Financial Board Distributes Funds; Music, Sports Down; Others Added

A tabulation of the allotted budgets made by the Financial Board for 1958-59 shows that those of the Physical Education Department and the Music Department have been reduced by $2,200 from last year.

Last year's Physical Education budget was $37,000. This year it is $35,000. The Music Department had a budget of $2,200 last year. This year it is $2,000.

Several new departments are now receiving funds. They are: the Model United Nations, $700; Cultural Committee, $650; Intramu-vals, $500; and ROTC Drill Team, $500.

Departments receiving a gain in their budgets are: the Gavel Club, whose increase is from $400 to $750; Sodality, with an increase to $400 from $200; and the Student Body General Fund, with $1,500, or $500 more than they received in 1957.

Organizations whose budgets remain the same are the Aegis ($9,500) and the Spectator ($5,000), the Student Chaplain ($100) and the Philosophy Club ($100).

The Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., estimated that the amount to be distributed to student activities this year would be roughly $56,700. This is based on 1,800 students paying the student fees over a three-quarter period at $10.50 per quarter.

Present at this meeting, held Oct. 27, were: Father Lemieux, the Rev. Robert Rebhahn, S.J.; Mike Desmond, ASSU treasurer; Miles McAtee, Patrick Martin and Jim Purvis, members of the Financial Board; and ASSU president ex officio Mark Ruljancich.

Ferrer Movie On Sunday

"The Great Man," starring Jose Ferrer and Julie London, will be shown Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in Pigott Auditorium.

This movie portrays the life of a fictitious showman, his rise to stardom, his troubled personal life and his eventual fall.

The supporting cast includes Joanne Gilbert, Keenan Wynn and Dean Jagger.

Admission is 35 cents with a student body card.

Mu Sigma, music service organization, is sponsoring the movie.

Model United Nations Meets To Set Program For Year

Plans for the Model United Nations, to be held at the University of Southern California during spring quarter, will be discussed at a special meeting in the Conference Room Nov. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Dean Floyd and Jim Parry are co-chairmen of this meeting. They urge anyone interested in the SU delegation to the MUN to attend.

At this meeting Mr. Charles LaCugna, head of the Political Science Department, will announce the delegates to the Collegiate Council of the Model UN, which will be held at the University of Washington Nov. 14-16.

Co-chairman Floyd also urged everyone interested in participating in the MUN to attend a forum Oct. 30 at 8 p.m., at Guggenheim Hall on the University of Washington campus.

The forum will discuss "Global Implications of the Formosa Crisis" and "What Should the US Do About Quemoy and Matsu?"

Chairman of this forum is Charles E. Martin, director of the Institute of International Affairs. Forum members are Giovanni Costigan, Linden A. Mander, Frank G. Welliston, Franz Michael and John S. Reshetar, professors, and Donald A. Schmittel, an attorney.

There is no admission fee.

Both Sides of Initiative 202 To Be Aired in Pigott Tonight

The Law Club is sponsoring an open forum on Initiative 202 at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Pigott Auditorium.

Speakers for the so-called "Right to Work" measure will be Dave Moore and Pete Olwell, while Mark Ruljancich and Jerry O'Brien will present the case against the resolution.

The Rev. John Corrigan, S.J., is moderator of the event. Father Corrigan said that he feels the forum may be of great service to anyone interested, since "every responsible citizen himself must weigh and sift the evidence which may follow from an intelligent open discussion."

Pete Olwell stated, "As one of the speakers for 202, I feel confident that when you leave this meeting you will be better informed and vote for 202." Jerry O'Brien countered with, "Right-to-work laws have one major aim—to keep down the level of wages and salaries by weakening unions."

Foreign Students Reception Nov. 2

All foreign students are invited to a welcoming reception on Nov. 2 at 3 p.m. in the Chieftain Lounge. The purpose is the presentation of an explanation of the program and available facilities for foreign students on campus.

The Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., president of the University will be introduced. Also present will be the Rev. Robert J. Rebhahn, S.J., Dean of Students, and Miss Agnes E. Reilly, Dean of Women.

Following the coffee reception will be a meeting of the International Club for the purpose of using and developing the talents and interest of foreign students, according to Mr. James V. Metcalfe.

Senate Names Edwards Counsel

John Edwards, senior Commerce and Finance major from Seattle, was appointed Student Counsel by the Student Senate at a meeting held Oct. 27.

According to the constitution of the ASSU, the Student Counsel "shall have the general power to investigate in any manner he so desires: (a) any act, action, or decree of any member of the executive branch, elected or appointed; (b) any act, statute or by-law enacted, repealed, or revised by the legislative branch; or (c) any action of any member or entity of this Association."

Four other candidates had applied for the position. They were Bob Coombs, Jiro Seguro, Mary Beth Harrison and Dave Moore.

The appointment was made after a discussion which had lasted for two meetings previous to that of the deciding appointment.

DANCE CHAIRMEN (l.) Dave Boulanger and Mary Lee Walsh pose with dress-alikes Lois Dideon and Sean Malone (r).

Soph And Frosh Twin Dance, 'Me And My Shadow' Tomorrow

Soph-Frosh Classes present "Me and My Shadow" Dance Hallowe'en night, Oct. 31, from 9 to 12 p.m. at Parker's Pavilion, 175th and Aurora. There will be prizes for the best dressed-alike couple; also a door prize will be presented.

Admission is $2.50 a couple. Programs are being sold daily in the Chieftain by students in green striped shirts. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Jerry Clough's dance band is featured, as it was last year. Mr. Clough is a well-known Seattle bandleader. He has played for many of the radio stations in this area and for the Homecoming Dance and Alumni Dance last year.

Co-chairmen of the event are Mary Lee Walsh and Dave Boulanger. Denise Bogle and Kathleen Kleffner are invitation chairmen. In charge of tickets are Sue Etchey and Sean Malone, and decorations will be designed by Pam McCloskey and Ray Boudreaux. Programs will be handled by Lois Dideon and Bob Lindeman.

AWS Meets Today at Noon

The AWS will hold a general meeting today at 12:30 p.m. in the Pigott Auditorium. The activities will include introduction of AWS officers, Girl of the Month presentation, and an explanation of the Career Series by Sue Hohl, AWS President. Entertainment will be furnished by Pat Pavelka.

The following chairmen were named to head events sponsored by the AWS: Big Sisters: Mary Grace La Buda, Gloria Barone, Judy Kramer; Turkey Trot: Michele Mulherin, Pat Sanders; Apple Sale: Pat Barrett, Sue Gwinn, Isabel Arralde; Tea: Sandy West, Kay Layton, Joyce Gonyea, Mary Beth Harrison; Christmas Decorations: Mary Noel Keough; Valentolo: Mary Herbert, Mary Kay Panisko; Hospitality: Jo Lindberg; Spiritual: Jane Merryman, Coleen Meehan; Publicity: Grace McCabe, Irene Tobener, Joanna Ward, Joan Plarce, Virginia Pryor, Maureen McMenamin, Julie Codd, Marilyn Bauer.

ALL FOREIGN STUDENTS who have not already done so must fill out census cards for the Immigration Department. Please stop at the Registrar's office and take care of this by Nov. 1, 1958.

Kingston Trio Backs Out On SU Campus Appearance

The Kingston Trio will not appear on campus on Nov. 10, as reported in last week's Spectator. The contract was verbal and was not confirmed by telegram when the Oct. 23 issue appeared.

Arrangements were made by Rick Starr, ASSU second vice president, through long-distance phone calls to Irving Granz, head of C & C Record Distributors.

Rick said yesterday that he sent a telegram "confirming our end of the contract" on Oct. 22. Granz was to send his confirming telegram by Oct. 25. The telegram was not sent, and on Oct. 27 a phone call from Portland informed the ASSU office that the Kingston Trio would not appear on campus.

Rick telephoned Granz in Los Angeles and was told that another offer from Portland had been accepted, since the Trio was offered $1,000 more than the ASSU had promised.

Second vice president Starr commented: "I feel that Irving Granz backed out on a verbal contract and his failure to confirm the engagement in a written form has jeopardized his future business with Seattle University."

Spurs Sponsor Tea at Marycrest

The annual Spur tea for freshman woman students is on Nov. 2 from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Marycrest lounge, Nancy Shaffer, Spur publicity chairman, said yesterday.

The purpose of the tea is to acquaint all freshman women with the Spurs, a national service honorary organization for sophomore women. The Spurs will explain their activities program, and freshmen will have an opportunity to receive information about Spur requirements, besides meeting present members.

All freshman women are invited to attend the tea, according to Nancy. Chairmen of the tea are Mary Sullivan and Mary Grace La Buda.

Each year 30 freshman woman students are chosen from the applicants, on the basis of activities and scholarship.

'Habemus Papam'

In his first address to the world, delivered only hours after he had accepted the title and the responsibilities of Supreme Pontiff, Pope John XXIII, the former Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli of Milan, spoke out strongly against continuing "discords and differences" among nations, against suppression and persecution of the Church behind the Iron Curtain, and against world leaders who fail to hear the voices of their people demanding peace—the "peace" St. Thomas Aquinas described as "tranquil freedom."

Our new Pontiff has ascended the papal throne in one of the most crucial eras of history. Both in the secular and in the spiritual order, the Church is battling a movement which threatens to plunge the entire world into the chaos of atomic war. He will need courage, patience and wisdom to meet the challenge of communism and the incessant opposition of the enemies of the Church.

But even more than physical strength, John XXIII will need the spiritual strength of his subjects praying daily that the help of God will not fail him in these times of extreme danger.

We, the students of a Catholic university, who are coming into maturity under the shadow of this danger, ought to be especially concerned with the struggle he must undertake; and our prayers should go out for this new Pope upon whose shoulders may be placed the burden of the ultimate conflict between the Church and atheistic communism.

All Saints', All Souls' Days
Date From Early Church Era

All Saints' Day, Nov. 1, now one of the six holy days of obligation observed in the United States, began as a day of celebration following ancient pagan rites which had their origins among the Druids centuries before the Christian era.

Nov. 1, the festival of the Druids' sun god, was the first day of their calendar year. On the eve of this day, it was believed, the Lord of Death gathered all the souls of the dead who had been condemned, as punishment for their crimes, to enter the bodies of animals. He then decided what animal forms these souls should assume. At the same time, he singled out the souls of the just and rewarded them by permitting them to enter into the bodies of new human beings.

However, the Druid custom which is most reflected in the Christian observance of All Saints' Day was the offering of sacrifices to the sun-god to invoke his mercy upon the souls of the dead and to celebrate the happiness of those souls who had been judged "just." After Christianity had been established among the barbarian tribes, the old pagan Druid ceremonies were outlawed; but now Christians retained the custom of celebrating the memory of all the saints who now rejoiced in the Beatific Vision.

All Saints' Day was first celebrated by the entire Church on May 13, the anniversary of the dedication of the Pantheon, a pagan Roman temple, to the Blessed Virgin Mary and all Christian martyrs. This event took place in 609 A.D., under the reign of Pope Boniface IV. Later, the temple was re-consecrated in honor of St. Mary and all the saints.

However, feasts in commemoration of all the blessed in Heaven were still being celebrated on various dates in different areas up until the year 835, when Pope Gregory IV fixed Nov. 1 as the special Feast of All Saints for the universal Church. The anniversary of the dedication of the Pantheon as a Christian basilica was transferred to this date by Gregory VII, in order to symbolize the triumph of Christ over the false pagan gods.

All Souls' Day, which will be transferred this year from Nov. 2 to Nov. 3, was instituted in 998 by St. Odilo, abbot of the monastery of Cluny. The purpose of this feast was to commemorate and gain indulgences for the souls of all the faithful departed who were detained in Purgatory because they had not expiated, during their life on earth, all venial sins or temporal punishment due to sin. Through the influence of the congregation of Cluny, the custom was soon adopted by the whole Christian world and in places became a day of obligation.

Saga of the Locked House;
Tim, Clara to the Rescue!

Routine, pure routine. Tuesday morning, 11:40 a.m. Clara Ann Harvey, at work on the main switchboard in the Pigott Building, heard the Loyola Hall signal buzz once—someone was ringing the hall doorbell. She flicked the communications switch, inquired, "May I help you?" as per routine, and heard a woman's excited voice ask for Father Kane.

Father Kane was paged and could not be located. The woman then explained that she lived across the street and had locked herself out. And her children were shut up in the house. "Couldn't I please borrow a ladder from Father Kane?"

After several more unsuccessful attempts to find the missing priest, Clara Ann remembered there was a ladder on the second floor of the Science Building. "I ran over to the Science Building and, going up the stairs, I saw this huge fellow about 10 feet tall. It was Tim Cousins. He and I went up, after I explained and begged his help, and he got the ladder."

They met the distraught mother in front of Loyola Hall. "She showed us the house, and the only window that would open was a second-story window. So Tim climbed the ladder while three women held it. He thrust open the window and dive-bombed through with perfect athletic agility."

Outside, both parties were waiting anxiously for Tim to let the children out. "We knew they would be probably frightened." Minutes ticked by, and no children appeared—then, suddenly, two tots scampered around the corner of the house. Not out of the house, however. It seemed that the kiddies had been playing outside all the time!

Would-have-been hero Cousins' puzzled comment: "I don't know how old they were, but they were sure little!"

Would-have-been heroine Harvey's addition: "Well, that's what happens when you work on the switchboard!"

Routine, pure routine.

Father President Recalls Europe:
World's Fair and Papal Audience

By CLAYTON BEAULARIER

Recollections of a seven-week trip across the continent of Europe—such recollections are real and vivid to the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., president of Seattle University, who made the trip this summer as a member of a band of pilgrims to Rome.

Visiting Lourdes and hearing Mass at 11:30 p.m. in the Grotto . . . viewing six of the great cathedrals of Europe including the cathedral of Rheims and Chartres . . . checking his watch by Big Ben . . . crusing down the Rhine River . . . stopping at Brussels for a look at the World's Fair . . . crossing the Alps and being one of the last to spend a 50-minute audience with the late Pope Pius XII.

England, Ireland, Scotland, Holland, Belgium, France, Germany, Austria, and Italy. All those places held stories in themselves, but, limited by time, Father Lemieux paused only briefly in foggy London and visited Oxford University, swept through green Ireland and passed on to Brussels.

Here all the countries of the world seemingly were putting their best foot forward. He met Ann Turd who took him through the American exhibit and pointed out the warmth and friendliness of most of the displays; but he caught a note of flimsiness and superficiality in the fashion and art displays. He could see by the number of people that this was a very popular building at the fair. Next, the massive Russian building, showing many of its products and attempting to impress with its

McHugh Hall—
Bathtub and All!

Have you ever seen a bathtub eight feet long?

While this may seem an oddity to most people, the girls at McHugh Hall will assure you that there is such a thing, in an almost solid marble bathroom, at that!

McHugh, the women's residence hall located next door to Marycrest, holds quite a history, as does the entire block where both halls are located.

75 years ago, the entire block was part of an estate owned by a wealthy contractor named Anderson. The Victorian-style building which is now McHugh was the main residence of the estate. The house next door, facing Columbia street, was the servants' quarters. The present doctor's office on Summit, next to Marycrest, was the carriage house. The property on which Marycrest is now built was once the stables. According to Mrs. Rose Carter, McHugh housemother, 20 years ago (only three years before World War II began), the residents of the Columbia Street house had a stable behind their home.

McHugh was one of the most fashionable houses on Seattle's historic First Hill. It still retains its quiet dignity and elegance, with its impressive gables, dark woodwork, five fireplaces, and, of course, the eight-foot bathtub.

The legend of the bathtub is that Mr. Anderson was almost seven feet tall (basketball players will please remember that 75 years ago they didn't grow them quite as big as they do now). He had the tub specially built, and it was necessary to tear out one wall of the bathroom to haul it in.

might and power of production. A multi-storied statue of Lenin; a Russian car; the most popular display, a Sputnik. Ironically, America's most popular display was a voting booth.

But onward, stopping only for a breath of air and a view of the cathedrals, into Southern Bavaria. Father Lemieux halted at a gas station and tried to make the attendant understand that the car needed a grease job. Eventually the man understood that Father didn't understand him, nor did he understand Father, and he beckoned to a young man in the office. Father was surprised to hear him speak good English. He discovered that the young man had spent some time in America. "Washington." "D.C.?"

"No, in the West, Tacoma." "Ever heard of Seattle University?"

"I'm the president there." "NO!" "Yes!" "Well!"

"Well, I took some extension courses from you, that is your school."

Across the Alps and into the city of Rome. Quite modern, he was surprised to learn. Not the moldy, weather-beaten, crumbling city depicted in all the travel ads. Through the gates to the Vatican and an audience with a very tired and sickly Pope. Even in this state Pope Pius was the essence of holiness, kindness and friendliness. The Holy Father wished to visit longer but his aides insisted that he must leave . . . a shadow of his former material self, but spiritually one last impression of a great man.

Then home again . . . to Seattle University and a new school year heightened by recollections of a summer in Europe.

Students Voice Opinions On Editorial

Dear Students,

One of the responsibilities of the dean of students is the conduct of the student body at functions sponsored by the University. In order to protect good behavior and safeguard the standards of our institution, certain norms are demanded of the students. The communication of these norms sometimes becomes confused and misunderstood. This year a Student Handbook was published and distributed to the entire student body. Likewise, the Spectator may publish these norms.

The following is a quotation from the Student Handbook: "The possession or use of alcoholic liquors on campus or in any building connected with the University is forbidden, and will result in severe disciplinary action. The possession of alcoholic liquors at any FUNCTION sponsored by the students will be regarded as a serious offense and will be dealt with accordingly."

In plain English, anyone violating such a norm of conduct will be liable to suspension or expulsion. The University does not condone the use of alcoholic liquors at student-sponsored functions. Those students that violate this norm surreptitiously put this office on the spot and take unwarranted advantage of any kindness that we might possess.

Students have voiced their protest of our "inactivity" and seeming unconcern regarding the enforcement of this norm. The Student Leadership Conference also made recommendations to this office. On the other hand, dances are student-sponsored; this office then feels that the students should cooperate for a few short hours during the dance by abstaining.

The co-chairmen of the dance will be held accountable for any violations, together with the offenders.

We sincerely hope that you will cooperate with us in making this initial dance a social success.

Sincerely,
REV. ROBERT REBHANN, S.J.
dean of students.

OLD MAID ANSWERED

To the Editor:

Taking into consideration the fact that "Unhappy Future Old Maid" is a freshman and has been on this campus all of three weeks, we, the male students of Seattle University, hereby express our regrets that she has not yet found her "right" man.

We feel that she is an extremely individual, in having had the opportunity of meeting so many co-eds at Marycrest. We wish we were floating in the same canoe.

We admit that at the dances, amidst the smoke screen laid by the boys who have no one to dance with, it is rather hard to discern a lonely "lady" who is sitting in a corner surrounded by 20 "girls."

As for a hint on where the masculine gender is hiding, she might try the center of the Chieftain, or the lounge at Marycrest. We realize that these locations would make it extremely hard to locate said masculine forms and we will do all in our power to make ourselves more conspicuous.

As for her statement, "There must be some boys somewhere," we do not know where she can locate those types unless she tries the Seattle high-school system.

We wish her all the success in the world in attaining her "Mrs." degree.

Sincerely,
THE FUTURE
YOUNG HUSBANDS OF SU.

THE TYPISTS . . .

To the Editor:

We, the girls who helped put "Who's Who" together, feel slighted. It appears that the editor does not realize the time and work that go into this directory.

Part of the blame for delay should be placed on students that cannot fill out their dean of men cards clearly. This should not be taken as the inefficiency of the sponsors. The IK's have not deprived anyone of a directory for the first quarter—the quarter has just gotten under way.

As far as a five-cent raise in price, we all fail to realize that each copy costs over 60 cents to print.

FIVE "WHO'S WHO" WORKERS.

AN ALUM . . .

To All Concerned:

In the last edition of the Spectator, the editor cast a critical reflection on the IK's and their annual publication of "Who's Who." The editor suggested that if the IK's can't handle it promptly and profitably the publication should be turned over to someone else. The editor implies that this project is someone else's to deal with.

In order to set the record straight, "Who's Who" was originated and instituted by the IK's on campus as a service to SU. Therefore, this project is no one else's to deal with except the IK's. The publication is a traditional IK function which has been preserved through their selfless efforts.

It is not to their discredit if "Who's Who" has lost money in past years. They have sacrificed their funds rather than discontinue its publication or raise the price.

It takes many volunteer man-hours to compile and edit a correct "Who's Who," and the task becomes even more arduous with increasing enrollment. If, in the editor's estimation, the IK's need help for an earlier "Who's Who," it would be well to ask for student volunteers to work with the IK's, rather than criticize their efforts.

An interested alum,
ROD DENNISON

AN EX-SPEC . . .

Dear Editor:

You leveled an attack on the Intercollegiate Knights and their so-called failure to meet your standards.

It is a shame that so many people overlook the good and attack the bad in others. All the organizations on campus are secondary to their members' scholastic achievements. The Spectator is no exception.

It is also a shame that the Spectator's writing standards have ebbed. As a former "Spec" writer, I was disheartened at this editorial.

As for your paper, you are breaking down what SU has built in the past: friendliness, cooperation and Christian spirit.

It is too bad that what the editor lacks in sense she makes up for in nerve.

THE IK'S . . .

Dear Editor:

The IK's hold in high esteem the power of the Spec, SU's main line of communication. This feeling remains unaltered, though somewhat shaky, after the recent barrage from your editorial howitzer, entitled "Service." We realize you were attempting to make a better SU — which, incidentally, is our aim too. Perhaps for nothing better to write about, you jumped to the attack?

Our feelings were hurt. We felt like front-line infantrymen being shelled by misdirected coverage. We have always looked upon you as our friend; for some crazy reason we still do. Therefore, to secure things here on the front lines and insure no further casualties, pull in the cannons up in your Chieftain fortress: "We're on your side too."

The following apologia may assuage some our wounds and restore our prestige that was so completely flattened:

(1) No official deadline was set (unless by the Spec) for "Who's Who."

(2) The word "monopoly" was used with excruciating connotation. Perhaps "tradition" would be more accurate. There are many such "monopolies" as "Who's Who" on campus. It might not be a good idea to break these up, for over the long haul it would be detrimental to the few established traditions we cherish.

(3) Financial reports indicate "Who's Who" operates in the black. You said we incurred losses . . . shame on you! It is not our intention to make a huge profit. We still label "Who's Who" as a service.

(4) This service has been delayed through a series of unfortunate circumstances unplanned or un-IK-caused.

(5) We are not skyrocketing the price from 35 to 40 cents — we have no losses to cover. Incidentally, it costs 64 cents to print a copy of "Who's Who." Forty cents is not a bad idea!

Next time you have idle moments, for gosh sakes don't attack us — we are tired from moving chairs. And we might add, check all the facts or someone may get hurt, and unnecessarily so.

Your friends,
THE INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS.

A GIRL . . .

Dear Editor:

There are two sides to every story. I can not understand why you allowed the Spectator to sink to sloppy journalism exemplified in your criticism and humiliation of a service organization, the IK's. So they are late in the publication of "Who's Who"! You should realize that many times there are unforeseen delays.

DONNA SHARP

AND THE PRESIDENT

To the Editor:

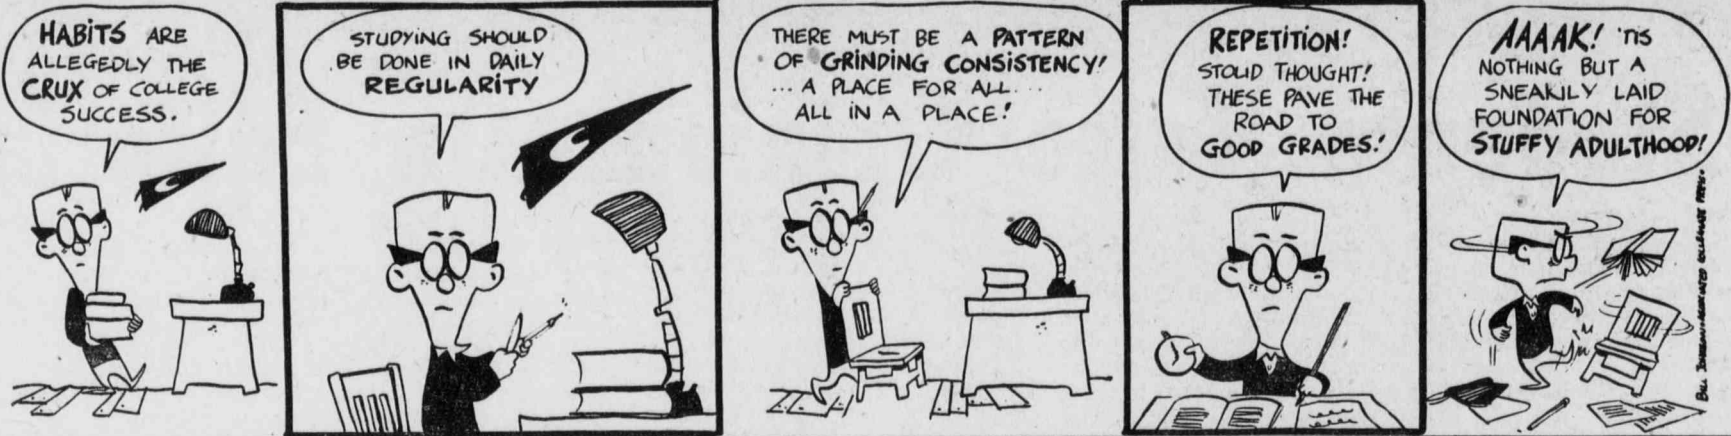

Congratulations! A resounding "Thank you!" from this office for raising the level of the Spectator from an uninteresting fact sheet and club notice bulletin to something that is being read for the first time by a great majority of the students.

Regarding a certain controversial editorial which appeared in last week's edition, I feel it was of great service to the entire student body. This editorial and any future ones of a similar nature will serve to keep those individuals of organizations entrusted each year with the same event "on their toes." The student body deserves the best service possible on this type of event. Such editorials will insure greater efficiency and quality in the future.

To those that criticized, and I understand there were a few, I suggest they avail themselves of the same free press by presenting their side of the story.

Sincerely,
MARK S. RULJANCICH,
President, Assoc. Students.

Mafia's Duane Zimbrick Hailed As SU's 'Athlete of the Week'

Duane Zimbrick of the Mafia intramural football team is the athlete of the week. Zimbrick's effort against the Panthers Friday earned the former Bellarmine athlete the dinner for two at Daversos. Duane graduated from Bellarmine of Tacoma four years ago. While there he played football and ran track.

This is Duane's last year at SU and upon graduating in January he hopes to receive a commission in the regular Army. Then he will leave for Georgia where he will train at the Fort Benning Infantry School.

Besides attending class, working eight hours a day for Safeway, and participating in the intramural program, Duane also cares for his family. He has been married to the former Sue Milnor, an SU graduate, for three years. They have a five-week-old baby boy and Duane has hopes that his son will be an athlete.

Zimbrick is also active in the Scabbard and Blade and the Jesuit honorary society, Alpha Sigma Nu.

Duane stated that he thinks that the intramural program has shown a vast improvement over the past years. He mentioned that the new jerseys and yard markers are evidence that thought and consideration have gone into the program, and that intramurals play a big part in the development of an individual's college career.

Pep Team Set For '58-'59

Six songleaders and four yell-leaders for the coming basketball season have been chosen.

Tryouts were held Oct. 27 and 28 in the gym and the judges were last year's cheerleaders.

Announcement of the final selections was made by Karen Romstead, last year's head cheerleader.

The songleaders are Kathy Burns, Susan Niederholzer, Claudia Young, Donna Jordan, Joanne Cicchetti and Nathalie Slagle.

Yell-leaders are Fritz Davis-court, Chuck Schmitz, Louie Caz-zetti and Jerry Jensen.

Elbow Benders Still in First Place

The league-leading Elbow Benders were knocked out of first place by losing the third game of the three-game series to the Three G's (Gill's Gutter Gang).

Don Yeowell, holder of the highest average of 180, led the Elbow Benders' losing cause. Behind Don in averages are: Mark Hanses, 177; Dave Freeman, 177; the Rev. Francis J. Logan, S.J., 169; and Sandy Sturrock, 169.

Leading the girls' averages is Judy McRea, with 163. Judy also had a 506 series, which makes her the highest scorer among the girls. Her scores were 199, 175 and 132 for the week.

Leading the men were Fred Youmans with a 214 and Mark Hanses with a 542 series.

The top five teams are: the Rolling Pins, with a 4-0 record; IGP's, 11-1; Elbow Benders, 11-1; Bears, 7-1; and the Blobs, 9-3.

Two new teams were added to the league: the undefeated Rolling Pins, who are the league leaders; and the Unassociated Students, who have yet to win.

THE LOST AND FOUND Department has been moved from the information booth to the Student Development Office, Lyons Hall, Room 164. Hours are from 12-3 p.m.

THE DRESS PARADE

In all my years of observing coed fashions—and I have been arrested many times—I have never seen such verve, such dash, such Je ne sais quoi as can be found in this year's styles!

I am particularly enchanted by the new "baby waist" dresses which so many of you girls are favoring this season. How demure you all look in your "baby waists"! How sweet! How innocent! How colorful when your housemother lifts you up and burps you after dinner!

Another trend that leaves me limp with rapture is the oversized handbag. Goodbye to dinky little purses that hold nothing at all! Hurrah for today's sensibly sized bag with plenty of room for your makeup, your pens and pencils, your shelter half, your Slinky toy, your MG, and your Marlboros.

Did I say Marlboros? Certainly I said Marlboros. What girl can consider herself in the van, in the swim, and in the know, if she doesn't smoke Marlboros? What man, for that matter. Do you want a filter that is truly new, genuinely advanced, but at the same time, does not rob you of the full flavor of first-rate tobacco? Then get Marlboro. Also get matches because the pleasure you derive from a Marlboro is necessarily limited if unlit.

To return to coed fashions, let us now discuss footwear. The popular flat shoe was introduced several years ago when it became obvious that girls were growing taller than boys. For a while the flat shoes kept the sexes in a state of uneasy balance, but today they will no longer serve. Now, even in flats, girls are towering over their dates, for the feminine growth rate has continued to rise with disturbing speed. In fact, it is now thought possible that we will see fifteen-foot girls in our lifetime.

But science is working on the problem, and I feel sure American know-how will find an answer. Meanwhile, a temporary measure is available—the reverse wedgie.

The reverse wedgie is simply a wedgie turned around. This tilts a girl backward at a 45 degree angle and cuts as much as three feet off her height. It is, of course, impossible to walk in this position unless you have support, so your date will have to keep his arm around your waist at all times. This will tire him out in fairly short order; therefore you must constantly give him encouragement. Keep looking up at him and batting your lashes and repeating in awed tones, "How strong you are, Shorty!"

Next we turn to hair styling. The hair-do this year is definitely the cloche-coif. One sees very few crew cuts or Irene Castle bobs, and the new Mohican cut seems not to have caught on at all. In fact, I saw only one girl with a Mohican—Rhodelle H. Sigafos, a sophomore of Bennington. Her classmates laughed and laughed at her, but it was Rhodelle who had the last laugh, for one night a dark, handsome stranger leaped from behind a birch and linked his arm in Rhodelle's and said, "I am Uncas, the last of the Mohicans—but I need not be the last, dear lady, if you will but be my wife." Today they are happily married and run a candied-apple stand near Macon, Ga., and have three little Mohicans named Patti, Maxine, and Laverne.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Uncas and to all of you who have discovered the pleasures of Marlboro and Marlboro's sister cigarette, non-filter Philip Morris, both made by the sponsors of this column.

Rules Set For Golf Tourney

Arrangements have been made and the procedure set down for the intramural golf ladder tournament. Five men students are participating thus far. Women students interested in the golf program are to contact Mr. Joseph Page, in Room 561 of the Pigott Building.

The five men students are, in order of their positions on the ladder: first, Paul Miller; Gary Haggard, Fred St. John, Bill McCarrach, Frank Keenan.

The rules are as follows:

A PLAYER MAY CHALLENGE no more than two rungs above.

IT IS THE RESPONSIBILITY of the challenger to contact the player he is challenging.

CHALLENGES MUST BE ACCEPTED and played within five days, including week ends. If not played, the player being challenged must forfeit.

WINNERS AND LOSERS EXCHANGE spots on the ladders, with the intervening player maintaining his position.

PLAYER IN TOP SPOT on Dec. 10, 1958, will be declared Intramural Golf Champion, provided he has won at least three matches, and has fewer defeats than victories. Otherwise, the player with the best win-loss record shall be declared the winner.

MATCHES CAN BE PLAYED on any course mutually agreed on, and will consist of 18 holes, match play. USGA rules will prevail, except when local rules apply.

MATCH RESULTS should be recorded officially, by the winner, with the director of intramural sports, within 48 hours after completion.

Ladder will be posted on the gym bulletin board and in each issue of the Spectator.

Cadets, Nooners, Mafia Lead In Football League Standings

By CHUCK SCHMITZ

In last Thursday's first intramural football game, the Nooners whipped the Bushers, 19-0. The first half was a tightly played contest, with neither team hitting pay dirt. But the second half, it was all Nooners.

Bob Siewarga intercepted a Busher aerial, setting up the first touchdown. Later in the period Larry McCaully raced 35 yards for the second Nooner score. Denny MacCillwayne converted both tries for extra points and also kicked a sparkling 16-yard field goal for the winners. As if this wasn't enough, the Nooners scored on a safety, thanks to their hard-hitting line. The outstanding player of the game was MacCillwayne, who scored five points with his educated toe.

The second clash on Thursday found the powerful Syndicate pitted against the boys from Bellarmine Hall. Quarterback Bob Ponto set up the lone tally of the game for the Syndicate on what could be termed a "freak play." Bob picked up a bad pass from center and somehow managed to hit end Bill Wall with a perfect 20-yard pass for the touchdown. The try for extra point was missed. The team from Bellarmine lost their only chance to score when Ponto intercepted a pass on the 7, halting a sustained Bellarmine drive.

In Friday's action the Mafia nipped the Panthers, 7-0; and the ROTC cadets skunked the Intercollegiate Knights, 12-0.

In the Mafia-Panther game neither team could muster a score in the first half. But the Mafia began to move at the start of the final stanza and scored with only 1:13 gone on the clock. The touchdown play was a pass from Greg Barlowe to end Joe Uhlman. Jack Wheelhouse dropkicked the extra point. End Duane Zimbrick played a tremendous game for the victors and was named Player of the Week by the intramural staff.

In the ROTC vs. Intercollegiate Knights game quarterback Bob Lydum wasted no time in plastering the defense with his accurate aeriels and, with 12 minutes gone, Bob hit halfback Skip Merideth in the end zone for the Cadets' first score. The try for point was missed.

In the second half Lydum again connected on a long aerial and this time Rick Starr was waiting in the end zone to snare the pass and another six points.

John Wagget again played a terrific game for the Knights but it was Lydum's passing and a stubborn Cadet defense that highlighted the contest.

Dr. Larson Appointed as Men's Honorary Moderator

Dr. James R. Larson, assistant professor of sociology, was recently appointed as moderator for the S.U. chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu, the national Jesuit honorary for men, Don Doub, president of Alpha Sigma Nu, said yesterday.

Dr. Larson was appointed by the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, president of Seattle University. Dr. Larson is replacing Rev. John A. Fitterer, S.J., dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Alpha Sigma Nu also announced officers for the school year. They are: president, Doub; vice president, Bill McMenamin; secretary, William Winsor; and treasurer, Leonard Overton.

The organization is comprised of two pledges for each of the University's four colleges, plus three appointees by Fr. Lemieux. Members are chosen by their outstanding scholarship, service, loyalty and leadership, Doub said.

Friday Deadline For Silver Scroll

Applications for Silver Scroll must be in this Friday, Celine Hulbert, Silver Scroll president, said yesterday. Applications are available in the Student Body office and may be returned there or to Miss Hulbert.

Silver Scroll, an upper division women's honorary, is open to junior and senior woman students. This organization is based on grades and activities of students.

Activities sponsored by the Silver Scroll are the President's Scholarship Tea and the Sadie Hawkins Tolo.

Silver Scroll officers this year are: president, Miss Hulbert; vice president, Rosemary Hebner; and treasurer, Shirley Anderson. Moderator is Mrs. Anita Yourglic, assistant professor of sociology.

GOP Hopeful To Speak Here

Mr. William B. Bantz, candidate for the United States Senate, will be here tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Chieftain Lounge for a Young Republican social hour.

According to YR president Franc Schuckardt, the entire student body is invited to meet and talk with Mr. Bantz.

General chairman of the social hour is Henrietta Stephens. Hostesses are Sue Vigil, Joanna Huff, Judy McRae, Gladys Shungnak, Teeny Worthington, Elsa Gularte and Elaine Hata.

Hosts are Ron Ottavelli, Bill Hartinger, Franc Schuckardt, Don Stapleton and Tom Strang. Joe Demo is in charge of music and Clara Anne Harvey is handling invitations.

ROSEMARY McAULIFFE, freshman, is still in Nelem Memorial Hospital in North Bend, recovering from a car accident of Oct. 4. Her condition is very satisfactory and she will be put in a body cast soon, according to a Nelem Hospital attendant.

Miss Agnes E. Reilly, dean of women, urges students to send cards to cheer Rosemary and to help hasten her recovery. Visitors are allowed, but no more than two at a time.

Philosophy Lecture To Favor Free Will

Next Tuesday at 8:10 p.m. in the Pigott Auditorium, Dr. A. I. Melden, Professor of Philosophy at the University of Washington, will lecture on "Freedom and an Analysis of Responsible Action."

The lecture, sponsored by the Philosophy Club, is open to all students and their friends. A donation of 25c is requested on admission in order to remunerate the lecturer for his time and trouble.

As Rev. J. Gerard Bussy, S.J., Assistant Professor of Philosophy, understands "Dr. Melden used to maintain that the question of free will in ethics is a metaphysical matter of no real importance. He has since decided that the whole question of freedom is essential to ethics, and partly under the influence of the Oxford philosophers, has developed his own theory about the nature of a free act for which a man is to be held responsible."

JOURNALISM MEETING

Students interested in taking a journalism course in the winter or spring quarters will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in the Chieftain lounge, the Rev. Francis J. Greene, S.J., announced yesterday.

Fr. Greene and Mr. John Talevich say they hope to work out a schedule of courses which the students want.
