ASSC PRIMARY ELECTION HELD TODAY

Prom Chairman Announces Plans

Graduating seniors will be feted by the juniors when the annual Junior Prom will be held at the Seattle Golf Club on Saturday evening, May 30.

According to Bob Swart, chairman of the traditional affair, Ward Cole, West Coast favorite, will have his orchestra there to furnish the music for a memorable evening.

A closed dance, the affair is open only by invitation to upper classmen. The seniors have gotten their free programs, and the juniors theirs. Underclassmen will be admitted until the quota has been filled.

However, Chairman Swart warned seniors that they must announce their intention of attending the Prom by Monday noon, for unless this is done, the committee will not know how many underclassmen to admit until the quota is reached.

Formal, the dance will have for its theme, "Springtime," and the spacious grounds will lend themselves well to this theme, went on Swart.

Assisting Bob Swart are: Jim Christianson, Bill Bates, Phil Swart, F. Perri, Alberta Grieve, Ruth Brock, Don Nelson, Tony Buhr, Bertha Gleason, Bob Parent, and Mary McCoy.

Debate Tournament Progresses Smoothly

The President's Cup Debate Tournament began Wednesday evening, May 13, with the affirmative team, Buhr and Dillon, in the first debate of the preliminaries. The debate took place before a large, joint meeting of the Forum and Gavel Clubs.

The second debate was held on Thursday morning at 9 a. m. in Room 118 of the Liberal Arts Building. Napoleon Rousseau and Warren Johnson upheld the affirmative and Bertha Gleason and Roscoe Balch defended the negative.

Saturday evening, the team of Daly and Grieve will meet Leadon and Kruger. Three more debates have been scheduled for Sunday morning. The remaining ones will take place during the first part of the coming week.

May 22 has been appointed as the day on which the finals will occur.

Below are the platforms and policies of the candidates for top offices in the Associated Student Body. Consider these statements carefully, for they are made by the men upon whom you will cast your ballot in the primary election, held today.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

BUHR—Junior, Engineering Major.

I. Twenty-five per cent of all profits of student body affair shall go to the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps. Let us also establish a blood donors club on our campus.

II. Keep the old spirit of Seattle College alive by having every month a grand intra-mural night. On this night the K. C. Hall would be opened to all the students of the college for an evening of basketball, badminton, bowling, Juke-box swinging, ping pong, and what have you. Everybody comes and everybody plays.

III. Student assemblies should be lengthened by a half hour to allow for full, free debate for all. We promise an impartial chair.

IV. The Drama Guild, with the full cooperation of the student body, should stage a one act play-carnival for all Catholic high schools in the city of Seattle.

V. A standing committee should be set up in the association to further closer collaboration between the nursing students and the rest of the A. S. S. C.

VI. We shall actively carry on the campaign to bring back Intercollegiate basketball to Seattle College.

CHRISTIANSON—Junior, Liberal Arts Major.

My nomination was a compete surprise to me, so that all I can say is that I pledge self to work for the best interest.

PARENT—Junior, Pre-med.

"I am no politician, and therefore have had little time to prepare a platform. Running for this office at the insistence of my friends, the most I can do is to pledge myself to work for the whole of the College.

THOSE RUNNING FOR VICE PRESIDENT ARE:

BATES—Junior, Liberal Arts Major.

My policy is contained in the platform stated by Buhr, with whom I am associated in this election.

EBERHARTER—Junior, Business Administration.

The student body needs only one reform, I believe, and that is in the election of officers. The present system should be modified so that the runner up, in the presidential contest should automatically hold the post of vice-president. This done, the student body would have two qualified men to hold the top two positions, both of whom are seniors and chosen on merit. Whether or not I am elected, I propose to push this amendment. It will add interest to the elections, and provide us with a safeguard in the present national situation.

HARDIMAN—Sophomore.

I don't know what to say except that I appreciate the honor of nomination, and will do my best.

SENIOR EXAMS TO BE HELD SOON PROVIDENCE OFFICERS INSTALLED

Seniors of Seattle College applying for their Bachelor degrees will appear before a board of three faculty members, beginning May 20th, to pass their Senior Philosophy examinations. The Oral examinations will cover the required twenty-six hours of Psychology, Logic, Epistemology, Ethics, and Metaphysics. The examinations will also include Apologetics, Sacraments, Redemption, and Creation.

Stan Conroy, valedictorian of the class of 1942, when questioned on the purpose of the three days of oral quizzes pointed out that this year the crisis of a student's life will occur much sooner than ever before. "In these times of world chaos and economic confusion" stated Mr. Conroy, "a thorough renewal and review of Phylisophy in the minds of all graduates, will do much to enable them to combat the hate and bitterness in the world and will be an invaluable aid to them in their task of restoring justice and love."

At a student body meeting held Monday evening in the Providence auditorium, the officers for the following year were installed. Holding offices are: the Misses Barbara Kane, president; Elenor Kirkland, vice president; Helen Cockrill, secretary, and Denyce Flenk, treasurer.

The student council members are Adelaide Stonach, Katherine Proback, Mickie Taylor and Mickie Kyser. The students elected Mrs. Dougherty and Miss Chaney for the advisory committee.

After the installation of officers a regular business meeting was held at which members decided to collect quarterly dues. Plans for the Spring Formal were discussed the date, June 26, being the only definite decision.

Sister Zephirin, directress of nurses left Tuesday night on a well-earned vacation which will take her to a convention in Chicago, and from there to Montreal where she will visit her family for the first time in twelve years.

"Uncle Dudley" At K. C. Hall On Saturday, Sunday

The spotlight for the last time this year falls on those two, now veteran, actors, Jack Terhar and Lillian Perry. As leads in "Your Uncle Dudley," they promise a fast-moving comedy.

Presented in Penthouse style, the play is directed by Mr. Robert Prins, teacher of drama and speech at the University of Washington. The play will be produced at the K. C. Hall, 722 East Union Street, Saturday evening, 8:30, May 16, and Sunday afternoon, 2:30, May 17.

Tickets may be secured by students for 40 cents, service men, 40 cents, and adults 60 cents. These necessary ducats may be purchased from the following: Dana Magee, Barbara Fallan, Dot Tvete, Cay Mayer, and Dona Moberg.

Bishop To Preside At Commencement

Our Most Reverend Bishop Gerald Shaughnessy, S. M., is scheduled to preside at the forty-first commencement exercises of Seattle College to be held May 29th, 1942, at 8:15 P. M. at Providence Auditorium. Approximately seventy seniors will receive their diplomas.

Honored speaker of the evening will be Mr. Fred Schaaf, L.L.B., graduate of Gonzaga University. Stan Conroy of Scobey, Montana, and Bettie Kumhera of Seattle, valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, will share honors as speakers with Mr. Schaaf.

Each year Bishop Shaughnessy offers a medal to the student attaining the highest grade in a special examination given to seniors in the fields of philosophy and religion. This coveted medal will be presented at graduation exercises as a surprise to all—including the winner.

The awarding of the President's Cup to the winner of the annual debate contest will be made the same evening.

Graduating seniors will receive their parents and friends in the parlors of the Nurses' home.

A PLEA FOR PEACE

Wednesday, May 13, His Holiness Pope Pius XII celebrated the 25th anniversary of his consecration as a bishop. On this solemn and memorable occasion he broadcast to the world a plea for peace, making the appeal "with greater insistence in view of the menace of greater destructive weapons."

One of the keynotes of the Pope's address was his appeal to the heads of all nations "to secure a future for their nations, to purify their consciences before God and to restore the happiness of family life." He advised the leaders of all countries to seek a peace based on moderate and just standards, forgetting their individual, nationalistic aspirations in view of the fundamental principles of a true peace.

We students at Seattle College are in accord with the Pope's plea. We must and will do all that we can to aid his purpose in a material manner; but primarily we must dedicate ourselves to the spiritual support of his plan of a lasting, real peace.

We must join our earnest prayers with his that "a new world may be constructed — a world of brotherhood, so help us God."

Informally ...

If you have never been a delegate to a convention, or if you have never known anyone who has attended a convention, you are indeed an unusual American. Millions of people each year travel thousands of miles to be present at hundreds of different kinds of conventions. Each of these gatherings represents an organized, active interest of a group of people in a certain thing, whether it is in politics, religion, education, or business, or in shuffle-board playing, bee-keeping, false-teeth making, or parsnip-planting. The enthusiasm and sociability of the delegates probably determines the success of a convention more than anything else, while the speakers, the food, the living accommodations and the convention site, if they are good, aid in making the gathering a jolly one.

Nearly 5,000,000 persons attend 15,000 conventions annually in America. It is almost incredible that each of these congregations are zealous about 15,000 different subjects, but it happens to be true. The National Anti-Horse Thief Association, the Master Shoe Rebuilders, the Tin Can Tourists of the World, the New Jersey Mosquito Extermination Association and the Descendants of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence have all held conventions in recent years in the United States. It is possible that you were present when the American Guild of Banjoists, Mandolinists and Guitarists met, or the Mutual Tornado, Cyclone and Windstorm Association got together, or the United Brothers of Friendship and Sisters of the Mysterious Ten convened.

Detroit welcomed the members of a pigeon-racing club several years ago, while Texas greeted checker players and Minnesota, skat players, The Pickle Packers Association, and the National Association of Egg Case and Egg Case Filler Manufacturers have congregated to give vent to their enthusiasm about pickles and egg cases, respectively. The United Swiss Singers of America, The American Ping Pong Association, the Circus Fans Association of America, the International Lawn Bowlers and the National Puzzlers League have convened to discuss their individual problems.

In December, 1935, a really super convention met in Chicago. All those who came to this gathering evidently liked horses, for they were members of the American Shetland Pony Club, the Welsh Pony and Cob Society, Percheron Society of America, American Shire Horse Association, American Suffolk Horse Association, Horse and Mule Association, and the American Association of Importers and Breeders of Belgian Draft Horses.

It would have been enlightening to attend the meetings of the American Pythopathological Society, the American Clinical and Climatological Association, and the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology. It must have been quite an experience, too, to be a delegate to the conventions of the Inner Eye Society, the Order of True Kindred, the Oriental Order of Humility and Perfection of the United States and Canada, and the Saints and Sinners Club of America.

Knights Ignored Miss Emily Post

Have you ever been socially ana-thematized for innocently sipping your soup so loud as to annoy the sensitive ears of an etiquette-conscious persons? The next time you find yourself in such an embarrassing position let the thought of these following words comfort, set you at your ease:

In the days when chivalry still made plumed knights ride to the rescue of fair princesses on dashing white (or coal black) chargers, with lance in one hand and poetry on their lips, etiquette was somewhat milder in its demands on one's behavior. Sipping soup was not the only sin that lords and ladies committed in the way of etiquette offenses. It was quite the thing for sig knight to sit down at the festive board sagging under the weight of venison, chickens, pastries, et cetera, and then proceed to gorge himself, while milady did likewise, only in a more feminine manner. Such procedure was socially acceptable provided milord or milady held the venison with the thumb and first finger. These two fingers in due time were baptized the "courtesy fingers." As long as they, and they alone, were used etiquette held its peace.

At times her ladyship in a moment of extreme hunger got her courtesy fingers greasy from the meats which she was gnawing (in those days they weren't blessed with those two marvelous ingredients of cookery, Spry and Crisco. Naturally foods were apt to be a little gooey). However, all was not lost. There was a social loophole. Her ladyship was granted the privilege of wiping greasy fingers on her silken brocades if she were certain no one was looking. My, my. One of chivalry's oldest illicit romances might never have been if the gallant Sir Lancelot had espied Guinivere wiping greasy fingers on shining silks. The shock would have been too much for his amorous feelings to withstand.

THE POWER OF PRAYER

It happened last Christmas. Whether in the Atlantic, Pacific or in the Caribbean Sea, it matters not, but 17 days before a merchant ship was "torpedoed." The crew took to the life boats; in one, 19 men trusted their lives. After a while food and then water ran short. They spotted planes overhead but never made contact. It was discouraging; days wore on; no help, 14, 15 and 16 days. Hope faded; death faced them tragically. On Christmas day an old fisherman in the bow of the boat took an old prayer book from his jacket; old from us and maybe disuse. Anyway, he spoke thus: "Men, we have tried everything, today it is prayer—you are going to hear the Mass for Christmas Day." The old mariner read the Mass in full. As he concluded the last prayer and closed the missel, a plane spotted them in the water. Exchange of signals followed. Affirmative answer, dipping of wings. The plane disappeared on the horizon, an hour and 45 minutes later, the 19 men found themselves safe on one of our U. S. destroyers.

Speaking for Myself ...

By BILL BATES

The College year, according to all signs and symptoms, is rapidly dissipating itself into another summer holiday. For many of the S.C. students, of course, the summer will merely mean another quarter's work. And isn't that a swell thing the faculty is doing in putting in the extra quarter! We may think we are taking a beating going to school all through the year, but how do you think the scholastic year affects the individual members of the faculty? It's a tough grind, and I think all of us should be thankful we've got the kind of faculty that adjusts itself to a national emergency as promptly and cheerfully as has been done here.

Being a Junior, it is probably natural for me to want to talk about the coming Prom. Well, it is going to be something different. In the first place. It will be strictly invitational, with Seniors getting in free. The Juniors get first choice of the limited number of invitations. Grads also will have a chance to get a few. If there are any bids left by May 16 or so, the underclassmen should apply to Bob Swart or Jimmy Christiansen, or any member of the Junior class, and first come, first served.

The Drama Guild, as is its wont, is staging another swell play for the enjoyment, entertainment and edification of the assembled multitudes. The date, after several necessary changes, has been definitely put at May 16 or 17. The directors have decided that an innovation will be introduced in the form of a Sunday matinee. It is confidently expected that this feature will lure many of the night shift students. Ruth Balkema and Bob Prinz are directing; the Casey Hall is the scene; penthouse style is the mode of presentation. Frankly, I don't see how you can afford to miss it!

Here and There: Saw one of the Japanese evacuations the other day. No one will deny that the move is most necessary to preserve the safety of our country, but it does bring forth a heart-jerk to see those laughing boys and girls piled into big grey buses. . . . The Women's Tolo the other night comes very near to hitting a new high in spontaneous entertainment. Other clubs, please note! . . . All loyal students of S. C. should remember that no matter how hard the faculty, the Publicity Department, the Mixed Quartet and others work, the main avenue of gaining new students is through personal contact. If there is a young fellow you'd like to see at the College, wander around and talk it up. . . . Pats on the back to President Ray Mongrain. He has had a tough tenure, with the war and Boeing's cutting right into the heart of the student body. With all the vicissitudes, Ray has come thru with flying colors. . . . Doesn't anybody know what a Big Shot is?

With the end of the year coming, a surveyal of the past school season should be taken. What mistakes did we make? Can we avoid them next year? Where did the student body fall down? Where did it back up the activity? What plans should be laid for next year? Old Doc Bates will try to answer these questions in the column next week. Let's, as a famous politician once said, look at the record.

COMMENTS BY CLARK

THINGS I COULD DO WITHOUT:

- those six hours of daily study Father McGoldrick recommends.
- awful lulls of indecision like the one in the student body meeting when none wanted to stand and nominate a candidate for president.
- lockers like the one near the chapel door that's always spread over the hallway.
- public holidays that fall on Saturday like Memorial Day will this year. It means we can't skip classes legitimately.
- people who object to "canned music" for a dance just because they don't take the time to consider it's a lot better than some tin-pan alley band.

IT NEVER FAILS:

- for at least someone in an hour at Pat's to postulate a scheme for beating the slot machines.
- for John Duane to come late for class, arriving with much panting and disturbance and for Father Gilmore to say "good afternoon" to him.
- that someone has an explosion in the lab. It's happened every other year. What's the matter this year?
- to rain on Ascension Thursday.

I WAS:

- surprised to see Jack Terhar and John Kreuger among others to appear minus suits as they did at the Cotton Ball.
- glad to see the Cotton Ball be such a success.
- shocked to discover that some people actually were going to work in the lab on Ascension Thursday, rain or shine.
- amused at Jo Anne Larson's freedom of speech at the meeting held for the Hikers.

The Greatest Air Army in the World
Needs Flight and Ground Crew Officers

NOW FOR COLLEGE MEN A NEW OFFICERS' TRAINING PLAN

★ New Deferred Service Plan Allows You to Continue Your Education ★

In the skies over America the mightiest air fleet in the history of the world is mobilizing for victory!

So fast is it growing that there is a place here — an urgent need here — for every college man in America who can qualify for Officer's Training.

The U. S. Army Air Forces need Flying Officers and Ground Crew Officers. And many of them must come from the ranks of today's college students — men who make their plans now for the necessary Aviation Cadet training.

Thanks to a newly created Air Force Reserve plan, men of all classes — aged 18 to 26, inclusive — can enlist for immediate service or continue the scholastic work required for graduation before being called to active duty.

You must meet the requirements for physical fitness, of course. In addition, you take a new simplified test to determine your ability to grasp the training. A college man should pass it easily.

$75 A MONTH DURING TRAINING

Those accepted who wish immediate duty will go into training as rapidly as facilities permit. As an Aviation Cadet, you are paid $75 a month, with subsistence, quarters, medical care, uniforms, equipment, traveling expenses.

In 8 months you can win an officer's commission as a bombardier, navigator or pilot — and be well started on your way to serve America and advance yourself in aviation.

MANY BRANCHES OF SERVICE

There are also commissions awarded in ground crew service. College men particularly

THREE ENLISTMENT PLANS FOR COLLEGE MEN

May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standings.

All College Men May Enlist
for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until they are ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R.O.T.C. plans.)

will be interested in the requirements for Armaments, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography. If you have engineering experience your chances of getting a commission are excellent.

This past year about 80% of all Aviation Cadets were commissioned as Second Lieutenants — about 67% as flying officers. Those who do not qualify remain in the Air Forces on an enlisted status and have further opportunities.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty with the Army Air Forces, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

ACT AT ONCE

If you want to fight for America, this is where your blows will count.

If you want the best training in the world, and years of solid achievement in aviation — the great career field of the future — this is where you belong. Your place is here — in the Army Air Forces.

If you plan to enlist immediately, start getting your necessary papers ready for the Aviation Cadet Examining Board when it meets in your locality. For complete information, see your Faculty Air Force Advisor. You can take your mental and physical examinations the same day you apply. Get further information now.

NOTE: If you wish to enlist and are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today — you can then complete your enlistment before any Aviation Cadet Examining Board.

More About NURSES

gave Sister Zephrin the loveliest going-away present of all, Mass in the hospital chapel.

With the good wishes of the girls and their prayers, we know that Sister will have a very enjoyable month. As a going-away surprise, Sister Zephrin awarded the caps to the part-time "D" students. Those receiving the caps were Jo Ann Campau, Carolyn Cosgrove, Mary Deignan, Alma Hunter, Edith Johnson, Ethel Keeler, Ruby Martin, Virginia McAbee, Evelyn McDonald, Jean McLeod, Edith Strauss, Mickie Taylor, Verna Thorton and Edna Venishnick.

Before the meeting adjourned, the Sodality took over and decided to go to Mass in a body Wednesday morning in the chapel at 6 o'clock in honor of the Pope's Jubilee. The Sodality decided to sponsor a nurses' picnic in the near future. Further plans will be announced later.

Mary McCoy Elected Women Student Prexy

Mary McCoy was elected president of the Associated Women's Students of Seattle College for the coming year, at the election held Wednesday, May 13. Mary, a genial and well-liked junior, at present employed as Fr. Beezer's assistant in the bookstore, defeated Barbara Fallon, also an outstanding junior, in the closely contested race.

Dot Tvete, whose campaign was marked by a number of colorful posters, successfully overcame Lee Clark, her opponent for the vice-presidency of the Women Students.

Mary Jane Kelly and Cay Mayer, offered an exciting race for the post of secretary. Cay came out victorious after some very close competition.

Eileen Ryan was chosen treasurer of the women's organization, winning over Juanita Brown in another very close run.

Nominees Hold Meeting Spotlight

In a thrilling nomination speech by Stanley Conroy, Tony Buhr was first in an ASSC presidential nomination Friday, May 8, in K. C. chambers. In quick succession Jim Christensen and Bob Parent were nominated by Joe McArdle and Jack Terhar. Don Nelson declined a nomination by Bob La Lanne but immediately proposed Ted Mitchell for the post. Mitchell withdrew.

For the Vice-president race Bill Bates will contest Joseph Eberharter and Mike Hardiman. Eclipsing the presidential tumult in interest, Bates threw his hat into the fracas when nominated by Ted Mitchell. Eberharter was proposed by Cronin Anderson, Hermit president.

In the Secretarial battle, Cuba Mallon was nominated by Tony Buhr. Cay Mayer, present News Editor of the Spectator, was nominated by Joe Eberharter. Bertha Gleason, Employment Department assistant and Gavel Club member, was proposed. Flaming haired Ruth Brock was nominated to serve a second term in this ASSC office.

Seeking the Treasury position are: Warren Johnson, Ed Kohls, John Powers. Joe McArdle was nominated but declined due to his entrance in the service.

The Sergeant-at-Arms post has Manuel Vera up for a second term. Vera is now serving out the term of Bob Mahaney in the Sergeant-at-Arms place. Opposing Vera are Bob LaRiviere and Gene Plum.

For Senior Advisory Board are: Burke, Mitchell, Florida Perri, L. Sears, and Bob Swartz.

Junior Advisory Board member nominations are: R. Balch, M. Beeson, J. Ayres, J. Brown, Lillian Zucco and Gene Voiland.

Sophomore Advisory Board members are: Lee Clark, K. Eisen, Ed Hardiman, Mary Currid, Eileen Ryan, Dona Moberg, Bud Feeley and John Bulman.

Cotton Ball Informal Tops All AWS Dances

The Cotton Ball, sponsored by the AWSSC last Friday, May 8, is reported to have been both a financial and social success.

Mary McCoy and Louise Smyth, co-chairmen of the affair, wish to extend their appreciation to all the committee members and committee heads who helped to make the dance a success.

Employment Office Offers Many Fine Opportunities

Everything in the line of jobs from gas station attendants to store clerks is offered by the Seattle College Employment Bureau.

"I have people call up daily wanting boys and girls for all types of jobs, but unfortunately I can't answer all the requests," states Mrs. Leonard. Most of the jobs pay well and are of such a variety that most everyone can find a job suited to his likes and abilities."

If anyone is planning on attending Summer school and at the same time wishes to hold a part-time job, they should consult the employment bureau. For those who want to work at full time jobs they are wise to try the bureau and find out what jobs are offered.

Mrs. Leonard will be in her office at least twice a week during the summer months.

War Bonds

Under the sponsorship of the Forum Club the United States War Bonds are to be sold from the "Minute Man" booth now situated in the Liberal Arts Building.

At the request of the Treasury Department all college and universities are to sponsor this worthy cause.

Many of our College boys are now in the fighting forces. The government believes we can help them by sending them supplies from our own pockets.

Lick your stamps—to lick the Axis.

Mu Sigma Sponsors Final Music Night

The Mu Sigma, the Music Honorary, is planning a fifth and final Music Night, which promises to finish off the school year in a fitting climax. Although it is the newest club in school, the Mu Sigma has in its short life, been one of the most active. It has presented four successful Music Nights and has also sent the mixed quartet around to high schools in the vicinity to publicize the College.

The special treat Monday evening will consist of a group of entertainers, organized by Bill Moeller, which has been going around to various Army

Publicity Department Reveals New Plans

The publicity department has just revealed that plans for radio publicity for Seattle College are now well under way. This new department will be under the supervision of Dick Maguire. Mr. Maguire stated, "There will be great need for people who are interested and are willing to work. We have several different sub-departments which will require various heads. The production which I will run, will be in collaboration with the heads of these other departments, which will be writing, acting, sound, etc.

"We especially call out to underclassmen and those who will have time this summer to further the arrangement. Although this is an extra curricular activity it will offer many opportunities for those interested in radio.

"We also issue a cry for those who have talent, such as singing, acting, announcing and speaking. I know that this whole thing will be a big success and an asset to Seattle College."

All those who are interested in these activities can contact Mr. Maguire at the publicity department.

Summer Quarter Offers Course In Nursing

According to Dean McGoldrick, the summer quarter at Seattle College will offer a strong and complete course in all nursing branches. From June 22 to August 22 a regular 15-hour course in all phases of nursing education will be given. This will include Physics, Chemistry, Physiology, Anatomy, and Bacteriology.

Several courses in Education, for both the three-year and the six-year Standard Secondary Certificate, will be offered.

Courses in College Algebra, Trigonometry, Analytical Geometry, French, German, Latin, and Spanish will also be given.

Graduate and Undergraduate English Courses will be offered.
