FORTHCOMING CEREMONIES SUNDAY TO RECEIVE SUMMER CANDIDATES

Rev. Francis Lindekugel, Sodality moderator, and Jim Burns, Sodality prefect, make plans for the coming Sodality reception.

Marycrest Dedication Includes Openhouse

By PHYLLIS CARVER

Marycrest, new women's residence, will be dedicated to the Blessed Virgin on Sunday at 4 p.m. by Archbishop Thomas A. Connolly, D.D., J.C.D.

Completed during the Marian Year, it is the first structure of the building program at Seattle University. Assisting the Archbishop during the ceremony will be Reverend James Goodwin, S.J., and Reverend Owen McCusker, S.J.

Honored guests will be Mrs. Marie Leonard, dean of women, and Miss Agnes Handley, president of the SU Women's Guild.

Other guests present on the platform will be Mayor Allan E. Pomeroy, the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., SU president; members of the Board of Regents of SU, and members of the City Council.

Following the dedication, there will be open house throughout the entire building. Hall (floor) presidents, house mothers, and head directors will be hostesses. Senior residents will serve refreshments.

"We hope everyone will come and visit our beautiful building which contains all things necessary for our comfort and enjoyment," stated Mrs. Anna Meyers, resident director.

All parents, students and friends are invited to attend.

Judicial Board Openings Told

Applicants for the Judicial Board will be interviewed from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15, in the ASSU office. Applicants will be judged on their knowledge of the ASSU constitution, general character and interest in school affairs.

In the past the applicants have been chosen by written examination. This year they will be selected by interview alone.

Active members from last year include the Chief Justice Ardis Alfrey, Mike Weber, and Duane Greer. There are openings for two seniors, one junior, and three sophomores.

The Judicial Board is the supreme Court of the Student Body government. Its main duty is to make sure that all officers of the association comply with the constitution and its by-laws.

The board investigates proceedings by itself or on complaint of association members.

Also, it may be asked at any time to render a decision concerning the legality of any act or election held by the Student Body.

Darrell Brittain, ASSU president, has said "the duties and responsibilities of the Judicial Board will be greater than ever this year, and we hope there will be a large turnout for membership."

Sodality candidates who have completed the summer probation period will be received in a formal program Sunday, Oct. 17.

Recitation of the Act of Consecration will highlight the reception of the new candidates. This Act of Consecration is the final step of the probation period. In the words of Pope Pius XII, "Consecration to the Mother of God in the Sodality is an entire gift of one's self, throughout Life and for all Eternity."

Reception program will begin with a 9 o'clock Mass at St. James Cathedral. Coffee and rolls will be served at 10 o'clock. A general meeting will be held at 11, presided over by Jim Burns, Sodality prefect.

First on the agenda will be the introduction of officers: Sally Rude, vice prefect; Mary Petri, secretary; Jim Murphy, treasurer, and Monica Kaufer, head of women counselors.

Formal reception of new members will follow. Candidates to be received are: Darrell Brittain, Lorraine Caswell, Mary Byrne, Fran Clary, Wilma Halligan, Marilyn Ozar, Janet Hopps, Kathy O'Donnell, Marilyn Steckler, Betty Swanson, and Barbara Van Derhoef. They will receive medals, pins, diplomas, and membership cards.

Darrell Brittain, Janet Hopps, and Jim Murphy will discuss the Sodality project for the month of October—the Rosary.

A short report on the function of the various Sodality committees will be given by committee chairmen. Included on the list of committees are: Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, Missions, Sacred Heart, Liturgy, and Our Lady's.

Program will be concluded with a short talk by Rev. F. J. Lindekugel, S.J., Sodality moderator, on "The meaning and importance of the individual and the organized Apostolate in the Sodality."

This formal reception will be open to the public and all Seattle U students are invited to attend.

All students who are interested in joining the Sodality are invited to a meeting tomorrow, Oct. 15, at 1 p.m. in the Sodality office. Jim Burns has announced that the new probation period begins next Monday.

NOTICE!

All foreign students are requested to report to the office of the Registrar immediately!

Twin Theme Sets Mood for Dance

This year's annual Soph-Frosh dance, formerly known as the Barn Dance, is slated for October 22 from 9 to 12 p.m. at the Rainbow Ballroom.

Johnny Scholton's eleven-piece band will provide the music for this year's first date dance.

Sophomore advisors are Leon Herkenrath and Jim Quinn. Freshmen dance co-chairmen are Mike Siguenza and Pat Brady; program advisor is Irma Vickerman and the publicity advisors are Dick Vargo and Sally Rude.

The dance, titled "Pair-a-sights," will feature a twin theme. Each couple should dress alike for the affair. Programs are $2.00.

Frosh committee chairmen for publicity are Warren Shaw and Dorie Hay; decorations chairmen are Denny Johnson and Joey Beswick; Tom DeMan and Mary Onorato will work on programs.

"Who's Who" Coming:

Knights Program for Future Includes Friday Night Mixer

"Let's Get Acquainted!" Inter-collegiate Knights will sponsor a dance this Friday, Oct. 15. It will be held at the Encore Ballroom at 12th and Pike. Dancing will be from 9 to 12, with music furnished by the Chanticleers, popular six-piece band.

Wigwam Chapter of the Inter-collegiate Knights was established at SU in 1938. Two years later, in 1940, it was made a member of the national service organization. At the present time, this chapter has 38 active members under the leadership of Honorable Duke Jim Honda.

Any male student interested in becoming a member of this service organization may obtain an application blank from IK members, or at the bookstore.

Pledging of prospective members will start soon. Tom Mahoney and Jim Murphy, recently appointed pledgemasters, announced that no applications will be accepted after October 22.

The student directory, "Who's Who at Seattle U," published each year by the Knights will be on sale at the Bookstore in about three weeks. Co-chairmen Bob Denini and Tom Mahoney announced that it will sell at 35 cents a copy.

Activities Board Meets; Publicity Rules Released

Slating a full calendar of events, the Activities Board has set all major events for the Fall quarter. First meeting of the year for the board was Tuesday, Oct. 12.

The Activities Board is composed of the presidents of each organization on campus. Their duties include mapping out activities for the coming year. "The main function of the board," explains Darrell Brittain, ASSU president, "is to prevent conflicting dates for all coming events."

Hotly contested bids for choice dates sparked the meeting. In a final decision, main dates were awarded by Jim Ray, Activities Board chairman.

Major activity dates released at the meeting are: Annual Retreat, November 17-19; Variety Show, December 4-5; Drama Club play, December 13-14.

REMEMBER

Junior class officer nominations today, Oct. 14, at 12:30 in Room 123. Senior nominations same time and place tomorrow, Oct. 15.

Campus Politics Groups Sponsor Student Rallies

Seattle University's two on-campus political organizations, Young Democrats and Young Republicans, are planning rallies for Wednesday evening, Oct. 20. Both will feature prominent nominees for Congress in the November election. Information as to participants, place and time can be found below.

Young Democrats

Hugh B. Mitchell, nominee for Congressman from the First District, will share the rostrum with Congressman-at-Large Don Magnuson at a campaign rally of the SU Young Democrats Wednesday, Oct. 20. It will be held in Room 412, Buhr Hall, at 7:30 p.m.

Other speakers will include State Senator Patrick D. Sutherland, Representative Fred Dore, Tim McCullough, candidate for sheriff, and J. Ray Heath, nominee for county commissioner, north district.

"This rally offers students the opportunity to meet two of our outstanding congressman and leaders in state and local government," stated Don Wright, club president.

Young Republicans

A Young Republican rally will be held Wednesday evening, Oct. 20, at 8 o'clock, in the SU Student Union Building. The rally is being held for Congressman Thomas Pelly, Al Canwell and Republican legislative nominees in the 37th District, Charles Stokes, Louis Magrini and Don McDermott.

It will feature Congressman-at-Large Candidate Al Canwell as the principal speaker.

"This event undoubtedly will be the largest student rally of its kind ever held on a campus in the State of Washington. We anticipate a capacity crowd," commented Ed Mueller, president of SU Young Republicans.

Clearing House Plans Revealed

United States Senator Henry M. Jackson and State Attorney-General Donald Eastvold will keynote the first Northwest Citizenship Clearing House Conference at Seattle University Friday, Oct. 29, from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

The conference, titled "Workshop in Practical Politics," is open to faculty and all students and will feature noted Democratic and Republican political leaders. The conference agenda includes sixteen panel discussions, the keynote speakers and a banquet.

Student discussion leaders from Seattle Pacific College, Seattle University, and the University of Washington will participate in the panels.

Professor Charles LaCugna is chairman of the event. SU students working on the program are: Ann O'Donnell, general arrangements chairman; Margie Van Parys, banquet; Jim Plastino, publicity; Ed Mueller and Don Wright, program, and Charlynn Gibbons, registration.

Registration blanks may be obtained from the registration chairman or Prof. LaCugna. A small fee for registration, which includes the banquet, will be charged.

Lost and Found Reopen Oct. 18

Alpha Phi Omega representative Marc Horton has announced the club will resume operation of the Lost and Found Department starting Monday, Oct. 18.

This department, located in the lobby of the Student Union Building, will be open from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily except Wednesday.

Donating this service free of charge, club members ask every student to cooperate. Personal property should be labeled. Articles found on campus are to be brought promptly to the Lost and Found Department. Those losing articles should check periodically with the department until they are found.

According to Sy Simon, A Phi O president, "With the students' cooperation, this can be one of the most useful services on the university's campus."

N.B.—Don't forget to cast your vote for Assembly Board members. Voting Tuesday, Oct. 19, in LA Building.

Mu Sigma Asks for Participation In Variety Show

Plans are now under way for Mu Sigma's fifth annual Variety Show. Mu Sigma president, Vaughn "Curly" Thomson, will produce the show, assisted by Bernie Schmidt, Mu Sig vice president. Pat Roddy and Rodger Ford are heading the music and scenery departments.

According to "Curly," this year's Variety Show promises to be exactly what the name implies "a little bit of everything."

The two-day show will be held December 4 and 5 in the SU gym. Joy Proffitt and Brenna Kidney have prominent roles in the presentation.

Anyone interested in participating in the show is urged to contact either Bernie or Vaughn before October 23, the deadline for show entries.

One down and 29 to go! As the SPEC gets into the groove of (we hope) entertaining you every week, the year's activities begin to take shape. Rumors are already flying about this and that and SUites are happily speculating on everything from the sanity of HAMLET to what the Frosh-Soph dance is going to be like. Something we're all waiting for: Announcement of Homecoming co-chairmen and initial plans.

Frosh Open House last Thursday night was nothing short of a raging success. What a mob! If the enthusiasm displayed by everyone is any indication, we predict the best year in SU history. The question now is whether this cooperative spirit will last. Here's hoping!

It seems that the most popular question making the rounds on campus is, "Hi, how're you doin'?" Now, we ask you, what should we answer? Fine? Uh-uh, we always speak the truth. Terrible? Pessimist. After a dozen or so unsatisfactory answers, we finally think we've found a fine 'n' dandy retort: Smile, shrug shoulders, blink, scowl, sag, run before our tongues get the better of us. THAT expresses our feelings pree-cis-ly!

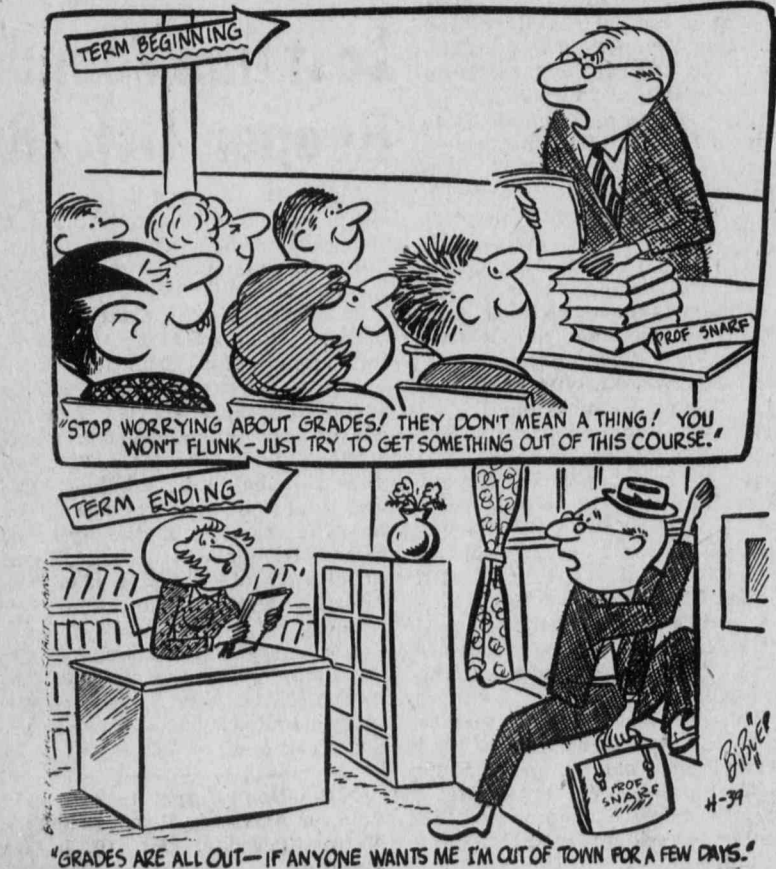

We happened to meet Father Lindekugal the other day and he told us about something that we wanted to pass on to everybody else. For the benefit of any and all, SU is providing inquiry sessions designed to give the "facts" about the Catholic religion and to answer problems and questions that may arise. These periods are open to all students, Catholic or not. Sessions are scheduled Wednesdays in Room 202 at 8:00, 9:00, 10:00 and 11:00 a.m., and 1:00 and 7:30 p.m. They will feature short organized discussions and the rest of the time will be thrown open for questions from a question box. Interested? Drop by sometime.

The funniest thing happened the other day. We walked into our office and found people doing the strangest things. One group, 10 strong, were chatting away in a corner. Others were beating away at our typewriters. Still others were going through our files and strolling off with assorted paraphernalia. Now, being friendly people, we tried not to be too upset. But, when some looked at us as if they wished we would leave, we decided that something needed to be said. Here it is: We are not grand central station, nor the north end of the mall, nor a general supply house. There now. We've said it. Please let us in. Please!

We want to take a bit of space to send out a special "thank you" to all the students who have asked to help on this paper. Although assignments are not always available, this page is open for contributions, both features and Letters to the Editor. Anyone with ideas is asked to write them up and turn them in to Mary Moe, feature editor, or any other editors listed above. Who knows—they may be just what we're looking for.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

Sure I'm Sure

TOM COLLERAN

"You ever been to a mixer?" Then let me enlighten you a little. The bright lights of the ballroom winked invitingly at me as I approached, suggesting that an acceptance of her invitation would be rewarded by rich remembrances in my college memory album.

I meandered into the ticket line. A gangly Freshman slipped in front of me, furtively produced his maroon and white beanie and announced, "These are my credentials, Marm," pounded a half dollar on the counter and was off. Not having any credentials, it cost me six bits.

I wandered up the solitary flight of stairs to the spacious, lacquered ballroom floor . . . what a sight to behold. It looked like a "pushball" game where somebody forgot to throw out the pushball. Dual pairs of spauldings and "white bucks" were two-stepping, waltzing, jitter-bugging and schottisching to the rhythmic strains of the fast fatiguing Chanticleers. The sidelines bulged with Frosh gallants poised like bird dogs eagerly awaiting their first plunge into college society.

I edged my way to the front rank and, trying to be friendly, turned to a compatriot at my side and asked, "What's the score?" He glanced in my direction and intoned icily "JACK BENNY." Yeah, well Groucho Marx to you, I said to myself . . . that must be one of those sophisticated seniors . . . this is supposed to be a Mixer and he wasn't nice to me. Oh, well, guess I'll dance . . . let's see, whom don't I know that I would like to know better? Hello, what's this . . . "May I have this dance?" Oh, you would rather not . . . you think you would like to sit this one out . . . I see . . . Thank you. What is this? I've come to be mixed and nobody is wanting my recipe.

Then comes the crusher . . . The PA system crackles and booms—"Last dance." What happened? I just got here. Mixed? I haven't even been stirred gently yet.

Dejectedly, I retrace my steps to the coat check room. Then it happens! Suddenly I am swept into a surging mass of humanity—pushed, battered and trampled, elbows punching me on all sides, my brogues becoming welcome mats. Then it hits me . . . this must be it. This is more than I ever dreamed of. Not only am I being well mixed . . . I'm being completely rearranged.

Oh, you say you were there . . . sorry I misunderstood you. Danced every dance, huh? Yeah, so did I. Another one next week, you say? Darn right I'll be there . . . wouldn't miss it for the world. Sure, I'm sure. I'll probably see you there. You won't be able to miss me—I'll be the one guy there with helmet and shoulder pads. So long!

Q. What is the Assembly Board?

A. The Assembly Board is a legislative body composed of five members from each of the sophomore, junior and senior classes. These meetings are held once a month to discuss student problems which have arisen during the past month. In controversial matters, it has the power to override the president's veto by a two-thirds majority vote. Meetings are open to everyone.

Q. What is the Judicial Board?

A. The Judicial Board consists of nine members, three chosen from each of sophomore, junior and senior classes. Membership is for three years or until the board member is elected to a ASSU or AWSSU office. Board membership is determined by a knowledge of the SU constitution and an interview with the ASSU president. Members are chosen and removed by the ASSU president. Judicial Board meetings are closed, except to members.

Q. What is the Activities Board?

A. The Activities Board is a group composed of the heads of the recognized campus clubs and organizations. They meet once each quarter to determine the social calendar. These meetings are closed to general attendance.

The Man in the Dog House

JIM SABOL

It has been called to my attention that this space is getting too all-fired benevolent. Just where do we think we're getting off not having criticized or lampooned one single little thing? Well! We shall certainly fix that: During the summer months there seemed to be quite a fad for columnists to eat up a considerable amount of white space telling what they were for and what they were against. I'm sure that you all saw the many words devoted to "I'm for peach pie, blondes, and foreign cars, etc." "I'm against Liberate, false teeth," etc., ad nauseum. Well, let it be known here and now that this department wishes to go on record against, opposed to, and in general disfavor of: any egotistical (not to mention boring) lists of some columnists' likes and dislikes. So there! Heck, you'd have thought they were running for office (instead of off at the mouth).

And speaking of campaigning, (which we weren't but how else can I get this in here), time was when people were pounding children into developing "initiative." From the looks of the billboards and papers, the lessons were really taken to heart. Are you for or against Initiative 188? 194? 198? 72-36-54—hike!

Herewith let me steal a page from Father Carmody's book and begin my version of The Department of Useless Information: President Eisenhower has a sign on his desk that reads "Suaviter in Modo; Fortiter in Re." Freely translated, this means "Speak softly and carry a big stick." Incidentally this famous phrase was written by a 16th century head of the Jesuit order named Claudio in his treatise "Agua Viva." (It was also later mentioned by The Male in the Canine Domicile in his treatise "Semper in Aqua Hotta.")

Odd Ode: "Twinkle, twinkle, little car,
People wonder what you are.
What a mess I've made of you—
Purple, yellow, and baby blue."
(About the only original thing in here and you can sure tell it!)

Stolen from Only the Best Sources Department: "The pioneer who blazed the trails now has descendants who burn up the roads!"

It has been remarked that this column is written in a rather free "uninhibited" manner. Gads, if it were any more uninhibited, it would leap up off the pulp and trample all over Plastino down there. (Notice how that boy shoves me around. I feel so cramped!) Oh, well, his stuff is right next to what is technically known as the "gutter." Take that!!

This department feels that there are entirely too many jokes about the "thriftiness" of Scotchmen, for they are very nimble thinkers too. Take the one that telegraphed the following message: "Bruises hurt erased afford erected analysis hurt too infectious dead." It was Greek to the operator until Angus translated: "Bruce is hurt. He raced a Ford. He wrecked it and Alice is hurt, too. In fact, she's dead!"

NOTES off the cuff

JIM PLASTINO

Perhaps you haven't noticed it yet, but there isn't any Barn Dance this year. Over the course of the past few years SU students have come to think of the Barn Dance as a sort of institution. Therefore it does not come as a surprise that many on campus are upset over the sudden death of the traditional event.

Here, for the record, are the facts. The Barn Dance was killed by faculty action because of the questionable reputation the dance has acquired. Seems that every year a few students insist upon making a spectacle of themselves. Just a few, mind you, but enough to tarnish the reputation of the rest of the school.

So now there is no Barn Dance. In its place will be what has been termed the Frosh-Soph dance. Actually, there are only two differences between the Barn Dance of old and its replacement. First, the name has been changed (to protect the innocent, of course). Second, a strong attempt will be made to control the conduct situation. The latter is a very commendable idea. Outside of these two, everything will remain as it was. Same place, same band, same price, same organization . . . same dance!

We have been repeatedly asked by various quarters to give airing to a very serious and very hot situation. After due consideration, we concluded that the student body is entitled to know about this conflict. The principals involved are four Student Body officers: Darrell Brittain, president; Jim Ray, vice president; Mike Lane, treasurer, and Jim Griffith, publicity director.

This controversy started brewing a week before school started and is now just about ready to boil over.

In a nutshell, the problem is this: All of the officers have very different ideas of how things should be run on campus and no one can find a middle ground. There have been many claims and counter-claims. Officers have accused one another of being dictators, of lacking a sense of responsibility, of being difficult to get along with, of being incompetent, and on and on.

Normally, squabbles among club officers are their own business. However, these are not club officers. They are the elected representatives of the students of the entire university. They are elected to determine matters of student government which are constantly arising.

If they are our representatives, their conduct concerning student matters should be accountable to the students themselves. We wonder how the student body is expected to function as a smooth-working, efficient group if their elected representatives cannot work together.

It's high time that the Student Body officers wake up to the fact that they are the servants of the student body; not that the student body is the servant of the officers.

It may seem to them that their differences effect only themselves. This is not true. We voted for these people because we felt that they could run the student government in a competent manner.

There must be mutual cooperation among them. One man cannot do it alone.

The ASSU constitution, as it now stands, does not clearly define the duties and responsibilities of each of the officers. As a result, some of them are overlapping their power; some are not fulfilling the bare minimum requirements of their office.

We do not pretend to be able to solve this dilemma. We can only offer suggestions. As we see it, there should be a clear-cut division of power among the officers. They should try to forget their personality conflicts and work together for a common goal—a better Seattle University. Like any other goal, this can only be achieved by teamwork and not by the effort of one individual alone. By the same token, each officer should be willing to do all the work demanded by his position.

Perhaps by bringing this problem out into the open right at the start of the year, a lot of trouble and unhappiness will be avoided as the months roll by. We can only hope. "Thirty"

DOUBLE PLAY

by FERGUSON and SULLIVAN

So Close

The Huskies came awfully close, but they couldn't quite overtake the Bruins of UCLA. Johnny Cherberg's boys fought from a 21-0 deficit to within one point of a tie, and if they had had five more minutes, these reporters believe that the second-rated team in the country would have gone back to the Southland in disgrace.

If the Huskies can play as well in the games to come, they will finish high up in the Conference standings. At any rate, their games are really worth seeing, because that ball club has more "try" than any we've ever seen.

Bookie Suffer

My bookmaker is crying the blues these days. The various upsets around the nation are ruining him. Every upset you see on the sports pages means one more ulcer. He is very definitely against the single platoon system.

Cute Coed Comments

"I believe that a mixed intramural football league should be instituted at Seattle U!" By this she means that the guys and the gals would be mixing it up down at Broadway Playfield each afternoon. She added, "Think of the penalties there'd be for holding!"

Sports Staff in Army

Just for those who might want to know, we will pass on the information that John Mingus, sports editor of the Spec last year, is leaving shortly for a period of dedication to Uncle Sam. Al Williams, who filled the same position the year before, will be following Johnny soon.

Boxing Scene

It may be out of season, or maybe out of the way, but these writers think that the best fighters on the boxing scene today are "Bobo" Olson and "Kid" Gavilan. For mastery of punches, all-out fighting ability, power and finesse, none of the pugilists around today can even compare.

Baseball "Hypo"

The Chieftain baseball team received a shot in the arm when such outstanding baseball players as McGruder, Kaitsonia, and Dave Olson enrolled in school with the thought of playing ball for SU in the spring. All are pitchers and should add many victories to the Chieftain string.

Glory Where Glory Is Due

Little mention is given the great sport of pool playing or elbow bending in reputable sports editions. We would like to take this opportunity to recognize these pastimes, and give credit where credit is due.

Frosh Meet Fenton; Await First Practice

A call for those interested in freshman basketball was answered by 25 Papoose berth seekers last Monday. Bill Fenton, Pap mentor, said that in compliance with NCAA rules for member colleges, turnouts will not begin until the first of next month. Fenton declined to make any statement on individual players, but did say that "the material is there."

The team has height and depth and ability, and can be groomed into a winning combination. Bruce Atteberg, 6'8", from Roosevelt High; Paul Amos, 6'6", from O'Dea, and Hugh Marsh, 6'6", from Snohomish, three big men on the squad, should provide ample backboard strength.

A pair of boys who will bear watching are Truman Williams and Ray Worley of Tulsa, Okla. Standing 6'3", both players are All-Staters and make a smooth combination on the courts. In style and coolness, these boys are similar to the Sanford brothers.

Local interest will center around a set of twins, the second since the O'Briens. The Easons, Pat and Larry, played baseball and basketball for the Bellingham Red Raiders.

As of now, the schedule for the Papooses is not set. However, four dates have been determined. The games will be with Olympic J.C. and the U. of W. Pups, both of whom have strong Frosh squads.

Sports Spots

Girls' Gym Times

On Mondays and Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, the gymnasium will have an open playfield for any women students interested in playing basketball, badminton, or volleyball. For further information, contact Mrs. Betty Reuter, women's physical education director.

Intramural Football

Bill Fenton has requested that those interested in intramural football report to the Gym at 12:10 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15.

The meeting originally scheduled for last Monday was postponed because of a conflicting Freshman class meeting.

Staff Meeting

The sports staff of the Spectator will meet next Friday, Oct. 15, at 12:30 in the Spectator office. All staff members are urged to attend. All students interested in doing sports work of any kind—reporting, makeup, headline writing, copy reading, etc., are also invited to be present.

Keglers Roll

A large group of Seattle U bowling enthusiasts, responding to the call of League Director Ed Campbell, ushered in the new season yesterday afternoon at Broadway Bowl.

Activities began at 2:30 with the forming of mixed teams, two ladies and two gentlemen on a squad. Bob Kelly, the new manager of Broadway Bowl, gave instructions to the beginners.

This year, as in the past, SU's bowling artists will encounter a team from the University of Washington. They will also represent the Broadway and Madison school at the Intercollegiate Bowling Championships which will be held at Washington State College later this year. All are eligible for turn-out. An announcement will be made later as to the scheduled times.

Several awards await the top keggers in intramural play. Trophies will be presented to the winning teams, to the man and woman with the highest average for the quarter, and to the lady and gentleman with the high game for the same period.

FENTON FROSH COACH REPLACES HEDEQUIST

By JIM KIZER

"You should have three teams, varsity, freshmen and a team coming in." This is Willard M. Fenton's view on the requisites of a good basketball squad.

Fenton, Seattle University athletic director, varsity golf coach, and now freshmen basketball coach, is busy scheduling the number of times he shall breathe.

Mr. Fenton, in addition to his duties as athletic director and golf coach, is again coaching the basketball team after a two-year rest. Les Whittles took the job as Papoose coach two years ago with Bob Hedequist covering the task last year.

This will be Bill's fifth year as frosh coach and fourth year as varsity golf coach.

Bill attended SU as a student from 1944 to 1946, majoring in Commerce and Finance. He was exempt from service because of a high school injury.

During his undergraduate days at SU, Bill coached a fastball team for three years, featuring Bob Fessler, who is now coach of the Renton Cowboys. He also coached the O'Brien twins in their first year.

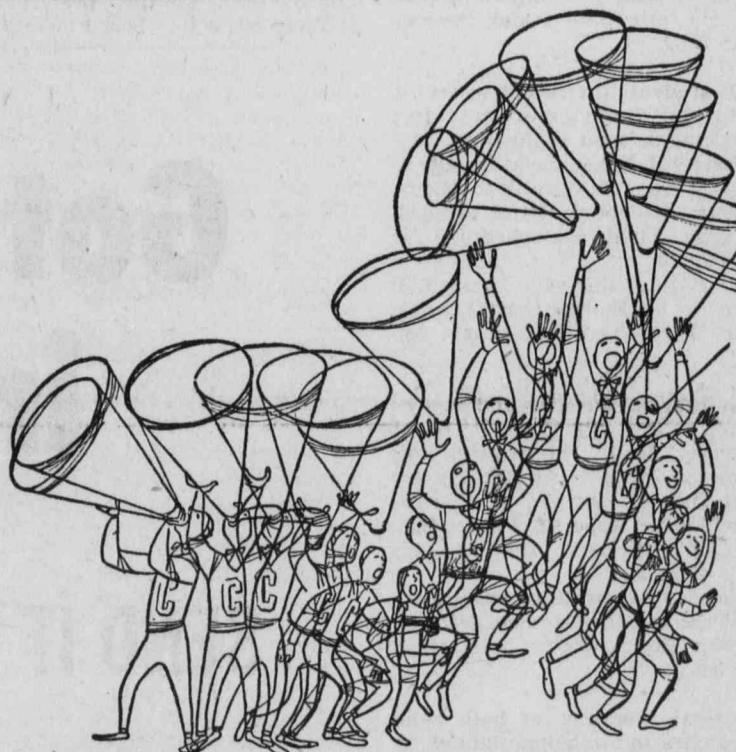

Bill exhibited a ready sense of humor when he commented, "One of my personal athletic achievements was winning the high school ping-pong championship."

Mr. Fenton optimistically says he hopes to win a few ball games with his Papooses.

We know that the Papooses are going to have a snappy ball club with Bill Fenton as their coach.

Confessions are being heard every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 1 o'clock in the campus chapel on the second floor of the LA Building.

Jose Kahan, 23-year-old pianist, will open the 1954-55 Seattle U Guild series with a concert on Thursday, Oct. 21, at the Woman's Century Theatre.

Throughout his childhood, Mr. Kahan showed extraordinary talent in music. At the age of 12 he was winner of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra's contest for young pianists.

In addition to his solos with the Mexican University's Symphony Orchestra, Jose Kahan has entertained audiences in Mexico City, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and Guadalajara.

For those wishing to attend, tickets may be purchased at Sherman Clay or at the theatre.

According to a recent release from the registrar's office, the entire school enrollment now totals 3106 students.

Of this number, there are 2220 in day school, 656 being freshmen and 84 having transferred from other schools.

Evening division shows an enrollment of 886 while the Veterans Administration on campus records 698 now attending under government bills.

All students interested in trying out for Yell Team are urged to start practicing as soon as possible.

There will be unofficial tryouts in the gym from October 18 to 28. Instructors will be on hand to teach SU yells. Finals are scheduled for October 29.

Selection of this year's team will be made by Father Con O'Leary, Mike Weber and last year's yell king.

An informal question and answer session was held October 11 at Marycrest Hall. The meeting was opened at 7:30 p.m. by ASSU president Darrell Brittain, who introduced Father Robert Rebhahn, S.J., dean of men, and other Student Body officers.

Purpose of meeting was to acquaint the resident women with the Student Body officers and school policies.

Several programs of both band and orchestra are being planned by the Music Department for the coming season. They will be designed expressly for the enjoyment of the student body and faculty members.

The orchestra, conducted by Francis Aranyi, rehearses on Monday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

School credit is given for membership in each group, and anyone playing a band or an orchestra instrument is urged to join.

ATTENTION SENIORS

Jon Arnt will be taking senior cap-and-gown pictures on October 18, 19 and 20.

He will be in the men's lounge on the third floor of the LA Building from 10 to 1 o'clock on these days.

Please do not delay—work on the AEGIS has already begun!

Pre-Law Club will meet Thursday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chieftain Conference Room. The club is open to all future lawyers and students interested in Washington State law.

Board Members Slate New Pix

"I Was a Male War Bride," starring Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan, is the first feature movie to be presented by the ASSU movie board. The film will be shown in the Student Union Building lounge Sunday, Oct. 17 at 7:30. Admission is 25 cents.

This year's board is composed of representatives from each of the men's halls, Marycrest, and the service organizations. Co-chairmen for the year are Ann O'Donnell and Mary Petri. Board members are: Spurs, Margie Van Parys; Marycrest, Lorraine Csonka, Betty Kay Mason and Irma Vickerman; Vets, Jerry Norum and Paul Reierson; Knights, Jim Murphy; A Phi O, Bob Larson; Regis, Bob Martin; Loyola, Dick Toohey; McHugh, Karl Davis; Projector, Carlos Amengual.

Residents of the halls are requested to turn in their preferences to their respective board members.

SU Teacher on TV:

TELEVISION SHOW "SO YOU WANT TO BE" FEATURES MISS BEASON AS MODERATOR

By MARY HARRIS

This fall another show has been added by TV station KING to entertain and interest viewers. "So You Want To Be" acquaints the audience with a number of the 46,000 types of employment presently available to the American people.

Miss Alberta Beeson of Seattle University's Education Department is moderator of the vocational program. Also, Mr. Robert Prins of KING-TV directs and produces the program.

"The show is especially keyed for the 17-24 age group," says Miss Beeson. "It is of interest and value, however, to anyone of older status. The age group mentioned is more immediately concerned with the problem of choosing a lifetime's work. This makes the program extremely important as a help for vocational guidance and one which is heartily encouraged to be included in any youth's schedule."

Miss Beeson has many duties including the selection of the weekly program's guests. Chosen guests are experts in their occupations and offer details and information about the featured profession.

Among the usual interesting details in the programs are: requirements necessary, salary, and advancement expectations. Also educational and practical requirements are discussed. These facts provide the opportunity for those who might be attracted to one of the various occupations to see if they would qualify or be willing to accept the possible sacrifice or problems of the work.

"Variety is vitally necessary in the procedure of the program," Miss Beeson observes, "Explanations, movies, panel discussions and other gimmicks are used for both interest and education. The panel discussion is ab lib to give inquirers a chance to ask their own questions. The guest answers these questions to the best of his ability and also gives various helpful hints and information."

Miss Beeson also commented, "Themes are acted out to acquaint enthusiasts with various aspects of the work involved. Carefully chosen movies and other schemes are presented to the audience for further guidance."

Several plans for future programs are in the making. October 29 will be an account of government seasonal employment in such fields as accounting, forestry, and fisheries. Dorothy Massey, prominent in the science world, and Mrs. Fisher Nells of Seattle University's Nursing Department, are scheduled as guests on future telecasts.

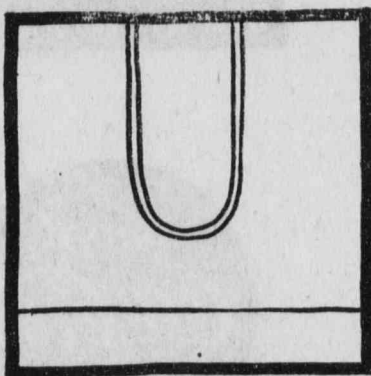

Although "So You Want To Be" has previously been presented at 8 o'clock on Thursdays, the program will be seen at 7 o'clock on Friday evenings beginning October 22.

Got a Lucky Drooodle in your noodle?

SEND IT IN AND MAKE $25

FIREPOLE FOR FALSE ALARMS

MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IN TURKEY ACCOMPANIED BY VERY UGLY FRIEND

Want to pick up $25? Make up a Lucky Drooodle and send it in. It's easy.

If you want to find out just how easy it is, ask Roger Price, creator of Drooodles. "Very!" Price says. Better yet, do a Drooodle yourself, like the ones shown here.

Drooodle anything you like. And send in as many as you want. If we select yours, we'll pay $25 for the right to use it, together with your name, in our advertising. We're going to print plenty—and lots that we don't print will earn $25 awards.

Draw your Drooodles any size, on any piece of paper, and send them with your descriptive titles to Lucky Drooodle, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure your name, address, college and class are included.

While you're droodling, light up a Lucky—the cigarette that tastes better because it's made of fine tobacco . . . and "It's Toasted" to taste better.
