Filing Period for Freshmen Elections Starts Wednesday

Elections for Freshman Class officers will be held December 5. Any qualified freshman may file for office between Nov. 20 and 25 by registering on the ASSU bulletin board.

Offices open include president, vice president and secretary-treasurer. Also open are positions for five non-voting delegates to the student senate. All candidates must have a high school cumulative grade point of 2.5 or more.

According to elections coordinator Jim Parry, an election rally will be held Nov. 26 to introduce candidates and their platforms to the student body. Further details concerning this rally will be published in a later issue of the Spectator.

Information about the election and candidate campaigning may be obtained from any member of the election board. They are: Mary Helen VanDerhoef, Mary Keough, Delores Vidis and Pat Beaton.

Silver Scroll Tolo At Tennis Club

The Silver Scroll Sadie Hawkins Tolo is Nov. 21 at the Seattle Tennis Club. General co-chairmen are Patricia McNulty and Michele Mulherin.

Al Rinaldi and the Vagabonds will provide the music. This is the first time a school band has played for an off-campus function, according to the co-chairmen.

The Vagabonds are under the direction of Al Rinaldi. Al will be at the piano; Doug McFayden, drums; Gene Lohr, bass; Herb Spencer, tenor saxophone; Jerry Erickson, trumpet. Their last engagement was at the New Washington Hotel.

Admission is $2.50 per couple. Attire for the evening is semi-formal, with dark suits and ties for men and cocktail dresses for women.

Other chairmen for the dance are: Pat Pavelka, programs; Anne Gribbon, decorations; Gail Delworth and Fran Farrell, publicity.

Senate OK's Drama Charter; Approves Homecoming Budget

The charter for a campus Drama Club was approved by the student senate at a meeting Monday. Presented by Oneal McGowan, Sophomore Class president, the club plans to promote campus dramatics by presenting a series of one-act plays.

The 1959 Homecoming budget was read and approved. Total expense allowance is to be $3,070. The alumni and the student body will donate $250 each, according to business manager Paul Turner.

Co-chairmen Rosemary Hebner and Denny Johnson expect to raise over $3,000 from the combined receipts of programs, Homecoming buttons and the annual Variety Show.

Arrangements for a popular band to play at the dance are now in progress. Of the total expenses, $2,000 are being allotted for band and hall.

The Senate granted $120 for cheerleading outfits to Jim Millet, ASSU publicity director and chairman of the pep rally committee.

NCAA Head: 'Berths Can Be Changed'

NCAA basketball tournament berths can be changed next year, Walter Byers told the Spectator yesterday in a phone call to Kansas City. Byers is the executive director of the NCAA.

"TIPPY" DYE, University of Washington basketball coach, told the Spectator that SU should have contacted him before sending the story to the newspapers.

In a phone call to Spokane, Gonzaga's T. H. Anderson said that school had sent a protest to the NCAA. He said Dye's sponsorship of a resolution slighted not only Seattle U., but Gonzaga and Portland.

EDDIE O'BRIEN, S.U.'s athletic director, sent a formal protest yesterday to the NCAA. He told the Spectator that S.U. wishes no quarrel with the U. of W., but wants action from the NCAA.

FOR MORE DETAILS on the realignment of NCAA basketball regional playoffs (which at present would keep any independent team from a Far-Western regional berth), see Page 5.

Annual Retreat Next Week; All Students to Participate

The annual all-school retreat is Nov. 18, 19 and 20. Four separate retreats will be conducted.

Catholic woman students will meet at the Cathedral at Ninth and Marion St. The Rev. William Prasch, S.J., Gonzaga chaplain, is retreat master.

Junior and senior men students will be at St. Joseph's Church, at 18th and Aloha St. Their retreat master is from Port Townsend, the Rev. Ben Meyers, S.J.

Another Port Townsend priest, the Rev. James Straughkamp, S.J., will conduct the freshman and sophomore men's retreat at Immaculate Conception Church, at 18th and Marion.

The Rev. J. Charles Walsh, S.J., is in charge of the non-Catholic retreat for men and women in the Pigott Auditorium.

According to the Rev. Louis A. Sauvain, S.J., student chaplain, three conferences will be held each day at 9 a.m., 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. Mass is scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

The Rev. Robert J. Rebhahn, S.J., dean of students, stated, "An annual retreat is a tradition of long standing in all Jesuit schools. The opportunity it offers the spiritual life of the students is unlimited. For this reason alone it seems unnecessary to state that attendance is obligatory.

"However, further breakdown of disciplinary action must be made clear. Those who absent themselves in part or in whole from the retreat will be held accountable to the student conduct and welfare committee.

"Past cooperation of students gives every indication that such disciplinary action will be unnecessary."

Students making a closed retreat are reminded to file their names with either the Rev. Louis A. Sauvain, S.J., or Fr. Rebhahn. Women students making a closed retreat must file their names with Miss Agnes E. Reilly, dean of women.

Student Tourists to See 11 Countries Next Summer

Has it ever occurred to you how inexpensive it can be to tour Europe?

It can be and this coming summer a 56-day tour (June 15 - Aug. 6) will be offered every student for $1,470 to prove the point.

$1,470 is a sizeable sum, but subtract $826.80 for round-trip (Seattle to Rome) plane fare and you have $644, which means you can eat, sleep, tip, travel and tour Europe for approximately $12 a day.

Twelve dollars a day to see London, Rome, Paris, Brussels, Lourdes, Madrid, Granada, Venice, Lucerne, Munich, Heidelberg, Amsterdam — to name but the major attractions.

The Rev. Francis Logan, S.J., and Patrick Martin, who are in charge of this year's tour, promise that "a full circle (2,045 miles) of Europe will be made. By allowing 56 days, touring will be relaxed and pleasant."

Major trips within Europe will be made by plane, but all other touring will be by special motorbus which will be at the disposal of the tour group at all times.

Chief Seattle Arrives Soon

The fountain between the Pigott Building and Buhr Hall is nearing completion. An 11x4-ft. granite monolith was swung into place last Tuesday.

According to the Rev. Raymond L. Nichols, S.J., superintendent of buildings and grounds, the stone "is the only one of its kind in the Northwest. No other campus has anything like it."

A bronze bust of Chief Seattle will be placed on a granite platform overlooking the fountain and facing the gym. "Chief Seattle will be gazing at our wigwam across the street to give inspiration to the Chiefs," commented Fr. Nichols.

The pool itself will be of mosaic tile with blue coping. Special lighting will be installed. The date of the dedication has not been officially set. "It depends on the weather," said a workman. "We need the pool bottom dry in order to lay the mosaic."

TWO STUDENTS WATCHED as the granite monolith for the fountain was lowered into place last Tuesday.

The rest of the cost of sweaters, weskiets and skirts for the 10 leaders will be shared by the Athletic Department and the cheerleaders themselves.

'Who's Who' Out Now

The Intercollegiate Knights' "Who's Who" is now on sale in the Chieftain and Liberal Arts Building. There are 1,100 copies of the directory available at 35 cents each, plus a four-cent student body tax.

Co-editors Gary Koontz and Cliff Fouty stated: "We're very happy that it's out. A lot of work has been involved, plus several unforeseen delays, so we are glad to make it available to the student body now."

Editorial:

Shall we dance?

Probably. And if we aren't dancing, chances are that we'll be attending movies, making posters or going to meetings.

Last year's ASSU activity calendar lists 193 meetings, 14 dances, 17 mixers, and 61 miscellaneous activities for 31 weeks of school. The calendar does not include events like games, floor dances and more informal gatherings.

Are there too many activities at SU? Are we so busy developing a "well-rounded" personality that we lose sight of our primary goal of education?

The summary of the second annual Seattle University Leadership Conference states, "The purpose of going to college should not be strictly academic. It was agreed that the average division should be 55 per cent academic and 45 per cent social. However, this line should be drawn by each student individually."

Taking an average student's day, it may be divided statistically two ways. The first student is one who is not employed. The second student works four hours per day. Both are taking 17 hours of courses.

	Not Employed	Employed
Sleep	8.0	8.0
Meals, miscellaneous	4.5	4.5
Class	3.3	3.3
Study	3.0	0.8
Social	5.2	3.4
Work	4.0

Hours per day.....24.0 24.0

Last week the student senate passed a bill raising the necessary cumulative grade-point average for holding office in the Freshman Class from a 2.0 to a 2.5. Objections that this requirement is too high have been voiced by some freshmen.

The Spectator staff feels that the standards should be raised for all student offices. If a student himself does not realize that his primary purpose in attending college is to become educated, then it should be brought to his attention by limiting his participation in activities until his grade point is higher.

Perhaps the 47 ASSU-chartered organizations and their approximately 285 activities per year are not too many. That is for you as a student to decide. If you feel it is such a vital part of your education that 45 per cent of your time be devoted to the "social" part of college life, well then take one of the 14 opportunities offered this quarter and — let's dance.

Letters:

Questions and answers

Dear Editor:

You think mid-quarter examination questions are funny. You should have seen the answers.

—FRUSTRATED (A faculty member.)

Dear Editor,

In last week's issue of the Spectator, there appeared an article stating that candidates intending to run for Freshman Class offices must have a grade point of 2.5 from high school. As a member of the Freshman Class, I feel that this is totally unjust.

How did the senate arrive at 2.5 as a requirement? Grade points from high school differ immensely according to the standards of the particular high schools.

Why not, perhaps, base the grade requirement on the grade prediction test that we as freshmen took? Doesn't that seem a little more fair?

My second gripe is this: The senate is supposed to represent the student body, but who's representing the freshmen? No one. The freshmen are a part, a huge part of the student body, but what do they have to say about anything, this thing for example? Nothing.

How about letting the freshmen have something to say in these matters. Certainly, they must have some rights. We want representation, we want our place in school functions. At the beginning of the year, we were repeatedly assured that we were going to play a big role in the coming school year. Well, are we?

—A FRESHMAN.

AND IT WASN'T RAINING

Last week's Spectator was a sell-out, or give-out.

According to the editor, any student who has a copy of this "rare" edition will receive many thanks if he would part with his copy in order that the files may have a sufficient number.

Fr. North to Talk On Middle East

A series of lectures on the Middle East will be given by the Rev. Robert North, S.J., starting Dec. 11. Fr. North is a professor at the Pontifical Biblical Institute in Jerusalem and an expert on Middle-Eastern affairs.

The first lecture will be given at 1 p.m. Dec. 11 in the Chieftain Lounge. The topic will be "Israel at Suez and Sinai, B.C. and A.D."

The remainder of the talks will be given in the evening in Pigott Auditorium. Subjects and dates will be: "The Future of the Catholic Church in the Near East," Dec. 12; "American Influence in the Middle East," Dec. 16; and "The Scrolls in the Work Day of a Dead Sea Archeologist," Dec. 18.

Pre-Meds, Dents to Hear U. of W. Medicine Man

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national honorary fraternity for junior and senior pre-medical and pre-dental majors, is holding an open meeting Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. in the Chieftain Lounge.

Dr. Richard J. Blandau, assistant dean of the University of Washington School of Medicine, will lecture on the values of proper pre-professional academic curricula in the undergraduate school.

He is chairman of the medical school admissions, evaluation committee chairman, chairman of the grant committees on research training and teaching methods and patient care, and chairman of medical students' schedule.

Larry Donohue, president of AED, will outline the functions of the club and propose the tentative activity calendar for the year.

The Rev. Eugene A. Healy, S.J., faculty moderator of AED and head of the pre-medicine and pre-dental departments, will be available for group discussions.

A social hour in the cafeteria will follow the meeting. All students of any major are extended an invitation.

HONOR STUDENT Carolyn Eckstrom and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Eckstrom of Tacoma, chatted with the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., president of the university, at the Scholarship Tea Sunday in the Chieftain Lounge.

In a brief talk Fr. Lemieux expressed the University's gratitude to the parents. "This is the most important event of the year," he said, "because we are honoring the most important students—the scholars." About 100 honor students and parents attended the Silver Scroll - Alpha Sigma Nu-sponsored event.

Who isn't at exam time? But the dog days will soon be over and (so they tell us) a new era awaits.

When that breathing spell comes, maybe you should take a glance at the future. Have you given much thought to financial planning?

Probably not. That's why we suggest a talk with our campus representative. Starting your life insurance program now gives you a head start, and offers the advantage of lower premiums!

SU Guild Tea to Honor Six Jesuit Faculty Members

All faculty members and parents of students of Seattle University have been invited to a reception and tea on Nov. 16 in the Chieftain Lounge. The tea, sponsored by the Seattle University Guild, is honoring the new Jesuit members of the faculty, according to publicity chairmen Mrs. John J. Callahan and Mrs. Frank M. Baller.

The reception begins at 2:30 p.m. At 3 p.m. the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., president of the university, will speak on his "Impressions of Europe."

The six new Jesuits on campus are the Rev. Anthony D. Bischoff, the Rev. Francis J. Greene, the Rev. Vernon J. Harkins, the Rev. William F. Le Roux, the Rev. Thomas L. O'Brien and the Rev. Alex D. Tourigny.

5 Teams Vie for Top Spot As Bowling Enters 6th Week

Defeats dealt the Rolling Pins and the IGP's in last Thursday's bowling shoved these front-runners closer to the rest of the pack, as a strong five-team race has developed.

THE ROLLING PINS maintain the lead into today's play only by percentage points over the Elbow Benders. The Rolling Pins (10-2) are only .033 ahead of the Benders.

The IGP's are in a third place tie with the Blobs. Back in the race are the Bears, who also won all four last week. The Bruins are 12-4, two games behind the runner-up.

LAST WEEK the Rev. Joseph Donovan, S.J., rolled the season's best series (621) and the best single game to date (235).

It shouldn't be long before one of the girls goes over the 200 level, either. Grace Orchard was close—she rolled a 196. Second-high for the ladies, Judy McRae had a 199 three weeks ago.

MARK HANSES (IGP's) still leads the men with a 172 average, with Elbow Bender Don Yeowell tagging behind at 171.

Les Girl McRae paces the women with a 156 average.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE:

Rolling Pins	vs.	4 Horsemen
Elbow Benders	vs.	Chem. Engrs.
IGP's	vs.	Three G's
IK's	vs.	Blobs
Bears	vs.	Four Freshm.

'Spec' to Name All-Star Teams

The Spectator will announce an all-star football team for the first time in four years. In two weeks the results of a poll taken of the Intramural Department, league officials and team captains will be made public.

Because of the caliber of play this year there will be two teams. Each league will have an all-star team. This will enable the people choosing the team to recognize the abilities of a greater number of players. Each player will be given a certificate of merit.

Football Play In 2nd Round

The intramural championship round is drawing near and both the National and the American League are fighting for positions.

Monday the Panthers and the Deckers squared off at Broadway Playfield in order to dissolve a tie for third place in the American League. Each team was given four downs from the 50-yard line and the team with the most yardage was to be declared winner. It was a closely fought contest, with the Panthers barely edging out a determined Decker team, 45 yards to 42.

The Panthers, after eliminating the Deckers, then faced the Mafia in a playoff game. The Panthers drew first blood on a touchdown pass from Jim Yurina to Millen. In the second half the Mafia scored a safety on a Panther bobble, making the score 6-2.

It appeared that this would be the final score, until there were three seconds remaining in the game. Jack Wheelhouse heaved a 20-yard aerial to Duane Zimbrick in the end zone and the game was over, with the Mafia pulling an 8-6 victory out of the fire.

In Monday's second game the ROTC cadets lost another close one, 6-0, to the Nooners.

Intramural Athlete Award Goes to Panther's Yurina

JIM YURINA

Jim Yurina, of the Panthers, is the Athlete of the Week. Yurina's play against Bellarmine earned the former all-city ace the dinner for two at Daverso's Restaurant.

His three touchdown passes helped put the Panthers into a third-place tie with the Deckers. Then in a playoff he ran 50 yards for the winning touchdown.

While at Cleveland he was a three-year letterman in all three major sports. In the junior and senior year he was named to the all-city football and baseball teams. Jim was also active in student government and held various club offices.

Yurina is attending Seattle U. on a baseball scholarship and hopes to play with the varsity this spring. When asked why he came to Seattle U. instead of going to a larger school and playing football, Jim said that he preferred a Catholic school and the education facilities it offered.

NCAA: What Happened, What They are Saying

By JERRY LAVELL

WHAT HAPPENED. 1959 NCAA Far-Western regional tournament alignment shows no spot for a Far-Western independent (at-large) team. Any Far-Western independent would have to be picked to play in the Midwestern regionals if it were to get a chance at the NCAA crown. (SU won its way to the finals last year, but later was banned from tournament play for two years for alleged infractions of the athletic code.)

At the 1958 convention of basketball coaches, "Tippy" Dye, U. of W. mentor, suggested cutting the at-large berths in the Far-Western regionals from three spots to one. The coaches' group did not take any action toward a formal recommendation.

When the 1959 tournament list was announced, there was no Western regional berth for a Far-Western independent. SU sent a letter of protest to the NCAA in which letter the motion of Dye was blamed for the present elimination of Far-Western independents in the Far-Western regionals.

WALTER BYERS, executive director of the NCAA, in a phone call:

Question: Will you support or oppose any protest?

Answer: I have heard from two schools in the West and since answering them, there seems to be no further objections. It seems to me that your objection to this change is merely that the sites have been moved. Other colleges have traveled for years and have not complained.

Q: What group made the realignment?

A: The University Basketball Tournament Committee, which is composed of the athletic directors at Kansas, OSC, Wyoming, Syracuse and West Virginia.

Q: Why is the Far West the only one without an independent berth?

A: They do have a chance, but they go to the Midwest.

Q: How could it be changed back?

A: The committee could change it next year. The regionals are set up differently each year.

"TIPPY" DYE, U. of W. basketball coach (phone conversation):

Q: Was your statement in the P.-I. correct?

A: Far from correct. It is difficult to get this type of story across to the reader. I have nothing to do with the tournament. I am on the NCAA selection committee for the at-large berth and have in the past picked Seattle U. to be the independent. The coaches' group does not have anything to do with the NCAA. I guess the NCAA sent independents to the Midwest primarily so that the tournament would work out all right.

Q: Would you protest this no-independent berth to Byers of the NCAA?

A: I don't think I would protest it, but would have to ask about it.

Q: Would you object to them bringing the at-large berth back to regionals?

A: No, providing that they do not affect the structure of the tournament. I will still fight to bring the tournament at-large berths down to one for the Western regionals.

THE REV. JOHN KELLEY, S.J., S.U.'s chairman of the athletic control board:

Q: Did S.U. send this story to the newspapers?

A: No. Seattle University did not send the story to the papers. A reporter on one of the papers got the information on his own.

H. T. ANDERSON, Gonzaga U.'s athletic director and basketball coach, in a phone call:

Q: Have you sent a letter of protest?

A: Yes. I think Dye's sponsorship of the resolution slighted not only Seattle U., but Gonzaga and Portland.

EDDIE O'BRIEN, S.U.'s athletic director:

Q: Did the P.-I. report your letter of protest correctly?

A: Yes.
Q: Is this action against the U. of W.?

A: No. We don't have any complaints with the U. of W. I think it is unfortunate that "Tippy" Dye said what he did, but that part is over. We're looking to the future. What we want is a chance at a Far-Western at-large berth when we are off probation.

Q: Why should the Far-Western independents have a berth?

A: Look at their record. Independents have won the Western regionals three times, the West Coast Basketball Conference berth twice, and the Pacific Coast Conference berth twice.

AL NEGRATTI, Portland U.'s coach and athletic director, in a phone call:

Q: Did you send a letter of protest?

A: No, but a letter of inquiry into the new realignment. Byers' answer was they felt the number of independents in the Midwest justified the shifting of berths.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE!

They said that bullfighting was strictly for men, and a woman couldn't do it. But pretty Pat McCormick, while a student at Texas Western College, ignored the scoffers, and became the first American girl to win international acclaim as a torea-Dora.

Tourists

A visit to the birthplace of Ignatius Loyola in Spain will be one feature of the trip, as will the visit to Mt. St. Michel, the island-cathedral in France; and tours of Oxford and Shakespeare's home in Stratford.

Students should note that upon returning to London at the tour's conclusion side trips may be made through the British Isles at no extra plane expense.

A 10 per cent down payment must be made on plane fare, but the balance may be paid over a two-year period.

Anyone who is interested in seeing Europe next summer should contact either Fr. Logan or Pat Martin. The tour is primarily for Seattle U. students but other interested persons are welcome.

Brochures containing a complete description of the tour will be out within two weeks and may be obtained from Fr. Logan, Pat or at the Spectator office.

Tour capacity is 30 and Father stated, "We have nearly one-third now."

War Hero Speaks Tuesday in Pigott

The commander of Paine Air Force Base, Col. Samuel C. Grashio, will speak on "Religion, the Basic Element—Living Your Faith," at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Pigott Auditorium.

Col. Grashio, a former fighter pilot of World War II, was in the Philippines after the start of the war. He was in the Bataan death march. He escaped and became a guerilla fighter.

The colonel is a native of Spokane, where he attended Gonzaga University. He later received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Washington.

THE FINANCIAL BOARD meets tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. in the Conference Room. Those who wish to attend and make reports to the board are invited by Mike Desmond, ASSU treasurer.

THE CLOTHES YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

In this column we take up fashions for college men, which means of course, the Ivy Look. Today's Ivy Look clothes have made a great stride forward. Not only do they have thin lapels, three buttons, narrow trousers, and a minimum of shoulder padding, but—now hear this!—this year they are actually covered with ivy!

This new development, while attractive beyond the singing of it, nevertheless gives rise to certain hazards. For instance, people keep trying to plant you on Arbor Day. Indeed, this is precisely what happened to two SAE's of my acquaintance, Walter R. Gurlash and Fred Rasp. Before they could protest, they were snatched up, planted, limed, and watered, and today they support a hammock in Cut and Shoot, Vermont.

People keep trying to plant you on Arbor Day...

Let us now discuss shirts. Again this year the campus favorite is the good old Oxford with button-down collar and barrel cuffs. This is without doubt an admirable garment, but let me ask you a question: if you don't wear anything but Oxfords, what do you do with all the cuff links people have been giving you for your birthday since you were twelve years old?

Well sir, some fellows have their wrists pierced, but what E. Mackenzie Sigafoos, a Chi Psi of my acquaintance, did was to take a dozen pairs of his handsome gold monogrammed cuff links and string them together in a charm bracelet for his girl, Jo-Carol Isobar.

(It turned out, incidentally, to be a mistake. In short order so many admirers accrued to Jo-Carol on account of her gorgeous bracelet that she grew tired of plain old E. Mackenzie, and one night when she was seated on a bench in Lovers Lane throwing sticks for E. Mackenzie to retrieve, she suddenly, cruelly, without warning, told him they were through.

"I am heartbroken," said E. Mackenzie, heartbroken. "But if go you must, give me back my charm bracelet."

"No, I will keep it," said Jo-Carol.

"What for?" said E. Mackenzie. "You can't wear it. The initials on the cuff links are all mine—E.M.S."

"Ha, ha, the joke is on you," said Jo-Carol. "Yesterday I was voted Miss Chinese Restaurant of 1958."

"So?" said E. Mackenzie.

"So," replied Jo-Carol, "E.M.S. does not stand for E. Mackenzie Sigafoos. It stands for Eat More Subgum!"

A broken man, E. Mackenzie today squeezes out a meagre living as a pendulum in Cleveland. Jo-Carol was killed in a tong war.)

But I digress. We were talking about well-dressed men, and the one essential for every well-dressed man—and every well-dressed woman too—is a well-dressed cigarette—neat, compact, flavorful, and correct for work or play, sunshine or shower, repose or revelry, darkness or light. And where does one find such a perfect companion? Just go to any tobacco counter and ask for Philip Morris. Ask for it in long size or regular. Ask for it in soft pack or hard. But ask for it; that's the important thing. Don't just stand there making cryptic gestures at your tobaccoist. He may be armed.
