SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

TO THE 2014 GRADUATES
OF SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

To the 2014 Graduating Students of Seattle University,

Welcome to KeyArena for your Commencement from Seattle University. We are glad to be able to hold it here because it allows so many of your family and friends to attend and to celebrate with you and your classmates. This is indeed a time to celebrate and to be grateful.

I am often asked, "What do you most wish our graduating students to have when they graduate or to take away with them from their years at Seattle U?" Clearly I want them to have a degree which gives them the competence to enter into the career of their choice. I also want them to have values which will guide both their service of others and the way they conduct their own lives.

Increasingly, however, I find myself answering that I want each student who graduates from Seattle University to have gratitude. I mean this less in the sense of gratitude for their education—though that is important—and more in the sense of choosing to live their lives with gratitude.

Gratitude, I believe, is not simply something that comes to us when things go well. Rather, gratitude is a choice or a stance about life. We can give a very different shape to any day of our lives when we choose to be grateful for that day and its opportunities, challenges and the persons with whom we interact rather than just getting by and making it through the day. Gratitude can make visible what we would otherwise not see in others and in ourselves.

I hope that you graduate from this university with gratitude for your family and friends, thanks for your faculty and mentors, appreciation for your classmates and a choice to live a grateful and therefore gracious life. As president I am grateful for you and I congratulate you this day.

Sincerely,

Stephen V. Sundborg, S.J.

ABOUT SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1891, Seattle University is a Jesuit Catholic institution that today is the most racially and culturally diverse, the most genuinely urban, and the largest multidisciplinary independent university of the Northwest.

Inspired by the Catholic intellectual tradition and the Jesuit philosophy of education, Seattle University forms independent critical thinkers rooted in the humanities and open to finding God in all things. Responding to the Jesuit imperative that calls for "the service of faith and the promotion of justice," Seattle University students are challenged to address issues of poverty, injustice, discrimination, violence and environmental degradation with competence, compassion and creativity.

At the heart of every undergraduate, graduate and professional program at Seattle University is an intellectually rigorous education delivered by excellent faculty whose attentiveness as teachers is rivaled only by their commitment to generating new knowledge as scholars. In partnership with their students, Seattle University's dedicated faculty and their colleagues create a vibrant, educational experience that comes alive in the classroom, campus and community, and develops character and leadership.

As SU President Stephen Sundborg, S.J., has often said, "Only the alumni of Seattle University can tell us whether we are fulfilling our mission." It is through their actions that our alumni most clearly attest to the power of an SU education. They are leaders in banking and business, in publishing and politics, nursing and nonprofits, engineering and education. Today, we welcome our newest graduates into a special group of women and men who are excelling in their professions and working to build a more just and humane world.

THE HISTORY OF GRADUATION CAP AND GOWN

The academic apparel—gown, hood, and cap—donned today by both faculty and graduates reminds us that in this commencement ceremony we celebrate our students as accomplished scholars who now join the ranks of their professors and others who have earned their university degrees. Indeed they become part of a cadre whose membership stretches back to medieval Europe.

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries when European universities were first taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric; with few exceptions, the medieval scholar had taken orders, made vows, and perhaps been tonsured. Gowns were mandated by religious affiliation but were also a necessity in the unheated university buildings. Hoods at first covered the tonsured head but eventually a skull cap became the normal headpiece and the hood evolved into a cape that could be pulled up during unpleasant weather. Eventually the hoods became entirely ornamental, draped over the shoulders and down the back.

Some say the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship which evolved from the cap worn in ancient Rome by freed slaves. Scholars first wore it as a symbol of the master's degree and it existed in various forms; stiff, soft, square, and round with a tuft in the center. Today's tassel is believed to be an elaboration of the tuft. England's Oxford University originated the mortarboard style cap worn by our graduates today.

When academic costume came to America in 1754, styles varied widely as they still do in Europe today. In the late 19th century an Intercollegiate Commission met at Columbia University and adopted a code of academic dress which regulates the gowns and prescribed the colors which represent the different fields of learning.

Today the American Council on Education's, Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies is charged here in the states with the standardization of American academic apparel.*

UNDERGRADUATE SPEAKER

Jo Luck

Jo Luck is former president and CEO of Heifer International, which provides livestock and environmentally sound agricultural training to end hunger and poverty in more than 30 countries. During Ms. Luck's two-plus decades at Heifer, the nonprofit grew from $7 million annually to $130 million and provided assistance to more than four million families in 125 countries throughout the world.

Ms. Luck has received numerous awards including a 2010 World Food Prize. In 2011, she was appointed by President Barack Obama to serve on the U.S. Agency for International Development's Board for International Food and Agricultural Development. She continues to be an active advocate for empowering the world's poorest people.

2014 UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

The Seattle University Honors Program was founded in 1958. The two-year cohort program takes an historical approach to the humanities and the social sciences as a way of exploring and critically engaging the depth and breadth of ideas that have shaped human civilization. The program stresses the integration of knowledge in a vital challenging learning community, embracing the true spirit of Jesuit education. After completing the University Honors Program, students pursue degree requirements in a specific major.

2014 CORE HONORS PROGRAM

The Seattle University Core Honors Program was founded in 2004. By bringing highly motivated students into a cohort group that pursues its Seattle University Core courses together, the Core Honors program permits more advanced study in these courses than would otherwise be possible. In maintaining this cohort over three years of study, Core Honors creates a learning community in which each member contributes to the learning experience of the others. In pursuing a rich and vital experience of liberal education in the humanities and social sciences, Core Honors embodies in a special way Seattle University's commitment to education for values, leadership, and service.

RICHARD P. HICKEY AWARD

Claire Elena Giordano

SUMMA CUM LAUDE

Awarded to the outstanding student in the College of Arts and Sciences. Selection is based upon the student's total contribution to academic life and is made by the department chairs and program directors of the college. The award honors the memory of Dr. Richard P. Hickey, professor of English, a beloved and respected teacher at the university from 1947 until his death in 1968.

LE ROUX AWARD

Joyce Hermsen Keeley

SUMMA CUM LAUDE

Awarded to the student who has demonstrated exceptional leadership abilities, shown academic excellence and performed significant service to the College of Arts and Sciences. The recipients personify in character and action the qualities of a liberal education, which constitute the "spirit" of our College. The award honors the memory of Fr. William Le Roux, S.J., who served as Dean of the College.

MATTEO RICCI COLLEGE AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN HUMANITIES

Michael Kaleb James Greissl, V
MAGNA CUM LAUDE

Lindsay Kay Mannion
MAGNA CUM LAUDE

Awarded to the student or students who most closely realize the Matteo Ricci College ideal; one who marvels at the wealth of human experience, yet wonders at its meaning; is open to diverse explanations, yet demands critical reflection; acknowledges any truth, yet questions its value and relevance; serves the human community, yet asks whether its values accord with the continuing revelation of the divine to humanity.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIANT

Gary Brinson

After graduating with a finance degree from the Albers School of Business and Economics in 1966, Gary Brinson, went on to become a leader and a legend in the investment field. After his firm Brinson Partners was acquired by Swiss Bank, Brinson led the company through its merger with Union Bank Switzerland (UBS). The merged organization was the largest bank in the world, and Mr. Brinson was named head of its combined asset-management arm. At one time in his career, he was managing more than $1 trillion in assets.

After retiring in 2000, Mr. Brinson created the non-profit Brinson Foundation through which he supports a variety of philanthropic initiatives in his home community of Chicago and beyond. Mr. Brinson continues to be committed to his alma mater. He established the Dr. Khalil Dibee Endowed Chair in Finance in honor of his former teacher and mentor in 2004 and has returned to campus on several occasions to share his wisdom with students and the broader community.

ARCHBISHOP RAYMOND G. HUNTHAUSEN OUTSTANDING SERVICE AWARD

Given to the student who has offered significant service to both the university community and the community at-large, and in so doing, has exemplified the values of collaborative leadership in service to others.

Victoria Navarro Benavides

Master of Arts in Student Development Administration

PROVOST'S AWARD FOR GRADUATE EXCELLENCE

Given to the Seattle University graduate student who has maintained the highest grade point average throughout their programs and also demonstrated outstanding leadership in academic areas.

LEO STANFORD LEADERSHIP AWARD

Eliacin Rosario-Cruz

Awarded on occasion to an outstanding student or alumna of the School of Theology and Ministry who closely realizes the

TM vision:

- Ministers who are compassionate and competent
- Inclusive and courageous
- Rooted in the Gospels
- Able to translate Christian theology into ministry

Leo Stanford pioneered a vision for ministerial education that is based on teaching students how to integrate academic theology, ministerial skill training, and spiritual formation toward the goals of working toward personal and global transformation.

DR. CLINTON MCNAIR AWARD

Jessica Lynn Taylor, SP.

The Dr. Clinton McNair award honors a graduating student who has moved beyond the school's high expectations for integrating spirituality, clinical psychological therapeutic skills, holistic health and healing practices with a passionate commitment to social justice for individuals, families and communities.
