Homecoming Events Open Next Week

Next Tuesday, at 10 a.m.

Homecoming, S.U.B. Funds, Student Meeting Topics

News of Homecoming Week and the Student Union Building Fund will highlight the ASSU Student Body meeting this Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

First off on the agenda will be introduction of the Homecoming Court by Larry DeVries, Homecoming co-chairman. Introduction of princesses and queen will be followed by entertainment from the SU band.

"Flip" Smith, ASSU president, will explain to students the details of the forthcoming car raffle. Smith stated, "The raffle will be held to raise money to maintain the Student Union Building and to help erase the debt, which now stands at $97,000." He added, "The key to the success of the drive is better organizations, which can be realized with the help of faculty and students."

Quotas Proposed

In line with the new organizational policy, each school in the University will be assigned a quota of chance books to be sold. The books will have a value of $10 each. Quotas will be proportionate to the number of students in each school.

Quota for the College of Arts and Sciences will be $8,035; the School of Commerce and Finance, $2,753; the School of Engineering, $2,010; and the School of Nursing, $1,077. The combined exact goal for the entire student body will be $15,000.

Car To Be Selected

Details on the date of the drive and the type of car to be raffled have not yet been decided. Student Body officers have been contacting various new car agencies, but they have not yet chosen the one which will supply the car.

Last year a new Ford was won by the Seattle University Singers, who had gone in on a group of books together.

Quota set for 1953 was $10,000. The campaign fell just short of the proposed mark.

Later on in the month, selection of a chairman and a ten-member committee will be announced for each of the five schools. In addition, each of these committees will be aided by a faculty adviser who will be named at the same time.

The quota for each school is based upon the number of students in that school compared to the total enrollment in the University.

PREPARING WITH PRIDE for the 49th annual Homecoming, Publicity Co-Chairmen Helen Corey and Ron Cass display the second poster set made by the SU Art Department.

By DONA DONALDSON, City Editor

Next week — Homecoming, and Seattle U's expansion program will be reflected in the annual celebration plans. Two basketball games, two semi-formal dances, along with the Open House and the Alumni Luncheon, are the features on the January 20-23 schedule.

First event of the 49th Homecoming is Open House to welcome alumni and friends to the campus next Wednesday, January 20.

Student Co-Chairmen Madeleine Bergmann and Larry DeVries announce skits, academic displays and posters will vie for trophies in each division. Five skits will be presented in the Little Theater on campus with complete shows starting at 8 and 9:30 p.m.

Academic displays will be exhibited in Buhr Hall and posters in Dougherty Hall, between 7:30 and 10:30 p.m., with several organizations represented. Colhecon Club will be serving free coffee and cake in the Chieftain cafeteria.

Climaxing the celebration is the traditional ball on Saturday evening, Jan. 23. This year a separate Homecoming Dance will be held for the alumni at the Spanish Ballroom of the Olympic Hotel. Students will attend the ball at the Senator Ballroom of the Eagles Auditorium.

Queen Patricia Keeling will reign over the fete. Her crowning will be at 10:30 p.m., at the student dance and Alumni President Angelo Magnano will place the gold coronet upon her head.

With her princesses, Mary Heron, Shirley Lenoue, Mary Jo Lenoue, Mary Ann Marti, Ruth Oaksmith, Mary Petri, Dorothy Schaaf and Jo Ann Treichell, the queen will also attend the alumni dance.

Kimono-clad princesses will be selling tickets for the dance from today until Jan. 23 in the LA information booth. Their costumes fit in with the "Oriental Fantasy" theme of the traditional dance.

In Homecoming basketball games, the Chieftains meet Colorado A&M in a two-game series at the Civic Auditorium. The games are scheduled for Thursday and Friday, Jan. 21-22. Tipoff time is 8:15 as usual.

Transcripts Today!

Good news to all! Fall grades will be available today and tomorrow in designated rooms in the Liberal Arts Building. IK members will be stationed from noon to 1 p.m. in the following rooms:

Room 320	A-D
Room 323	E-H
Room 321	I-M
Room 123	N-R
Room 319	S-Z

Transcripts can be obtained later at the registrar's office. Those not claimed within a week will be mailed.

Official figures on winter quarter enrollment were also released by the office. There are 1,963 day school students now registered. This is 137 less than last quarter. However, total day and night school registration for this year shows an increase of 66 students over 1953 winter enrollment.

SU Drama Guild Programs 4-Act Barrie Comedy

For the past two weeks the Seattle University Drama Guild, under the direction of Mrs. Emmett Egan, has been working on its winter production, "The Admirable Crichton," a four-act comedy by James M. Barrie.

The story concerns the adjustment of an English peer, his daughters and his servants from life on an English manor to life on a deserted island in the tropics (where a title is of little use).

Principals in the cast include: Larry DeVries as Crichton, the "gentleman's gentleman" of unusual ability; Jim Harrison as Lord Loam, his master, and an avid detester of the "unnatural social barriers." Steve Allen plays Ernest, Loam's indolent nephew, and Kay O'Neil, Margaret Baker, and Mary Russo are Lord Loam's three flighty daughters, the Ladies Mary, Agatha, and Catherine.

Twenny, a cockney kitchen-maid, is played by Margaret Facconi. Lord Brockeylhurst (Lady Mary's suitor) and his mother, Lady Brockeylhurst, are played by Bill Baumgartner and Joy Proffitt, and the Rev. John Treherne by Joe Read.

Interhall Council Meets; Hall Officers Announced

Ideas for Homecoming displays were discussed at the last meeting of the Interhall Council. Representatives of all women's halls attended the meeting held January 6.

Officers recently elected by students living in residence halls are as follows:

Bordeaux Hall	Maureen McCormick.....President
	Betty Swanson.....Vice President
	Virginia Hatzenbuehler.....Secretary-Treasurer
Campion Hall	Kathy Humes.....President
	Lois Voelker.....Vice President
	Darlene Risse.....Secretary-Treasurer
Caroline Hall	Kay Fleming.....President
	Mary Lou Rice.....Vice President
	Kathleen Fordon.....Secretary
	Sharon Swift.....Treasurer
Columbia Hall	John Hightower.....President
	Jim Richard.....Vice President
	Ray White.....Secretary-Treasurer

Record-PA System Brings Chieftain Music

Music in the Chieftain Union Building is one of the latest additions at Seattle U. Installation of the record-PA system was completed January 4 under the supervision of Father Edmund McNulty, S.J., dean of the School of Engineering.

Dave Hilbiber, senior, and Charles E. Muehe, instructor, aided a contracted company in installing the "high frequency" system. The three turntables are located in the upstairs lounge.

Three Turntables

Records selected in the morning provide music for the whole day. Each of the three turntables holds 12 to 14 long-playing records which give approximately 22 minutes of music. An automatic switch starts the next turntable. This way, states Mr. Muehe, "one person can select records in the morning, providing music for the entire day. This is a time-saver and eliminates need for disc jockeys," he added.

Speakers for the system are concealed in the curved second ceiling and provide an even flow of melody. From the turntables continuous music is wired into the speakers. Bearing resemblance to a "piano-roll" ancestry, these long metallic cylinders are spaced across the length of the cafeteria.

MOVIE SUNDAY

"State Fair," technicolor musical of a few years back, will be shown in the Chieftain Lounge this Sunday night at 7:30. This movie, starring Dick Haymes and Jeanne Crain, is the second in the ASSU-sponsored series. Admission is 35 cents. Pictures have been booked for several weeks in advance; however, student body officers would like to know student movie preferences. There is a form for this on the back page.

Basilica Replica Shown In Seattle On World Tour

The scale model of the Basilica of Saint Peter in Rome is one of the most interesting exhibits to visit Seattle. It will be shown in Frederick and Nelson's Hall until Saturday.

Creating a set of plans to be used was a three-year project. Every section of the Basilica was measured and examined. The carving and construction work took two more years.

Attilio Savoia and his son, Lucio, handcarved over 400,000 pieces before their model was finished. Every detail, including working clocks, fountains shooting water, ringing bells, and the 140 statues of saints and popes is complete.

During the Holy Year of 1950 Pope Pius XII blessed the replica. It was exhibited in Rome and other Italian cities until September of 1951, when it began the tour of the United States. The artists desired that as many people as possible would be able to see the likeness of the Mother Church of the Catholic World.

Attilio and Lucio Savoia accompanied their masterpiece. They will autograph booklets on the Basilica and replica at the exhibition.

Brittain to Attend CCUN Convention

Darrell Brittain, regional CCUN director of five Northwestern states and the Territory of Alaska, will be Seattle University's delegate to the Collegiate Council of the United Nations. This convention, composed of the National Board of Directors, will last from February 27 to March 4 at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Problems discussed will include CCUN expansion, Red China and the United Nations, and current political difficulties.

Delegates will also decide on election of representatives to the June institute in New York City. During this convention, participants will see the workings of the United Nations.

Enroute to Washington, Darrell will stop at Laramie to organize a chapter at the University of Wyoming.

During spring quarter, a model United Nations will be established on campus under the auspices of the CCUN.

I. K. Mixer Friday At Casa Italiana

IK's are sponsoring the mixer after the Friday night game with St. Mary's. It is scheduled for the Casa Italiana, 1520 - 17th Ave.

Chairman for the dance is Bill Stolcis. Committee members are: Bill Baumgartner, Jim Honda, Jim Murphy, Bill Scott, and Bob Wehner.

Records will provide music for dancing. The mixer will start immediately after the game and last until 12:30 a.m.

belated tribute

Special recognition is deserved by Professor John Mykut and his advertising class of last quarter for the work they did on the first issue of the Tom-Tom. Their main difficulty was selling space in a magazine not yet printed. Still they did a marvelous job of selling people on an "unknown product." They are due a great measure of belated tribute for their hard work in making a success of the magazine's first advertising campaign. —A. A.

pope's message--wise counsels

On Christmas eve, Pope Pius XII delivered a message which should be heeded by thinking men throughout the world. His Holiness was speaking, not so much as the head of the Church, but more as a father counseling his children.

Two points were stressed by the Pope. He pointed out that materialism in any of its forms is not the world's panacea as many may believe. Moreover, to safeguard the continent, he stated that European unity must be achieved.

In this contemporary world technology seems to be emphasized for its own sake; it has become an end unto itself. Some think that productivity, prosperity, comfort are the answers to world peace. Pope Pius, however, counseled, "A hundred years ago, another similar formula aroused the absolute confidence of statesmen: with free trade, lasting peace. But no materialism was ever an apt means to establish peace. For peace is above all an attitude of the mind, and only secondarily an harmonious equilibrium of external forces.

"We must repeat it again and again, and persuade those who are easily deceived by the mirage of a peace consisting in an abundance of temporal goods, that secure and lasting peace is above all a question of spiritual unity and of moral dispositions." True peace must first be felt within a man before he can express it outwardly.

Petty jealousies, national animosities, bitter rivalries have been the bane of Europe's existence. Union of its various peoples seems the only solution. "A strong encouragement to such a union is the manifest failure of the contrary policy," stated the Pontiff. "The supreme incitement to action," he continued, "is the gravity of the moment through which Europe is struggling; there is no security for her without risk."

The recent secret mission of former French Premier Edouard Daladier, of Munich Pact fame, and several members of France's Chamber of Deputies to Communist Poland shows that distrust still prevails in Europe. France, it seems, fears German resurgence and may seek to have Germany encircled by treaties. European union would do a great deal to alleviate such shenanigans. Of course, Daladier's mission may be wholly his own idea.

The weekly news magazine, U. S. News and World Report, has done a great service to its wide circle of readers by printing excerpts from the Pope's Christmas Eve message.

We on the SPEC staff have endeavored to bring you the news, stories and features which, we think, pertain to you—the students. Long hours are spent each week by us—writing, typing and planning each issue of the SPEC.

So far there has been very little criticism of our production. This is unjust, not only to us, but to ourselves. Without criticism by the public, a newspaper does not and cannot carry out its proper function because it has no way of knowing what is being demanded by it. The staff members have no way of knowing whether the public is reading our paper. In this respect, our time is wasted as well as is yours.

Beginning with the next issue, THIS space will be reserved for comments by the readers. Your letters need not pertain to only the paper, but should include helpful suggestions for clubs, students, parking, the lunch line in the cafeteria or the crowded hallways. Address all letters to The Editor, the SPEC. Each letter must be accompanied by a signature of the person writing the letter. Signatures will be withheld upon mention of it before publication. Remember, this space is yours.

Don't miss it! Tomorrow night, brush and chimney fires permitting, the SU Fire Chiefs, who are sometimes known as the Chieftains, will emBLAZON along their FIERY path to victory, under FIRE from the RED HOT Gaels of St. Mary's. The HOSE game should FLARE into a FLAMING BLAZONRY. Gads! What if we lose? Headline: "Fire Chiefs All Wet!"

Seriously, is that possible?

You're missing a good deal if you don't take in the movies in the lounge on Sunday nights. An excellent blend of good shows and cheap prices. That last item is the cincher.

This hasn't been officially affirmed yet, but usually reliable sources indicate that Father Toulouse will teach a Home Economics course next quarter — philosophy of bean!

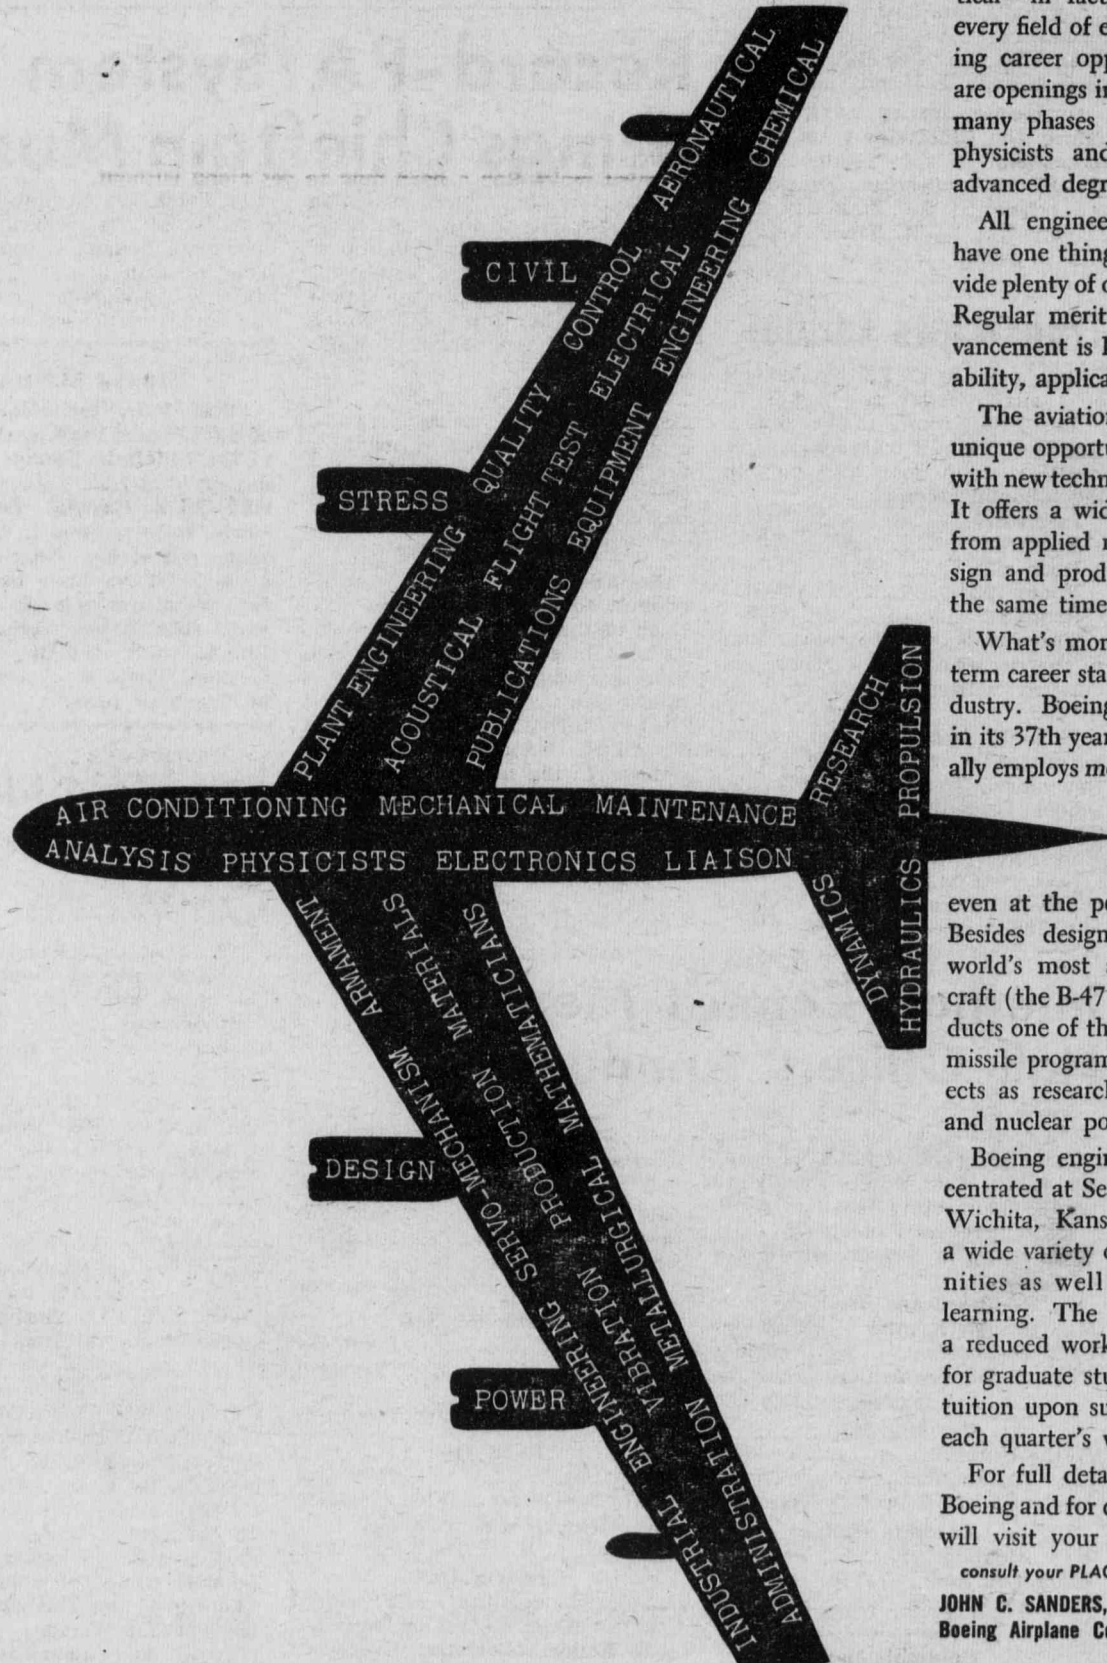

We see that Florence Chadwick is considering a swim of the Straits of Juan de Fuca. May we recall at this time an observation of the Tacoma News Tribune: "Florence Chadwick, at last count, has been seen in more channels than a cigarette commercial."

Flash! The Rally Committee burst in the door, brandishing clubs and demanding what's going to happen to all the Rally stunts designed around a "Chieftain" theme. I don't know, boys. I just work here. . .

Well, this has gone too far without the usual spot of corn. Freshman history student: "How did the Irish get into Mexico?" Sophomore: "The same way the Scotch got into my Uncle Harry!"

MacDuff was leaning against the bar, holding his stomach and moaning. "Sick?" inquired a sympathetic bystander. "Verra, verra sick," replied MacDuff. "I'm afraid I've got yooors." "What's 'yooors'?" asked the bystander. MacDuff brightened and said, "Make mine a Scotch and soda."

Engineers of virtually EVERY type are needed on the Boeing team

Mechanical, electrical, civil, aeronautical—in fact, graduates in virtually every field of engineering—find rewarding career opportunities here. There are openings in design, research, in the many phases of production, and for physicists and mathematicians with advanced degrees.

All engineering careers at Boeing have one thing in common: they provide plenty of opportunity to get ahead. Regular merit reviews are held. Advancement is keyed to your individual ability, application and initiative.

The aviation industry offers you a unique opportunity to gain experience with new techniques and new materials. It offers a wide range of application, from applied research, to product design and production, all going on at the same time.

What's more, you can expect long-term career stability in the aviation industry. Boeing, for instance, is now in its 37th year of operation, and actually employs more engineers today than even at the peak of World War II. Besides designing and building the world's most advanced multi-jet aircraft (the B-47 and B-52), Boeing conducts one of the nation's major guided missile programs, and such other projects as research on supersonic flight, and nuclear power for aircraft.

Boeing engineering activity is concentrated at Seattle, Washington, and Wichita, Kansas—communities with a wide variety of recreational opportunities as well as schools of higher learning. The Company will arrange a reduced work week to permit time for graduate study and will reimburse tuition upon successful completion of each quarter's work.

Fire Chiefs Face St. Mary's

Chiefs Bounce Zags Twice

By AL WILLIAMS

Yes, it was the same old story over the week end. The Fire Chiefs doused Gonzaga with wins 11 and 12 in a row, by counts of 83-61 and 67-56, and are now 14th on the AP poll.

Superior boardwork told the double-win story for SU, as they collected 107 rebounds to the Zags' 72. The Chiefs also outshot Gonzaga, but shooting was off for both fives.

The first contest was all SU as "Chief Joseph" Pehanick hit for 26 and Cal Bauer added 16. Jerry (Arms) Vermillion, Bulldog pivotman, was held to 16, well below his average.

Saturday the Zags growled back, stalling SU's early attack with a stiff zone defense. The Spokaneites had an 8-point lead at one point in the second period, but the shooting of Stan Glowaski and Bob Godes made it 26-all at the half. "Slick" Sanford and Pehanick began hitting after the intermission, giving the Firemen the lead.

Joe Pehanick, Chieftain center, attempts to corral Gonzaga's high-scoring Jerry Vermillion (36). Other players in the photo are Wayne Sanford (12), Bob Malone (11), and Bulldog guard Joe Schauble (23).

Galloping Gaels Favored To Halt Firehouse Quint

Papooses Top Roman's Boys

Holding Ed Roman to 11 points, the Papooses upset Ft. Lawton, 79-58, Tuesday at the Fort.

The Frosh led all the way, as Dick Strichin hit 23, Jim Harney 17, and Jim Humphrey 15. Lawton's Ab Nichols was high with 28.

Russ Tyler was high for the yearlings with 17 points, and Thornton Humphries, newly enrolled freshman, scored 15.

Saturday night, Bob Hedquist's team will face Val Kirks in a Northwest League contest. The game will begin at 6:15 p.m.

There will be no preliminary game on Friday evening.

Chet Noe, last year's U. of Oregon great, scored 47 points as the Buchan's Bakers rolled over the Papooses, 109 to 75, last Friday night. Noe's point total was a new individual scoring record for the league.

Up from sunny California this week-end, with the prime mission of stopping the Chieftain winning streak at 12, come the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's College. The last appearance of this band in the Seattle area was in the form of their football team (now disbanded) which trounced the U. of W. Huskies a few years back.

Coached by Tom Foley, the Gaels this year are rated as a dark horse in the California Basketball Association, based on the hope that their sophomore-studded team will jell into a winning combo. Led by Captain Gil Zaragoza and Soph Bill "Weelo" Sanchez, who scored 343 points in 18 games last year and is

Trackmen Hold Chieftains on Parade Meeting Tues.

There will be a meeting of all students who are interested in participating in track and field competition this spring.

The meeting will take place in the Liberal Arts Building in Room 219, Tuesday, Jan. 19, at 7 p.m. At this time a track movie also will be shown.

The purpose of the meeting will be to determine the amount of interest Seattle University students have in this sport and to encourage and secure their active participation.

Former track athletes in particular are urged to attend. A full schedule of meets has been planned and all competition will be on a collegiate level.

Chieftains on Parade

"Ladies and gentlemen, now we present the mightiest of mites . . ." Stop! You're thinking wrong. This isn't an introduction of Super-Mouse, but of Bobby Malone, the smallest player on this year's casaba quintet.

Bob, at 5 ft. 7 in., is enough to make most basketball coaches shudder, but Al Brightman, after the influx of a couple of 5-ft.-9'ers in his lineup the past few years has set his sights on performance rather than height, and the "little tyke" (Bob doesn't have a nickname so we hope this will suffice) gives nothing but performance. . . . Hustling, ball-handling, hustling, defensive ability, and hustling, besides a deadly long one-handed shot are Malone's largest assets. These talents plus a ton of spirit make Bob a hard man to get along without.

The "tyke" has a long history of basketball success, ranging from "Hoop Shoot" champion in his younger years to college basketball star. . . . Bob played high school ball for Highline, where he received his biggest thrill in sports, beating Walla Walla to take the State A hoop championship in his senior year. Last year Bob played good ball for the SU team.

An above-average student in education, Malone wants to graduate, serve his two years for Uncle Sam and then, if possible, get a coaching position. One of the "tyke's" buddies mentioned that Bob might also have plans for matrimony, but we'll leave that up to Bob.

Vermillion and Eastern set-shot expert Joe Murphy kept Gonzaga in the game. Glowaski was high scorer with 19, while Vermillion again was held to 16.

Pehanick led the series scorers with 35 points, followed for SU by Glowaski's 30 and Bauer's 24. Vermillion's 32 topped the Bulldogs, with Gary Hetherington hitting 15 and Murphy swishing 14.

Tip-ins. . . . Personal opinion—Gonzaga will be tougher if they try more team play. . . .

Zag guard Joe "Czar" Murphy tells us the famous bucket teammate Jerry Wells scored for WSC shouldn't be blamed on Wells. "Czar" himself started the fluke play that proved the difference for State, 62-60.

Going the wrong direction from the fourth-quarter tip, Murphy missed a shot, Mulcahy tipped, and Wells finally tipped it in. Still with nobody the wiser, WSC was heading back to score for the Bulldogs until Jack Friel realized the mistake and halted things. . . .

Four of the top 18 teams on this week's AP poll will have shown in Seattle this year—ALL at the Civic Auditorium!

THE LAUREL WREATH TO

ED RUBATINO

A fitting tribute is due Ed Rubatino for the noteworthy spirit he has shown in all school affairs. For this reason he has been chosen to receive this week's Laurel Wreath Award.

Ed is a pre-medical student at Seattle University and is in his final year of study. Since he started here as a freshman his time has been equally divided between sports and social functions. He has been an I.K. for four years, a member of the Assembly Board and Totem Club, worker for the SPEC, affiliated with the CCD, and has helped with various dances. At present he is co-chairman of the Homecoming Decorations Committee and is head of the program on Civil Defense sponsored by the Physics Club. For two years Ed has also been active in the Engineering Club.

A graduate of St. Martin's High School in Olympia, Ed was Vice President of the Junior Class, stage manager for the Drama Club, and member of the basketball, baseball, and football teams.

Congratulations, Ed! Because of your school spirit and the efforts you've shown, Martin & Eckmann are presenting you with a gift-tie. You may receive it when you visit their store in the University District.

Music Department Schedules Programs For Winter Quarter

31,000 ACTUAL STUDENT INTERVIEWS SHOW COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES TO ALL OTHER BRANDS!

Latest extensive nation-wide survey, supervised by college professors, proves Luckies lead again!

Be Happy - GO LUCKY!

In 1952, a survey of colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. In 1953, another far more extensive and comprehensive survey—supervised by college professors and based on more than 31,000 actual student interviews—once again proves Luckies' overwhelming popularity. Yes, Luckies lead again over all other brands, regular or king size ... and by a wide margin! The number-one reason: Luckies' better taste!

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER!
