Prexy Primary Elections Held Today

McKay Heads Frosh; Anderson Vice-President

The newly-elected president of the freshman class is James McKay, a second quarter frosh from O'Dea High School. Jim is a civil engineering major and freshman chairman of the Barn Dance.

Election of officers was the primary action at this week's freshman class meeting. Bill Conroy, vice-president of the student body, presided as class officers were chosen to serve during the year.

Other students elected to positions in the freshman class include George Anderson, engineering student, vice-president; Rosemary Barrett, medical technician, secretary; Thomas Reed, pre-medical student, treasurer; and Don Goebel, engineering student and former Navy Air Corps ensign, sergeant-at-arms.

It was announced that those interested in making programs for the Barn Dance should meet at 7:00 p. m. tonight in Room 118.

Gaveleers Elect McLucas Head For Coming Year

Beverly McLucas, pre-law sophomore, has been elected president of the Gavel Club for the coming year. Miss McLucas has achieved wide recognition in the Pacific Northwest for her accomplishments in the field of oratory, winning honors in the Hearst-sponsored oratorical contest which was held last spring.

A graduate of Holy Rosary high school, Miss Lucas is attending Seattle College on a public speaking scholarship awarded her in the high school forensic debate tournament sponsored annually by the college debating society.

Other elections were postponed until the next meeting. A non-decision debate was held in which Jim Henriot and Bertrum Goodman of Bellarmine high school in Tacoma opposed Geraldine Testu and Jeanne Kupers of Holy Rosary.

Uncle Sam's College Men

A Seattle naval officer and former student at the College, Cornelius (Nell) Brislawn, has been promoted to lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, officers announced this week. He is now on duty in the operations department at the Sand Point Naval Air Station and has been in the Navy five years.

From the time he entered the Navy until his assignment in Seattle, the lieutenant commander saw most of the world from the eagle-eye view afforded by a Liberator bomber instead of from the deck of a ship. He has flown

War Chest Drive Surpasses Official Quota

Although the goal set by the College itself was not realized, the War and Community Chest Drive at Seattle College ended last Friday with a total beyond the quota of $450 set by the Seattle War Chest committee. A check for $494 was presented this week to the downtown office by Leon Carria, president of the hiking club and chairman of the S. C. campaign.

Under the direction of Hiyu Coolee, the drive consisted of a five-day feather campaign, culminating Friday night with a Powwow and Victory Mixer in the Engineering Building. During a mock ceremony at the dance, the titles of Chief and Squaw were bestowed upon True Unca-pher and Jeanne Chase for the most successful salesmanship.

"The Hiyu's did a fine job in a very cheerful way. As usual, they reached their goal. Another feather in the Hiyu war bonnet," commented Father Francis Logan, S. J., the moderator of Hiyu Coolee.

Father Beezer Reads Paper To Chemists

Father Gerald Beezer, S. J., will read a paper on "Diphenyl-stiline and its Derivatives" at the first annual regional meeting of the American Chemical Society tomorrow in Bagley Hall at the University of Washington. Dr. V. Sivertz, chairman of the Puget Sound Section of American Chemists, will preside.

Father Beezer will be chairman of the afternoon symposium on the training of chemists and chemical engineers. He will orate a paper on the report of Dr. Vannevar Bush to the President of the United States on the Future of Science in America.

Tangney Elected To Preside Over Silver Scroll

Jeanne Tangney, social science senior, will serve as this year's president of Silver Scroll, upper division women's honorary, it was decided at a meeting of the organization this week.

The society's other offices will be filled by Pat Eisen, sociology senior, vice-president; June Peterson, English senior, secretary; and Barbara Ann Ryan, social science senior, treasurer.

Preparations for the coming Sadie Hawkins dance are underway. Members of the Scroll have also undertaken the projects of contemporizing the Servicemen's Plaque and Flag and of completing the alumni files.

Ken Schweitzer Appointed as Business Head

Kenneth E. Schweitzer, junior business student, was appointed this week to succeed Eileen Boyce as advertising manager of the Spectator. He has worked in the business department for the past year. Before coming to Seattle College, he was business manager of the Sam-rocco, annual of St. Martin's College.

Advertising manager since the middle of last year, Eileen recently resigned from the job to transfer to a school of pharmacy.

The new business head emphasized the fact that all advertising will be local and that every ad must be cleared through him, before and after it is procured. In outlining plans for enlargement of the department, he added that anyone interested in joining the staff, or anyone with any leads on securing ads, contact him.

ASSC PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

Fenton, Jasper and Pettinger Compete for Votes to Decide Finalist Candidates

Decision on Treasurer Candidates Waits for Wednesday Finals

Election platforms of the three candidates for the presidency of the Associated Students of Seattle College are printed below. The preliminary election will take place today to narrow the presidential race to two candidates. Final votes will be cast Wednesday, October 24, to fill the positions of president and treasurer.

The candidates were nominated last Friday at an assembly of the associated students. Bill Fenton, a senior pre-law student, is president of the Lettermen's Club and a class officer. A biology senior, Dick Jasper, is a Navy veteran and an active member of the Mendel Club and of Hiyu Coolee. Tom Pettinger, a senior history student, is president of the Sodality and a member of the Intercollegiate Knights.

PLATFORMS

Bill Fenton

His election will insure the following program:

1. An inter-city basketball jamboree at the Civic Auditorium between Seattle College, Seattle Pacific College, Pacific Lutheran, and College of Puget Sound.
2. The support of a program providing for track or baseball as a major sport at the College for this spring.
3. Cooperation in the intramural athletic program for both young men and young women.
4. A really friendly, closely cooperating student body with a front hall suggestion box, open to everyone wishing to express his ideas or criticisms.
5. A Student Athletic Council working with the athletic director, in making plans for pep rallies, college games, publicity, ticket campaigns, and a yell squad.
6. Advocacy of matinee mixers twice a week in the Engineering Building.
7. A mutually assisting and representative student body consisting of all college groups and nurses' organizations.

Dick Jasper

During the past week I have been nominated for the presidency of the ASSC. This is truly a great honor in itself and one for which I am grateful. The fulfilling of this office entails many problems and responsibilities. It also involves the accomplishment of the task and living up

Chase, Marsh Receive Judicial Board Positions

Jeanne Chase, junior laboratory technician, and Bill Marsh, sophomore business student, will receive the positions of junior and sophomore justices, respectively, on the Judicial Board, it was revealed this morning. Competitive examinations covering matter in the ASSC constitution were held Wednesday.

The new justices will assume office after their appointments are confirmed by the Advisory Board. They will retain their positions until the close of their senior year, unless they leave the school or resign to campaign for ASSC offices.

A meeting of the board will be held shortly to choose a new chief justice and outline the board's activities, June Peterson, senior justice, announced.

Truckey, Carria To Compete for Treasurer Chair

Two prominent upper classmen, Leon Carria and Bob Truckey, were nominated at last Friday's student body meeting for the position of treasurer of the ASSC. The final and only election for this position will take place Wednesday, October 24.

An engineering junior, Leon is president of his class and of Hiyu Coolee, hiking club. He is an active member of the Sodality, belongs to the Gavel Club, and is a charter member of the Commercial Club.

Bob, a pre-medical student, is vice-president of the senior class. He held the same position last year in the sophomore class and was a chairman of the Barn Dance. A two year basketball letterman, he is a member of the Lettermen's Club and a pitcher on the College softball team.

School politicians have been talking about orange juice in the drinking fountains and of impressive past records, but they need more than these to put them on the track. We want a president for our student body who can remember the best parts of the old pre-war S. C. and yet thinks of the new up-and-coming College.

I have heard the candidates' platforms and I would like to offer them a few more planks. We don't want to look in at ourselves, introvert fashion, and wonder how good we are. We know how good we are. We're the best.

Why don't we join the Association of Private Colleges? The College did have membership. Santa Clara and other name schools were joining before the war. Let us then get back in and start making our way again into a bigger student body and a finer school. We're good, but we aren't above improvement.

Another plank for the presidential platform would be the restoration of the Intercollegiate Knights, the organization that could back anything and make it a success. A student organization of school and civic minded men intent on doing their best for both.

This College gives scholarships for, and prides itself on the speaking ability of its students. So then, let us show the other schools how good we are. Invite the University debaters here, invite other colleges. We will get publicity, return offers, and we will win their trophies.

Sports are also all-important. Sport scholarships would allow us to build up a basketball team capable of meeting and taming anything on the Coast.

Look, we don't have to worry about the money. Sports scholarships would bring in new students, so would intercollegiate debating. Belonging to the Association of Private Colleges would raise us in number, in spirit, and in success. All of these planks would give us publicity and the new, finer, larger College we all desire.

Look, candidates, we are willing to vote for you, but give us a platform that isn't so wormy that everyone can see through it. We are for Seattle College mainly, our friendship comes later.

We are voting for a student body president, not to determine who is the most popular man on the campus.

—Bill Marsh

Communique

Radio cannot last. Radio is on the skids. Don't ask Philco. Don't ask the Radio Survey of America. Ask us. We're unbiased. We don't have any prejudices either.

After hours of intensive research, we have unearthed the single element which will doom radio to oblivion. It will be extinct, too.

Is your little world shattered by this prophecy of things to come? Does the fantastic idea that radio has a flaw leave you aghast? We admit that on the surface it seems incredible. Take the commercial, especially the singing commercial, which has so captured the fancy and hearts of the American public. When asked for her opinion on lyric advertisement, Mrs. Mary Fairweather, prominent Long Island matron, replied, "They're refreshing as can be. Skeedee wo! Skeedee wee!"

And the soap opera prevents millions of housewives from developing neuroses, since no normal woman can hope to transcend or even duplicate the neurotic conditions of her favorite heroine.

However, we reaffirm our protestation that radio is not perfect. You demand proof? Here are the facts as exhuned by our bureau of 200 workers who have devoted many precious moments in exhaustive investigation.

We do not like popular music. Our bureau hates popular music. The American people must learn to loathe and despise popular music. We cite the case of Late Lights Llewellyn, the demoniacal underminer of public sanity. He introduces his all night record program subtly with a captivating jingle, lulling the suspicions of the most wary listener:

What will Donoze do for you?
Wake you up and see you through.
In the morn if you survive
More will help keep you alive.

Chorus:
Ahaha! You and me!
Little white pill, how I love thee!
Pick me up and make me gay.
Drag me through another day.

Now that you are wide awake
Music till the day doth break.
Lew will play with vigor and vim.
Lew like you and you like him.
Repeat chorus.

Then with a hearty "Ahaha, folks!" Lew introduces his first transcribed selection. A heartbroken crooner groans this fragment into our expectant ears:

"While kissing and holding me tight
She hid the ashtray from sight."
(Agile, isn't she?)

From this baffling note, the wretch's misery becomes acute. He chants in a despairing wail:

"Am I Blue? Am I Blue?"
(We, at least, think he's sad.)

You see what we mean? Are you with us? Do you want to join the Radio Tube Snatchers' League of America? Send in five push buttons from your neighbor's radio (your own will not be accepted) and you will be immediately enrolled. By merely enclosing six dollars and fifty cents, ($6.50), each member will receive a year's subscription to the club's biennial publication, "Reactionaries Never Revolt, But We Are Revolting." Offer expires so act now!

It seems that a first-class case for Ellery Queen has hit the College campus. To wit, whence and why the ebony eyesore gracing the corner of 10th and Marion? It never goes and it never comes; just sits there rusting, like it doesn't care. Maybe if we just ignored it, it might go away. There's an old saying about watched pots.

They always say that you can tell a Prep man from an O'Dea man, but Mike McKay has firsthand evidence to the contrary. When he went out to Seattle Prep one morning last week on a business mission, Father McDonnell mistook him for a tardy pupil. It was several minutes before Mike managed to state his case, after which he was released from custody, on his personal recognition.

A new formula for longer life was unearthed during the electric storm this week. According to Pat Travers, in case of lightning, take the mattress off the bed and sleep on the springs. (The underlying principle being, we suppose that insomnia makes for a quick getaway.)

Whoever designed the construction of the Engineering Building apparently intended it for the exclusive use of engineers. What with the hot music, the warm hospitality, and the radiating good humor on display Friday night, the Community Chest Mixer turned out to be a tropical success.

With the first entry in our "How Come It's This Way" department, the Spec finds itself a scoop. While browsing through the 18th Century last week, we stumbled on the origin of the Jesuit nickname, "Jebbies." It seems the Catholics of Dryden's time were known as Jebusites. And from there on in, it was just a matter of time.

In thumbing through the file cards submitted this year, the Publicity Department concludes that some sort of confusion has arisen. In the blank marked "Year," students have, to date, inserted (in the order of their frequency) 1. Year of high school graduation; 2. Current school year; 3. Year of intended college graduation; 4. Year of entrance into S. C.; 5. Class at S. C.; 6. Date of birth. "Obviously," the department declared in a statement to the press this week, "there is need for clarification as regards the meaning of the term 'year.'" The Spectator staff will explain it to the student body as soon as the Publicity Department explains it to the Spectator staff.—As soon as somebody explains it to the Publicity Department.

While we're on the subject of politics, (and what else now for the past two weeks?), just an eleventh hour plea to those in charge to keep the polls well-manned today from start to finish. The age-worn cry "Unconstitutional!" is beginning to sound just a little trite.

The day of the new and greater dogface boy is at hand once again, as male students put their respective stubble on display in preparation for the Barn Dance. Though it's a little early for predictions, Don Mayer, Brent Crosby and Jim Lynch are trying hard. "A" for effort, however, goes to John Floyd. Last week he was able to boast only three lonesome hairs on his persevering chin. Yesterday, our records indicate, he had four.

What is this singular malady that has hit S. C. in seemingly epidemic proportions of late? Every victim has a different explanation for his seizure, but they all end up in the same position,—piled in a heap on the floor. Jack LeMoine and June Peterson are the latest to, shall we say, fall prey to the affliction. In deference to age and state in life, two other names have been tactfully withheld from publication.

Claes-Sanderson Wedding

Among the newlyweds of the past week are Mr. and Mrs. C. Bevitt Sanderson who were married last Saturday morning in the Church of the Assumption. Mrs. Sanderson, the former Bettie Claes, is a 1945 business graduate of the College and her husband also graduated from the College last year. After a trip to Northern British Columbia, they will make their home in Seattle.

Young Elected Head of Mu Sigma; Plans Music Night

Corinne Young, sophomore English major, was chosen president of Mu Sigma, music honorary, at elections held Wednesday. Outgoing President Pat Travers turned the gavel over to Corinne and under her guidance Betty Ann Kaufer, Arts junior, was elected to the office of secretary-treasurer.

Announcement was made at the meeting of plans for the first Music Night, to be held next Tuesday evening, in Room 32 of the Science Building.

to the ideals of one whom death deprived of office.

There are many difficulties which need attention. A few I will mention:

1. Revision of the constitution.
2. Cooperation between S. C. and other colleges of the Pacific Northwest.
3. Development of a sports program which will be lasting instead of haphazard.
4. Harmony and cooperation in school activities between the "day" students and the nursing students who have practically kept the college alive in the years of war.

These are a few problems; we have many. But along with these, we must remember that recreation is essential. We have a large student body in which everyone has a place. More and better recreation can be provided in the line of dances and other socials.

With the help and cooperation of my fellow students, I will, as elected, try to my utmost to fulfill the duties entrusted me.

Tom Pettinger

It is with sincerest gratitude that I thank you for having nominated me for the office of president of the Associated Students of Seattle College. If elected I will do all in my power to fulfill to the best of my ability the duties required of me.

The holding of such an office is, it is true, one of the greatest honors one can receive during his college life. Yet, it is not all

Revival of Skiers Planned for Early November

The Ski Club will meet in early November, Virginia Clark, only remaining officer of the group, announced yesterday. Election of officers for the year will take place at that time.

To enable students to participate in both activities, ski trips will be planned for the two Sundays of the month on which there are no hikes.

Best guesser of the score of the Notre Dame-University of Iowa game on October 27 will win two tickets to a future University of Washington contest with the complements of the AWSSC. Football pool chances will go on sale next week under the direction of Margaret Slagle and Betty Sill.

Each wager will cost 25 cents. Proceeds from the pool will help finance the annual Mother-Faculty Tea, scheduled for November 25.

honor; a great amount of hard work goes with this office both before and after its reception. It is the responsibility of the president to unify all students and all student organizations in the achievement of any and all endeavors undertaken. It is his task to represent Seattle College as the fine Catholic institution that it is, in a fitting manner. However, I feel very confident that with the sincere help of all, the job will be well done.

No controversial issues are involved in this campaign; consequently no definite contentions can be advanced at this time. My entire campaign must be based on my past record of student activity. If you feel I have honestly, sincerely, and conscientiously participated in the development of Seattle College, I will appreciate your support. "Past Performance Merits Your Consideration."

Volley-ball Most Popular Woman's Sport

By Claris Carpenter
Sports Staff Writer

The women's sports program promises to be a real attraction this year. Competitive group activities have brought to light some excellent material. The turnouts have not been large, but are composed of enthusiastic players.

Volleyball, which meets every Monday at 1 p. m., is generally the most popular intramural sport for women. When the College girls develop their style and the teams fall into shape, outside competition will be scheduled. Participants of the last two weeks include Doris Ramstead, Jackie Maher, Eileen McCluskey, Molly Abrams, Margie Ellis, Doris Grasser, and Claris Carpenter.

Twelve girls have indicated interest in basketball by attending the first meetings. They elected to play according to women's rules, and will form teams for intramural activities.

Individual mixed sports have also evoked a large response. The riding group has met twice, with 25 each time. Transportation is provided in the fixed fee. Golf is also being organized by Ray Muyliaert and Jack McAllister.

Monica Roller is now in charge of women's accommodations in the gymnasium at the K. C. hall. She will assign lockers for fifty cents per quarter. Towels and shower facilities are available also. The gym and equipment are free to women on Mondays and Thursdays.

Trek to Canyon Lake Marks New Hiya Adventure

Members of Hiya Coolee will hike to a new destination in the Cascades this Sunday. The four-mile trail to Canyon Lake, beyond Granite Lake, has been chosen as the site of adventure, according to Leon Carria, president of Hiya.

The Luxury Liner will leave the College at 8:15 a. m. Sunday morning. Payment of the hiking fee today will save each attendant 25 cents. President Carria advised all hikers to dress warmly as the weather is severe in the mountains at this time.

Behind the Sports Scene

with JACK GOURMAN

Intramural basketball has thus far been the leading sport at Seattle College. Regular practice begins in a few weeks. The four lettermen consisting of Bill Fenton, Bob Truckey, Frank Martin, and Bill Conroy have been looking exceptionally good. Truckey made eight out of ten shots while being checked closely. Bill Conroy, the speedster himself, looks like a coming star.

Bill Hawkins, formerly of West Seattle High School, is a classy ball handler and his weight and ruggedness will give the Seattle College Chieftains a better offense. Many other former high school players also show promise. Notable among these are George Miller, Art Hastings, Tom Egan, Roger Gill and Jack Drummey.

Joyce Makes Good

Whenever a ball player joins the forces of San Francisco's Lefty O'Doul he has a chance to become a great star. This season it was the invincible Bob Joyce.

Joyce is the greatest pitcher in the P.C.L. since Bo Bo Newsome, formerly with Los Angeles. Bob broke the league record by winning 31 games. He also beat Seattle often enough to win the Governor's Cup playoff. All season Joyce pitched and batted the Seals to many victories. Not only can Mr. Joyce handle his chores on the mound but he can play in the outfield. He was the whole pitching staff for San Francisco this season. Bob Joyce will go to the majors next season as he was sold to the New York Giants during the latter part of the past season. He is almost certain to make good in the big-time. Joyce has the right attitude, ability, and personality to make a great champion.

Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, has been discharged from the service. In June of 1946, Louis will defend his title against the popular Billy Conn. This fight should be a great match. The fight probably will be held in the Yankee Stadium in New York where a $3,000,000 gate can be expected. Both Louis and Conn will go into hard training sometime after Christmas. Joe Louis is reported to be in great shape and should retain his title.

Purdue Host to Ohio
Four of the nation's greatest unbeaten football teams will clash when they meet on Saturday. Purdue plays host to Carroll Widdoes' Ohio State Buckeyes at Lafayette, Indiana. This will be a great game, but I think Ohio State has too much power. Paul Sarringhaus, 200-pound siege-gun, is one of the greatest backfield men in the country. He will be flanked by the sensational Ollie Cline, the towhead fullback. Of course, in the line, All-American Bill Hackett, captain and right guard, is outstanding. Ohio State has beaten Missouri, Iowa, and Wisconsin to date.

The Boilermakers of Purdue are by no means a push-over. They have beaten Marquette, Wisconsin, Great Lakes, and Iowa. A great fullback in Ed (Catfoot) Cody, ex of Boston College, will be hard to stop. Bill Canfield is an excellent quarterback and he calls the signals with the strategy of a master. The line is strong with Joe Winkler and Jim Lockwood as bulwarks. I look for Ohio State to win this important game.

Alabama and Tennessee Clash

When Alabama and Tennessee mix, there are always fireworks. This is the greatest rivalry in the South. Frank Thomas will bring his Alabama Crimson-Tide into the game with victories over Kessler Field, Louisiana State, and South Carolina. I saw that game last year and it was great, but this year's tussle will be even better. Bill Stern, ace sports announcer, will be broadcasting the game from Birmingham so keep your radios glued to NBC. Howitzer (Harry Gilmer, the greatest passer in the nation, will lead the Crimson-Tide. Vaughn Mancha, line-backer and center, has amazing speed for his 230 pounds. There will be few better linemen in the nation this year. From end to end the team is loaded with power.

Predictions for Tomorrow

Alabama over Tennessee, Baylor over Texas Tech, Columbia

over Colgate, Denver over Drake, Florida over Miami, Georgia over L.S.U., Holy Cross over Brown, Illinois over Wisconsin, Indiana over Iowa, Michigan State over Wayne, Minnesota over Northwestern, Miss. State over Jackson A.A., Missouri over Kansas

Week-end Retreats At Saint Vincents Invite Students

Week-end retreats for Seattle College women will be held again this year at Mt. St. Vincent in West Seattle. The retreats are held approximately every other week-end and begin with Benediction on Friday evening and end with Benediction and the Pappal Blessing on Sunday. The groups are limited in number to 10 girls, preferably girls of the same age group.

A desirable retreat master is engaged by the Sisters of Providence. Retreatants are invited to be at the Mount for supper at 5:45 Friday evening. Anyone interested in these closed retreats is asked to call Sister Margaret Agnes at West 5151.

Schedule for the retreats still open is as follows:

Dec. 7, 8, 9	March 22, 23, 24
Dec. 14, 15, 16	March 29, 30, 31
Jan. 4, 5, 6	April 26, 27, 28
Jan. 18, 19, 20	May 3, 4, 5
March 1, 2, 3	May 24, 25, 26
March 15, 16, 17	June 7, 8, 9

(Continued from page 1) from bases in Hawaii, along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and Iceland. The young pilot also participated in the Battle of Midway, and from a Navy Air Base in England made long-range patrols over the Bay of Biscay looking for submarines.

First Lieut. Henry Storino was discharged from the army air corps on October 11, and plans on returning to the College next quarter. Henry served in the South Pacific where he won the air medal with three oak leaf clusters and the purple heart.

First Lieut. Ted Blanchette will resume his college career this quarter. Ted served with General Patton's army in Germany where he received the purple heart and the Croix de Guerre.

Now on terminal leave, First Lieut. James Keefe will leave shortly to visit relatives in Ann Arbor, Michigan. The Liberator co-pilot, who eluded German captors five months with the aid of the Dutch underground after he was shot down on his way home from a raid on Berlin, was liberated last May from the Moosburg prison camp.

In the air forces since 1942, Jim went overseas to be stationed in England in November, 1943. He was on the second daylight attack on Berlin when his Liberator was shot down March 8. He plans to return to the College next quarter.

A prisoner of war of the Japanese for more than three years, Marine Corporal William Ambrose Coghlan returned to San Diego on the Ozark, an LSV (landing ship-vehicle) and is now home on a 30-day convalescent leave.

Corporal Coghlan, a student at the College in 1937, joined the Marine Corps on June 3, 1940. Attached to the Fourth Marine Regiment on Corregidor, he was taken prisoner May 5, 1942. He was in the Cabanatuan Prison Camp in the Philippines for 18 months, four months of which were spent in the hospital recovering from malaria fever. From Cabanatuan, the corporal was moved to the prison camp at Nilgata, Japan,

Disa and Data

The problem of electing a student body president and a treasurer is again at hand. If most of us have already determined whom we are going to vote for, perhaps the following tidbits from students at SC will serve to confuse us again. At any rate, it may help you decide who is the best man. Failing that, it might afford you some amusement to compare your ideas with those of the students below.

Jim Roddy—Those words, "Intelligent, Industrious, and Ingenious," found on one of the Jasper-for-President posters are not idle words. Anyone who has seen Dick as a lab instructor in physiology knows that he is intelligent; his work in the various school activities shows that he is industrious; and the watermelon and the black-face couple at the Summer Serenade bring out his trait of ingenuity. That is Dick Jasper, Intelligent, Industrious, Ingenious.

Carol Hughes — During Bob Truckey's presence at Seattle College, he has proven his ability in all school activities. He has held the office of vice-president of the sophomore and senior classes and was co-chairman of last year's barn dance. The position of treasurer of the student body requires a capable and trustworthy individual. That person is Bob Truckey.

Eileen Fleischmann—As a candidate, not a fair weather man, You can't pick from the three one better than T. Joseph Pettinger, When money you're betting or Casting your vote for the better man.

Jack Morrison—I pledge myself to no candidate but Seattle College. S. C. is what its students make it and we need a student body president who will make our College an even finer organization. That is the interest of every true student. The man to fill this office of president must be chosen for his principles of honesty and integrity, and for his abilities as a capable speaker and able representative of the College. I again, then, pledge myself to Willard Fenton, as the next president of Seattle College.

Margie Lyons—Yes, Leon Carria has been planning all our hikes for the past year and has done a superb job of handling the Hiyu expenses. He is honest and responsible, and even though he holds a part-time job, he is never too busy to help plan and decorate for dances and other activities. If he can be trusted to handle $85.00 or more every two weeks for the Hiyu Coolee's, can't we trust him with our student treasury?

Molly O'Brien—Thomas Joseph Pettinger isn't the noisy, brazen, conceited wolf in schoolboy's clothing publicized as common today in American colleges and universities. He is, on the contrary, an ideal Christian man who exemplifies the type of clean-cut, honest character that the Jesuits have striven for years to develop. Tom is fine, loyal, honest, and capable—this has been proven. He is the next president of the ASSC. We will be proud to serve under him.

Brent Crosby—Bob Truckey is an upperclassman with high student spirit and is equally active in his studies and in school sports. I haven't met one person in SC who dislikes him, as his personality is such that he hasn't any enemies, but rather many friends. SC can't possibly miss with Bob Truckey as treasurer.

Katie Morrison—With such an office as student body president at stake, much consideration must be given to the sincerity and ability of the candidates. Therefore, you can't miss the boat when you vote Fenton for president, for after all, he is a veteran employee of Blackball and I'm sure he'll never steer you wrong.

True Uncapher—Since the office of treasurer entails the handling of all ASSC funds, it might be interesting to note that Leon Carria, candidate for that honorable office, has supervised, in his eight months as Hiking Club president, the expenditure of over $850.00 for that club's activities. That's a whale of a lot of money and the success of the Hiyu's is proof of a job well done. Need I say more?

Carm Geyer and Mike Riverman—Do his bunions bulge—No! Does he have corns on his elbows—No! Do his teeth slip, slide, slither—No! Does he kick his grandma down the stairs—No! Does he push his little sister's face in—No! Does he date freshmen to get votes—No! With a man like this how can we miss? So—vote for Dick Jasper.
