Inaugurating a new event in the social calendar of Seattle college, the Associated Women Students announced recently that a Tolo dance will be held under their auspices on Thursday, May 20, at the Seattle Yacht club. The affair will precede the president's holiday, which has been granted for Friday, May 21.

Jane Prouty, president of the Associated Women Students, has named Elinor Beechiner chairman of the dance. Assisting Miss Beechiner are Rose Desimon, Peggy Dougherty, Betty Williams, Rosanne Flynn, Mavis McCreery, Jane Prouty, and Jeanne Testu. Cy Braden's orchestra will furnish the music. Dancing will be from 9 to 12:30.

Library Gets New Books

An addition of forty new books to the library was announced by Mr. Frederick Simoneau, S. J., head librarian. They were the gift of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Cory and Mr. G. W. Soliday.

Dr. Cory's donation consisted chiefly of philosophical works while Mr. Soliday's books were of classical nature.

Constitutional Forum

Since early last December, an industrious committee has been preparing a revised constitution which attempts to solve the difficulties arising from the former document. Much credit is due its members who sacrificed precious time in the interests of a more workable system of government. Their work finished, the committee has placed in the hands of the students a set of rules which, if ratified, will supplant the unsatisfactory instrument that has been a bone of contention since its inception in February, 1935. This new constitution will be put up for ratification next Friday, April 30.

To provide a means of careful study of the committee's report, the draft of the proposed constitution has been printed elsewhere in this issue of the Spectator. The committee does not claim divine inspiration of the system they have devised. It is quite possible that improvements can be made which did not occur to the group during their consideration of the problem. However, all possible efforts have been made to make every necessary improvement.

In order to explain the workings of the proposed system and to consolidate opinion as to any changes which the students think necessary, the chairman will conduct another open forum tomorrow. In the interest of good government it is your duty to attend this meeting in order that your ideas can be given serious consideration.

Anniversary Party

It isn't often we are asked to support activities of the College Mothers' club. Usually that organization carries on its laudable work without seeking student patronage of their social functions. Dinners, card parties, entertainments, and innumerable money making schemes are used to help further the cause of Catholic education.

But, once a year, the Mothers hold an anniversary dance especially for the students, and solicit our support. Those who have attended the dances in previous years will not have to be induced to return. The affairs have always been most enjoyable. The Mothers' Club annual party has become a tradition which claims a prominent place on the College social calendar. But an even stronger motive demand our support of the project.

Even if the Student association did not owe the Mothers' club an immense debt of gratitude, the mere fact that it is sponsoring the dance should be sufficient to attract them.

It is only through the cooperation of the various organizations working for the building of a Greater Seattle college that that goal can be attained. The mothers have been more than willing to help improve our educational facilities. We have very few opportunities of showing our appreciation of their efforts. The dance a week from tonight affords the students a good chance to repay the Mothers' club for past favors.

Wouldn't it be a fitting tribute to their loyalty to turn out "en masse" next Wednesday?

Nominate Him!

Nominations for the offices of the Student Association for the year 1937-38 will be held a week from Friday. Such an announcement is all that is necessary. There is no need to expound at length on the desired capabilities of the candidates. The campaign will emphasize that feature.

If this short note serves only as a reminder, its purpose will be accomplished. Present indications point towards a spirited campaign. As in the past, good natured electioneering will undoubtedly lend interest to the race. But the election will take care of itself. The point to be emphasized is that nominations are only a week away.

If there is a candidate whom you think capable and deserving of the office, nominate him! Don't sit back and wait for some one else to do the honors. Many times the most capable candidate is overlooked simply because no one has been primed to place his name in nomination.

Now is the time to prepare. If your choice isn't in the race you have neglected your duty.

Constitution Committee Presents Text Of Proposed Student Association Rules

CONSTITUTION OF ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF SEATTLE COLLEGE

We, the students, of Seattle College, in order to provide an organization for the control of matters of general student concern, do ordain and establish the following constitution and by-laws.

If the Advisory Board fails to accept three successive appointments for a given position, the president may take the appointment directly to the Association and if here his candidate is approved by a two-thirds vote of those voting, that appointment shall stand, notwithstanding any objections of the Advisory Board to the contrary.

In such instances as the nature of the business to be transacted by the committee in question is other than the formulation of plans for a social function, the president may appoint the entire committee, and such action will not need approval of the Advisory Board to become effective.

A candidate for the presidency must be a male student with 110 college credits at the commencement of the quarter in which the regular annual election is held, and shall have the intention of graduating the following spring. He must have been an active member of the Association for at least one full scholastic year preceding such election.

The Board shall elect a chairman from among its members.

Section 8. It shall be the duty of the Advisory Board to take charge of all elections and in general to consider the welfare of the students of the College and to bring all questions before the students when it shall seem advisable. It shall meet at least once previous to each meeting of the Association for the preparation of business, at which time all lobbyists shall be allowed to present matters before the Board. All proposals and requests, including appropriations, here presented, shall in turn be presented by the chairman at the following Association meeting.

Confirmation of presidential appointments shall form a part of the Board's report.

Section 9. A body to be known as the Judicial Board shall be composed of three members: one junior, one senior, and one sophomore. Each shall be chosen during his sophomore year for a period of a three-year term. (For the initial establishing of this body, one sophomore, one junior, and one senior shall be selected. This clause, between brackets, shall become obsolete immediately following establishment of the Judicial Board at the commencement of the fall quarter, 1937). The positions shall be filled by those ranking highest in an examination covering this constitution and by-laws.

The Judicial Board shall require all officers to comply with this constitution and by-laws and shall decide all questions arising from this constitution and by-laws. Within a month after such appointment the Advisory Board shall declare a special election governed by the rules provided hereinafter.

Section 2. Similarly, should a vacancy occur on the Judicial Board the same shall be filled by a temporary appointment of the Advisory Board from among the unsuccessful candidates at the last examination, choice to be made in order of rank. Within a month after such appointment a special examination shall be given as provided hereinafter.

(1) The Advisory Board shall determine during what hours the polls shall remain open, and shall have published in the College paper notice of voting hours, and shall have such notice posted at least seven days prior to the election.

(2) There shall be at all times one inspector, one ballot distributor, and one clerk, all appointed by the Advisory Board, present at the polls.

(3) The clerk shall keep an official poll book containing the names of all eligible voters, which must be certified by the registrar of the College. No one shall be allowed to vote whose name does not appear on the certified list, or who cannot otherwise identify himself as an eligible voter.

(4) A specially prepared ballot shall be given each voter by the ballot distributor, and the ballot shall be received from no other source.

(5) The ballot form shall be that of the Australian Ballot.

(6) Where there are two or more to be elected, and the voter casts his vote for less than the number to be elected, that portion only of his ballot shall be void.

(7) No electioneering shall be conducted within an area around the polls to be decided by the inspector.

(8) When a voter has cast his ballot, he must sign the poll book to certify he has cast his ballot.

(9) The ballots shall be counted by the election officials in the presence of the Advisory Board as soon as the polls are closed, and the results shall be posted as soon as the counting is completed.

(10) A plurality of votes shall be sufficient to elect officers of this Association.

Section 2. Members of the Judicial Board shall be selected by the Advisory Board according to the following process:

(1) Two weeks following the commencement of the fall quarter a notice shall be placed on the College bulletin board stating that written examinations for positions on the Judicial Board will be given one week later at a specified time and place.

(2) The subject matter of such examination shall be such as to determine the applicant's knowledge of this constitution and by-laws. It shall be prepared secretly by the remaining members of the Judicial Board and the actual examination shall be supervised by a member of the Advisory Board appointed by the chairman of the Advisory Board for that purpose.

(3) The examination papers shall be graded by the remaining members of the Judicial Board. The candidate, or candidates if more than one position is to be filled, receiving the highest rating shall be appointed by the Advisory Board to the Judicial Board.

MURPHY TO AWARD SWEATERS FRIDAY

TODAY'S ★ SPORT TOPICS
By Ed Donohoe - Sports Editor

One of the wisest sport deals completed in this neck of the forest was transacted by Seattle Prep, which sent Joe Budnick to coach the Panthers. First, Joe is an inspirational leader and an experienced coach, and second, irrefragable Joe knows men and knows just what to ask and seek of them.

Joe Budnick

There is no doubt as to how much hoop knowledge Budnick has in his coal-hued noggin—Bill Murphy vouched for him by stating that he (Joe Budnick) is one of the coolest and imperturbable numbers on the maple today. From reliable sources, it is known that Budnick will succeed jovial Mr. Barrett Corrigan, S. J., as head mentor at the Prep next year (as well as being baseball coach there now).

Baseball is Joseph's first love. At O'Dea he won four stripes, one stripe you might say for each position—Joe was catcher, pitcher, infielder, and assistant coach. With this fundamental knowledge behind him, Joe is fast whipping a green, untested diamond squad into winning form at the Prep.

Incidents, accidents and fun, plain old fun, have crowded the 20-year-old boisterous Austran's life—never a dull moment with Joe, they say. One little incident took place at O'Dea when Budnick was turning out for baseball under Al Schuss. Chick Garrett, of the Star, new to the high school routine then, bobbed up at Liberty field one dolorous afternoon to get data for a coming Irish build-up. Al was missing, so Joe seemed the best to shell out the prospects. Well sir, when Joker Joe was finished with the affable Chick, he had him believing that there were twelve players on the squad named Joe.

Next day Chick thought he had a "Lulu" and ran a double streamer to the effect that: "O'DEA HAS TOO MANY 'JOES' ON ROSTER." The story was well worked out, telling how Schuss would say, "Joe, come on in and blast a few"—and Joe Gotch, Joe Twerp, and Joe Sauvain would sprint up to bat. Garrett to this day is probably ignorant of the joke that was slipped over on him.

Cleveland with the good ol' Feller on the slab will purloin the Amerk. pennant. The "Petroleum Pugs" of St. Louis will win the fight in the senior loop . . . Q. A. Hi had six Catholics on their 'hoghide' aggregation, of those, Ed Vanni and Joe McNamee are going to Santa Clara and St. Mary's, respectively . . . O'Dea will send Frank Watson to Santa Clara, Ray Paglia and Tom Keefe to St. Martin's . . . The Prep donates Wally Carroll and George Ryan to Fordham, "Windy" Reynolds to S. C., Howie Picht to Gonzaga, Mickey Keane to Interbay C. H. K. (college of hard knox), Joe Merrick to I dunno, Emmett Lenihan, Jr., to an as yet unselected school of the dance.

Tennis Club Is
Ellensburg
Bound

Six Players To Make Trip
Differ No. 1 Man

Progress in the Tennis club sped with leaps and bounds this week, according to Bill Marx, manager of the racket wielders. First, Ellensburg Normal will be the initial opponent to exchange drives and volleys with the College "racketeers"; second, workouts nightly have dwindled the squad quantity to eight, counting Manager Marx.

The Ellensburg match marks the first appearance of the tennis club of Seattle college. Stiff opposition from the Normalites is expected when the Collegians travel to Ellensburg.

Joe Ditter is lead-off man for the College six. His service is the blastic type that fairly melts the white lines with heated velocity. Possessed with a steady backhand, Ditter is depended upon heavily to win his matches.

Bill Marx, a southpaw, is number two man for the Maroons. Marx has a tantalizing service which constantly catches his man off guard. Jose Phillips ranks number three, the slabsided hoop forward being in top condition, far excels his opponents.

Lou Sauvain, Charles West, John Schwager, and Ambrose Coughlin round out the tennis squad. John Downe, basketball center, is also battling for a seat in that Ellensburg car.

constitution and by-laws of the Association.

Section 2. This constitution shall become effective immediately upon adoption, except:

(1) Article 3, Section 1, of the by-laws, in which the phrase "Executive Committee" shall be inserted wherever the phrase "Advisory Board" now appears. (This clause shall become obsolete immediately following election of officers for the 1937-1938 term.)

(2) Article 3, Section 2, subsections 2 and 3, of the by-laws, in which the phrase "committee appointed by the Advisory Board" shall be inserted wherever the phrase "the remaining members of the Judicial Board" now appears. (This clause shall become obsolete immediately following establishment of the Judicial Board in the fall quarter, 1937.)

Section 3. Full faith and credit shall be accorded all acts performed under any previous constitution of this Association.

Ski Club Has Four Sundays Of

Heavy snowfalls, unprecedented for this time of year, have boosted the depth of the snow in the mountains to the greatest blanket of the season at all ski areas except Snoqualmie pass. Spring skiing has yet to be enjoyed by Seattle skiers and the next month provides four Sundays of that fastest and sportiest of skiing surfaces.

The week before last a dozen students were up at the Silver Skis race and heard Mass at the community hut, Paradise valley; along with some hundred and forty other Catholics in boots and parka. Although the race was called off on account of fog, which blew down about noon, the skiers put in a good day skiing and watching such stars as Lang, Ruvd, Kolteruvd, and Hvam show their wares and provide exhibitions of slalom runs and front flips.

Prep vs. O'Dea At Broadway Tomorrow

A special detail from William H. Sears' coop will be stationed at Broadway field tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Why—might you ask? Seattle Prep battles O'Dea in the first titular series for the Catholic championship. That's all.

O'Dea is clearly the favorite to snag the series with Bernie Fedemery, another "crazy-finger," and Ray Paglia eager to set the Prepsters down in order. Their prior tussels prove, by a wide margin, their superiority.

Intramural Softball
Begins With Stirring
Upset By Soph Nine

By Jim Rothstein

Inter-class softball got under way with a bang last week when the juniors and sophomores emerged victorious in the opening round of tussles. A barrage of hits, coupled with many senior miscues afield, enabled the juniors to crush the upperclassmen, 15-11.

In the other tilt, the sophomores came out on the good end of a 4-3 hurling duel with the freshmen. Fred Conyne, soph pitching artist, bested the offerings of "Columbia" Lou Souvain, who twirled the nine frames for the frosh. From what the teams have shown to date, the most dangerous aggregation seems to be the juniors. But any team, even the vanquished ones, may surprise the following with a stellar upheaval.

John Tobin has been appointed league president and in his palms lie the responsibilities of arranging the schedules. One rule already slapped down by Prexy Tobin is: That no man can play for a team out of his class—or two teams at once.

Games are played on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays of each week at the noon hour.

Eight Players
To Be Honored At Student Meeting

A last fleeting echo of the heated basketball season will reverberate this Friday at the K. C. hall when Coach William Murphy presents the varsity sweaters to eight worthy players and a manager. Then "quietus" will be written on the '37 hoop wars—the essence of ephemeron.

This final gesture by the Bill Murphy Seattle college club culminates a rather hot and cold season.

In the senior group, Capt. Frank Taylor, Bob Tobin, and "Four-Striper" Herb Conyne, are on the list to be awarded sweaters, thus terminating their long careers at Seattle college.

Fred Conyne, the carrot-thatched forward, and Joe Phillips, a muscled guard, each get a sweater for their second time. John Downe, Don Sheehan, and "Harp" Massenga are the only first year men up for presentation.

Club Organizer Explains Aims of Mendel Group

Rumors Of Political Power Of Pre-Medics' Club Are Groundless

Commenting on the purpose of the Mendel club in relation to school affairs, the Rev. Leo Schmid, S. J., issued the following statement:

"As organizer and moderator of the Mendel club I wish to make clear the stand that this club takes on student body politics. According to the constitution of the club, it is a strictly scientific organization. During the three years of its existence it has taken no official or unofficial part in any sort of politics. Any activity which tends to divert members from the fundamental principles of the club will not be tolerated.

"Rumor's thousand tongues have intimated in past years and are again hinting that the club has brought about the election of such and such an individual or will swing the decisive vote in the coming elections. This accusation has absolutely no foundation. The Mendel club has never supported anyone for any office nor will it ever do so. It will never have any candidate for student body offices.

"Members of the club are also loyal members of the Associated Student body of Seattle college and are entitled to vote for whom-ever they please. If a member of the club happens to be running for office, each student should have the right to vote without any outside influence. Just because a member of the club is elected by majority vote is no grounds for indicting the whole organization. Let everyone rest assured that such a fine organization as the Mendel club will never stoop so low as to dabble in politics in which it has absolutely no business."

Helen M'Donald, Smith to Speak At Graduation

Helen MacDonald and Robert Smith have been chosen as commencement speakers, according to an announcement from the office. The topics of their speeches to be given on the evening of June 3 will be chosen at a later date. The main speaker is also yet to be chosen.

Mothers To Meet At Girls' House Thursday

A meeting of the Seattle College Mothers' club will be held on Thursday, May 6, at the Women's house. The board of directors will meet at 1 o'clock for a one hour conference to be followed by a regular business meeting at 2 o'clock. After the meeting, tea will be served by women students of the College.

The annual Mothers' Day Mass will be said on Friday, May 7, in the chapel of Seattle Prep. Mothers and students will receive Holy Communion in a body. After the Mass breakfast will be served by Seattle Prep students. Mrs. Logan, president of the club, expresses the desire that every mother of a Seattle college or Seattle Prep student be present.
