A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Commencement | June 17, 2018

SEATTLEU

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATES OF THE CLASS OF 2018

To the 2018 Graduates,

Congratulations on your graduation from Seattle University. This comes as a fulfillment of your academic dreams and all your hard work these past years. I hope the day is a celebration with family and friends. As president, I would like to thank you for choosing Seattle U and for all you have contributed to the life of our campus community.

This is also a day to look to the future of your lives, careers and service. Let me reflect on the six values of Seattle University and what they now might mean for you beyond your time of being a student:

Care – We put the good of students first.

What I now hope is that as graduates you would put the good of others first, especially those who benefit from what your education has allowed you to become.

Academic Excellence – We value excellence in learning with great teachers who are active scholars.

The real fulfillment of academic excellence at Seattle U will be found in your continual learning in whatever profession or work you engage. We hope that the “excellence in learning” is a foundation for how you will continue to learn and grow and that your professors, who indeed are “great teachers” and “active scholars,” are an inspiration for a lifetime of learning.

Diversity – We celebrate educational excellence achieved through diversity.

One of the most important aspects from these past years has been experiences of diversity, especially with your classmates. We hope that one of the highest values of the future is the fostering of inclusive excellence and diversity in all you do and all you are.

Faith – We treasure our Jesuit Catholic ethos and the enrichment from many faiths of our university community.

We hope that you have experienced being respected and fostered in your own spirituality or faith and broadened by the experiences of many of other faiths. We hope you will continue to value dialogue with persons of differing faiths who share your commitment to the common good.

Justice – We foster a concern for justice and the competence to promote it.

You have shown yourselves firmly committed to justice both in our university community and the world at large. May the pursuit and action on behalf of justice be a central value of your lives.

Leadership – We seek to develop responsible leaders committed to the common good.

A Jesuit education is an education in leadership and we see each and every one of you as a leader who can make a difference. Be confident in your own gift of leadership and use it at the service of others, particularly for those most in need.

We hope, therefore, that the values by which Seattle University has lived throughout your education will be your values as you embark on the next phase of an exciting future.

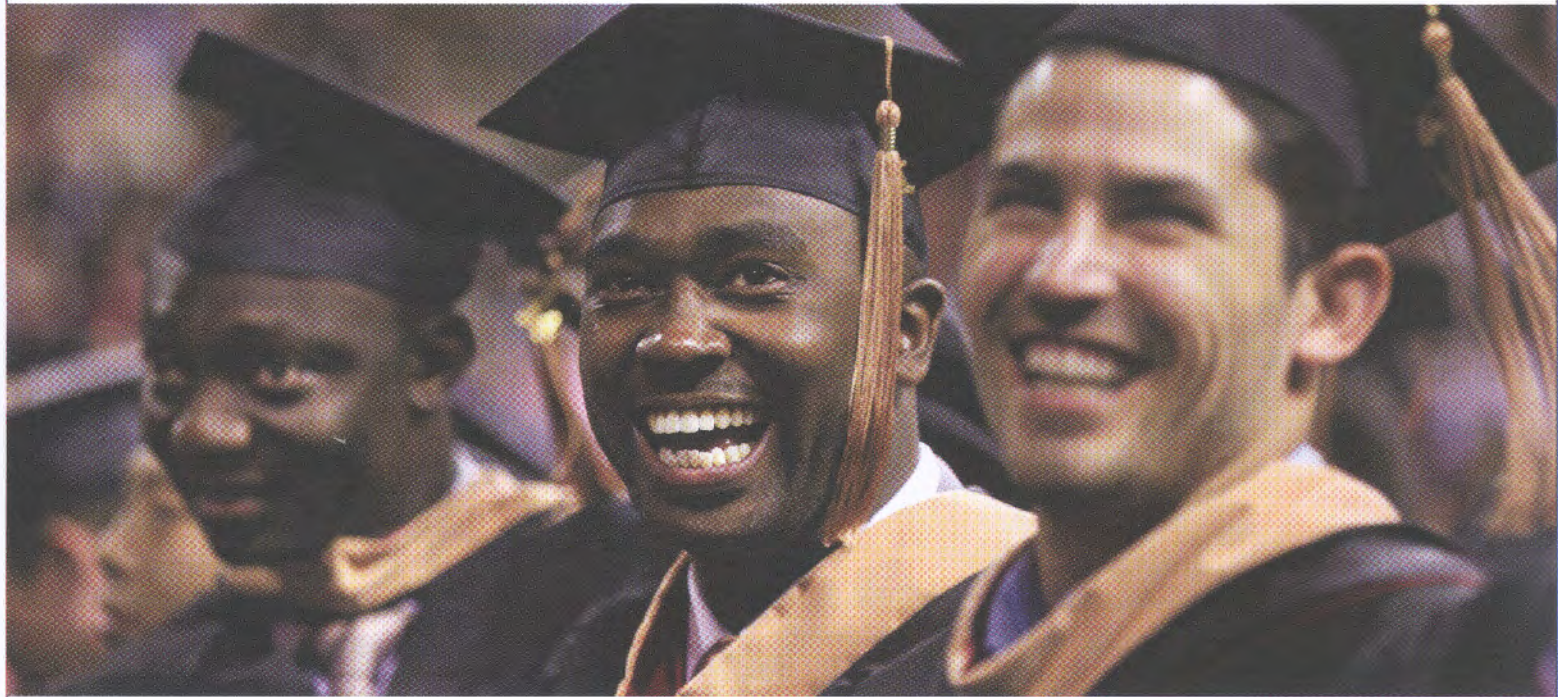

Again, congratulations and I offer my gratitude and prayers for you, our graduating students.

Sincerely,

Stephen V. Sundborg, S.J.

ABOUT SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1891, Seattle University is a Jesuit Catholic institution that today is among the most racially and culturally diverse, the most genuinely urban, and the largest multidisciplinary independent university of the Northwest.

Inspired by the Catholic intellectual tradition and the Jesuit philosophy of education, Seattle University forms independent critical thinkers rooted in the humanities and open to finding God in all things. Responding to the Jesuit imperative that calls for "the service of faith and the promotion of justice," Seattle University students are challenged to address issues of poverty, injustice, discrimination, violence and environmental degradation with competence, compassion and creativity.

At the heart of every undergraduate, graduate and professional program at Seattle University is an intellectually rigorous education delivered by excellent faculty whose attentiveness as teachers is rivaled only by their commitment to generating new knowledge as scholars. In partnership with their students, Seattle University's dedicated faculty and their colleagues create a vibrant, educational experience that comes alive in the classroom, campus and community and develops character and leadership.

As SU President Stephen Sundborg, S.J., has often said, "Only the alumni of Seattle University can tell us whether we are fulfilling our mission." It is through their actions that our alumni most clearly attest to the power of an SU education. They are leaders in banking and business, in publishing and politics, nursing and nonprofits, engineering and education. Today, we welcome our newest graduates into a special group of women and men who are excelling in their professions and working to build a more just and humane world.

THE HISTORY OF THE CAP AND GOWN

The academic apparel—gown, hood, and cap—donned today by both faculty and graduates reminds us that in this commencement ceremony we celebrate our students as accomplished scholars who now join the ranks of their professors and others who have earned their university degrees. Indeed they become part of a cadre whose membership stretches back to medieval Europe.

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries when European universities were first taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric; with few exceptions, the medieval scholar had taken orders, made vows and perhaps been tonsured. Gowns were mandated by religious affiliation but were also a necessity in the unheated university buildings. Hoods at first covered the tonsured head but eventually a skull cap became the normal headpiece and the hood evolved into a cape that could be pulled up during unpleasant weather. Eventually the hoods became entirely ornamental, draped over the shoulders and down the back.

Some say the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship that evolved from the cap worn in ancient Rome by freed slaves. Scholars first wore it as a symbol of the master's degree and it existed in various forms—stiff, soft, square and round with a tuft in the center. Today's tassel is believed to be an elaboration of the tuft. England's Oxford University originated the mortarboard style cap worn by graduates today.

When academic costume came to America in 1754, styles varied widely as they still do in Europe today. In the late 19th century an Intercollegiate Commission met at Columbia University and adopted a code of academic dress that regulates the gowns and prescribed the colors that represent the different fields of learning.

Today, the American Council on Education's Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies is charged here in the states with the standardization of American academic apparel.*

SALLY JEWELL

Sally Jewell is a leader in environmental sustainability. Following a distinguished career in the private sector, including 13 years at Recreational Equipment Incorporated (REI)—five as COO and eight as CEO—she was confirmed as United States Secretary of the Interior in 2013. As secretary, Sally worked tirelessly on a number of conservation and environmental protection initiatives, expanding access to parks and ensuring access to public lands for future generations. She has received numerous awards, including the National Audubon Society's Rachel Carson Award, the Woodrow Wilson Center's Award for Public Service and the University of Washington's 2016 Alumni Lifetime Achievement Award.

ARCHBISHOP RAYMOND G. HUNTHAUSEN OUTSTANDING SERVICE AWARD

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

The Seattle University Honors Program was founded in 1958. The two-year cohort program takes an historical approach to the humanities and the social sciences as a way of exploring and critically engaging the depth and breadth of ideas that have shaped human civilization. The program stresses the integration of knowledge in a vital challenging learning community, embracing the true spirit of Jesuit education. After completing the University Honors Program, students pursue degree requirements in a specific major.

CORE HONORS PROGRAM

The Seattle University Core Honors Program was founded in 2004. By bringing highly motivated students into a cohort group that pursues its Seattle University Core courses together, the Core Honors program permits more advanced study in these courses than would otherwise be possible. In maintaining this cohort over three years of study, Core Honors creates a learning community in which each member contributes to the learning experience of the others. In pursuing a rich and vital experience of liberal education in the humanities and social sciences, Core Honors embodies in a special way Seattle University's commitment to education for values, leadership, and service.

RICHARD P. HICKEY AWARD

Jillian Kathleen Kuuipo Guillermo

SUMMA CUM LAUDE

Awarded to the outstanding student in the College of Arts and Sciences. Selection is based upon the student's total contribution to academic life and is made by the department chairs and program directors of the college. The award honors the memory of Dr. Richard P. Hickey, professor of English, a beloved and respected teacher at the university from 1947 until his death in 1968.

LE ROUX AWARD

Haleema Bharoocha

MAGNA CUM LAUDE

Awarded to the student who has demonstrated exceptional leadership abilities, shown academic excellence and performed significant service to the College of Arts and Sciences. The recipients personify in character and action the qualities of a liberal education, which constitute the "spirit" of our College. The award honors the memory of Fr. William Le Roux, S.J., who served as Dean of the College.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT
GRADUATE SPEAKER
SAMUEL GREEN

Samuel Green was appointed the first Poet Laureate of Washington in 2007 by then-Governor Christine Gregoire. He has authored 11 poetry collections and has been published in hundreds of journals. In 2008 Sam received the Washington State Book Award for Poetry for his poetry collection, The Grace of Necessity, and the following year was awarded a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship in Poetry. Sam has been generous in sharing his expertise and insights with aspiring writers at numerous schools, colleges and universities, including serving several terms as the Distinguished Visiting Northwest Writer at Seattle University.

WALLACE LOH ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AWARD

Andrea M. Giuffre

The Wallace Loh Academic Excellence Award is given to the outstanding graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences Graduate Programs. Selection is based upon exceptional graduate work in the classroom. Qualification evidenced by paper/article submission, conference presentations, fellowship or scholarship awards, and interdisciplinary scholarship work. The award honors the impact that Dr. Wallace Loh had upon graduate programs in the College of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Loh served as Dean of the college from 1999-2008. Under his leadership, four of the seven Arts and Sciences graduate programs were created.

LEADERSHIP AND PROFESSIONAL ENGAGEMENT AWARD

Emily Dielle West

The Leadership and Professional Engagement Award recognizes the graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences who has demonstrated exceptional leadership abilities and professional engagement. The recipient is an innovative forward thinker, making new roads in their chosen field. Their professional development efforts contribute to the vibrant educational experience in their graduate program.

SOCIAL JUSTICE AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AWARD

Maria Mohamed Abdullahi

The Social Justice and Community Engagement Award recognizes the graduating student in the College of Arts and Sciences who has demonstrated a deep commitment to social justice and community engagement. The recipient has gone above and beyond in their service to others, carrying with them the founding principles of a Jesuit education, making choices as a leader for a just and humane world.

LEO STANFORD LEADERSHIP AWARD

Marci Jo Scott-Weis
Teddi Lynn Callahan

Awarded on occasion to an outstanding student or alumna of the School of Theology and Ministry who closely realizes the TM vision.

Leo Stanford pioneered a vision for ministerial education that is based on teaching students how to integrate academic theology, ministerial skill training, and spiritual formation toward the goals of working toward personal and global transformation.

DR. CLINTON MCNAIR AWARD

Nils Ringo-Pennino

The Dr. Clinton McNair award honors a graduating student who has moved beyond the school's high expectations for integrating spirituality, clinical psychological therapeutic skills, holistic health and healing practices with a passionate commitment to social justice for individuals, families and communities.

DR. LORETTA JANCOSKI INNOVATIVE LEADERSHIP AWARD

Annika Maria Mertz

Awarded to an outstanding graduating student particularly in the Master of Arts Transformational Leadership program who moves beyond the program's high norms of community service through leadership and academic excellence.

The Dr. Loretta Jancoski Leadership Award recognizes the ground-breaking leadership of the first dean of the School of Theology and Ministry, Dr. Loretta Jancoski. Under her visionary direction, she guided the establishment of an innovative ecumenical theological venture in the Pacific Northwest.
