THE STUDENT OBSERVER

by Chris McHugh

(Editor's note: The opinions expressed in the Student Observer do not necessarily reflect those of the Spectator.)

Since beauty is essentially a personal affair, there never were, nor can there ever be, specific definitions of what is beautiful. There are undoubtedly a great many points about which people have been in agreement, but yet at certain times opinions have swung from one attitude to another. Our school politics might well take that same stand, for politics is a personal affair. We vote for whom we choose, because we choose him, not because Joe voted that way.

With the initial day drawing to a close we began to consider students who will be nominated for the positions of Seattle College leaders. We balance the capabilities of our nominees on a fair scale; Loyalty, leadership, speaking abilities, political attainments and a good representative for a growing organization. In looking the field over for possible nominees I can find only four men who can fulfill all requirements for the office of president. These four men are capable leaders, all of whom are well-versed in the function of school government. I hand you on a silver platter Tom Tagney, Jim Reilly, Ray O'Leary with a Wenatchee apple in his mouth, and Gene Brenner.

A great deal of hand waving and lengthy words will be used this afternoon when the various managers will boost their candidates for the offices in the Associated Students of Seattle College. But remember that the man you elect is one whom you should feel proud of, one whom you know to a true personality, one whom you can proudly point to and say, "That is our president."

Looking at last week's social calendar we find that it was full of entertainment. It was entertaining to attend a "too crowded mixer" who's P. A. system was suffering from an acute case of laryngitis. But it was nice if you didn't mind having to dance to antique records from the Civil war. Friday afternoon saw Joe Faconne, Chief-tain ball player, winning a 2-1 victory over Seattle Pacific. But the big day was the wedding reception for Ed Byrnes and Joanna Mein. Jack McCarthy was so anxious to congratulate the new couple that he knocked three people down on his way in. No count was taken on the way out. Sunday was a beautiful day for the Mother-Daughter tea. It was all handled so well that a huge bouquet should be handed to the chairmen for being such smooth operators.

SC ENGINEERS TO SEE MOVIE OF SS DIAMOND

The program selected for the next meeting of the Seattle College Engineers consists of motion pictures filmed at the scene of the salvage operations on the S.S. Diamond, which sank last year after a collision in the Puget Sound fog banks.

The meeting, which will be the last of the school year, will be held in Buhr Hall at 7:30 p.m., Monday, May 17. All engineers are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Club Basket Social and Dance Tomorrow

Saturday evening, May 8, the Mr. and Mrs. Club will hold a Basket Social at Rainier and Hudson Streets.

Festivities will get underway promptly at 7 o'clock with a short business meeting at which new club officers will be elected. Auctioning of the basket lunches prepared by the wives of club members will follow the meeting and coffee and refreshments will be served. Dancing and entertainment will wind up the evening's activities.

Invitations are extended to all paid and pledged members and to any married student who wishes to join the club. Dues will be accepted prior to the business meeting.

Al and Margaret Comstock are acting as co-chairmen for the event. Earl and Dorothy Clymer are handling arrangement for the hall and Guy and Helen Trotter are in charge of entertainment.

SHEEHAN TO BE AEGIS EDITOR

Tom Sheehan, was elected editor of the '49 Aegis by the present annual staff during a meeting held last Wednesday noon. He will replace Mike Hoffman who graduates this year.

Sheehan is the sports editor of this year's book as well as president of the sophomore class. Besides his duties on the current Aegis, he has had experience in writing for the Spectator.

"I hope that most of Mike's staff will be back next year," said Sheehan. "With their help, we hope to approach the high standards Mike has set in the current Aegis."

Retiring editor Hoffman expressed satisfaction with the choice of Sheehan to succeed him. Hoffman is also senior class president.

Annual Mendel Club Picnic Yesterday

Mendel Club Members gathered for their annual picnic yesterday at Cottage Lake. The entire day was spent in swimming, hiking, boat-riding and singing.

Chairman for the event was Bill Young. Aiding him on committees were Adrienne Heally, Bill Guppy, John Glassy, Marilyn Bean and Barbara Klingele.

The transportation was provided by John Roller's LL.

8 S. C. Women Initiated Into Catholic Honorary

Laura Ellis, Valeria Kempf, Evelyn Ernsdorff and Nora Jean Murray

The Seattle Chapter of the Kappa Gamma Pi held a banquet at Laurel Hedge, Wednesday, May 5, in honor of its new officers and members. The Kappa Gamma Pi is a national scholastic and activity honor society of Catholic women's colleges.

The new members from Seattle College are Laura Ellis, senior chemistry major; Evelyn Ernsdorff, senior English major; Rose Marie Gruby, senior sociology major; Florence Gilbert, graduate nurse; Virginia C. McKay, home economics major; Catherine Mowry, senior literature major; Nora Jean Murray, senior sociology major; and Valeria Kempf, senior sociology major.

WILLIS GARISS, JR.

Willie Gariss, Jr., the eight month old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Garis, Sr., is the winner of the Spectator Baby Photo Contest. The judges, Mr. Arthur Olmer, Miss Eunice Spencer, and Father Francis Lindekugel, submitted their final decisions and the name of the winning baby was drawn from the selections.

Jean Gariss, mother of Willie, is a Freshman Literature major at the College, and Willard Gariss, a Senior-Mathematics major, recently transferred to the University.

STUDENT BODY TO VOTE ON U. N. PROBLEMS

Currently being passed among the student body of the College are a number of ballots from the "Pacific Northwest College Congress." These ballots each contain fourteen propositions which were arrived at by the P.N.C.C. The propositions cover such problems as: restrictions of the veto power, enforcement of the U.N. decisions, various phases of the Marshall Plan, U.N.E.S.C.O., and the participation of this school in the P.N.C.C. These ballots shall be tabulated and the results submitted to the U.S. delegation to the U. N.

If you have not as yet voted, please notify Beverly McLucas. "Your vote is your voice" at the United Nations Assembly.

FISHING CLUB TO HAVE TRIP SUNDAY, MAY 23

Seattle College's newest organization, the Surf and Stream Fishing Club, sponsored an excursion to Cottage Lake Sunday, April 25. More than 15 fish were caught and the trip was considered very successful. It began with Mass at 3:00 o'clock in Seattle College Chapel and it lasted from 4:30 A. M. to 10:30 A. M.

Fishermen Courchene, Nelson and Wilwerding

The purpose of the Club is to promote fishing trips. The club has about 30 members, however the feminine membership at present consists of only two girls. John Courchene is president of the club, Jim Nelson is vice-president, and Marilyn Wilwerding is secretary-treasurer. Father Leo Schmid, S.J. is moderator of the club. Meetings are held twice monthly, and another excursion is planned for Sunday, May 23, when the streams open. The next meeting will be held Monday, May 11 at 7:30 in the Science Building, Room 32. The Club is open to any S. C. student.

Great Books Discuss'n To Be on Communism For Meeting May 13

A book of great interest to our times has been chosen as the subject of the next Great Books Discussion. In view of present world political conditions, "The Communist Manifesto" by Karl Marx, the work to be discussed, should be well known to all. The meeting will be held Thursday evening, May 13, with Mr. Stanley McNaughton of the Economics Department as discussion leader.

The book under consideration at the last meeting of the Group was Shakespeare's "Hamlet". Dr. Hickey of the English Department led the discussion, with students and faculty members interested in English literature participating.

1948 JUNIOR PROM TO BE HELD AT NILE COUNTRY CLUB

The 1948 Junior Prom, planned for the past five months, will be held at the Nile Country Club on Saturday evening, May 15 from nine to one o'clock.

The dance will be limited to 300 couples including the Seniors who are to receive complimentary tickets. Seniors

Annual Father-Daughter Banquet Scheduled May 29

The annual Father-Daughter Banquet will be held Thursday, May 29th at 7:00 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce Hall. Chairman Valeria Kempf has announced that tickets will be $2.00 a plate and reservations should be made by Friday, May 14th. The absolute deadline will be Tuesday, May 18th. The entertainment will consist of musical selections by Marjorie Carlisle and Mary Rose Stuckey. There will also be a humorous monologue and group singing.

Virginia Zwiegart is in charge of publicity, Lois Murphy is in charge of tickets and Katherine Bott is handling the decorations.

The chairman urges all women students to treat their fathers and she promises a good time for all.

Newton and Read Named Advisory Board Members

Two new members were accepted to the office of Advisory Board members for the rest of the school year at the student body meeting, April 23. The two new members were Dick Read, senior electrical engineering major, and Bill Newton, sophomore political science major. Beverly McLucas, chief justice of the judicial board, administered the oath of office to the new members.

Bichsel Is Named Associate Editor On SC Spectator

Thomas Bichsel, sophomore, economics, has been appointed associate editor, it was announced last week by Editor O'Brien, of the Spectator.

Bettianne Lonergan, Freshman, English major, has been named as news editor. In the sports department, Joe Small, sophomore, language, and Joe Corrigan, sophomore, language, have been named co-editors.

ASSC TO MEET TODAY IN GYM

All students are urged to attend the student body meeting scheduled for 12:00 noon in the gymnasium. The major portion of the assembly will be devoted to the nominations of ASSC officers for the school year of 1948-49. Members of the Advisory Board will also be nominated.

The primary elections will take place Friday, May 14, in the Liberal Arts Building. There will be no primary elections for Advisory Board members.

Final elections will be held on Wednesday, May 19.

ATTENTION!

Any student taking ten hours or more at the College is urged to participate in the printing of the Spectator. There will be a special issue out next Friday for the Elections of ASSC officers and Advisory Board Members. This is your chance to campaign for your candidate. The advertising policy of the Spectator allows for advertisements in the paper for student campaigning.

Fire Ordinance Forbids Smoking in School Halls

SEATTLE FIRE ORDINANCE, SECTION 34

"In all buildings, structures and premises wherein or thereon the act of smoking, or the act of lighting or striking a match or producing a spark or flame in lieu thereof, or the disposing, throwing away or discarding of a lighted cigar, cigarette, . . . or any spark or flame would or may constitute a fire hazard or produce a danger of fire is forbidden by order of the Seattle Chief of the Fire Department."

This, which in simple words, means that smoking in the halls of Seattle College is a violation of a city ordinance. Since the fire laws are passed for the benefit of the citizens, it is expected that the citizens will obey and profit from them.

During the last school year an effort was made by the IK's to enforce this ruling and the results for a time after showed the good effects.

Yet the carelessness and forgetfulness have returned. We wish to recommend that the IKs again enforce the ordinance as before. Contrary to some opinions, smoking has not been permitted in places as theaters, department stores and other institutions of learning.

Lounges have been provided for those desiring a cigarette between and after classes.

Some students will comment, "Let the janitor sweep the ashes and cigarettes up. May we suggest that the guilty offenders try sweeping the halls for a few days and perhaps their enthusiasm for smoking in the halls will languish rapidly."

Aside from the fact that smoking in the halls is a direct violation of city ordinance 34, the students should feel their responsibility to the preservation of general order in the school.

SC URGED TO JOIN IN "INVITE A MILLION" CAMPAIGN FOR STATE

SC URGED TO JOIN "INVITE A MILLION" CAMPAIGN

The Washington State Junior Chamber of Commerce has launched its first state-wide "Invite A Million" campaign and deserves a good hand for initiating a movement which should benefit all of us.

It is fairly common knowledge that the tourist industry is the second largest in the state. Last year, for instance, 900,000 tourists spent $100,000,000 on their visits in Washington.

The Junior Chamber plans to distribute 200,000 post cards to the residents of the state. We will then be asked to mail these cards to our friends throughout the nation, adding to the cards a personal request from us to them.

With 200,000 cards being sent out, it is not at all unlikely we can get a million tourists in the state this year and if we follow the arithmetical pattern set by the 900,000 visitors last year, we should benefit to the tune of an extra $11,000,000 over last year's figure.

At any rate, the cards will be furnished without charge to the people of the state through business houses. For the price of a one-cent postage stamp we can not only send our friends an invitation, but can publicize the beauties of Washington through the set of eight pictures on the face of the card.

This seems to be one of those meritorious efforts in which everybody benefits and nobody loses.

Get your card this month from some business where you are a patron.

Pinafores on Proming

By ROBERT STORWICK, of Bellarmine College.

The Seattle College Junior Prom is beyond a doubt one of the most important social affairs of the year. In selecting my date for this magnanimous occasion I would prefer a girl who cooks, sews, is beautiful, and doesn't smoke or drink. Tomorrow I will go to the graveyard and dig one up.

Here are some important things to remember in selecting your date:
(1) Don't be too choosy. If girls always smile at you, it may be because they like you, because they feel sorry for you, because you are funny-looking or because you have money. However, none of these are strong enough to merit conceit on your part.
Stop, Look and Listen.

(2) Sufficient reflection. Don't rush into things. Have you enough money? How are you going to get there? When are you going to be home? These all should be taken care of before you set out; however, the last point is most important. Last year a couple left the dance at 12 o'clock, reached the front gate at 12:10 and parted at the front porch at 3 o'clock.

(3) The ideal type of girl to take. First of all, the girl must be a light eater. Pick a slender girl about 28 pounds. Her looks are not really important. With the schedule they are working on, you won't see much of her anyhow. She must have a personality like a congressman during election year. Last of all, both of you must have something in common. If she isn't your type, don't take her. If she is, she may not be worth the taking.

(4) Above all, be certain that the girl you are taking to the Prom is conservative in her conduct. I heard the opinion voiced once about a girl that her manners were so absolutely poor that it would have been most advantageous to her mother had she thrown her away and kept the stork.

SALUTING THE DEAN OF WOMEN

By VIRGINIA MASSART

Between telephone calls, "comp" classes, and ferry schedules, we managed to obtain an interview with Mrs. Marie Leonard. As Dean of Women and adviser to the AWSSC, Mrs. Leonard is well known to the coeds at Seattle College.

Mrs. Marie Leonard, Dean of Women

As we sat across from the attractive Dean, we could not help but be impressed by the fact that her days are definitely not leisurely ones. Because she lives on Vashon Island, she must commute daily. She is in charge of the three women's halls, Bordeaux, Campion, and Sarazin. Ever on the lookout for "her girls," she has been very successful in securing a great many conveniences for the halls. Aside from her duties as Dean of Women, she also teaches English.

After 12 years as Dean of Women at Seattle College, Mrs. Leonard was firm in her statement that the college is "not the same at all." "It is completely changed," she said. "When I first came, there were very few women students and everyone knew each other. It was like one big family." However, Mrs. Leonard stated that she feels the college "has to enlarge" and so the changes are probably for the best. As for scholastic endeavors of the students, Mrs. Leonard feels that in this respect the students have not changed much.

Sodalists Corner

By BILL SUVER

The punchboard sales proved a success, and we now have some funds with which to work. The candy was given by both Hyde's, and Murphy's, as their contribution to the apostolic works of the Sodality. We wish to extend our thanks, together with this public acknowledgment.

May came to S.C. in a fitting manner. The beautiful day was only proper for the observance of the living Rosary which continued from the eight o'clock mass on the first to the same mass on Sunday morning. (And will continue on every first Saturday in the future.) All during the day and through the night, students prayed constantly for peace. While most of us slept, these prayers were interceding on our behalf before the Court of Heaven. In union with these prayers and devotions, were the sacrifices of comfort and unbroken sleep made by the suppliants. These and the prayers and sacrifices constantly being offered throughout the world to Christ the King, and Mary, Queen of Heaven, are the measure of our future.

On Monday, we placed a garland

WINNIE McCARTEN
Colhecon President

A fashion show will highlight a dinner meeting to be given by the Colhecon Club in honor of all Home Economics majors, alumni, and staff members May 13 in the banquet hall of the Commons Building on the U. of W. campus. The clothes will be from the Vogue Shop, and Mrs. Madelon Fryette of the Bon Marche will act as commentator. Models will be students of the College.

Student director for the fashion show will be Pat Asch and general chairman for the affair is Winnie McCarten.

of flowers on the statue of Mary, but the prayers which Our Lady receives are much more than this symbol of our devotion. Now, in a more special way, we can continue to plait these spiritual crowns as we weave our Rosaries with daily actions of faith, hope and charity in answer to her many appeals so ardently expressed at Fatima: "Pray constantly and make sacrifices for many souls go to hell because there are none to mortify themselves and to pray for them."

Earl Spangler Wins Radio-Phonograph

At the I. K. Spring Activity, Wednesday, Earl Spangler won the Table model radio-phonograph. The slacks were won by Agnes Remmes and Nancy Cunner won the sweater. Jim Monroe won the Junior Prom Ticket and Lucia Baril won the sun-visors.

The winners were announced on Wednesday May 5 in the Gym.

In South Pasadena a minister asked his congregation, "All who will donate $5 toward the church mortgage, please stand up." Then he told the organist to play "The Star-Spangled Banner."

VETS' HALL

—BEN LEAL

Vets Hall was proud to see that its popular boy, Jack Codd, was elected Tolo King. It was quite an enjoyable evening, with the girls wearing their classy cotton dresses and the fellows looking sharp. I still wonder why there were so many little bowls with ice around the place. A man in blue with a cap over his brow seemed to wonder, too. We fooled 'em.

The fellows are planning a little picnic for this quarter. Larry Beaulaurier and Frank Perri are arranging the activity.

We have a fellow over here with varied talents. Tom Morris is the winning coach for Campion Hall. It seems that he has some home-run kings in the lineup. He is quite a vocalist and has appeared in several school productions.

There is a plan being formulated for the construction of a runway alongside Lyons Wing. Talk has it that Dave Lovcik needs that facility for the mobilization of his powerful craft—an old beat-up V8. There is another auto, like Dave's, which is also owned by one of the vets. You'll recognize it when you see the occupants sporting an umbrella while riding along in the rain. (I wonder whose.)

In the evenings you may see a Sherlock Holmes character prowling around the campus. Don't be afraid. It is Paul Savage, who has the job of locking up the school for the night.

There have been questions circulated around the campus concerning, "Who is the man with the room of blue?" Owen to insufficient evidence, we can't say.

Sarazin Sattelites

By "Three Livewires"

The dewy spring in Seattle has disappointed many local cosmopolites, but it dampens not the spirit of Sarazin Hall. The last few beloved days of the school year at Seattle College are going to be remembered by many social events as well as the wear and tear of finals.

The spring showers were felt within the hall last week, when a surprise party was given for Marilyn Stelloh, who is to be married in June to Bill Brown. Both Marilyn and Bill are students at SC. Best wishes to a charming couple.

Tuesday evening, a ham dinner was enjoyed at the Hall. It was enriched for all by the presence of Frs. Corrigan and McGuigan, and Tom Bichsel, captain of Sarazin's baseball team.

On May 14, Sarazin is planning the annual spring dinner dance. It is to be held at the Sand Point Community Center. This affair will bring about the perfect conclusion to the genial social activities of the past year.

McHUGH HALL

—DAVID KNEESHAW

Well at last things are back to normal at the Hall on Minor Avenue. The house party of April 30th was a success and the fellows have forced themselves back to their books. It is rumored that the hall may have one final fling at the end of the quarter as many of the boys will be leaving Minor Avenue for studies elsewhere. Glenn Bachtel and D. J. Sherman will be going to Gonzaga University to continue their studies in law and Joe Denert and Bill Short will be getting married soon after the spring quarter ends.

Jack McMahon traveled to Utah with the Intercollegiate Knights and is once more trying to adjust himself to Seattle.

Formal Crowning of Mary Queen of Peace Held in L.A. Building

On Monday, May 3, Seattle College faculty members and students gathered in the main lobby of the Liberal Arts Building to witness the crowning of the new statue of our Lady of Peace.

The crowning was sponsored by the Sodality who were assisted by the Intercollegiate Knights. Serving on the committees were Madeline Benet, Chairman; Agnes Remmes, Charlotte Helman, Madeline Mahoney. Speaker for the occasion was Frank Alshio.

The statue will remain in the center hall during the Month of May. Flowers to decorate the altar will be gratefully accepted by members of the committee.

A hymn honoring the Blessed Mother will be sung each day in the Chapel at noon. Also the Rosary will be said daily.

The Common Touch

—TONY AND CATHERINE GIBBONS

We had a mighty fine time-up at Darrington on Hiyu Coolee's spring overnight last week-end. Saturday night we built a campfire on the river bank and made merry in the firelight. We roasted wieners on peeled willows and sang ourselves hoarse to the accompaniment of Dan Novak's mandolin. Shortly after midnight we decided to call it an evening. Then the twenty of us sat around saying what a nice time we had had 'till 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

Nominations for student body officers for the year 1948-49 will be made this noon in the gym. If you know of a likely candidate, find out if he has the time for the job you envision for him, and nominate him. If you hear a candidate nominated of whom you are very much in favor, don't just vote for him. Campaign! Talk him or her up to friends and acquaintances. Make posters like mad. Student elections are one of a college's most interesting phenomena. It's your own fault if the best man or woman for the job doesn't win.

Evelyn Ernsdorff told us this one:

Doctor Hickey was explaining the evolution of a word to his History of the English Language class.

"Take cata-hedra," he said, "That's Greek for 'sitting down'. Thru the French 'chaise' we arrive at the American 'shay'."

The voice of one Joe Devine was heard sotto voce, "Pretty obvious when you think about it."

Browsing through the Spalding Enterprise, official news organ of the entire metropolitan area of Spalding, Nebraska, (population-900), we came upon the following query in a question-and-answer column. It asked, "How do you treat lice on cattle?"

"Treat 'em right", we thought instantly. "Show 'em a good time. Introduce them to your friends. It's the only square way." The Spalding Enterprise columnist recommended insecticide. This is bad. We must learn to be more tolerant of the stranger within our gates.

Speculation is rife concerning the identity of the pranksters who removed the emblem of the College from beside the main door of the Liberal Art Building. This trick is a full step behind that of the merry maker who pulled a washstand out of the wall of the men's room last year. Glad to see we're tapering off on this sort of thing.

Our house is the scene of near-hectic activity these days as young males of the clan work against time to grow grass on the terraced front and side yards. When we get done, we should have a real show-place. It will be the "Hanging Gardens of 1501 North 44th Street". Like Nebuchadnezzar, builder of the original hanging gardens, we do it "all for the love of a woman". In this case, the woman is our dear mother, who has promised to give us the business if we don't come through by May 15th.

According to Dicksie Mapes and Hugh Granger, seniors and nurses at Providence Hospital, the Senior Sneak Monday for which twenty-five Seniors crossed the waters to Victoria, was just like the old days. There were eighteen women and only seven men. The question arises: The fellows did get home from the service, didn't they?

Some people have troubles. It is sad, but it is so. On the Hiyu Coolee Overnight Allan Eagan suggested a nice game of "Old Maid." A discouraged Vera Vague-like voice floated down from upstairs, "Who's playing?"

DISC DATE

Bettianne Lonergan

"Would you please dedicate 'Drop Dead' to Miss Whisper from Jalopy Joe?" Such a request would probably drive the average disc jockey to distraction, but it is all in a day's work for Seattle's Bill "Jockey" Griffiths. Bill's program "Disc Date" is filled with dedications and popular recordings. When there was a demand for a program of this type Bill was chosen because of his talent for "ad libbing". Since its origin several years ago, it has steadily grown in popularity with older listeners as well as with the 'teen set. The younger set has proved its admiration and loyalty for its favorite "platter spinner," by organizing a fan club which is the largest one locally and the fourth largest nationally. It has at present over 2100 members. The Club not only gives honor to Bill, but provides amusement for its members as well by sponsoring dances and other entertainments.

Bill was born in Alberta, Canada. He attend school in Vancouver, B. C., and Los Angeles. Though not from a theatrical family, he started his career at an early age as "hoofer". He made his radio debut at the age of 17 as a spot announcer and general handyman at a Canadian studio. His travels during service with the R.C.A.F., led Bill to pursue his career in the United States after his discharge. As for his personal life, Bill is happily married and has no plans for the future other than to take life as it comes.

Bill attributes the success of his program to the fact that every one has a touch of egomania and the mention of their names over the radio satisfies their egoistical desires. The program is conducted in a very informal manner and the listeners feel a personal interest in Bill's private life and his wife is affectionally known as "Dodie".

Besides conduction "Disc Date", Bill has a quiz program, a talent show, and a swing show. Each fulfills his definition of a good program—"One that runs smoothly and satisfies as much of the public as possible." Like every public figure, Bill is subject to criticism and he wisely puts it to good use by airing unfavorable opinions over the air and evoking the sympathy of his admiring public.

Not unlike a "teenager" himself, Bill feels great affection and regard for the "bobby soxers," who have made his programs what they are.

ON THE SLY

By BET ABBOTT

At the start of the school year, everyone expected this to be the most successful year in athletics that the College had yet enjoyed. We had a new gym, along with many facilities never before enjoyed by our teams. Many star athletes reported to our campus for the first time, to be worked in with our returning lettermen. All the possibilities were there to bring the expected to a reality.

Our major sports, with all this backing, took a beating from the win column, but our minor sports, which to a certain degree were forgotten by the athletic department as well as the student body, took over and kept the school known for its winning athletic teams.

The golf team has been consistently winning matches from the other colleges of the state. For two years they were champions of the WINCO League.

The Chieftain tennis team has won all of their matches, and can boast of one of the strongest college teams in the state.

The ski team has met some of the stiffest competition in the Northwest and carried away from their meets most of the trophies. They are better known outside the city than any of our athletic teams. It is said out of town that if the Chieftains are entered in a meet, the meet may be considered a big one and the competition should be stiff.

It would seem therefore that more emphasis should be given to our minor sports. They are getting the most publicity and are the most successful.

Just Looking . . .

With Hank Casal's arm still sore, third base looks like a sieve . . . Bill Fenton's softball team is getting off to a good start again . . . As usual, they are in the win column . . . Joe Faccone is repeating his last year's performance of good pitching, as well as being this year's best man at the plate . . . He had a perfect day against Olympic J.C. this week . . . Our baseball team last year was not rained out of one game, whereas this year about half of the scheduled games have been postponed because of the weather . . . Dan Riley will be in charge of freshman sports at Port Townsend High next year . . . Mental, as well as physical, errors have lost most of our baseball games this year . . . The gym will get the new look when our graduating seniors walk across the stage which will be built for the occasion . . . The Rainiers and the Chieftains have one thing in common—better than average pitching, but weak at the batter's plate . . .

SC Netmen Win Four Straight

With five starts, four wins, and one match called off on account of rain, in which the Chieftains were leading 3 matches to 2, the Seattle College net men have an enviable record so far this season. If a term may be borrowed from the diamond, that's "batting a thousand in any league."

Starting the season off against P.L.C., the Chieftain netmen had lost two when the deciding two doubles matches were rained out. In a return match played at Parkland, the Chieftain decided the issue by defeating the Lutes 5 won three singles matches and matches to 2. In matches against St. Martin's College, Olympic Junior College, and St. Martin's again on May 4, the College team-ists emerged the victors by scores of 7-0, 6-0, and 6-1 respectively.

Representing Seattle College in the singles matches are Dean Peterson, Jack Henrie, John Nicholson, John Hall, Don Keller, John Pendergast, Perry Newman, and Roy Van Hollobeck. In the doubles division, Dean Peterson and Jack Henrie, Fritz and Henry Duex, and F. Duex and John Nicholson have paired up to form fairly effective combinations.

Matches with Seattle Pacific College, and with College of Puget Sound are pending, together with matches against one or two other schools to be announced. If the Chieftain netmen can continue to mark in the "win column" through the remainder of the season, S.C. may be credited with and undefeated net team.

SC Golfer Crollard

Golfers Bow Twice

The Chieftain golfers suffered two losses in a row in the past two weeks, bowing first to a strong team from Portland University, and then to Western Washington College of Education.

The match with the University of Portland was played at the West Seattle Golf Course on a very wet and windy day. Despite the inclement weather conditions and on a strange course, Ray Cooney of Portland blasted through with a 1-under-par 71 to take medalist honors for the day. His teammate, Steve Milich, followed closely with a very respectable 72.

2 Conroy2	Goetze1
3 Codd0	Milich3
4 Crollard1	Cooney2
5 Trudeau1	Smith2
6 Lyons0	Lochhead3

Final score: Seattle College 5, Portland University 13.

In the match with Western Washington at Jackson Park, the Chiefs did not fall so easily. Only after a hard-fought battle did the Vikings return home with a victory. Honie Crollard came blazing through for the Chiefs with a 2-under-par 69 to cop medalist honors and clinch his match, but the rest of the team did not fare as well, even with scores in the 70's.

Lee Angell was low for Western with a 1-under 70.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

SHEILA GALLAGHER

Smart base-running, combined with powerful hitting and a galaxy of errors gave the Champion Champions another win in their series of games of the Women's Intramural Softball League, as they "ran over" the Rickets 22-4 last Tuesday at the Broadway Playfield. Another game was scheduled for the day, as Sarazin drew the card, to play the Chieftettes, but because of rain, a rain check was given.

The first inter-school game was scheduled for last Wednesday, with Seattle Pacific College, but that too was rained out.

Co-ed interest in the softball and tennis inter-school games is essential to help keep girls sports at the College alive. Aside from the fun and experience gained by participating in these sports, the College acquires publicity and recognition. Let's keep the enthusiasm alive.

Four softball teams are now in the league. The Rickets, who entered last week, are coached by Bill Galbraith. Respective lineups are:

Sarazin	Campion	Rickets
Patricia Swaegler	"Louie" Abshire	Maryann Burrington
Jane Mahaney	Jackie Knies	George Siebold
Irene Williams	Neva Backus	Mary Lou Fabbrie
Barbara Dunbar	Connie Krieger	Rosemary Buckhalter
Ginny Swaegler	Madeline Mahoney	Vera Olson
Pat Greif	Charlotte Helbling	Lee Berube
Dolly Blunt	Mary E. Whellan	Pat O'Malley
Virginia Owens	Margo Moore	Audrey Shade
Dianne Kolitzoff	Nancy Moore	Phylliss Young
Irene Turgeon	Sheila Gallagher	Deslye Layman
Joe Thoralsen	Ester McJannet	"Becky" Roberts

*Chieftettes lineup not available.

Chiefs Fastball Nine Downs Sand Point 7-0

Sparked by the sensational pitching efforts of Seattle College's Bob Fesler, the Chieftains took the first "A" league fastball game of the season on April 28 to the tune of 7 to 0. The game, played at the East Civic Field against Sand Point's V.R.5, initiates a twelve game series which will determine the ball club to enter the finals in July.

Intramural Sports

By RALPH UPHUS

The 1948 Intramural Fastball League is now well along in play, with Paul McKillop's "Terrible Turks" well out in front. Close behind are the "Corkers," who have lost only one game to date. Following the "Corkers" are the "Snooks" and "Bat Busters" in that order.

Two games were played on Tuesday, April 27, with the Turks blasting out a 12 to 3 win over the Snooks. Jim Jasperse gave the Snooks only 3 runs and 6 hits, while his rival, Jim Farrell, gave up 12 runs and 6 hits. Jim Farrell was a little wild. In the second game, the Corkers edged the Bat Busters, 10 to 9, in a slugfest, with Gene Brenner of the Bat Busters giving up 9 hits and Johnny DeLorie of the Corkers being nipped for 13 hits.

On Wednesday, April 28, only one game was scheduled at Broadway, between the Snooks and Corkers. The Corkers came out on top with a 10 to 3 lead. Jim Moore held the Snooks to only 7 hits.

Thursday, April 29, the undefeated Terrible Turks were nearly upset by a determined crew of Batbusters, led by George Flood. In the seventh inning, with the Turks ahead, 3 to 2, B. Fetgathier of the Batbusters slashed out a triple over the head of Ed Graisy, Turk right fielder, and later scored to tie the game up.

But in the eighth inning the enraged Paul McKillop belted out a home run to left field with one man aboard, to put the Turks ahead, 5 to 3. Joe Dahlem of the Turks pitched good ball, giving up 5 hits. Jim Lorenz, his rival, was also nipped for five.

The intramural standings, through April 29, are:

	W.	L.
Terrible Turks	3	0
Corkers	2	1
Snooks	1	2
Bat Busters	0	3

Seattle College, in an errorless game, produced six hits. The Sand Point team was able to wrangle only one hit for the day from Pitcher Fesler, against a toll of 13 strikeouts, and were unable to get a man past second base.

The longest hit of the day, by Chieftain Steve Twohy into the left field bleachers was reduced from the home-run bracket to a double by a ground rule. Seattle College's hitting was very evenly spaced.

Batteries: Seattle College, Fesler-McKillop; Sand Point, Lambert-Locus.

	Sand Point
Runs	000	0-0
Hits	000	1-1
	Seattle College
Runs	002	0-7
Hits	022	200 0-6

The V.R.5 tilt, with victories in two practice games, marks the third win of the season, against no defeats. College and non-league games will be scheduled to supplement the regular Wednesday evening league games.

Golf Team Travels

This Friday the Chieftain Divot-diggers travel to the City of Roses, Portland, to seek revenge on the Pilots of Portland University. In their match at West Seattle a few weeks ago the Chiefs didn't do so well but they expect a much better showing at Portland although one of their toughest competitors, Homer Crollard, will be missing from the lineup. He will be replaced by Norb Trudeau who was last seasons Captain. Trudeau has shown much improvement in the past month.

As a point of interest, the two teams will meet on the famed Portland Golf Club which, as all you lovers of the fairway sport recall, was the scene of the International Matches between Great Britain and the U. S. last fall.

Coed's Column

—VIRGINIA MASSART

The AWSSC culminated another social season with the Mother-Daughter Tea, which was held on Sunday, May 2, at Sarazin. The success of this affair was largely due to the efforts of the co-chairmen, Lucille Hemness and Gerri McKay. Many thanks go to the coeds who attended the tea.

The new AWSSC constitution, drawn up by Christine McHugh, will be read at the May meeting of the AWSSC. Nominations will be accepted for next year's AWSSC officers. A large attendance is expected at the meeting.

Henriot Receives National Office

James F. Henriot, Seattle College Junior, has recently been appointed National Viceroy in charge of Expansion for the Intercollegiate Knights. Henriot has jurisdiction over British Columbia, and the states of Washington, Oregon, California, and New Mexico.

Jim has been active members of the Seattle College Wigwam Chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights for three years.

Just Listening . . .

By PAT O'MALLEY

A revival of an old "show tune," "I Got A Crush On You," sung by Frank Sinatra. There is a trumpet background on this record which is something out of the ordinary for a Sinatra record.

Duke Ellington recently put out a complete album of blues. In "Ellington Plays the Blues," the Duke really runs the gamut. For anyone interested in blues, this is the album.

"Let's Run Wild" is a fast one played by our boy, Jim Pagint. As usual, it is a good piece; however, it is not one for dancing. On the other side is "Mama's Gone."

3 NEW PLEDGES NAMED TO SC SILVER SCROLL

At a recent student body meeting Virginia Zweigart, Catherine Bott and Lois Murphy were accepted as new members of the Silver Scroll, upper division women's honorary. The Silver Scroll selects for its members those women students who have distinguished themselves in leadership and scholarship.

All School Picnic Slated For Beaver Sunday After Prom

Hot dogs, ice cream, and cokes will be served in abundance and free of charge at the all-College picnic to be given by the freshman class at Beaver Lake, Sunday, May 16, announced Co-Chairmen Marie Bechtold and Allan Flynn. There will also be dancing, softball, swimming, and a series of stunt races, with 25 prizes offered to the winners. Boats and canoes are available.

For those unable to find other transportation a truck will be provided which will leave school at 10:30 Sunday morning. Students wishing to avail themselves of this service are urged to sign up next week in the Liberal Arts building. One dollar covers transportation to and from the lake as well as the gate charge. This charge is 25 cents for those bringing their own cars.

"Beaver Lake was chosen for the picnic," said Miss Bechtold, "because of its well-equipped ball fields, picknicking facilities, beach and fine dance floor as well as its scenic location and proximity to town." The lake is situated in the hills north of Issaquah. It can be reached over Highway 10 to Snoqualmie Pass. The resort gates are open from 9 a.m. to midnight.

In charge of refreshments is Rosemary Fallon. Games will be managed by Jim Schultz, Betty Dilly and Mary Kendrick. Transportation is in the hands of Guy Jones and Jack Larsen.

"But there are still others needed to help on all committees. All wishing to volunteer their services are asked to attend a meeting to be held at noon next Monday in Room 202. If you are unable to be there sign up on the notice to be posted on the bulletin board," requested Flynn.

Hi-School Seniors To Visit College

Seniors from all Catholic girls' high schools in the Seattle area will be guests of SC Home Economics students and the faculty at a "High School Day" Friday, May 14, at the College. The program will last from 2:30 to 4:30 and will open with official greetings in Room 123 from Acting President Fr. Edward Flajole and Colheon President Sally Oursler.

SC Hiyus Return From Hike With Smiles for Fun

Spirits high and childish faces aglow, twenty Hiyu Coolees rolled away last Friday on the Club's annual spring overnight excursion. Darrington, seventy miles to the north and east of Seattle was the selected destination. With food and equipment for two days in the wilds stowed safely away in the Luxury Liner, the Hiyu exuberance was checked only by the rain which fell steadily Friday afternoon and evening.

Soon a meal was in the making and all was set up for that gracious style of living which has always characterized Hiyu overnights. Decks of cards appeared after supper and the evening was passed at hearts and pinochle. The tribe arose next morning to find the sun shining. Happily the Hiyus began two days of outdoor activity.

Dreaney, Kinney Win Gavel Debates

After two days of spirited competition, Claire Kinney and Jack Dreaney emerged as winners of three round the Intramural Debate Tournament. The topic of discussion chosen by the Gavel Club was the national debate question "Resolved: That a Federal World Government should be established."

Also at the conclusion of the tournament the President's Cup was presented to John Powers as tribute to his outstanding speaking ability in the Senior Division. Bob Larson received the Medal in the Junior Division. These awards were made on the basis of their five minute impromptu speeches. They are given annually after a competition, for which all Gavel Club members who have not previously received these awards are eligible.

John McDonough and Leonard Taylor won the second place prize for the debates.
