Second UGN Benefit Mixer In Lounge October 11, Features "SU In Hi-Fi"

By MIKE GALVIN

SU in Hi-Fi. That's the name of the UGN Mixer Friday night, Oct. 11, to be held in the Cafeteria from 9 to 12.

UGN chairman "Oakie" Oaksmith has announced that the music will be provided by stereophonic hi-fi tapes, with recorded music by all the major dance bands.

Electricraft, Inc., is loaning SU the tapes and machine for the evening.

Also held today were classroom collections, with collections from the Evening School Division, held last night and tonight.

Last Friday's dance was the most successful mixer ever held at SU and the UGN campaign got off to a "flying start."

With the new idea in taped music for tomorrow night's dance, another big crowd is expected.

Commenting on this, Oaksmith said: "We'll have the finest type of sound reproduction available for the dance," and "we got off to a great start last week and I think this mixer promises to be as novel and successful as the one last week."

Mike Desmond, men's dormitory chairman, announces that a tremendous amount of progress has been made from collections at the various halls and that $96.34 has already been collected at Xavier Hall. Their quota is $150.00.

Other chairmen helping Desmond are: John Daniels, Pat Martin, Ron Gallucci, Larry Donohue, Frank Peterson, Bill Doherty, Chuck Schmitz, Fred Schact and Roy Mathieson.

Joan Petri, women's hall chairman, announces that each floor at Marycrest and the three halls have their own UGN chairmen and that definite progress has been made toward their goal. The sixth floor of Marycrest, Campion Hall, is planning a car wash Saturday, Oct. 12, at Joe Sheriff's Richfield Station at 1018 E. Madison.

The other floors are planning similar fund-raising activities.

The girls in the new residence hall at 950 E. Madison are sponsoring a "Name the Hall" Contest. The proceeds are to go to the UGN. Voting for the names will be on Friday, Oct. 11, in the Chieftain. Entries may also be given to the girls in the hall. Votes are priced at 10¢ each, and each person may vote as many times as desired.

The first, second and third prizes are dinner at the hall.

U.G.N. Competition Begins With Marycrest Car Wash

United Good Neighbors means competition between faculty and students, between dormitories, and between the inter-halls. Inter-hall competition begins this week with the Annual Carwash sponsored by women of Marycrest.

This event is scheduled for this Saturday, and is sponsored by Campion Hall, sixth floor of Marycrest.

The donation is one dollar per automobile. An extra fee of fifty cents is charged for white sidewall tires.

They have been fortunate for the last few years to obtain the back of Joe Sheriff's Richfield Station as a location, and the use of all the supplies. It is located at 11th and Madison St., across from the Chieftain.

Co-chairmen for the carwash are Bea Fernandez and Joanne Olson. Said Bea, "Last year we collected a little over $50 through this. The year before it was $100. This year we hope to receive the sum of both, if it does not rain. It rained last year, but we held it just the same. He hope to reach our goal and win the cup for our hall."

Chaplain Announces Mass Schedule

For the convenience of students, the office of the Spiritual Father has announced the schedule of Masses and Confessions for fall quarter.

Masses are daily at 6:15, 6:45 and 7:45 a.m. Confessions are heard every Wednesday from 9 to 9:30 a.m., by Rev. Louis Sauvain, S.J.

Rev. Leo Gaffney, S.J., will hear confessions at 10 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, with Rev. Francis J. Logan, S.J., hearing them at the same hour on Tuesday and Thursday. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11 a.m. Rev. Joseph Bussy, S.J., will be in the confessional, with Rev. James Reichmann, S.J., at the same time on Tuesday and Thursday.

ASSU Treasurer Appoints New Financial Board

Newly named financial board members for this year are Mary Helen Vanderhoef, Bill McMennamin and John Edwards. Dave Poisson, board chairman and ASSU treasurer, made the appointments in conjunction with the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J.

At least one member of the financial board must approve estimates of expenses by any student group, before the purchases are made.

Money will not be refunded if the procedure is not followed, or if were made by Irene Tobener. They are displayed in the buildings around the campus and in the dormitories.

Soph-Frosh Map Fall Dance Plans

Parker's Pavilion has been chosen as the site of the annual Soph-Frosh Dance, scheduled for October 25 from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. Jerry Clough and his band are providing the music for the night.

The musicians are from the Northwest and specialize in a special "sound" reminiscent of Glenn Miller. The band played at the All-City Dance in the Civic Auditorium last summer, and has been playing in this area for several years.

This year's dance will be the traditional costume dance of the year but the theme has not yet been chosen. Admission price is $2.50 per couple.

The Frosh are working under the supervision of the Soph Class officers, Sam Brown, Anne Gribbon, Pat Pavelka and Gail Delworth. Frosh co-chairmen were elected at a class meeting yesterday, with committees working on publicity, decorations, programs and ticket sales.

Scholarship Fund Set Up In Memory Of Gene Fabre

Officers of the 146th Field Artillery Battalion, Washington National Guard, acting as the "Caisson Club of Seattle, Inc.," have donated a sum of money to Seattle University in honor of Gene Fabre, former Seattle University student who passed away at Fort Ord, Calif., in July, 1957, while on six months' tour of active duty for training with the U.S. Army.

The money will be used to help a deserving student at Seattle University.

the receipts are not submitted with the report. Expense sheets are available in the ASSU office.

One duty of the financial board is to discuss and approve allocations from the student body treasury (student body fees) to various student organizations.

Among those receiving funds are the following: the Student Chaplain, Spectator, Gavel Club, Sodality, Physical Education, Student Body, Opera Guild, Drama Club and the Philosophy Club.

Assembly Board Elections Slated Tuesday, Oct. 22

Assembly Board elections have been set for Tuesday, Oct. 22, according to election co-ordinators Ben Simon and Don Willis. Sophomores, juniors and seniors are eligible to run, subject to administrative approval.

Nominations will continue to be accepted by petition. They may be picked up in the ASSU office starting Monday, Oct. 14, and must be returned by noon of Friday, Oct. 18.

Limited campaigning is allowed in the form of handbill distributing and informal talks. No posters are allowed and any candidate who uses them will be declared ineligible.

The Assembly Board is the students' legislative council. It consists of five members from each of the three upper classes. The Board supervises student government on campus and has the power to amend or repeal statutes of the student constitution. Regular meetings are held once each month and special meetings are called as needed.

Interviews are scheduled for students interested in working on elections this year. They will be

Rev. Martin F. McCarthy, American representative to the Vatican Observatory in Rome, will discuss the artificial satellite in the Student Lounge at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 11. All students are invited to attend.

Jesuit Discusses USSR Satellite

The Soviet Union's victorious disclosure that it had launched the first man-made satellite might have startled the rest of the world, but not Rev. Martin F. McCarthy, S.J., a visitor to the SU campus from the Vatican Observatory at Castel Gandolfo, near Rome.

Father McCarthy, 34, is on a tour of the observatories of this country and is familiar with satellite projects.

The priest said that the race between the United States and the Soviet Union to launch the first space satellite was a known fact and that "there is no reason to get scared or panicky. It was a splendid 'first' for the Russians."

Father McCarthy also stated that the launching of the satellite should teach the American people the need for engineers and scientists in this country.

SU's shrine to Our Lady of Fatima, located in a corner in front of the Liberal Arts Building, was constructed in 1950. It was dedicated to the memory of Father Howard Peronteau, S.J., head of the Sociology Department, who died in October, 1949.

held at noon on Friday, Oct. 11, and Monday, Oct. 14, in the Chieftain lounge.

Two representatives from the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior Classes will be chosen. Those interested are urged to obtain a copy of the constitution from the ASSU office. A working knowledge of its contents is essential for working on elections.

Sodalists Await Oregon Confab

Eighteen Seattle U students will leave Saturday, Oct. 12, for a conference on Campus Spiritual Life at Marylhurst College in Oswego, Oregon.

The delegation, headed by Noel J. Brown, Sodality prefect, will participate in two main discussions. One group, headed by Dan Zimsen, will discuss the problems of the student as a Sodality member, and the integration of Sodality membership with student life. The other group, whose chairman is Bernice Baumgartner, will discuss the promotion of a more Catholic and Christlike atmosphere on campus.

Schools participating in the conference include Marylhurst College, Mount Angel Women's College, Portland University and Seattle University.

Delegates from Seattle U include Bill Christiansen, Ron Gallucci, Bill McMennamin, Ernie Mazzei, Tom Nugent, Franc Schuckardt and Dan Zimsen. Others include Bernice Baumgartner, Elizabeth Ciceri, Sue Hohl, Joan Kalberer, Sally Kaufer, Betty Kay Marshall, Jane Merryman, Donna Sharp and Mary Ellen Walsh.

Rev. Louis Sauvain, S.J., spiritual father of the student body, will go with the group, as will Santos Contreras, vice president of the student body, who will represent the student government of SU.

Besides the business meetings and conferences, the groups will also enjoy a barbecue dinner and social on the Portland University campus.

"We hope that as a result of this convention," said Noel Brown, Sodality prefect, "greater unity will be established among the Sodalities of the respective schools, and that the work of Catholic Action in the Pacific Northwest will be greatly strengthened."

SENIOR PICTURES

The last days for Senior Class pictures for the Aegis are Monday, Oct. 14; Wednesday, Oct. 16; and Thursday, Oct. 17. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., in the third floor lounge of the LA Building.

The men should wear a white shirt and tie for the pictures.

Cadets Quinn And Dickinson Receive Commissions In Private Ceremony

LT. COL. MICHAEL J. DOLAN, new professor of military science and tactics at SU, gives former graduates Roy B. Dickinson, left, and James M. Quinn, center left, their oath of office. Second lieutenant commissions were presented to these two members of the Class of '57 in an official ceremony in the office of the Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., on October 2. Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Quinn, both Seattle residents, received their commissions in the Transportation Corps and the Artillery Corps, respectively.

Editorial:

Renewed perspective

We are presently taking part in the United Good Neighbors campaign by contributing to SU's campus drive. Even though it be only a small part of a tremendous citywide quota, SU students still will have the satisfaction of knowing that these funds will be utilized in several ways.

Presently, 89 services in the Seattle area are being supported directly through the monies collected during this united giving. These agencies and activities cover such varied services as the Boys Clubs of Seattle, Catholic Children's Home and foundations for victims of cancer.

Taking this into consideration, let's give with renewed effort in order that the over-all school and city goals may be met, thus guaranteeing to these dependent organizations our full share of assistance. We at SU owe it to ourselves as responsible citizens and charitable Christians to assume some of this burden.

Your opportunity for contribution presents itself at the UGN Mixer tomorrow evening, the classroom collections and the various halls and organizational efforts to raise the desired amount and, we hope, to go even beyond that.

We pause for a moment as we pay special tribute at this time to the memory of a former SU student — a graduate of the Class of 1957. Gene Fabre, former ASSU treasurer and outstanding student, passed away this summer after a brief but fatal illness.

While at SU, Gene prepared himself well for his future, even though he knew little of what it actually would hold. He spent his time wisely, dividing it among the academic, spiritual and social spheres — all in their proper perspective. He made good use of the educational opportunities available to us all and at the same time endeared himself to many for his sincerity, sense of responsibility and loyalty.

Let his example serve as an inspiration to us all to use our time in college to its most productive end—even as though these years be our last.

Sodality:

Success or failure?

• SYDNEE VOLTIN

Without Mary, you cannot succeed. Why not? Because you can do nothing without grace, and grace comes to us through her. Because she is Queen of Apostles and you cannot be victorious without battling under her orders. Because God wills that, in these modern times, God has decreed that it should be Mary who, in a special way, will lead us to Christ.

Because at the present time, ever since the consecration of the world to the Immaculate Heart of Mary, the whole Catholic world has understood that it must turn toward Mary, for to her Christ has reserved the victory over the powers of hell, the conversion of individuals and nations, the return of heretics and schismatics to the one fold of Christ and the exaltation and triumph of the Church.

With Mary, you cannot fail. Again, why? Because God is all-powerful and Mary, by her intercession, shares in the omnipotence of God. Because though the demons of evil be stronger than man, Mary is incomparably stronger than all the demons put together. Because in the Garden of Eden, God predicted that the Woman would triumph over evil.

By yourself, you are weakness personified. But, united to Mary, you share in her omnipotence. Sometimes, perhaps, you will seem to fail but if you have truly done what you believed to be her will—and therefore the will of God; if you have worked in her name and have relied on her, she will change your defeats into victories.

It is possible that you may not see these victories during your lifetime. What does it really matter that you fail like your crucified Master, as long as you triumph with Him in His glorious resurrection?

Again I repeat, with deepest conviction — without Mary, you cannot succeed; with Mary, you cannot fail! Remember, the choice is up to you. Which will it be, success or failure?

Tour:

Across the atlantic

Recently returning from a grand tour of Europe this summer are Rev. F. J. Logan, S.J., and 17 members of his tour. The prearranged itinerary covered 11 countries in 64 days.

Those taking the tour with Fr. Logan were Bill Borgert, Bob Bruck, Don Cain, Noel Campbell, Mike Caratan, Jim Duane, Harry Hungerbuhler, Bob Hykes, Lionel Jolly, Jack Logan, John Logan, Ed Lorenz, Frank Lorenz, Bill McMenamin, Gerald Stevenson, Paul Turner and Joe Warwick.

Gathering at New York International Airport June 23, we embarked via KLM Royal Dutch Airlines for Shannon, Ireland, our first of many stops to come. After a smooth and effortless flight we arrived at Shannon Airport some 12 hours later.

Shortly after our arrival we were greeted and later escorted by the Jesuit Fathers from Mungirrit College to our quarters at the college just out of Limerick. On our way we received an official welcome at Limerick from the mayor of that city, whom we visited briefly. Our first day was spent mainly on rented bicycles taking in the sights of Limerick and the surrounding green Irish countryside.

On the agenda for our second day was a 200-mile tour by bus to the southern part of Ireland, where we visited Kilarney, Cork and the Blarney Castle. Of course we all kissed the Blarney Stone and have been full of "blarney" ever since!

Now we board a train for a two and a half-hour ride to Dublin, the largest city in Ireland. There we hang our hats for three days as

Dear Editor:

I have been a member of your student body now for over a week. During this time I have had ample opportunity to observe many of the different aspects which compose life on a college campus. The overall picture is quite delightful really, but there are a few items which I think should be brought to someone's attention. Now mind you, I am not trying to launch a crusade or anything like that, but there are certain things which simply cannot be overlooked.

To begin with, I am a girl. This I mentioned because up to this point nobody has noticed. I like to go out, have a good time, and in the same token, I like to show my date a good time too. There are lots of girls in the same boat in the hall that I live in. I was wondering if there is any existing medium through which girls such as us could "communicate" with members of the opposite sex and present our plea. Even such a joked-about thing as a date bureau could at least assure us of the type of social life to which we are accustomed.

Another thing that has been bothering a number of us — it's about these beanies. They tell us that we will have to take them off at the UGN Mixer this Friday. We like them and would be more-than-joyous if they would make it mandatory that we wear them all year.

Then too, editor, there is the question of Mike Galvin. Last year all the girls that came up here to go to school wrote home about "Mike Galvin this" and "Mike Galvin that" but since we have been up here we haven't even seen Mike Galvin. If you see Mike, would you tell him to come around?

Getting back to our biggest problem, we have tried everything — and I mean everything — to bring these introverts around here out of their shells. Our sports cars, perfumes and false eyelashes have made no visible impression.

Since we are taking up your time with our complaints we would like, at the same time, to plead the case of a group of girls who have been standing in the shadows too long. Those poor girls who live in town. It really isn't their fault that they didn't go away to school, and yet what few girls around here who do have dates, are all from the halls.

Actually the town girls are ALMOST as attractive as we are and there is no reason why we all can't go out and have FUN.

These are our major complaints. In summarizing we would like to say that we have noticed a definite lack of culture in the male species at SU. At this writing nobody has even proposed that we go out and watch for the space satellite. By the way, do the hydroplanes really race down at Seward Park? We ask now that you publish some possible solutions to our dilemma.

— A PUZZLED FROSH.

• HARRY HUNGERBUHLER

guests of Rathfarnham Castle, a retreat house operated by the Jesuits. During our stay here we toured such places as Trinity College, where the Book of Kells is kept; Phoenix Park, Daniel O'Connell Tomb and the Metropole, a favorite spot of all tourists visiting Ireland — anyway, those from SU!

From Dublin we flew to Lourdes, in Southern France, a picturesque town situated near the Pyrenees Mountains. Here we spent two days sightseeing and meditating along with the rest of the pilgrims there. In the evenings we watched and participated in the torchlight procession at the grotto where the Blessed Virgin appeared before St. Bernadette. This inspiring procession is attended each evening by thousands of people from all over the world.

Next week we go to Spain.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

Even though the First Annual Leadership Conference has been over for two weeks, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the delegates for the enthusiasm displayed not only at the conference but upon their return to school, and for putting into application the principles discussed during the three-day conference.

It was our sincere wish that the delegates would benefit greatly from a new experience such as this. I feel certain that we not only learned ideas of a valuable nature, but ones which will contribute greatly toward making us better leaders and citizens. A word of caution should be noted here, in that we cannot hope to accomplish every detail which was discussed, but we would like to tread lightly and move swiftly so that the student bodies, present and future, may benefit from the efforts expended.

As a result of the conference seminars the following resolutions are now in the process of development: more effective communication between students and faculty and between students and student government; the creation of a student-faculty disciplinary board; need to establish a student Spiritual Committee and the establishment of more public shrines on campus; voting machines to be used at all major elections; the formation of a student cultural committee and broadening the responsibilities of the student body. These are just a few of the many key issues.

As is the case in any conference, much time and effort goes into the setting up of a plausible format. At this time I would like to thank those who very capably worked behind the scenes. First and foremost, thanks go to our efficient and diligent ASSU president, Brian Cullerton, who first generated the idea of a leadership conference and whose every effort was directed toward its success.

Thanks also to Rosemary Heber, whose tireless energy went into the typing of the reams of literature and letters necessary to hold a conference. Thanks to Dave Poisson who, though not a member of the committee, volunteered his services and did a tremendous job in making the campsite a more comfortable one. Thanks to the seminar leaders for presenting their material so effectively and for maintaining the serious tone of the conference.

Most important, thanks to the delegates, for without their willingness and co-operation nothing could have been accomplished. All the time and effort spent in the setting up of such a conference would have been meaningless had you not displayed the leadership qualities you were selected for.

Respectfully yours,
LEO SHAHON,
Conference chairman.

ART

This week is full of things to do. For the 19th century art lovers, the Seattle Art Museum this month has transported here the 232 paintings of the Karolik Collection.

The pictures have been shipped from the Boston Museum of Fine Art to illustrate the life and mood of the era between the War of 1812 and the end of the Civil War.

FILM

The "Man of a Thousand Faces," the life of Lon Chaney, a veteran of the silent movies and the road-side shows, is portrayed by James Cagney. This is a heart-warming story of how a boy lived and led a normal life in spite of the fact that both parents were deaf mutes and developed to be one of the finest personalities that movie-goers had known.

I have seen this film; I suggest that you too see it at the Garden Theatre, at 1515 Third Ave., this week.

SPORTS

Sports fans, especially the boxing fans, can enjoy the 10-round welterweight bout between Isaac Logart, from Cuba, and Joe Miceli, from New York. Jimmy Powers will do the commentaries from the Olympic Arena in Detroit to your television seat.

NIGHT LIFE

The Japanese sensation, Pat Suzuki, was pictured in last week's Life Magazine. For the past year she has been the featured entertainer for the Colony Club, at Virginia and Fourth. Three performances are given on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Hiyu Coulee And Bowling Resume Full Schedules

Rainier Lanes, which opened on October 5, will host the SU bowlers this quarter. The 36-lane emporium, fully automatic, is offering SU league bowlers a special student rate.

League bowlers are asked to be present Thursday, Oct. 10, at 1:30 p.m. Registration, the organization of teams and the first games are scheduled for that time. All interested students, experienced or not, are asked to come for registration. Student leaguers, or substitutes, must bowl with the league every Thursday.

A car pool is being formed to make it easier to reach the lanes. It is located opposite Sick's Stadium. Students who need or who can offer rides are asked to sign-up on the bulletin boards in the LA Building. Those needing transportation are to meet at the southern end of the Mall on Thursday at 1 p.m.

Father F. Logan, S.J., is moderator of the league. Any leaguer who can act as secretary to help with the records, is asked to contact Fr. Logan.

Fifty-four collegians enjoyed an outing to the Cascades on the first Sunday of the school year. Good weather greeted the hikers as they followed the Foss River trail to Trout Lake, where all but a few paused for lunch. Others more ambitious continued to the falls which tumble in cascades from Copper Lake.

A score of new hikers were welcomed by veteran trail-pounders. Two co-eds voiced the sentiments of the new hikers — Jo Howie, transfer from St. Mary's, Xavier, Kas.; and Molly Maher, transfer from Loretto Heights, Denver: "It sure was a lot of fun but we're stiff and tired today."

They will doubtless be back for more on the next hike, two weeks hence, when the Hiyus storm the heights of Mount Pilchuck with Heather Lake their objective.

Papooses - Intramurals Launched

Seattle U's Papooses opened shop at Klug Memorial Gym this week. It's all unofficial, because the coaches aren't allowed to take part in the workouts, but the five Easterners and Seattle Prep's Mike Murphy are still getting in a few licks before practice opens on October 15. The first practice this year is open to any who may be interested. There's also room for basketball managers on the frosh and possibly the varsity team, so those interested should contact anyone at the gym.

The frosh schedule is still incomplete, although the Papooses will be playing their usual murderous Northwest League schedule. The league itself is still incomplete, although seven teams for certain are already in the circuit. One of the teams, Westside Ford, may find itself with further aid from the Seattle U transfer ranks, but this is nothing but speculation. However, the Chieftains do have two fine transfers in Tim Cozzins and Bob Grundic.

Cozzins is 6-8 and a transfer from Gettysburg College, in Pennsylvania. As a sophomore last year, Cozzins banged in 15 points per game and also dominated the boards. Cozzins has two years of eligibility, beginning next season.

Also entering the Chieftain lair is Bob Grundic, a New Yorker who played for Springhill College, in Alabama, last season. Grundic, at 6-7, was Springhill's starting center, though he was only a freshman. Grundic will have three years of playing time at SU.

Whether either player will show up at Westside's turnouts is problematical, but it is still a possibility.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Mr. Page, of the Physical Education Department and director of intramural sports, has announced that all team managers are requested to attend a meeting Friday, Oct. 11, at the gymnasium at 12:30 p.m.

This meeting is a MUST, as the regular games will begin next Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Page further commented that the choice of team manager (or captain) should be carefully thought over, as this individual is the only contact between the league administration and his team.

Lewis Tice has been named to assist Pat Galbraith, student director of the program. A further announcement was that any student (especially freshmen) who has not yet joined a team but wants to play football, should contact either Pat or Lewis.

Gonzaga Ready

SU's cross-state rival, Gonzaga U of Spokane, is also eagerly awaiting the start of basketball season. The Bulldogs, who battle the Chieftains in a home - and - home four-game set this season, have a baker's dozen freshmen and three transfers on hand for varsity berths, besides a strong nucleus of last year's team.

The big news is a 7-foot 3-inch freshman who hails from Paris, France, and who played last year for the French national team. The lad, whose legal monicker is Jean Claude Lefabre, is an odds-on choice to become the tallest basketball player in college basketball, replacing a certain Kansan.

Seattle U will first meet these hopefuls, among others, in Spokane on December 19 and 20. The two rivals will then be in Seattle to complete the series in February.

Athletic Dept. Sets Gym Hours

The SU Athletic Department has released the following schedule for the use of the gymnasium, effective Monday, Oct. 14:

Monday	MEN	6:00 - 7:30 p.m.
Tuesday	Women	6:00 - 7:30 p.m.
Wed'sday	MEN	6:00 - 7:30 p.m.
Thursday	Women	6:00 - 7:30 p.m.
Friday	MEN	6:00 - 7:30 p.m.
Saturday	MEN	1:00 - 2:30 p.m.
Saturday	Women	3:30 - 5:00 p.m.
Sunday	MEN	1:00 - 2:30 p.m.
Sunday	Women	3:30 - 5:00 p.m.

Due to the priority of the varsity and freshman basketball teams and scheduling of special events in the gym, the above times are subject to change. A CLOSED sign will appear in the front door window of the gym when such happenings occur.

Holiday Festival Opener Pits SU Against U-Conns

By FRED YOUMANS

It'll be "homecoming week" for Coach John Castellani as he leads his SU Chieftains against the University of Connecticut hoopsters in the opening round of the Holiday Festival basketball tourney on Thursday, Dec. 26, at Madison Square Garden, N. Y.

Castellani, a native of Connecticut, expects to see a large crowd of fellow Nutmeg Staters on hand witnessing the battle. Whether they'll be cheering for the home state team or the home state coach is their privilege, but Castellani won't be needing any sectional feeling as he sends his charges against the ever-dangerous U-

Other teams in the eight-team tourney are California, as the other West Coast representative; Manhattan, NYU, Pitt and Temple (who will try to uphold the East's honor) and one Midwest independent, powerful Dayton.

At present, over 150 delegates from the states of Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon are expected to attend.

GERMAN CLUB

On Tuesday, Oct. 15, the first meeting of the German Club will be held at 8 p.m. in the Language House. Anyone who speaks German, is studying German, or who has an interest in German is invited and urged to attend. This is primarily an organizational meeting.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, will hold an open meeting for all men students interested in taking part in its service program.

The meeting is in Room 410 of Buhr Hall, October 16 at 8 p.m. Any further information can be obtained by contacting Ben Simon at FR. 5550.

IK's Announce Fall Projects

Intercollegiate Knights, a men's service group on campus, has announced their projects for fall quarter. Jim Haubrick is handling the sales of the movie cards and Bill Scalzo is in charge of this year's publication of "Who's Who."

The $1 student admission cards entitle a student to junior prices at the theaters listed on the cards. They are valid until June 30, 1958. The cards are on sale daily at noon, in the Chieftain Cafeteria.

"Who's Who at SU," an annual student publication, alphabetically lists the names, addresses and phone numbers of Seattle U's students. It also includes a faculty section.

The booklet should be on sale by November 1, and may be obtained at the Broadway Bookstore or from any IK.

Men students interested in joining IK's should contact Bob Grinstead or Dave Lynn. They will be able to answer any questions concerning IK's, and list the necessary requirements for the pledge class members.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

A meeting of the Seattle University Young Democrats will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15, to discuss the election of officers at the following meeting, and the national and state conventions to be held soon.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Joining college groups throughout the country in a "Send Birthday Greetings to President Eisenhower" project, SU's Young Republican Club invites all students to sign its giant greeting card now on display in the Chieftain.

The card will remain on view until Monday, Oct. 14, the President's birthday. Club officials will be present at the greeting card booth to register new members in the Young Republicans.

A student discussion of Civil Rights will highlight a Young Republicans' Open Meeting to be held in the Chieftain Lounge on October 14 at 7:45 p.m. "Eisenhower Birthday Cake" will be served at a get-acquainted social hour following the discussion.

SPECS OF NEWS

Rev. Louis Sauvain, S.J., student chaplain, has moved from his former office to a new location. He can now be found in the former Evening Division office, north end of the first floor of the LA Building near the Madison Street entrance.

Tryouts for the annual student Variety Show will be held Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 16-17, in the Little Theater (Room 400, Simmons Hall), from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

This show annually features acts of many different types, from vocalists to dancers and magicians. Everyone who has any particular talents is urged to begin practicing their act.

The Counseling and Testing Center, formerly called the Psychological Service Center, will soon have new quarters on the fifth floor of the William Pigott Bldg.

There will be a meeting of ROTC cadets interested in joining the drill team at noon in ROTC Room 1 on Friday, Oct. 11.

The drill team participates in school functions and parades during winter and spring quarters. During the last several years, it has won many trophies and established a reputation as one of the finest drill teams in the Northwest.

Sticklers!

ANY SALT worth his salt will gripe when told to paint a dull hull, varnish a vast mast, or swab a dank plank. How to make him break out in smiles? Just break out the Luckies! He'll be a Beamin' Seaman in no time—and no wonder! A Lucky's a light smoke—it's one cigarette that's packed end to end with superbly light, golden rich, wonderfully good-tasting tobacco. And Luckies' fine tobacco's toasted to taste even better! Now hear this: Want to go light? Just go Lucky!

STUCK FOR DOUGH?

START STICKLING! MAKE $25

We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print—and for hundreds more that never get used! So start Stickling—they're so easy you can think of dozens in seconds! Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send 'em all with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.
