Colombo Conference Delegate Speaks Friday

N. C. Sen Gupta, head of the India delegation to the Colombo Conference, will speak at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the Pigott Auditorium. His topic will be, "The Colombo Conference and What It Hopes To Accomplish."

MR. JAMES V. METCALFE has arranged the event in cooperation with the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and the Colombo Conference host committee. Mr. Metcalfe urges C & F students to attend this lecture, as the conference is aimed particularly at commercial problems of Pacific Rim countries. Although general excuse from classes will not be authorized, individual classes may be dismissed at the teachers' discretion.

Mr. Sen Gupta is at present serving the government of India as joint secretary of the Ministry of Finance in the Department of Economic Affairs. A graduate (economics) of Calcutta University, he has worked in Indian government since 1941 in Civil Service, General Administration, the Department of Civil Supplies, and the Ministry of Refugee Rehabilitation.

According to Mr. Metcalfe, he is an important figure at the conference, since his is one of the biggest and most influential delegations.

THE COLOMBO CONFERENCE, being held at the Olympic Hotel from Oct. 20 to Nov. 14, is a gathering of delegates from 21 countries in South and Southeast Asia, plus the United States and Great Britain. The conclave is discussing economic problems facing these Pacific Rim countries.

Among the distinguished guests attending the conference are: Secretary of State John Foster Dulles; Howard Beale, ambassador from Australia; Dr. Subandrio, minister of foreign affairs for Indonesia; Walter Nash, prime minister of New Zealand; and Mohammed Ali, ambassador from Pakistan.

REPORTS FROM the White House indicate that President Eisenhower "has tentatively" accepted an invitation to speak before the delegates on Monday.

SILVER SCROLL PRESIDENT (l., seated) Celine Hulbert and (r.) moderator Miss Anita Yourglich discuss final plans for the second annual President's Scholarship Tea with Alpha Sigma Nu adviser (l., standing) Dr. Robert Larson and (r.) president Don Doub. The tea is Sunday in the Chieftain Lounge from 2 to 4 p.m. Upperclass students with a cumulative grade point of 3.3 and entering freshmen with 3.5 are invited.

Upper Division Women's Honorary Selects Six Fall Quarter Pledges

Silver Scroll, upper division women's honorary, has selected its fall pledges, president Celine Hulbert said yesterday. Membership is based on scholarship and activities.

Fr. McGoldrick To Talk for Fund

The Rev. James B. McGoldrick, S.J., will speak on "Man's Quest for Happiness," at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 14, in the Chieftain Lounge. Proceeds will go to the Post-Intelligencer's Christmas fund. The fund is used to buy presents for needy children.

Shirley Anderson and Janice Morgan will provide the musical entertainment. Coffee will be served downstairs following the program.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. A. Gordon Norris.

The two senior pledges are Michele Mulherin, a psychology major from Hollywood, Calif., and Patricia McNulty, an education major from Seattle.

The four junior pledges are Anne Gribbon, an education major from Seattle; Patricia Pavelka, from Van Nuys, Calif., majoring in education; Frances Farrell, an English major from Sacramento, Calif.; and Gail Delworth, an English major from Long Beach, Calif.

The annual Sadie Hawkins Tolo is scheduled for Nov. 21 at the Seattle Tennis Club. General co-chairmen of the girl-ask-boy dance are pledges Michele Mulherin and Pat McNulty.

Homecoming Theme, Elections Decided

"Evergreen Reign" has been selected as the overall theme of SU's 1958 Homecoming Week, Jan. 25-31, co-chairmen Denny Johnson and Rosemary Hebner announced today. At the same time, the two co-chairmen released a schedule of dates and times regarding nominations for the Homecoming Court.

CHOSEN BY THE HEADS of the various Homecoming committees, "Evergreen Reign" emphasizes the scenic and recreational attractions of the forests of Washington, the "Evergreen State."

Nominations for the Homecoming Court will be held on Nov. 7 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., in the Chieftain. Tables will be set up at which any male student may nominate any girl from his own class. Then, on Nov. 14, primary elections in the Chieftain and the LA Building will determine the 20 semi-finalists, five girls from each class, whose names will be announced in the Nov. 20 issue of the Spectator.

THESE 20 SEMI-FINALISTS will ride in special cars in the preseason Pep Rally parade, Dec. 1, and will be introduced during halftime ceremonies at the Chieftains' opening game on Dec. 2.

Final elections, again in the Chieftain and the LA Building, are scheduled for Dec. 3. Two winners will be chosen from each of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior Classes, and three from the Senior Class. These winners will be announced at the Variety Show, Dec. 5.

ELECTIONS CO-CHAIRMEN Larry Faulk and Brenda McGroarty stated that, according to the rules of election, "Only men are allowed to vote in the nominations and the primaries — girls may vote in the final election, but not before."

New Program to Seek Student Say on Academic Standards

A program whereby students can evaluate the academic aspect of Seattle University was the subject of a meeting of the ASSU officers and the Rev. John E. Gurr,

Engineering Feet:

'Trick or Treet?'

Mystery still shrouds the 6x21x-14-inch concrete slab resting by the entrance to the Engineering Building since Saturday morning.

Dean Edward W. Kimbark had no idea where the stone came from.

Edward J. Baldinger, head of Civil Engineering, guessed the stone and its message was a by-product of an Oct. 29 lab on wet concrete. Mr. Baldinger studied the stone Tuesday. "I believe it is new," he said, "because it still has a grayish color. It looks as if the letters were pressed by hand into wet concrete."

A Comp. I instructor is looking for the Halloween engineer. Reason: the sculptor wrote, "Trick or Treet."

Pledge Envelopes To Be Returned

Thus far $2,300 has been collected by Student Development through the assembly and letters to those not present at the assembly. The money to be given to the annual United Good Neighbors drive is determined by the Development treasury funds.

Last year the UGN drive on campus reached 153 per cent of its goal. Development drive treasurer Nancy English stated yesterday that "all pledge envelopes should be returned as soon as possible" so that the amount to be given to UGN may be decided.

S.J., academic vice president.

This meeting, held yesterday, established the groundwork for the program. As soon as definite steps are formulated they will be announced, said Mark Ruljancich, ASSU president.

This program is part of the overall preparations for the official visit next October of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.

The purpose of the visit is re-accreditation, according to Fr. Gurr, chairman of the general committee for self-evaluation.

The Northwest Association is a voluntary, representative body of public and private schools of the Western United States and Alaska.

Dorm Residents Hold Cider Social

A Cider-Sippin' Social will be held Monday from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., for dorm residents only. Meal tickets are required for admission. There is no charge.

According to Miss Agnes E. Reilly, dean of women, Marycrest has 1 a.m. leave. Social committee chairmen Pat Pavelka and Jerry Ley stated that school clothes will be worn.

Cider and doughnuts will be served. Hi-fi music for dancing is scheduled and group singing and entertainment are also planned.

Senate Ups Frosh GPA For Holding Class Office

Candidates intending to run for Freshman Class offices must have a grade point of 2.5 from high school.

This was a part of the motion made by Senator Ann Urbano at the sixth meeting of the student senate last Sunday night.

The entire motion as amended by Senator Greg Lowe read: (a) the minimum grade point for Freshman Class officers shall be 2.5; (b) an election rally for the purpose of acquainting voters with candidates shall be held one week prior to the elections.

New business included the acceptance of the constitution and by-laws of the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

A bill passed by the senate Oct. 27, stating that Town Girls be able to hold their dance on the same night as the Interhall Formal, was vetoed by ASSU president Mark Ruljancich. The senate let the veto stand.

The four purposes of this accreditation are:

1. To describe characteristics of colleges worthy of recognition as institutions of higher learning.

2. To evaluate the worth of institutions, giving due consideration to their objectives.

3. To serve individual institutions as a guide in inter-institutional relationships.

4. To guide prospective students in the choice of a college—one that meets their needs and satisfies standards under policy efficiency.

Father Gurr stressed the part students should play prior to the association's visit.

"This will be the culmination of a process begun in 1954 and is an all-university effort."

"I am happy with the spirit of cooperation and mutual understanding that exists between our faculty and students and I am sure that student contribution to our institutional analysis and self-evaluation will be most valuable."

Women's Retreat Open

There is still one retreat for women open on Nov. 8 and 9, according to the office of the student chaplain, the Rev. Louis A. Sauvain, S.J.

Applications must be submitted by 4:30 p.m. Thursday. Additional information may be had or applications may be made at the offices of the dean of women, the Sodality, or Fr. Sauvain.

Two Movies This Week

"Battle Hymn," starring Rock Hudson, will be shown Sunday in Pigott Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Gamma Sigma Alpha, journalism honorary, is sponsoring this movie. Admission is 35 cents with student body card.

The movie is in technicolor and cinemascope.

Proceeds from the movie will go toward sponsoring a literary contest in spring quarter.

Tuesday night "Red Shoes," starring prima ballerina Moira Shearer, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in Pigott for admission price of 25 cents.

The Cultural Committee is sponsoring this Academy Award-winning show which is in technicolor.

Editorial:

To speak or not to speak..

Our thanks to the five who wrote opinions differing from ours about the IK's "Who's Who." We know that flattery is not a sign of friendship, but that sincere criticism may be.

We have not changed our opinion. But we do feel that the well expressed points in the letters on the student directory missed the fundamental issues. We have some familiarity with publication problems, and we would not criticize unless we felt that the problems could be solved in a shorter time by a more determined and organized effort.

We appreciate the letters to the Spectator and hope to profit by them. We are worried, however, about the attitude implied in some. That attitude seemed to be that the newspaper should never criticize a student group, but should only print "nice" things.

A paper that shuts its presses to poor situations is not living up to its responsibilities to its readers. A paper that stands firmly for or against something may not always be "nice," but chances are it will be honest.

Those who speak of criticism as sloppy journalism or as a sign of ebbing writing standards indicate a misunderstanding of journalistic responsibility. To disagree is one's privilege. To silence criticism is dictatorial.

A writer complaining about the present income tax structure is not for that reason anti-American, anti-Republican, anti-everything for which America stands. An editorial against the present handling of "Who's Who" is not an attack on SU, on SU's traditions or on the IK's.

Whether the editorial was right or wrong is a matter of opinion. A point of greater importance is that the paper staff and the student body realize the newspaper must speak when it feels the good of the student body is concerned.

Opinions differing from those of the staff will also be printed — for the truth will be more apparent when both sides can be studied and argued — not suppressed.

Bigger and Better Stumpers:

Don't Laugh, They May Be In Tomorrow's Mid-Term

The type of test that a teacher gives varies almost as much as teachers' personalities. But there are a few general categories that seem to pop up on tests time after time. Here are a few which may be recognizable:

THEOLOGY (multiple multiple choice — choose three)

If the priest's hair is parted on the left side and he has a cowlick in the back he:

- a) may b) may not
- a) validly b) invalidly
- a) licitly b) illicitly administer holy communion to a Carmelite during retreat.

ENGLISH: (essay)

"Well, my lord."

"Farewell!"

Explain in a 300-word essay the direct bearing on the plot, the play in which these lines are found, by whom they were spoken, the act, scene and line numbers.

ENGINEERING:

Compute the amount of water evaporated from the Pacific Ocean

in an hour. (Hint: Find the average temperature difference first.)

PHILOSOPHY:

In no more than three brief sentences summarize St. Thomas' position on freedom of the will.

C & F:

How long would it take the government to pay off the national debt at the rate of .0934 per day with an interest rate of 36.8%?

EDUCATION:

Construct from the materials you have at hand (tissue paper, two toothpicks, popsicle stick and glue) a project that would be of interest to third-grade children during an atomic attack.

HISTORY:

Trace the development of Christianity. (Make it BRIEF!!!)

SCIENCE:

Trace an ion of salt through a frog's digestive system. (Include Latin names of all parts involved, with correct spelling.)

PSYCHOLOGY:

Are you unhappy?

Radiation Offers Great Possibilities

Nuclear reactors will be everywhere within 20 years, the Rev. Paul P. Luger, S.J., predicted yesterday.

Father Luger, assistant professor of physics, returned this week after a government-paid institute at a national testing center near Idaho Falls.

"The possibilities of reactor power," he said, "and the potentials of radiation in science are almost unlimited."

The SU physics teacher was one of 50 professors invited from colleges throughout the Pacific Northwest to witness the advances in nuclear research and to study the need for health physicists.

Fr. Luger explained that there is bound to be some radiation wherever a reactor is at work. He said that as the reactors are used more widely, the need for trained health physicists to protect workers and people in the vicinity increases.

"It is likely," he said, "that towns may soon be using reactors to generate electricity."

He pointed out that as more reactors are used there will be an increasing demand for nuclear health physicists.

He said the government offers grants each year for students showing promise in this field. He has information for anyone interested.

Fr. Luger spent the summer of 1948 studying at the Oak Ridge Institute for Nuclear Research.

'Togetherness' Revisited

By M. F. ADAIR

When David Riesman's book, The Lonely Crowd, first came out it stirred quite a ripple in our intellectual cesspools. It was the first time a pedagogue had formally acknowledged and studied the network of vices our 100 per centers refer to as "The American Way of Life." With monotonous mountains of examples the normal American is shown exercising less freedom than the convict on his rockpile.

Riesman ascribes the mediocrity of the national scene to "other directedness," which is simply the habit of aping your neighbor. With this superficial analysis, he has taken his intellectual choo-choo onto the wrong track and may now be seen guiding a chain of cattle-cars full of liberals, "beats," and other malcontents toward North Beach, Greenwich Village, and various whistle-stops along the way.

THE REAL CAUSE lies deep beneath the crust. We are unsure of the world we live in. Some clown in the Pentagon, while fumbling for a light switch, could blast this globe to the cosmos. None of us know if our political soothsayers will take the Faubus posture and decide to blow our world into two separate but equal pieces. We have taken to crowding in uneasy groups and imitating people we dislike.

Ask Joe Yankee about his next-door neighbor. He will tell you he is an anonymous ass, a U.N. supporter, a disciple of the New Thought, a TV fan, and a vegetable. Joe's neighbor will tell you the same thing about

SU Freshman Figure Skater To Solo in Iceparade Show

By PAT MONAHAN

The silver blades of Janet Borrevik's ice skates will glide over the ice to the tune of "Lady of Spain" as she skates a leading role in Seattle's Iceparade Show, to be held in the Civic Auditorium on Nov. 14, 15 and 16.

Janet, a Seattle University freshman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Borrevik of West Seattle. She lives at Marycrest Hall.

"I chose Seattle U. because it is a good school and because, by living in Seattle, I would still be able to skate," the holder of the Northwest Junior Championships, the Seattle Skating Club Senior Ladies' Championship, and the Shirley Irene Lander Artistic Skating Award explained.

As a champion skater, Janet has traveled to many places to appear in competition. Spokane, Tacoma, Portland, Los Angeles, Berkeley and Canada have been visited by this pretty coed. While at Sun Valley, Idaho, Janet participated in its annual ice show.

A graduate of Foster High School in West Seattle, Janet has been skating for nine years. Her first trip to the ice was with a neighbor. Although neither of her parents skate, Janet says that her little sister loves the sport, too.

Besides keeping up with regular academic activities, Sodality, Pep Club and Mu Sigma, Janet still must find time to practice.

"In high school I skated every morning before classes, but that's impossible here at college. Now I practice Monday, Wednesday and Friday in the afternoons at the Civic Ice Arena," she explains. "Lately all my practice hours are concentrated on perfecting my number for the Iceparade." Janet is a soloist.

This is not her first appearance in the Iceparade, for she has been a participant since she began to skate. The show, under the sponsorship of the Seattle and King County Councils of Parents and Teachers, the Catholic Mothers' Clubs and the Seattle Skating Club, is under the sanction of the United States Figure Skating Association. All proceeds of the show are used for the support of needy children through the Parent-Teacher Child Welfare Fund and the "P.-I." Christmas Fund.

"A lot of time has been spent to make this seventh annual Iceparade a success, so I hope a lot of SU students will attend."

After the Iceparade is over this busy coed plans to spend two months in practice for her eighth test and gold medal. This is the highest award in skating skill. Janet will prepare 12 figures and a four-minute free-skating program for four expert judges.

In the meantime she will be kept busy doing history, sociology, comp and theology here at school.

Siewarga Cops Pizza Dinner With Winning Touchdowns

If the spirit shown by Bob Siewarga, quarterback of the Bushers, is typical throughout the league, the purpose of the program is being realized. The Athlete of the Week has been playing with a loser for the entire season.

Although their games have been close, the Bushers have always come off the field on the wrong end of the score. To some this could (and has) prove to be disheartening, but Bob and his teammates have not been affected.

Bob Lydum and the ROTC found this out when they played the Bushers and were beaten. Siewarga's passing is the chief reason he will receive the dinner for two at Daverso's. During the season he has thrown four touchdown aeriels. The pass that beat the ROTC team traveled for 90 yards.

Bob is originally from Perth Amboy, N. J. While attending St. Mary's he played basketball and baseball and also ran track. He came West to play basketball and baseball. Last year he played with the varsity basketball team and he hopes to turn out for Eddie O'Brien's varsity baseball team.

Bob likes the intramural program and enjoys the competition that it offers. He also said that the friendliness of the students impressed him.

Cazzetta Feels Chieftains High Despite NCAA Tournament Ban

By JIM MCGUIRE

"Chieftains' keynote will be based on unity," was how head coach Vince Cazzetta expressed his views for the 1958-1959 hoop season.

ALTHOUGH THE CHIEFS are on probation for two years, thus barring them from all tournament play, the attitude of the players, along with their morale, is extremely high. The team is working well and progressing well, Mr. Cazzetta added.

Since the O'Brien brothers brought big-time basketball to SU, basketball has been growing steadily. "We always are trying to improve and field the best team," explained Cazzetta, referring to the future of the team. Each practice a different five play together, as Seattle's purpose is to be able to field as strong a bench as the starting five.

"IS ELGIN BAYLOR'S loss a big handicap and would Charley Brown be his successor?" Mr. Cazzetta was asked. "We feel Baylor was the greatest basketball player in the country, also we feel we have a great bunch of guys this year and we don't want to sell them short, as they all will be Baylor's successors."

The 1958-1959 basketball schedule has 28 games on tap, covering the East, West, North and even Honolulu. The rankings are not out as yet but "Seattle will be playing the games as they come, one at a time, even if we are rated high," stated the coach. "We feel this will be the toughest schedule the Chieftains ever faced," said Mr. Cazzetta.

SPEAKING ABOUT the floor play, Mr. Cazzetta said, "Seattle's offense and defense will be multiple and we will try and get the most out of each player. Defense will be a collapsing one with a half-court press.

The starting five have not been named but Mr. Cazzetta has been working with Tim Cousins in the pivot, a fine rebounder and a good shot; Don Ogorek on the back line as a forward; Jerry Frizzell as all-around player; Francis Saunders, one of the finest outside shots; and Charley Brown, one of the best ballplayers in the country.

ALL ARE NCAA veterans of tournament play, with the exception of Cousins. Clair Markey, John O'Brien, Don Piasecki, John Kootnekoff, Lloyd Murphy and Charlie Karach are in the running as guards. Jim Coleman is fighting for the post position and is the most improved ballplayer on the club. Jake Stepan will be seeing action, along with Bob Grundig.

ANYONE FOR FOOTBALL?

When Pancho Sigafoos, sophomore, pale and sensitive, first saw Willa Ludowic, freshman, lithe as a hazel wand and rosy as the dawn, he hemmed not; neither did he haw. "I adore you," he said without preliminary.

"Thanks, hey," said Willa, flinging her apron over her face modestly. "What position do you play?"

"Position?" said Pancho, looking at her askance. (The askance is a ligament just behind the ear.)

"On the football team," said Willa.

"Football!" sneered Pancho, his young lip curling. "Football is violence, and violence is the death of the mind. I am not a football player. I am a poet!"

"So long, buster," said Willa.

"Wait!" cried Pancho, clutching her damask forearm.

She placed a foot on his pelvis and wrenched herself free. "I only go with football players," she said, and walked, shimmering, into the gathering dusk.

Pancho went to his room and lit a cigarette and pondered his dread dilemma. What kind of cigarette did Pancho light? Why, Philip Morris, of corris!

Philip Morris is always welcome, but never more than when you are sore beset. When a fellow needs a friend, when the heart is dull and the blood runs like sorghum, then, then above all, is the time for the mildness, the serenity, that only Philip Morris can supply.

Pancho Sigafoos, his broken psyche welded, his fevered brow cooled, his synapses restored, after smoking a fine Philip Morris, came to a decision. Though he was a bit small for football (an even four feet) and somewhat overweight (427 pounds), he tried out for the team—and tried out with such grit and gumption that he made it.

Pancho's college opened the season against the Manhattan School of Mines, always a mettlesome foe, but strengthened this year by four exchange students from Gibraltar who had been suckled by she-apes. By the middle of the second quarter the Miners had wrought such havoc upon Pancho's team that there was nobody left on the bench but Pancho. And when the quarterback was sent to the infirmary with his head driven straight down into his esophagus, the coach had no choice but to put Pancho in.

Pancho's teammates were not conspicuously cheered as the little fellow took his place in the huddle.

"Gentleman," said Pancho, "some of you may regard poetry as sissy stuff, but now in our most trying hour, let us hark to these words from Paradise Lost: 'All is not lost; the unconquerable will and study of revenge, immortal hate, and courage never to submit or yield!'"

So stirred was Pancho's team by this fiery exhortation that they threw themselves into the fray with utter abandon. As a consequence, the entire squad was hospitalized before the half. The college was forced to drop football. Willa Ludowic, not having any football players to choose from, took up with Pancho and soon discovered the beauty of his soul. Today they are seen everywhere—dancing, holding hands, nuzzling, smoking.

Smoking what? Philip Morris, of corris!

Registrar Sets Winter Sign-Up

Seniors may register for the winter quarter on Jan. 5 or 6, Miss Mary Alice Lee said yesterday.

The registrar said juniors must register in the morning, Jan. 5, and sophomores in the afternoon, Jan. 5. Freshmen from A to L must register in the afternoon, Jan. 6. Other freshmen, new students, graduate and special students must register in the morning, Jan. 6, she said.

"Each student must register in person," Miss Lee said.

She added that no students may register early except those working for the registrar or students volunteers from the IK's, Spurs and A Phi O's.

The registrar mentioned that late registration fees will be charged on and after Jan. 7.

Sophomore Named AWS Girl of Month

Judy Lawler, sophomore education major from San Francisco, has been named AWS Girl of the Month for November. She was nominated by the third floor of Marycrest, Caroline Hall, for her work as hall president.

Judy is also a member of the Spurs and the Sodality. She was a delegate to the Leadership Conference this year.

Presentation of the AWS bracelet and announcement of the award was made by Jo Ann Arsenault, AWS vice president.

A Phi O Pledges End 'Bussing'

The Alpha Phi Omega pledge class "Bus Your Dishes" Project ends today. John Edwards, vice president in charge of pledges, has been in charge of the program.

Sunday, the pledges will wash the cannons in Woodland Park.

CCD-Instructed Children Make First Communion

Few witnessed SU's most impressive All Saints' Day ceremony. At 10:30 a.m. Saturday, in the tiny student chapel, four mentally or physically handicapped children made their First Communion.

"It was an inspirational experience for me as a priest," said the Rev. Francis J. Lindekugel, S.J., "to see what our girls had done." The director of the CCD unit here explained that some of the students had been working eight months with the handicapped children.

Fr. Lindekugel pointed out that each child is taught individually. The student teachers meet for half an hour to learn more methods, and then each teacher works with a single child for another hour every Saturday, he said.

"Some of the children can't speak," he said.

Mary Watson, who graduated last spring, took three courses in the summer on methods for teaching these children. Miss Watson in turn trains the student-teachers in the Saturday morning sessions.

OLE!

A meeting of students interested in forming a Spanish Club will be held on Nov. 12 at 8 p.m. in the Chieftain Lounge. All students are welcome, according to Don Daub.

Engineers Test Boeing Project

The Engineering Department has undertaken two experiments for the government, under contract with the Air Force and the Army Ordnance Department.

Dr. Donald K. Reynolds, head of the Electrical Engineering Department, is supervising the construction of a microwave antenna, called "The Super Yagi" which is now undergoing tests at Boeing's.

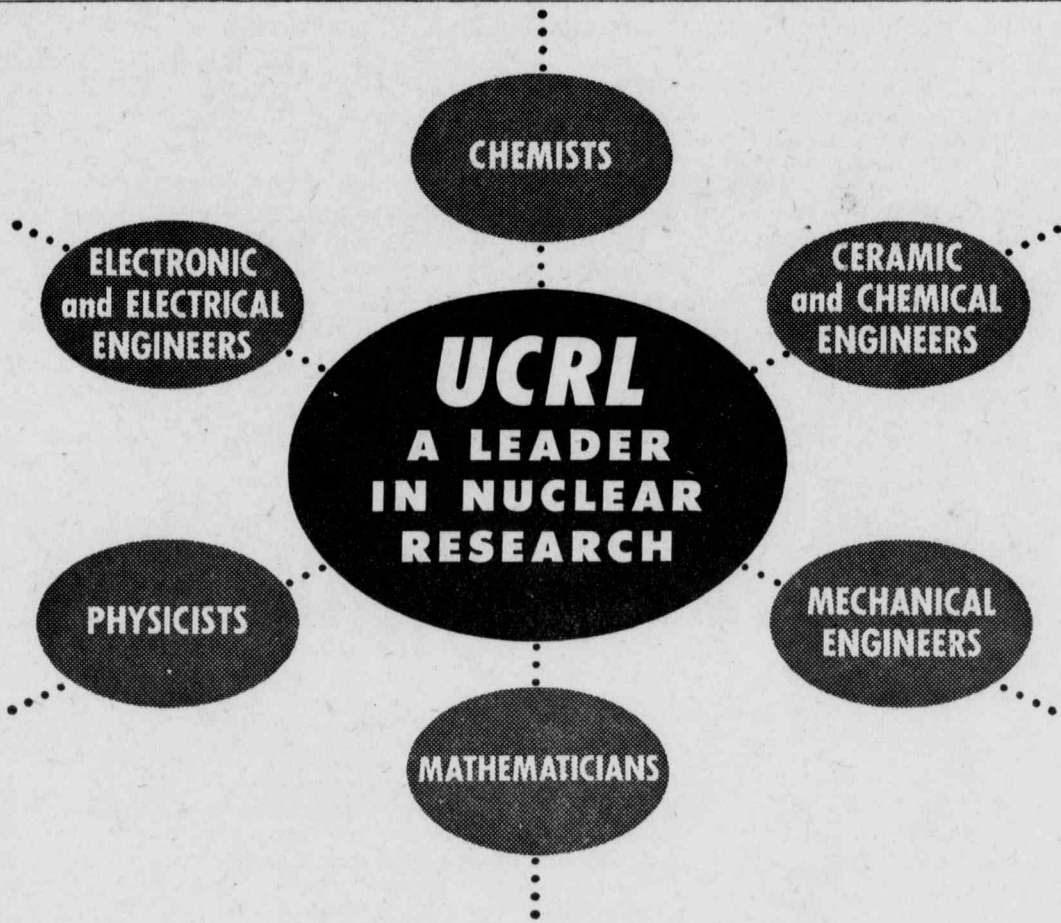

Dr. Reynolds previously did work in Brazil on this same project.

The Mechanical Engineering Department, under the supervision of Harry Majors, Jr., is testing for the Army the strength and endurance of the metal, titanium, under combined stresses. Titanium is believed to contain the qualities necessary for its use in high-velocity jets and missiles.

Majors returned this week from Cleveland, where he made a report to the American Society of Metals on the progress of the experiment.

Three new rooms and a fourth nearing completion have been added to the Engineering Building to accommodate the new experiment.

J2X 1952 ALLARD is admired by (l.) Bill McMenamin and (r.) Clayton Beaulaurier.

1952 English Allard Features U. S. Parts

Owner of the red J2X 1952 Allard parked on campus is Mike Manka, a senior in engineering.

The Allard is made in England. Its color is Ferrari red. The engine, stock 1954 Chrysler. The car came as a body and frame from England and cost $5,000. Mike bought it second-hand. The former owner put $10,000 into the car and raced it in Mexico.

A feature of the J2X is that the wheels are suspended independently. The suspension is the secret of the speed of the Allard. There are Jaguar brakes and a standard Lincoln transmission. The body is made of aluminum. This car has a swing axle and dandionne rear end. It is made of almost all American parts.

The car is the only one of its kind in the Northwest. There were only 150 of these models ever made. The Allard races in the Class 13 Modified, which is the biggest sports car racing class existing. It has been timed up to 160 miles an hour. It can go up to 115 on a standard quarter-mile.

As for the future, Mike plans to race at Shelton during the summer.

Rolling Pins Set Pace IGP's, Benders Next

The Rolling Pins, only around for two weeks, "stuck in the back door" and took over first place in the Seattle University Bowling League after the IGP's and Elbow Benders, their closest contenders, met determined opposition last week and dropped down a notch. The Rolling Pins ran their record to 8-0 with a sweep over the Chemical Engineers.

The IGP's squeaked past the red-hot Intercollegiate Knights, three games to one. The second game was saved by the "clutch" bowling of the Rev. Robert Rebhahn, S.J., the IGP anchor man. Mark Hanses helped the cause with a high for the week, a 540 series and a 214 game. The IGP's are now 14-2.

The Elbow Benders met disaster in the form of Toulouse's Terrors, who took the Benders, 3-1. While the Terrors dropped their foes to third the Blobs, steadily moving along, surged into a tie with the Elbow Benders. Each team is 12-4, going into today's play.

In other action last Thursday, the Unknowns (11-5) moved into fourth spot by knocking off the once mighty Bears, three games to one. The Bears, second a week ago, dropped to fifth and now stand at 8-4.

After the top six, the standing becomes jumbled as the other dozen teams fight for a chance to gain the "upper echelon." Main contenders for a quick rise are the Holy Rollers (8½-7½), returning to their winning ways last week after a two-week period in which the Jesuits could win but once.

Today's play highlights the Rolling Pins and the IKs, with the rest of the league as follows:

Unasstd. Stdts.	vs.	IGPs
3 Hits and Miss	vs.	Elbow Bdrs.
Holy Rollers	vs.	Blobs
Unknowns	vs.	4 Horsemen
Bears	vs.	Bobbi Pins
3 G's	vs.	Guys & Dolls
Les Girls	vs.	Toulouse Ters.
Chem. Engrs.	vs.	4 Freshmen

TENNIS LADDER RULES DECIDED

Rules and procedures have been set up for the intramural tennis ladder tournament. Those who are interested are to contact Mr. Woodward in Room 561 of the Pigott Building.

Thirteen students have signed up so far. The men are, in order on the ladder: Harvey Leach, Ray Boudreaux, Bill Wall, B. N. Marshall, Paul Miller and Stan Strehery. The women are Mary Malloy, Mary Kay Prentice, Joan Pendergast, Pat McNulty, Ellie Atwood, Teeny Worthington and Laura Haban.

Favorites Win In Intramurals

Benny Douvall led the Mafia football team to a 20-0 victory over Bellarmine Hall in last Thursday's intramural football league play.

Mafia's first touchdown came on a 50-yard run by Benny Douvall. The next score for Mafia came on a safety when Wally Flannery made a tag on a Bellarmine player in the end zone.

In the second game Thursday the ROTC lost to the Nooners, 14-0. The first score came on an interception by Ceccarelli. Dennis McElwain kicked the extra point. Nooners scored again on a pass from Dick Stricklin to McElwain.

Friday, the Knights squeaked out a 14-12 victory over the Bushers. The winning margin proved to be a safety.

John Waggett ran a 50-yard jaunt for a touchdown for the Knights. Then Bob Siewarga, of the Bushers, this week's Intramural Athlete of the Week, passed 60 yards to Pat Molitor to hit paydirt.

The Syndicate, in the second game on Friday, dropped the Panthers.

Schedule:

Thursday, Nov. 6:

First game: Mafia vs. Deckers.

Second game: ROTC vs. Off-Campus.

Friday, Nov. 7:

First game: Knights vs. Nooners.

Second game: Panthers vs. Bellarmine.

Do You Think for Yourself? (THESE QUESTIONS WILL TELL YOU! *)

1. Do you find going "off the beaten track" on a trip (A) interesting and constructive, or (B) merely inconvenient?

A ☐ B ☐

5. When writing a letter applying for a job, would you try to make it (A) original and off-beat, or (B) factual and concise?

A ☐ B ☐

2. In a heated discussion would you rather (A) be the "moderator," or (B) jump in on a side using any argument to win?

A ☐ B ☐

6. If you were getting furniture for a room, would you look first for (A) something comfortable, or (B) something colorful and unusual?

A ☐ B ☐

3. Before making a complex decision, is your first move (A) to marshal the facts, or (B) to ask the advice of a respected friend?

A ☐ B ☐

7. Would you prefer a job (A) in an old established firm offering security, or (B) a small company which could expand rapidly?

A ☐ B ☐

4. Do you (A) try to figure out ahead what each day will bring, or (B) face problems as they come along?

A ☐ B ☐

8. Would you rather be known as a person who (A) works well with others, or (B) accepts responsibility on his own?

A ☐ B ☐

9. When you step up to a cigarette counter, are you (A) confused by all the conflicting filter claims you've seen, or (B) sure of what you want because you've thought things through?

A ☐ B ☐

You will notice that men and women who think for themselves usually choose VICEROY. Why? Because they've thought it through—they know what they want in a filter cigarette. And VICEROY gives it to them: a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

More Shelf Space Added to Library

The whirl of the new electric pencil-sharpener in the library is only a slight indication of the great changes that were made this past summer.

Five new stack and storage rooms totaling 1,200 sq. ft. of floor space and 775 new shelves have been acquired. This will give adequate space for four years' expansion, at the present rate of 4,000 volumes per year, Fr. Conway, the librarian, estimated.

Two rooms in the basement of Loyola Hall, each with an 8,000-volume capacity, are being used for storage of periodicals and volumes not in immediate demand.

Classrooms 323 and 324, adjacent to the library, are being used for a stack room and a combination office for Mrs. Spencer, the catalogian, and the bindery.

To facilitate greater efficiency, the circulation staff was given a work center with separate files and filing system, and two extra telephones were added which may be used as an intercom system.
