SEATTLE UNIVERSITY
A Tradition of Excellence

Commencement | KeyArena | June 10, 2012

*There is no more powerful affirmation that we,
as a university, are fulfilling our mission as when you,
our graduates, go forth to do wonderful things.*

TO THE 2012 GRADUATES
OF SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

To the 2012 Graduates of Seattle University,

Please accept my personal welcome to you as graduating students, family and friends at this Seattle University Commencement in KeyArena. The faculty, staff and administration share your joy on this day. It has been our privilege to educate you.

You are graduating this year at a very exciting and most challenging time. We are already into the presidential election season in which our country is debating some of its most important values. Our economy is at last showing some signs of slow recovery and is taking on a new shape in which you will be involved in your work. This is the year of the Summer Olympics when we will all enjoy seeing representatives of the whole world come together in peace, friendship and competition. We are in the midst of the "Occupy Movement" which asks us the question who is being left out in our society. We have become familiar with globalization, the technology explosion and international environmental concerns. What a time to be commencing from Seattle University with your undergraduate or graduate degree!

You are more than a match for these exciting and challenging times. You are, in fact, the makers of new times. That is a bold statement, but one that I make with great confidence. The excellence of this university's academic programs now runs through you, and it is this preparation combined with your optimism, commitment and willingness to take risks in service to others that gives me hope.

Congratulations and thank you for the privilege of being involved in your education.

Stephen V. Sundborg, S.J.
President

ABOUT SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1891, Seattle University is a Jesuit Catholic institution that today is the most racially and culturally diverse, the most genuinely urban, and the largest multidisciplinary independent university of the Northwest.

Inspired by the Catholic intellectual tradition and the Jesuit philosophy of education, Seattle University forms independent critical thinkers rooted in the humanities and open to finding God in all things. Responding to the Jesuit imperative that calls for “the service of faith and the promotion of justice,” Seattle University students are challenged to address issues of poverty, injustice, discrimination, violence and environmental degradation with competence, compassion and creativity.

At the heart of every undergraduate, graduate and professional program at Seattle University is an intellectually rigorous education delivered by excellent faculty whose attentiveness as teachers is rivaled only by their commitment to generating new knowledge as scholars. In partnership with their students, Seattle University’s dedicated faculty and their colleagues create a vibrant, educational experience that comes alive in the classroom, campus and community, and develops character and leadership.

As SU President Stephen Sundborg, S.J., has often said, “Only the alumni of Seattle University can tell us whether we are fulfilling our mission.” It is through their actions that our alumni most clearly attest to the power of an SU education. They are leaders in banking and business, in publishing and politics, nursing and nonprofits, engineering and education. Today, we welcome our newest graduates into a special group of women and men who are excelling in their professions and working to build a more just and humane world.

THE HISTORY OF GRADUATION CAP AND GOWN

The academic apparel—gown, hood, and cap—donned today by both faculty and graduates reminds us that in this commencement ceremony we celebrate our students as accomplished scholars who now join the ranks of their professors and others who have earned their university degrees. Indeed they become part of a cadre whose membership stretches back to medieval Europe.

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries when European universities were first taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric; with few exceptions, the medieval scholar had taken orders, made vows, and perhaps been tonsured. Gowns were mandated by religious affiliation but were also a necessity in the unheated university buildings. Hoods at first covered the tonsured head but eventually a skull cap became the normal headpiece and the hood evolved into a cape that could be pulled up during unpleasant weather. Eventually the hoods became entirely ornamental, draped over the shoulders and down the back.

Some say the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship which evolved from the cap worn in ancient Rome by freed slaves. Scholars first wore it as a symbol of the master’s degree and it existed in various forms; stiff, soft, square, and round with a tuft in the center. Today’s tassel is believed to be an elaboration of the tuft. England’s Oxford University originated the mortarboard style cap worn by our graduates today.

When academic costume came to America in 1754, styles varied widely as they still do in Europe today. In the late 19th century an Intercollegiate Commission met at Columbia University and adopted a code of academic dress which regulates the gowns and prescribed the colors which represent the different fields of learning.

Today the American Council on Education’s, Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies is charged here in the states with the standardization of American academic apparel.*

Timothy Egan

Timothy Egan is one of our nation's most highly esteemed authors and journalists. For 18 years, Egan was a Seattle-based reporter for The New York Times, covering everything from the Exxon Valdez oil spill to the O.J. Simpson trial to the collapse of small-town America in the Great Plains. Egan was part of a team of Times reporters who won a 2001 Pulitzer Prize for their series, "How Race Is Lived in America."

Seamlessly transitioning from reporter to columnist, Egan currently writes a weekly online op-ed for the Times that is often among the publication's most read articles. In the column, Egan places the issues of our times in conversation with questions that go to our shared values. When he writes about matters such as stewardship of the land, faith, elected leadership, race and poverty, he speaks for justice and better choices by our nation.

A prolific writer, Egan is also the author of six books. His New York Times bestseller, The Worst Hard Time: the Untold Story of Those Who Survived the Great American Dust Bowl, won the 2006 National Book Award, which is considered one of the nation's highest literary honors. In his most recent book, The Big Burn: Teddy Roosevelt and the Fire That Saved America, Egan shares the story of the largest-ever forest fire in America, which inspired President Roosevelt and his chief forester Gifford Pinchot to pioneer land conservation initiatives.

Perhaps better than any writer, Egan describes to the country the special character of Western America. In "Outposts," his weekly column for the Times, he writes authoritatively and with graceful prose about our region's history, politics and values.

Egan is particularly gifted in telling the story of the Pacific Northwest. The Good Rain, which has been a regional bestseller for 12 years, was rated one of the 10 essential books ever written about the region in a Seattle Post-Intelligencer poll. Lasso the Wind: Away to the New West won the 1999 Governor's Writing Award from Washington State and the Mountains and Plains Booksellers Association.

A third-generation Westerner who lives in Seattle, Egan is an avid mountaineer. He graduated from Gonzaga Preparatory School and is proud to call himself a product of Jesuit education.

2012 UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

The Seattle University Honors Program was founded in 1958. The two-year cohort program takes an historical approach to the humanities and the social sciences as a way of exploring and critically engaging the depth and breadth of ideas that have shaped human civilization. The program stresses the integration of knowledge in a vital challenging learning community, embracing the true spirit of Jesuit education. After completing the University Honors Program, students pursue degree requirements in a specific major.

2012 CORE HONORS PROGRAM

The Seattle University Core Honors Program was founded in 2004. By bringing highly motivated students into a cohort group that pursues its Seattle University Core courses together, the Core Honors program permits more advanced study in these courses than would otherwise be possible. In maintaining this cohort over three years of study, Core Honors creates a learning community in which each member contributes to the learning experience of the others. In pursuing a rich and vital experience of liberal education in the humanities and social sciences, Core Honors embodies in a special way Seattle University's commitment to education for values, leadership, and service.

Dean

MATTEO RICCI COLLEGE AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN HUMANITIES

Kimberly Ann Whalen
SUMMA CUM LAUDE

Awarded to the student or students who most closely realize the Matteo Ricci College ideal; one who marvels at the wealth of human experience, yet wonders at its meaning; is open to diverse explanations, yet demands critical reflection; acknowledges any truth, yet questions its value and relevance; serves the human community, yet asks whether its values accord with the continuing revelation of the divine to humanity.

HONORARY DEGREE

Mark Charles Pigott B.S., B.A., M.S. | Doctor of Humane Letters

Mr. Mark Charles Pigott is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of PACCAR Inc, where he has worked for 35 years. PACCAR is a Fortune 200 global technology leader in the design and manufacture of Kenworth, Peterbilt and DAF trucks.

Mr. Pigott earned his B.S. in industrial engineering, B.A. in humanities and M.S. in business, all from Stanford University. He received an Honorary Doctorate in Science from Trinity College, Dublin, in 2007, and an Honorary Doctorate of Laws from Gonzaga University in 2008. Harvard Business Review named him one of the top 50 CEOs in the world in 2009.

The fourth generation of the Pigott family to actively support Seattle University, Mr. Pigott serves the institution in many significant ways. He is a trusted advisor to the university's leadership, graciously sharing the lessons he has learned in business to help strengthen the institution. Mr. Pigott's care for the students of Seattle University is direct and hands-on: for 15 years he has been teaching in SU's Executive MBA program—in the building that bears his family's name. His enthusiasm for and commitment to education is evident in the establishment of the Pigott Family Endowment for the Arts at Seattle University. Mr. Pigott also helped to create and fund the James Pigott Pavilion for Leadership, in honor of his uncle's stewardship at PACCAR and Seattle University. His generous spirit of giving is captured by the beloved poet, W. B. Yeats, who said, "Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire."

A true champion and supporter of higher education, Mr. Pigott has also funded professorships and scholarships at Stanford University, Cambridge University (UK), Trinity College (Dublin), the University of Washington and Gonzaga University.

Mr. Pigott graciously shares his time and insights, serving on several boards, including Franklin Templeton, the Advisory Board of the St. George's Society of New York, the Royal Shakespeare Company America, The British Library Foundation, National Science & Technology Medals Foundation and Trinity College Foundation. He is a life member of the National Gallery London, Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufacturers and Commerce (RSA) and The British Library.

Mr. Pigott has earned a number of prestigious awards for his leadership in business, education and the arts, including Officer of the British Empire (UK), Commander of the Order of the Crown (Belgium), Officer of the Orange Nassau (Netherlands) and Knights' Cross of the Order of Merit (Hungary).

ARCHBISHOP RAYMOND G. HUNTHAUSEN OUTSTANDING SERVICE AWARD

Given to the student who has offered significant service to both the university community and the community at-large, and in so doing, has exemplified the values of collaborative leadership in service to others.

WALLACE LOH ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AWARD

Matthew Arthur Jude Stichman

The Wallace Loh Academic Excellence Award is given to the outstanding graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences Graduate Programs. Selection is based upon exceptional graduate work in the classroom. Qualification evidenced by paper/article submission, conference presentations, fellowship or scholarship awards, and interdisciplinary scholarship work. The award honors the impact that Dr. Wallace Loh had upon graduate programs in the College of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Loh served as Dean of the college from 1999-2008. Under his leadership, four of the seven Arts and Sciences graduate programs were created.

LEADERSHIP AND SOCIAL JUSTICE AWARD

Adam Crawford Tousley

The College of Arts & Sciences Leadership & Social Justice Award recognizes the graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences Graduate Programs who has demonstrated exceptional leadership abilities and commitment to social justice by the academic work in their program and their work in the community. The recipient is an innovative forward thinker, making new roads in their chosen field and carrying with them the founding principles of a Jesuit education, making choices as a leader for a just and humane world.
