Court Elections Today; 55 Coeds Nominated

By JOAN HATCHELL

A glittering galaxy of campus beauties will have their fate in the hands of SU men students today! They will choose princesses from a field of 55 candidates for the 1957 Homecoming Court. The girls were nominated at recent class meetings of men students. Five freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior girls will be voted on by men students of their respective classes.

Jim Plastino, Homecoming co-chairman, states the voting will be from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m., at the Information Booth of the LA Building and in the Chieftain. Plastino emphasized, "Student body cards are necessary to vote, and men may vote only for five candidates from their class."

Brian Cullerton, elections chairman, announced that the Homecoming candidates are:

Seniors: Dorothy Ahern, Patti Brannon, Catherine Corbett, Sally Frannett, Betty Harn, Betty Kay Mason, Judy McManus, Gerry Myers, Gloria Muha, Marilyn Ousley, Mary Petri, Sally Rude, Irma Vickerman.

Juniors: Joan Bailey, Janice Bakum, Barbara Cole, Helen Hoolahan, Jo Ann Johnson, Kathy Keough, Sydel Kulezycki, Gerry Kumhera, Yuri Nakamoto, Lynne O'Neill, Mary Anne Onorato, Laverne Ott, Marilyn Romischer, Elisabeth Simon, Joyce St. John.

Sophomores: Bernice Baumgartner, Carol Conroy, Sandra Dodson, Mary K. Elliott, Rosemary Heber, Jane Merryman, Janice Morgan, Michele Mulherin, Janyce Overholt, Betty Petri, Kathe Ritzenhaler, LeRose Vitalich.

Freshmen: Joanne Arata, Joie Black, Marjery Barr, Carol Casey, Judy Bollinger, Sharon Larkin, Joan Petri, Daryl Rogers, Mary Alice Pfeiffer, Donna Zander, Elizabeth Schakohl, Joann Strophy, Anne Gribbon, Miriam Michael, Dorothy Cochran.

The competition will become keener Dec. 3, when the five candidates will be narrowed down to two princesses from Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior, and three from Senior classes. This will be decided by Student Body vote.

Further announcement was made by the co-chairmen of the appointment of this year's Homecoming Off-Campus Publicity chairmen. The job is being handled by Pat Dennehy and Ron Cass.

Editor Whiteside Sets 'Aegis' Staff

Aegis editor, Ray Whiteside, recently announced the staff for the 1957 yearbook. Barbara Foye and Donna Dombek have begun their duties as assistant editor and associate editor, respectively.

Al Krebs, last year's sports editor, will resume his duties in the sports section of this year's book.

In charge of copy are Colleen Maloney and Shirley Ebner; while Mark Ruljancich will head the mounting staff. Included in the duties of Mary Ann Short, Sharon Handy, and Mary Nims are caption writing and coordinating pictures.

The Art Club, along with the Art Department, are working on cover designs. Joan Hatchell and Bill McMenamin will be doing much of the art work in this year's Aegis.

Music Dept. Starts Concert Series Sun.

The Music Department is presenting the first in a series of monthly Sunday night concerts on November 18 at 6:30 p.m. in the Chieftain lounge. This month's concert will proceed Sunday's Totem Club mixer.

Shirley Anderson, a well-known pianist on campus, will open the program with "Intermezzo in C" by Brahms, "Rhapsody in E Flat" by Brahms, and "Waltz from Nails" by Delibes.

Seattle University Singers will then sing several folk songs by Brahms and selections from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

Paul Chihara, a newcomer to the Seattle University campus, will render on his violin, "Slavonik Fantasie in B Minor" by Dvorak-Kreisler. He will be accompanied by Catholine Chihara.

AEGIS PICTURES

Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 19 and 20, are absolutely the last days for seniors to have their pictures taken for the AEGIS. Pictures will be taken in third floor lounge of the LA building from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Xavier Hall Residents Elect Governing Body

By RON GALLUCCI

In elections held last week, Xavier Hall residents elected the following officers: Cal Crow, president; Paul Turner, Vice-President; Ron Gillucci, Secretary; and Ron Wills, treasurer.

General Council members also elected are: 1st Floor, Tom Sachs, Lynn Schwartz; 2nd Floor, Sam Keys, Pat Vosse; 3rd Floor, Tom Nugent, Pete Kogut. 4th Floor council members will be elected later.

A constitution has been drawn up by the residents of Xavier Hall as a foundation for a new club for the dormitory's residents. Partial self-government is the main purpose of the forthcoming Xavier Hall Club.

The Xavier Hall Club will have a representative type government. A General Council, the legislative branch, will be made up of the three resident assistants and eight student representatives, two from each floor. This committee will oversee all acts and decisions of the club. The Judiciary Committee, having a similar structure, will attend to the fulfillment of all rules and regulations of the Hall. The executive office of president will take gavel to the entire organization. This office will be filled in the current fall term. All terms of office expire at the completion of the Spring Quarter.

A new feature of the new club will be the formation of three separate committees: social, athletic and activities. Coordinating the activities of the Hall is the primary job of these committees. In the past, this has been the burden of the Director.

With the adoption of the constitution and the election of officers, the Xavier Hall Club was established as a permanent organization for all present and future residents and will thereby be recognized as such by the ASSU.

Jr. Class Mixer Fri. at Encore

Under the sponsorship of the Junior Class, Thanksgiving mixer will be held Friday, Nov. 6, from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m.

The affair, titled "Cornucopia Capers," is slated for the Encore Ballroom, situated at 13th and E. Pike St. The Bink Lanigan Band will provide music for the mixer.

According to Santos Contreras, class president, proceeds from the dance will be used for the Junior Prom in spring quarter. Committee members are class officers and members of the Junior Class.

Tickets for 75¢ will be available at the door.

Frosh Nominate 19 For Class Offices-Elections Tuesday

Approximately 100 freshman students gathered this week to nominate fellow classmates for class offices. The nominations were conducted by ASSU Elections Chairman Ben Simon.

Primary elections for those nominated will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 20. Balloting will take place in the Chieftain.

Frosh nominated were: President: Raymond Bergmann, Anne Gribbon, Joan Petri and Michael Ritch.

Vice President: Jo Ann Arsenault, Sandra Aubry, William Bruya, Ron Gallucci and James Millet.

Secretary: Frances Bullwinkel, Carol Casey, Sheila Morney, Sandra West and Donna Zander.

Treasurer: Lawrence Donohue, Helen Hunter, Gerald Larson, Ronald Percival.

SPEC STAFF MEETING

"Spectator" staff meeting will be held today, Thursday, at 12:10 p.m. in the "Spec" office. Students interested in working in the news, feature, typing or circulation departments are invited to attend.

Alpha Sigma Nu Begins Activities

The first meeting of the year of the Seattle University chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit honor society, was held on November 7. Plans for the coming year were proposed and discussed.

Alpha Sigma Nu is composed of senior male students who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, service and loyalty to the university. Two members from each of the four colleges of Arts and Sciences, Education, Commerce and Finance, and Engineering are chosen directly by the deans of the respective colleges. The president of the university also makes three appointments each year. The society performs functions of an advisory nature under the supervision of the president of the university.

Officers for the 1956-57 year are: Joseph Gallucci, president; Anthony Ahn, vice president; Gene Fabre, secretary; and Andrew Tracey, treasurer. Rev. John A. Fitterer, S.J., is moderator.

ATTENTION, MEN STUDENTS

The necessity and methods of acquiring the art of mental prayer through understanding and practice will be discussed by members of a men's committee of the SU Sodality. The discussion will be on Thursday, Nov. 15, in the Student Lounge at 7:30 p.m. All men students are invited to attend.

Florence Nightingale hands Jim Owens a sample of the apples which are being sold on campus today, as Celine Hulbert watches.

Apple Sale on Today; Coffee Hour Monday

Delicious Washington State apples are on sale on campus today. The annual sale, sponsored by the AWS, will continue until 1 p.m. Price is 10¢ each.

Co-chairmen of the sale are Celine Hulbert and Florence Nightingale. Acting as chairmen of decorations are Peggy Prendergast and Donna Johnson. Apples which are not sold during the day will be vended at Marycrest and Xavier Halls this evening.

Next on the Associated Women Students' calendar is the Fall Coffee Hour to be held Monday, Nov. 19, at Frederick and Nelson's Tea Room at 7:30 p.m.

An invitation was extended by Chairmen Helen Atwood, Carolyn Eckstrom and Mary Helen Vanderhoef to all women students to attend the coffee hour and fashion show. Tickets are $1.00 and are available in the Chieftain and at the Coffee Hour.

CHIEFTAIN RALLY

All organizations, clubs, halls planning to enter a float in the annual pre-season basketball rally scheduled for December 4 must turn in entries to John Edwards, Lynn O'Neil or Burke Harrell before November 20. Entry blanks are available in the ASSU office.

Scabbard & Blade Holds Ticket Sale

Scabbard and Blade, ROTC honorary, is currently holding a ticket sale on a portable television set, on display in the Chieftain.

The sale, under the chairmanship of Harold Cline, assisted by the members of the group, is being held to defray expenses of trophies and awards.

A feature of the project is that only 800 tickets will be sold. Second award is dinner for two at the Top of the Town in the Sorrento Hotel.

Tickets are available in the Chieftain for 50¢ and the drawing will be held at 12 noon Friday, Nov. 16.

Assembly Board Activates Committee On Elections

By GAIL DELWORTH

The calendar for a year crammed with activities, excitement and exams was tackled by an energetic Assembly Board. The first meeting of the year was held on October 18 and was conducted by Pat Galbraith, Assembly Board chairman.

The board is comprised of five representatives from each of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes. This year's members are: Sophomores: Leo Shahon, Marilu Schreck, Betti Petri, Bill Wall and Burke Harrell; Juniors: Ray Weber, Leo Roppo, Mary Ann Onorato, Pat Dennehy and Ed Raftis; Seniors: Lolly Michetti, Maury Galbraith, Jim Plastino, Cal Crow and Ann O'Donnell.

Pat Galbraith read a letter from Bob Martin, Student Body president. It included a proposal for an election committee to handle spring elections. The nature of the board would be to regulate nomination procedure, the election rally, the election procedure at the polls, with added duties of proper academic investigation of the candidates running and supervision of the tabulation of the ballots.

Seven candidates were proposed and approved by the Board. They are Jim Higgins, Ben Simon, Sue Hohl, John Edwards, Gerrie Kumhera, Don Willis and Fred Foy. The four alternate candidates are Ann O'Donnell, Rico Parenti, Don Barrett and Bob Larson.

Pat Dennehy, Cal Crow and Jim Plastino volunteered to act as a committee subject to the Chief Justice of the Judicial Board to look into and revise and clarify the constitution of the ASSU.

The second meeting was held on November 6. The Board accepted the constitution of the Joint Engineering Council. It comprises the Chemical, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering Clubs, and represents them as a parent organization.

OUR THANKS:

A rally to the rally

• OAKIE OAKSMITH

The dark, ominous clouds lay heavily over Capitol Hill and, as they belched forth spasms of lightning and thunder, the courageous little man came out of the shadows of the Chieftain into the torrent.

To him the task which lay ahead seemed unpleasant, but he had his orders and a grim determination to carry them out. His job: to solicit funds from the Capitol Hill merchants with which to finance the 1956 pre-season basketball rally. DUM, DA DUM DUM!!

He made his first call. "Good afternoon, sir. I'm Obnoxious from Seattle University, and I was wondering if . . . well, that is . . . I . . ."

"Look, son, I don't know what you're trying to say, but if it's money you want, don't be a coward, speak up!"

The sun was peeking through the clouds as our hero strode from the store, waving his newly acquired check, presumably to dry the ink.

With the confidence gained from this first visit, he proceeded on his mission with new vigor. After a few more calls, as the sun, reflective of his own feelings, beamed cheerfully down on this beggar's paradise, he came upon the realization that many Capitol Hill businessmen are really interested in Seattle University and the Chieftains.

It is interesting to note at this time that, in over ten calls to various firms on the Hill, not once did our brave little mendicant hear an unkind word or pass from an establishment without remuneration for his efforts.

And so, owing to the response of our many friends on the Hill, the ASSU, with the cooperation of Capitol Hill merchants, presents the 1956 pre-season basketball rally at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 4, at Ivar's on Broadway.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER:

Girls, politics and gripes

• MIKE GALVIN

Some day, when I meet St. Peter at those pearly gates, and he asks me what I've done to merit heaven, I'll be more than happy to tell him the fascinating story of my escapades while working on the Spectator.

The long, miserable hours that I've spent fighting with the editor-in-chief, Ann O'Donnell, and the constant abuse I've had to take from one Al Krebs, after all the things I have done for him. These are my problems, bunk.

This I will tell the good Saint, and furthermore, I shall inform him of my constant effort to bring out the truth in regard to certain Marycrest practices, namely the article I wrote two weeks ago about too much talking going on at Marycrest.

These and many other things I shall bring up to the man at the gate, all the problems that plague me, day in and day out, while doing my duty as student moderator of the Spectator. They really don't have a student moderator, but I like the title.

NEW CLUBS ON CAMPUS

I started the "We really don't like college, but it's better than working association."

Now it seems that maidens of Marycrest are starting a club also; it's called the "Oh, how we despise that loudmouth, Galvin, club."

This was thought up in attempt to publicize the fact that the gals didn't, to put it mildly, "care" for the innocent bystander. Amen.

Furthermore, I am at the point right now where I think that the gals are 100% correct. The worst mistake that a man can make is disagreeing with a woman on any subject. It is a known fact that women control America today, so who am I to disagree with them on any matter, whether it be talking too much or loving too little.

Girls, I concede to your superior intellects. "For how can a girl find happiness when idiots like myself are constantly harrassing them."

GALVIN ON POLITICS:

It's needless to say how disappointed I was at the election results. It is my sincere opinion that Stevenson was the man for the job, but I can see no reason why certain people on campus became upset because a few members of the Spectator staff backed the Democrats. We were merely exercising our right as all Americans can and should. I really don't think the Republicans have any gripe, considering the fact that the majority of newspapers in the United States pushed Eisenhower's reelection to the point of being ridiculous. "All those holes in the soles didn't mean much at the polls." Address your insulting letters to Mike Galvin, in care of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Now that I have talked about life's two most interesting subjects (women and politics), there is nothing to do but mention the basketball team. From where I stand it looks as though we have a good one. With experience, shooting ability, and that man Elgin, it looks as though we can expect big things from our beloved Chiefs.

One of the most noticeable things this year in regard to the basketball team is the smooth manner in which the practices are run off each day. No longer do people like myself saunter around getting in everybody's way.

Something else we noticed is the "Love Those Chiefs" car stickers; many people, even those not connected with SU, have commented about them already. Things look good.

INTERVIEW:

Trois mousquetaire au campus

• SONJA VUKOV

A little of "La Vie Boheme" in the form of three French university students enlivened the SU campus last week when these gentlemen, on tour from France, stopped off in Seattle for three days. The students who are accompanied by Monsier Michael Garnier, a French priest from the College Stanislas in Paris, are Michel Dassouville, Regis Du Rivau and Jacques Perriere.

Michel, 26, is from Lille and will be resuming his studies in sociology and diplomatic relations when he returns to the University of Lille. Regis, 20, hails from Le Mans, scene of the publicized sports car tragedy, where he is studying journalism at the University of Portiers. Jacques, 20, is from Paris and will resume his studies in architecture at the Université des Beaux Arts.

These three young men took time off from their studies for this extended tour through Canada and the United States. They arrived in the U.S. in August, debarking from their ship in New York City. From there they traveled to Washington, D.C., Pittsburgh, St. Paul and on up to Canada.

In Canada, they visited Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Winnipeg. They took a little unexpected side trip from Edmonton with the Royal Canadian Air Force up to White Horse, in the Yukon Territory. After their return, they continued west over the Rocky Mountains where they got caught in a snowstorm which stalled their car and they were forced to break a trail and head for the nearest shelter and transportation.

Finally they arrived in Vancouver, B. C., and soon after this found themselves in the Queen City of Seattle. Here, they were impressed with the beauty of West Seattle which boasts of mountainous scenery and the beauty of Puget Sound. Our lakes, especially Lake Washington, stood out to them as vivid examples of our Northwest grandeur.

While on our campus, these student recorded some French lessons for use in Rev. Francis J. Logan's French classes. One of our French I classes also had the opportunity to try out their faltering one month's vocabulary on the students, and they soon found out how much more they had to learn. This is when this reporter along with fellow french students interviewed the young men. We were fortunate that Jacques knew a great deal of English and the other two also had more knowledge of English than we did of French. Thus, we were able to have a most enjoyable conversation and one that gave us an inside glimpse into the lives of these three students from France.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

When asked about the sports most popular in France, we were told that football, as in the U.S., is the national sport; however there was one variation—French football is played with the feet and the hands, which is not padded, while the hands are not allowed to be used at any time. Basketball also is played a great deal and tennis seemed to be played by all three. Skiing is enjoyed by the French on the nearby French and Swiss Alps.

Similarity in the music tastes of both French and American college students is exemplified by the French preferences of jazz, be-bop and Louis Armstrong. College students in France, according to Jacques, have much the same social life as we do in America. They date just as we do when attending dances, movies, theater and sports events. Evidently, many American motion pictures are shown in Paris.

"Dissimilarity in the manner of dress is evident when the students emphasized that a tie must be worn to class with a jacket by the men, and the women must wear dressy clothes. Our perennial sweater and skirt combination is not to be found on the French campuses. Also, the women are never seen wearing any type of "pantaloon." However, the students thought that skirts and sweaters were quite nice and wished that French co-eds were able to wear them.

When asked about the Middle Eastern situation, these young students felt that it was necessary and important for France to do what she did.

EDUCATION

One of the basic differences in our education system as compared to the system of which Jacques, Regis and Michel are a part is the amount of time they spend in school. These three students put in six days of class attendance and study all day long, and Sunday is their only complete day of relaxation, that is, if they don't have extra work to complete.

The average number of years put in by the students in France is from two to four more years than we do, and their requirements for graduation are much higher than our requirements. When asked if they would like to attend Seattle U, all three agreed that they would and that they had found the people throughout the U.S. gay, happy and hospitable.

We found out that after leaving Seattle, the tour would resume on through Portland, Crater Lake, San Francisco, the Grand Canyon, Salt Lake City and then to Chicago and on to New York, from where they will sail for home in order to resume their university work by December.

As we bid "au revoir" to these debonair young men, a vision of beckoning France took shape, and we made a pledge to visit that country in the not-too-distant future in order to meet more of these warm-hearted and sincere people.

REVIEWS

Round town

Seattleites, agreeing with the other people of the nation, vote Todd-AO nothing short of stupendous.

Michael Todd, co-worker on Cinerama, took his entire earnings and plunged into this new method of screening movies. His success is best stated by critical Time Magazine: "Todd has never had a hit of such dimensions."

Todd-AO is Cinerama-plus. It has all the benefits of Cinerama yet has a realistic tone not even capable of a stage production. Country scenes are so vivid you can almost reach out and feel the texture of the silk atop the ears of corn.

It seems only fitting that such an accomplishment in the movie industry should be introduced by a standard like Rogers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma." The wonderful cast, better than Cinerama production, and favorite musical combine to give the audience an evening of entertainment second to none.

WAR AND PEACE

Even the skill and knowledge of the masters of the camera and the tricks of the producer that are combined in the film version of Leo Tolstoy's "War and Peace," there is something lacking. Hollywood has again stepped out of its bounds in its efforts to capture the full power of the novel. To capture the meaning of "War and Peace" would take a series of comparable movies. Yet there is something about the movie that makes you feel your time is far from wasted.

Henry Fonda turns in a bit of acting that is Academy Award quality. Audrey Hepburn is at her very best and the supporting cast is remarkably as good.

"War and Peace" is a movie to be recommended but a knowledge of the book is extremely helpful.

GIANT

To the person who hates Texas and all it stands for, we recommend this movie.

Producer George Stevens has taken Edna Ferber's best-seller, slowed it down to an almost-snail's pace but still pulls her wildest punches.

Combine this with the genius of James Dean and you are sure to have a movie well worth the price of admission.

AROUND CAMPUS

The Variety Show seems to be slowly taking shape, even though it still suffers from a chronic case of lack of participant-itus. This is our little talent show that is always very big in entertainment. Growth this year as it has been in the past is a job that requires the cooperation of the student body. If you can devote the time to a great promotion, your efforts are badly needed for backstage work as well as your talents.

SODALITY:

A prayer for peace

• BILL McMENAMIN

In the shade of three burned-out Russian tanks lay the body of a young girl. She and others had attacked the tanks and disabled them by hurling bottles of flaming gasoline—"Molotov cocktails"—at the hulls. The Russians shot her.

Someone spread a Hungarian flag over her body and pinned this note to it: "Here died a Hungarian girl, 14 years old, but not in vain."

Such is the spirit and the hardship that prevails in the hearts of war-torn people fighting against Godlessness and oppression in Hungary.

None of us has ever known the terror, the bloodshed and the strife that these people have known, or we would certainly be making every effort to help them.

We say we are helping them? Our country is sending medical supplies paid for by our taxes? Our share of that type of aid wouldn't even buy a vial in which our medicine is sent.

Then should we volunteer ourselves for military duty? No, that is not the aid you should give. We can help in a way which is much stronger, much more effective than either of these, and which helps not only those yet living and fighting, but those who have given their lives in the battle. His Holiness Pope Pius XII, in his third encyclical in two weeks, has begged us to use this means of aid. Have you used it? Very simply, it is prayer.

How great a sacrifice is one hour's prayer a day, compared to the torture and torment our brothers in Christ are undergoing in Hungary? If a person cannot give one hour, one-half hour, ten minutes a day for the cause of peace, how greatly does he desire peace? Our Blessed Mother told us at Fatima that prayer was our only road to peace! Let us add our humble pleas to hers and to our Pope's, and beg you please, PLEASE . . . PRAY!

There are several practical means which we might use. First, the Morning Offering, in which our entire day takes on a tremendous spiritual value for the needs of the oppressed behind the Iron Curtain. Second, the Sacrifice of the Mass, in which we can offer their sufferings with Christ to the Father. Third, Holy Communion, our most perfect union with Christ, from which we can receive so many Graces for the suffering members of Christ. Finally, our Daily Rosary and with it our Lady's Promise of World Peace.

These are only a few of the many means at our disposal. The most important thing is that each one of us choose some definite means of prayer and use it.

FOREIGN TRADE:

Two college generations

• M. E. SULLIVAN

This month marks the eighth anniversary of the Foreign Trade Explorer. Eight years and 96 issues ago, Professor James V. Metcalfe, of the School of Commerce and Finance, founded the Explorer to fill a two-fold purpose.

First of all, he was seeking "a practical way to get foreign-trade students to read trade periodicals pertaining to their field," and secondly, to fulfill the need of a great many executives who neither have the time nor the inclination to study the many detailed trade-journals.

The Explorer is a concise and meaningful index of foreign commerce presented in such a manner that it could be perused in a few moments by busy "foreign traders."

The news is gathered by Prof. Metcalfe's students from a variety of more detailed publications. They condense the material which they believe of interest to the "foreign traders," and turn it over to Prof. Metcalfe, who in turn edits the articles and prepares them.

Both the reporter and his source of information are listed with each news item, and the readers are urged to call upon the Explorer for further information if they so desire. Such requests usually result in the original reporter delivering the additional material in person.

In addition to fulfilling the above mentioned purposes, the Explorer also publicizes the name of Seattle University all over the world. Once each month, issues are received in New York, Washington, D.C., Vienna, Tokyo, Hong Kong, as well as in several hundred business establishments in the Northwest.

The following quotation is taken from a letter to the Explorer from an executive of the Wall Street Journal, dated August 2, 1956. It is just one out of the scores of similar letters which are in the files of the Explorer.

It serves to point out the great service which Seattle University is performing for those interested in "I have been receiving your Foreign Trade Explorer regularly while I was in San Francisco, and I wonder if it would be possible to send it to me here in New York.

"I would like to say that your reports have been very helpful to me and I think that you are performing a real service for many that are interested.

CLUBS:

At your service

For the past several years at SU, every Friday thirty girls in white are seen around campus. Each year the faces change but the thirty girls, held together by the same spirit of sacrifice, patriotism, understanding, responsibility, and service, are always referred to as Spurs.

Founded at Montana State College some thirty years ago as a sophomore women's service honorary, Spurs has spread in national scope and strength to give its service to thirty college campuses in eleven states.

SU's Sioux chapter joined the national ranks on May 13, 1952, when the College of Puget Sound Spurs initiated the chapter at the Edmond Meany Hotel in Seattle. Prior to becoming affiliated with national Spurs, the local organization had been known as Sioux.

Carrying out their "at your service" motto, these familiarly white-clad girls made their first appearances this year at registration and freshman orientation. Other activities include serving at banquets or teas, ushering at the Civic Auditorium for the Chieftain's home games, helping at election booths, ushering at campus musical productions, and assisting at the UGN drive.

Appearing in their dress uniforms of navy blue skirts and sweaters with white emblem jackets, Spurs formed an honor guard at the Mass of the Holy Ghost. They will also usher at the Baccalaureate Mass and Commencement exercises.

Not limited to campus service the chapter assisted at the Rosary Rally held recently at the U. of W. stadium.

Projects such as a sweater award, the "jail" booth at the spring carnival, and a mixer bring in funds for the club.

Social events include a slumber party to begin the year, a Christmas party, and a spring dinner dance.

At the helm of the SU chapter of Spurs is vivacious, red-haired Betty Petri. Assisting her are the other officers: Mary Hughbanks, vice president; Patti Paige, secretary; Marilyn Seering, treasurer; Janet French, historian, and Lois Whiteside, editor. Marie S. Leonard, dean of women, serves as faculty moderator, and Pat Dennehy and Helen Hoolahan are junior advisors.

• LOIS WHITESIDE

Tomorrow, November 16, three local officers are leaving for the regional convention which is being held this year on the Gonzaga University campus. Spurs representing each of the twelve schools in region No. 1 will meet and exchange ideas.

During the latter part of spring quarter, the Spurs have a very important job, that of selecting from the freshman class thirty girls to carry on the tradition of Spurs.

These new pledges, donning the white uniform with the Spur emblem carrying out the school colors of maroon and white, look forward to a year of service to their school in meeting the precedent set by Spurs of the past.

Boeing engineers design America's first jet transport

Pictured above is the full-scale cabin mock-up of the Boeing 707, America's first jet transport. In developing this interior, Boeing engineers helped design features and innovations as advanced as the 600-mile-an-hour performance of the aircraft itself.

Pioneering revolutionary new types of aircraft like the 707 is one of the sources of excitement — and satisfaction — that engineers and scientists enjoy at Boeing. This new jet-age transport has already been ordered by 10 major overseas and domestic airlines. These commercial orders, together with Boeing's tremendous backlog of military contracts, mean that this company will continue to expand during the years ahead.

Growth is a Boeing habit. During the past 10 years, for instance, the number of Boeing engineers has increased 400%.

Expansion at this rate spells job stability — and plenty of opportunity to move ahead. Boeing promotes from within, and holds merit reviews every six months to give each engineer a personal opportunity for recognition, advancement and increased income.

Boeing engineers don't get lost in the crowd. They work in small integrated teams — on such projects, in addition to the 707, as the advanced B-52 and B-47 multi-jet bombers, the BOMARC IM-99 guided missile, the 502 gas turbine, and other developments still under security wraps.

Qualified engineers and scientists of all types are needed at Boeing — now. You'll find high starting salaries, and stimulating contact with men outstanding in the world of engineering. Other advantages include liberal insurance and retirement plans, and a choice of modern, young-spirited communities in which to live. Boeing helps arrange special work schedules for engineers taking graduate studies, and pays all tuition and fees. You're missing a bet if you don't at least find out how Boeing can help you get ahead in your engineering career.

Amoebas Drop Highballs 26-6; Martin Sparks Dirty Shirt Win

In this week's opener, Amoebas emerged victorious over Highballs

ROTC Slates Rifle Matches

Under direction of Capt. Curtis C. Norton, Seattle University's ROTC rifle team has scheduled eight challenge matches for this year with the possibility of four more in the spring.

At present matches have been scheduled with Arizona State College, Montana State College, University of Alaska, Western Michigan College, Middleburg College (Vermont), Centenary College (Louisiana) and Westminster College (Missouri).

Competition is conducted by means of correspondence and is certified by a commissioned or non-commissioned officer connected with each team.

Competition is carried on in this way: Ten men fire ten rounds (ammunition) in the sitting, prone and standing positions at an official National Rifle Association target with the scores of the top five men being recorded for competition. These scores are tabulated, certified by an officer or non-commissioned officer and are then forwarded to the challenging school for comparison.

Should a tie score result in competition, the winning team would be decided by high score in the standing position.

A "ladder" method of determining the best ten riflemen for matches is used by Capt. Norton.

in a well contested match, final score being 26-6. Amoebas reeled off a TD in the opening minutes of the game as Charlie Brown fired a 20-yard pass to Roland Suscus in the end zone for six points. This combination tallied on the next exchange of the ball on a similar play covering 45 yards.

Brown figured on the third Amoebas score, as he gathered in a pass from Roy Mathieson and rambled across Highballs' goalline.

Dick Green fired a 25-yard pass to Roland Suscus for the final counter, with Charley Brown adding the conversion.

Highballs fought back hard throughout the contest, but failed to turn the tide of battle, with their only score coming on a pass-lateral play, Tom Lambert-to-Dick Zohn-to-Al Rinaldi who raced across for the score. They failed to score on the point-after-touchdown.

MARTIN RAMBLES OVER PALOMINOS

Dirty Shirts overpowered the Palominos, 33-0, in a game that saw Jim Martin all over the field, literally running and passing his opponents into oblivion.

Martin began by running 20 yards behind expert blocking by Louie Zise to score the first TD.

Ed Kelly pulled in a pass from Martin in the end zone, following an interception of a Palomino pass on the 6-yard line by Martin.

Louie Tice raced 25 yards into the end zone to snare a pass from Jim Martin to account for another Dirty Shirt tally. Mike Drom kicked the extra point.

Again Martin dropped back and threw to Kelly who scored on a play covering 45 yards for the final Dirty Shirt touchdown. Mike Drom added the conversion on a run around end.

Palominos fought courageously, but were unable to compete against the steamroller attack of the Dirty Shirts.

"SLEEPER PLAY" NULLIFIES GAME

A "sleeper play" has nullified a contest between league-leading Amoebas and Musketeers, following a protest by Musketeers.

Musketeers' protest was upheld unanimously by the newly formed Intramural Council, on the basis that such play is illegal. This game will be rescheduled at a later date.

In other games, Syndicate won a forfeit from Engineers, 1-0; and Yo-Yos was awarded a forfeiture by the Highballs, 1-0.

Chiefs Sloppy on Defense; Season Opener Draws Near

By JOHN MINGUS

An up-and-down combination seems to be plaguing John Castellani's Chiefs as they are trying to add that touch of finesse in preparation for the season opener with Denver U in Pocatello on November 30.

Various exhibitions of basketball techniques caused by unintentional carelessness and horrible defense, has been followed by sound play which at times seems flawless in every detail.

Such up-and-down basketball may be attributed to the constant shifting of the front-line men in an effort to secure the right guard combination and a pair of guards "who can guard their own lunch."

Rumor has it that Coach John Castellani will carry only ten men on his road trips, plus a staff of newspapermen to woo "basketball poll votes." Players will win the games; press will win the national rating. At any rate, it should be an interesting battle for the tenth spot when it narrows down to six men vieing for one berth on the traveling team.

The Chiefs will leave Seattle at eight o'clock in the morning on November 29 via United Air Lines to Boise, Idaho, where they will board a West Coast Air Lines plane for the remainder of the trip to Pocatello, Idaho, location of Idaho State College.

There has been some talk of a tournament on this road trip. "This is not a tournament," said Coach John Castellani, "but merely an exchange of opponents."

Council Formed To Aid Intramural

Formation of an Intramural Council was announced this week by Tom Page, director of physical education.

This newly formed council will consist of five members who will act as an advisory board for the intramural program, interpret rules and render decisions on game protests. The council will meet a minimum of once each month to discuss problems confronting the intramural program.

Paps Draw Bakers In League Jamboree

By FRANK PIRO

Seattle U Papooses have drawn the toughest starting assignment of any frosh team in the United States, as they are slated to tackle the national AAU basketball champions in the Northwest League's Jamboree on Dec. 3.

Although Coach Vince Cazzetta has not committed himself concerning his starting team for the opening game and the league Jamboree, it is evident that John Ogorrek, John Kootnekoff, Jim McDonald, Don Piasecki and Robert Siwarya will be the most likely prospects to take the floor as the starting five.

Practices have consisted mostly of fundamental drills, offensive patterns, defensive work and intersquad scrimmages.

MARRIED STUDENTS

Those married students wishing to bring their wives (husbands) to Seattle University home games must have their student body cards stamped "Married" and purchase 25¢ tickets at the Athletic Office.

These tickets will not be on sale at the Civic Auditorium.

N.W. League Ready; Jamboree Slated Dec. 3

The fog encompassing future Northwest League basketball was lifted this week with the announcement that difficulties involving a playing site, cost of officials, and league entries had been settled and that the AAU circuit would continue competition.

Northwest League teams will get their 1956-57 campaign under way with a Basketball Jamboree, slated for December 3, 8 p.m. at Seattle Pacific College's Brougham Pavilion.

Majority of league games will be played at Brougham Pavilion with the usual preliminary contests played at Civic Auditorium and Hec Edmundson Pavilion prior to Seattle U and University of Washington varsity games.

TWO NORTHWEST TEAMS?

If Buchan's were to accept the direct bid to compete at Denver and forego Northwest tournament play, two teams could represent the great Pacific Northwest in the quest for national basketball honors.

A highlight of a recent league meeting was the discussion concerning Buchan's option of accepting a direct bid to play in the National AAU meet at Denver, or of going through Northwest tournament play in an effort to return to Denver.

BASKETBALL MEETING

An organizational meeting for Intramural Basketball will be held in Memorial Gymnasium at 12 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 21.

All interested in fielding a team are urged to attend this meeting.

JOHN KOOTNEKOFF

Following the lead of former Canadian and Chieftain star Ron Bissett, freshman John Kootnekoff migrated to Seattle U from British Columbia. The Mission City, B. C., star lettered in basketball, baseball and soccer; he won berths on his league's all-star team two years running. He closed out his high school playing career with a torrid hoop average of nearly 18 points a game. The 6-ft. 2-in. guard says he's going to major in physical education, with coaching as his future career. His favorite hobby is records.

JIM McDONALD

Jim McDonald, the 5-ft. 9½-in. guard, comes to SU from New Jersey's state championship hoop team, St. Peter's High of Jersey City. The all-country star hit the bucket for 15 points a game. The latest prodigy from the state that produced Bill Wall and a set of twins whose names I can't remember, is a chemistry major. Basketball is Jim's main interest. He should prove his liking for the game when the Papooses open their season's schedule early next month.

DON PIASECKI

Coach Castellani grabbed Don Piasecki from right under Notre Dame's nose. The 6-ft. 1-in. South Bend, Ind., star came to Seattle from St. Joseph's High where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball.

The 18-year-old freshman took third place in the city league scoring column; he averaged 15 points per game. Next April, he will very likely turn his talents to the diamond where he'll work under baseball coach Joe Faccione. Don is a pre-major at Seattle U.

Intramural Championship Play Scheduled For Friday

Intramural football playoffs will get under way at Broadway Playfield Friday, Nov. 16, at 1:15 p.m., with the first game of a four-game slate to decide this year's champions.

Game No. 1—Winner of Independent League vs. Dorm League Runner-up at 1:15 p.m. on Friday.

Game No. 2—Winner of Dorm League vs. Independent League runner-up at 3 p.m. on Friday.

The championship game will be played Monday, Nov. 19, at 3 p.m., with a consolation game at 1:15 p.m. as a preliminary contest.

Game No. 3—Loser of game No. 1 vs. loser of game No. 2. Winner gains third place standing; loser places fourth.

Game No. 4—Winner of game No. 1 vs. winner of game No. 2. Winner declared champions; loser gains second place in league standings.

Negotiations are under way at present with Gonzaga, St. Martin's and CPS for possible games with their intramural football champions. Further information concerning details of these games will be made in the Spectator next week.

Season Tickets Still Available

"This year's season ticket sales may reach an all-time high," according to John Castellani, who adds, "even better than the O'Brien era."

Students, alumni and fans are urged to take advantage of early sales of season tickets which are still available at Sherman & Clay ticket office and the Athletic Office.

Tickets are $15.00 per book and $25.00 for two books, a savings of $1.00 and $7.00, respectively, over pre-game box-office prices.

John Castellani has announced that reserved seats are $1.50 and general admission seats are $1.00 when purchased for individual games, with the exception of the Buchan's series, in which the price of reserved seats will be increased to $2.00 and general admission to $1.50.

Ski Movie Featured

"Great White World," an outstanding ski movie photographed by John Jay, "America's ace ski photographer," will be shown at the Palomar Theater Nov. 21 and 22, at 8:30 p.m.

Highlights of this fast-moving film will be exciting shots of Olympic competitions, also featured are technique sequences of Toni Sailor, triple gold medal winner at Cortina.

Other features of John Jay's ski film will be Brookie Dodge, top U.S. Olympic ace, hurtling crevassed cliffs of Mount Washington . . . European ski miesters in action at Alpine resorts; roped skiing on Jungfrau Glacier.

For a change of pace, Jay takes viewers down 25 miles of raging rapids on the Colorado River in his filming of the Eighth International White Water Slalom and Downriver Boatrace where expert boatmen guide their kayaks over the turbulent waters in a test of skill and intestinal fortitude.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

All women students interested in playing volleyball against other schools are urged to attend regular practice, 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the gym.

Question: What's funny, honey? Answer:

Sticklers!

HERE'S A STICKLER!
WHAT IS A SMOKER'S
FIRST SMOKE RING?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

IF YOU'RE A SMOKER who's never tried a smoke ring, get in there and start puffing. While you're at it, remember: Lucky smoke rings come from fine tobacco. This makes no difference to the smoke ring, but it does to you. You see, fine tobacco means good taste, and Luckies' fine, naturally good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. So make your next cigarette a Lucky, and call your first smoke ring a Proud Cloud.

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

Law Club will meet Thursday, Nov. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chieftain Conference Room. Discussion topic will be "Partnerships" and appropriate cases will be presented by members.

Pan Xenia, foreign trade fraternity, will meet on Thursday, Nov. 15, in the Chieftain Lounge at 7:30 p.m. Special topic for discussion will be the Suez situation. An invitation is extended to all foreign trade students and those in allied fields to attend.

Philosophy Dept. Issues 'Advice' On Comprehensive

The Philosophy Department issued today the following notice to all students planning to take the Comprehensive examination on November 30.

"The Philosophy Department would like to impress upon the students who are eligible for this examination that this test is not a mere formality but an adequate and comprehensive review of the materials studied during their regular courses in philosophy.

"It is not customary for the faculty to hold repetition classes in which the main problems in philosophy are discussed, except in the case of the examination for the spring quarter where the numbers justify the additional help. Hence, those eligible for the present test are most earnestly urged to review on their own the materials they have seen during their courses in philosophy. Students failing this test will not be eligible for a second examination until late in winter quarter."
