Frosh Election Rallies Planned for Next Week

The election rally for freshman candidates will be Wednesday from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Chieftain Lounge. Election board coordinator Jim Parry said the event is "to familiarize freshmen with their candidates."

SU to Host MUN Group

Students in the Model United Nations program are planning to host a Soviet bloc meeting on campus in Winter Quarter. Seattle U. is representing Communist Bulgaria at the MUN at the University of Southern California in the Spring. Included in the winter meeting would be the other communist nations, headed by Oregon State which represents the USSR.

Jane Merryman, Rosemary Heber and Franc Schuckardt were the three official delegates to the Collegiate Council of the United Nations at the U. of W. last weekend. About eight other Seattle U. students attended, according to Jane Merryman.

The conference consisted of seminars devoted to the development of interest in the United Nations, the training and preparation of delegations to the MUN, and lectures on current international crises. About 25 schools in the Northwest were represented, according to the delegates.

CCD Granted $2,000 Fund

Seattle's St. Vincent de Paul Society recently voted a $2,000 grant to SU's Confraternity of Christian Doctrine to help in the student work with handicapped children.

The Vincentians agreed to give $500 now and $125 each month for a year. The SU students had asked for funds to cover the costs of their work with the blind, deaf, and handicapped children.

According to the Rev. Francis J. Lindkugel, S.J., advisor to the CCD, the money will take care of materials needed for instruction, such as catechisms and visual aids, as well as transportation costs for members. It also will handle the cost of parties at Easter and Christmas for the handicapped children.

CCD president Bill Christensen announced the appointment of Clara Ann Harvey as treasurer of the group.

Students May Choose Program for Violinist

Students will select the program for Stephan Hero, violinist who will play Nov. 25 in Pigott Auditorium. The event, planned by the ASSU, will begin at 7:30 p.m. Admission will be 50 cents.

STEPHAN HERO

Freshman offices are: president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and five non-voting student senators. Filing for offices will be between Nov. 20 and 25.

Office-seekers, introduced by their campaign managers, may state their qualifications and present any proposals to the student body, Parry said.

"Anyone handling a campaign," Parry added, "must contact me or Jim Millet, ASSU publicity director, for rules about publicity."

Any violation of these rules will result in disqualification, he warned.

Freshmen are reminded that the filing period for office will close Tuesday noon. Said Jim: "This is the chance for freshmen to have that 'voice in student government' so many of them have been asking for."

The election board is planning a number of "pre-rally rallies" for the benefit of candidates and all those interested in student government.

These will consist of a number of lectures explaining the function of each office and the duties of class officers. They will be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the Xavier lounge; Tuesday at 12:35 in the Chieftain lounge and 4-5 p.m. at Marycrest.

Group to Entertain McNeil Prisoners

A group of Seattle U. students will entertain at the U.S. Penitentiary at McNeil Island next Sunday. Arrangements were made through D. M. Heritage, warden of the prison, and John Conger and Patrick Martin, cultural committeemen.

SUNDAY MOVIE

Broderick Crawford stars in his Academy Award winning role in "All the King's Men" Sunday, 7:30 p.m. in the Pigott Auditorium.

Co-chairmen Michele Mulherin and Dick Kane are preparing mimeographed ballots.

"Mr. Hero has asked us to select the program," Michele said, "so he will be sure that the students will enjoy it."

Students may pick eight to ten selections from the lists and the night's program will be arranged from this choice, she said. Voting will be in the Chieftain.

Mr. Hero has played with the New York Philharmonic, the Montreal Symphony, the Mexico City Orchestra and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Said Michele, "This is Mr. Hero's first appearance in Seattle. He has been well-received in the East and has a fine record in soloist competition. The ASSU hopes this will be a memorable cultural event for Seattle U. students."

Pep Rally, Parade Scheduled Dec. 1, Chieftain Dance Follows

The annual basketball Pep Rally will be held Dec. 1 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The parade, preceding the rally activities, will conclude at Ivar's on Broadway, where the varsity team, varsity coach

Vince Cazzetta and athletic director Eddie O'Brien will be introduced.

Other celebrities present will be Miss Seafair, Judy Paulson; Miss Capitol Hill, Brigid Flood; the Spokane Lilac Queen, Denise Bogle; and the 20 semi-finalists for the Homecoming Court.

Two first prize trophies will be awarded the most outstanding float and car in the parade.

Judges will be Police Chief Henry J. Lawrence; Irwin D. Fradenburgh, former president of the Capitol Hill Commercial Club; Clifton Albright, president of the Capitol Hill Lions Club; Barney Grevstad, president of the Capitol Hill Kiwanis; and Louis Magrini, editor of the Capitol Hill Times and president of the Capitol Hill Commercial Club.

A dance will follow the rally at 9:30 p.m. in the Chieftain lounge. A Phi O's are sponsoring this social, which will conclude at 11 p.m.

Clubs planning to participate in the parade must have their entries in the ASSU office tomorrow, said rally co-chairmen Tim Monahan and Larry Peabody.

Those entering the parade are also requested to form the parade line at 11th and Spring St., at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 1.

STUDENT BODY MEETING

A student body meeting has been scheduled at 9:40 a.m., Tuesday, in the gym. The 20 Homecoming semi-finalists will be introduced, publicity director Jim Millet said.

AL RINALDI runs through a selection from the music scheduled for tomorrow night's Sadie Hawkins Tolo at the Seattle Tennis Club from 9 p.m. to midnight. Listening is Pat McNulty, a chairman of the Silver Scroll dance. The dance is non-corsage. Programs are on sale in the Chieftain for $2.50.

Homecoming Semi-Finalists Chosen

The twenty semi-finalists for the 1959 Homecoming Court have been selected by student vote. Final voting will be Dec. 3, according to elections co-chairmen Brenda McGroarty and Larry Faulk.

THE FIVE SENIORS ARE: Bernice Baumgartner, Yakima; Michele Mulherin, Hollywood; Sue Mooring, Seattle; Pat Vickerman, Moses Lake, Wash.; Lee Rose Vitalich, Seattle.

THE JUNIORS ARE: Carol Casey and Anne Gribbon, Seattle; Bette Kay Marshall, San Bruno, Calif.; Joan Petri, Tacoma; Gail Parson, Longview, Wash.

SOPHOMORES ARE: Marilyn Bauer, Newport, Ore.; Julie Codd, Spokane; Rosemary Jellison, Everett; Colleen Reis and Karen Romstad, Tacoma.

FRESHMEN ARE: Lois Dideon, Seattle; Sheila Howe, Los Altos, Calif.; Diane Martin, Seattle; Connie Preimsberger, Van Nuys, Calif.; Trudie Stephens, Gilroy, Calif.

ALL STUDENTS MAY VOTE for the final Homecoming Court. Two freshman, sophomore and junior princesses will be chosen by the members of each class. All students will vote on the three finalists from the Senior Class. The alumni association will select the Homecoming Queen from these three.

The winners will be announced at the student Variety Show Dec. 5.

ROTC Cadets Form Honorary

A chapter of Pershing Rifles, national honorary military society for basic cadets is being formed on campus according to Capt. Raymond H. Larsen.

A meeting on Nov. 21 at 1 p.m. in ROTC classroom two is planned. Membership in the Pershing Rifles is restricted to members of the basic ROTC program, and members are selected on the basis of academic ability in military science. It was formed at the University of Nebraska in 1894 by John J. Pershing, afterwards Chief of Staff of the U.S. Army. It has 138 chapters at present.

Officers for the society will be elected at the first meeting.

Cast Chosen for Annual Variety Show in December

The annual student Variety Show will be Dec. 4, 5 and 6, at 8:15 p.m. in Pigott Auditorium. Admission to the Thursday performance will be free to those with student body cards. Admission Friday and Saturday nights will be $1.

FATHER O'BRIEN TO SPEAK

"Slavery of the Mind" will be discussed by the Rev. Thomas L. O'Brien, director of the Humanities Honors Program Dec. 3 at 8:10 p.m. in the Chieftain lounge.

This will be the second in a series of lectures sponsored by the Philosophy Club.

The Spectator will not be published next week, since Thursday and Friday are holidays. The next issue is scheduled for Dec. 4.

Editorial:

Our biggest failure

"We can no longer either turn to the universities for enlightenment, or expect them to take a stand. Certainly they make fine generalizations about man's intellect and the great service they do. But anything more controversial than this and they shy painfully away."

This statement was made in the Nov. 12 issue of the bi-monthly Labor News, published by the King County Central Labor Council.

Is it true?

Certainly it is true to a great extent. But if it is true of the universities as a whole, it is even more typical of their student bodies.

The purpose of a university is to provide society with leaders — with intellectual, not merely social, leaders. And this is the failure. We will be university graduates. We will be expected to know more than how to organize a dance committee or a fund drive. We will be expected to think. Can we?

Potentially, of course, but are we? Are we, through lack of thinking, submitting to social pressures and using social or economic "success" or leadership as our primary goals in attending college?

When a conference of our extra-curricular leaders declares a 55 per cent academic and 45 per cent social division in a student's life as an acceptable (if not preferable) norm, when whole class periods pass without several students asking questions, when the school library is filled only during finals week, when the Chieftain is crowded during classtime, when academic lectures are attended by about 3 per cent (if that much) of the student body, intellectual leadership is not being sought.

The basis for intellectual leadership is scholarship. Serious students are inquisitive and observant. They should be capable of sifting the knowledge gained from books, of analyzing facts, and of forming opinions.

This is our goal. We cannot allow ourselves, as we are doing, to simply sit back and memorize, to accept the printed or spoken word merely because it is printed or spoken. We must ask if these things are true, and why they are.

We may become a success socially or economically. We may eventually hold a college degree. But we will not be worthy of that degree or the place we hold in society. We will be echoing the thoughts of others. We will not have learned what we are in college to learn. We will not know how to think.

Letters:

Scholar: 'Up with Academic Standards' IK: 'Down with ASSU 15 Per Cent Tax;'

To the Editor:

How can such a passive group cause so much activity? By this I am referring to the ASSU governing body. The governing body itself seems to be well organized. But it appears as a big bull in a field of grasshoppers. It moves awkwardly incurring devastating hardships on those who don't move out of the way.

With what am I concerned?

The ASSU 15% tax. Uninterpreted (as it is) it stands for this: the ASSU can tax any activity sponsored by any chartered campus organization. In particular it gives the ASSU the power to tax the working capital of the service organizations. Not taxing the students, but the voluntary "work horses" of the students. (Real gratitude.) But above all it unjustly deprives the service organizations of the right to effectively display one of their highest values, generosity.

The advice I would like to give to the ASSU government is, now that they have themselves organized, pay less attention to their own well being as rulers, and more attention to the interest of those whom they rule.

The Proletariat,
Robert Barry

Dear Editor:

I feel that the points made in your editorial of last week (Shall We Dance?) should be emphasized more.

A university is for the intellectual development of the whole man. Its raison d'etre is purely academic and nothing else. All the other services provided for the development of a well-rounded personality are merely incidental and should not become identified with the primary purpose of the university.

UNFORTUNATELY, these by-products of university education often take precedence. But it is only after academic responsibilities have been properly and sufficiently discharged that a student can feel justified in participating in other activities.

Therefore, I must disagree with our so-called Student Leaders who participated in the Second Annual Leadership Conference. The purpose for going to college is for intellectual training and development.

IT IS A SHAME that our student leaders have lost sight of the fundamental purpose of the institution in which they play so vital a role. They, of all people, should be keenly aware of the intellectual nature of the student vocation.

And they should be reminded that student government and its activities are good only insofar as they promote the academic purpose of the University and are bad if they detract in any way whatsoever from that purpose.

Those who do not believe that a university is strictly an academic institution and those who are not attending college primarily to develop their intellects should not be here wasting their time, the Faculty's and their fellow students'.

Interview:

Sagan 'not typical' teen-ager; Students 'study more' in France

By VALERIE SCHUSS

"We resent people saying that Francoise Sagan represents the typical French teen-ager," 18-year-old Anne Freitag of Paris said.

Slowly twisting one of her long, dark pig-tails around her finger she added: "Whether one likes her writing or not, it is not fair to say that her books are typical of France any more than we could say that chocolates for breakfast is typical of America."

Anne was seated in the lobby of St. Theresa's hall, where she is staying while attending Seattle University. She explained that she gained her knowledge of English in school. She attended a private Catholic school for 11 years, and a state school for one year.

Anne has been in Seattle a little over two weeks. She is not taking courses this quarter, but audits several classes to become more familiar with the subjects. She will stay at SU for at least two quarters to become better acquainted with our language and customs.

While Anne may not feel she is too familiar with the U.S. she is able to give some interesting opinions and information about France. Many girls go to the universities because it is still expensive to live, and many students have to work."

ON POLITICS: "Many people, especially women, are not too interested in politics. However, students in the universities are usually very interested in politics. Occasionally there are fights between members of opposing

ABOUT TEEN-AGERS: "Teen-agers in France are about the same as they are in America. They like to dance, go to shows, and watch television just as you do. However, it is necessary for us to study many more hours, and take harder subjects than the students in the U.S. Also, the social life is different. For instance, the schools do not have dances as yours do."

ABOUT COLLEGE: "We call our colleges universities. They are free to anyone who can pass the state examinations. However, not as parties."

DeGAULLE: "Most of the people think that DeGaulle will be very good for France. Even some people who did not wish to vote for him realize now that he was our only hope."

ABOUT ENTERTAINMENT: "We have only one television station in Paris. In many places there is no TV. I think we have better programs in France, but that may be because I have not seen too many programs over here yet. I do not think we have as many silly movies, but, of course, there are some. We get many American movies in our theatres and on television."

ABOUT CLOTHES: "I think French women are more style-conscious than American. Teen-agers especially are very careful not to wear clothes that would be different or unusual. I have seen Americans wear clothes that seem very odd. If one were to wear these clothes in Paris people would laugh. But here, no one pays any attention. In a way, I think this is good."

THE GIFT HORSE

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, catching night crawlers—but let me interrupt your multifarious activities—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—to remind you that busy as you are—studying, going to class, searching for meat in the dormitory stew—time and tide wait for no man, and the Yuletide will soon be upon us. Busy or not, we must turn our thoughts to Christmas shopping. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment in our busy schedules—studying, going to class, rolling drunks—to examine a number of interesting gift suggestions.

We will start with the hardest gift problem of all: What do you give to the person who has everything? Well sir, there follows a list of a half dozen gifts which I will flatly guarantee the person who has everything does not have:

1. A dentist's chair.
2. A low hurdle.
3. A street map of Perth.
4. Fifty pounds of chicken fat.
5. A carton of filter-tip Marlboros.
6. A carton of non-filter Philip Morris.

"What?" you exclaim, your young eyebrows rising in wild incredulity. "The person who has everything does not have cartons of filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris?" you shriek, your young lips curling mockingly. "What arrant nonsense!" you rasp, making a coarse gesture.

And I reply with an emphatic no! The person who has everything does not have filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris—not for long anyhow—because if he has Marlboros and Philip Morris and if he is a person who likes a mild, mellow, fresh, flavorful cigarette—and who does not? eh? who does not?—why, then he doesn't have Marlboros and Philip Morris; he smokes them. He might possibly have a large collection of Marlboro and Philip Morris butts, but whole Marlboros and Philip Morris? No. An emphatic no!

Now we take up another thorny gift problem: What do you buy your girl if you are broke? Quite a challenge, you will agree, but there is an answer—an ingenious, exciting answer! Surprise your girl with a beautiful bronze head of herself!

There is an Answer...

Oh, I know you're not a sculptor, but that doesn't matter. All you have to do is endear yourself to your girl's roommate, so she will be willing to do you a favor. Then some night when your girl is fast asleep, have the roommate butter your girl's face—quietly, so as not to wake her—and then quietly pour plaster of Paris on top of the butter and then quietly wait till it hardens and quietly lift it off—the butter will keep it from sticking—and then bring you the mold, and you will pour bronze in it and make a beautiful bust to surprise your girl with!

Remember, it is important—very important—to endear yourself to the roommate, because if anything should go wrong, you don't want to be without a girl for the holiday season.

© 1958 Max Shulman

Your gift problem is no problem if you will give Marlboros to your filter smoking friends and Philip Morris to your non-filter smoking friends. Both come in soft pack or flip-top box; both are made by the sponsor of this column.

JUDGES NEEDED FOR DEBATES

Plans are being made for the High School Debate Tourney, Dec. 12-13. About 30 schools will attend. Student judges are needed for the event, according to Dave Moore, Gavel Club president, and any qualified person who is interested may sign up on the list in the Spectator office.

CHIEF CHATTER

By JERRY LAVELL

Now that the intramural football league is moving into the championship playoffs, what are the chances for a bowl bid to the winners?

Three years ago the winners of the league met an intramural football squad from Gonzaga and was beaten, 12-0. As far as we know, the defeat was never avenged. It was hoped that this game would become an annual event, but as it happened the game was forgotten.

FROM THE CALIBER of play in the league this year, the decision could be reversed easily. Either the all-star team or the winner of the playoffs could be sent to Spokane at little expense.

OF COURSE, a few problems may arise. The first may lie with the NCAA. Will they allow the intramural all-stars from SU to play in a postseason game, since we are on probation for two years?

The next one may come from the wife of the intramural director at Gonzaga, who may object to her husband's boys playing against the horde from S.U.

A POSTSEASON GAME between the two intramural teams would be an impetus to the program. Maybe the two directors could work something out?

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE SKI TEAM?

Another thing that seems forgotten and neglected is the school's ski team. Four years ago the team placed second in the NCAA finals held at Reno. The next year the team was disbanded.

IT DOESN'T SEEM that disbanding the team was a fitting reward for its accomplishment. Probably the reason was that the Athletic Department could not find room for it in its budget.

THE ADVANTAGES that a ski team could offer to the school and its students should be considered when the athletic budget is drawn up.

Since we have a good number of skiers, we could put out a team that would be more than representative. Why not give it a try?

Chieftains Open Against Tigers

Seattle U. Chieftains will open against the COP Tigers on Dec. 2.

The season opener starts at 8 p.m. in the Civic Auditorium.

When asked for a starting lineup, Coach Vince Cazzetta was hesitant in naming the first five. He speculated that he would go with four tournament veterans: Jerry Frizzell, Charley Brown, Francis Saunders, Don Ogorek, and newcomer Tim Cousins.

THE CHIEF mentor was pleased with the effort of the entire squad. He stated that they all looked good and that there was no difference in the smoothness of the team when various players were inserted.

This unity and team play is essential for the type of ball the Chiefs will play, Cazzetta said.

THE FORMER high school football coach has installed a multiple-type offense and defense. He was pleased with how the team adapted itself to his new technique.

He felt that if the team were not in such good mental and physical shape it would have been harder for them to grasp the new formations.

He was satisfied with the performances of newcomers Charlie Karach and Jim Coleman.

CAZZETTA RATED the opener as "real tough." COP, led by Leroy Wright, is putting one of its best teams in years on the court, he said.

Wright is one of the reasons why COP is a serious threat to St. Mary's and USF in the West Coast Athletic Conference.

ALL-LEAGUE TEAM
The Spectator will publish its All-Intramural Team in the next issue, Dec. 4. Look for it!

Athlete of the Week:

Bowler Grace Orchard First Woman Selected

Grace Orchard has been chosen as the first woman athlete of the week. The selection was based on Grace's consistently high bowling average of 151 and the 539 series she rolled last week.

GRACE ORCHARD

She bowls with the Bobbi Pins and has proven to be one of the better woman bowlers at SU since she started two years ago.

Grace is a junior majoring in psychology. A Seattle girl, she graduated from Franklin High School.

BASKETBALL PREVIEW

The varsity basketball team will hold a preview scrimmage Tuesday, 1:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium, according to Coach Vince Cazzetta. This scrimmage will be open to all sports fans, and students are urged to attend to see "how the Chiefs look" this year. For SU's opening lineup, see page four.

PING-PONG CHAMP TO PERFORM

Bob Fields, nationally known table-tennis player, will visit the S.U. campus next week. He will demonstrate table-tennis techniques in the gym. Audience participation will be a feature of the program.

The date and time of the exhibition will be posted on the bulletin board in the gym, according to ASSU publicity director Jim Millet.

ROTC TEAM members (l.) Ed Favilla, Chuck Schmitz, John Bird, and (r.) Bob Lydum get set for a play in their game against the Nooners last Monday.

High-scorers after the game... from Arrow

You'll be proud as a coach with a new star halfback when you take the wraps off this new Arrow sports wear. That's a Twin Tartan shirt on the man at the left—a time-saver in cotton wash and wear. Another twin idea—the pull-over knit shirts on the man at the right and his date. The sweater? A smart new crew-neck model. Knit shirt, $5.00 up; other shirt, $5.00 up; sweater, $7.95 up.

Nooner-Cadet Tilt Leads Football Playoffs Today

Intramural football moves into the championship playoffs this afternoon. The Nooners, winners of the National League round-robin, will play the ROTC cadets in the first game at 12:30 p.m. at Broadway Playfield. The Mafia will meet the Syndicate in the following tilt.

EACH GAME will be the third time that the teams involved have met. The Nooners came away winners both times over the ROTC, but the Mafia and Syndicate split. The Syndicate barely edged the Panthers last week.

From the looks of things, the Syndicate will have to hustle to keep the championship. Each team in the playoffs is evenly balanced. The Nooners seem stronger, since they have more depth than the other clubs.

THE SURPRISE TEAM of the league has been the Panthers. They could have easily been playing in the playoffs if the last ten seconds of two games were not counted. In each instance touchdown passes were thrown against the Panthers.

Bears to Roll Benders Today

A tight four-team race in the S.U. intramural bowling league may be narrowed today to a two-team battle. This afternoon the league-leading Bears roll the runner-up Elbow Benders and the co-runner-up IGP's tangle with Three Hits and a Miss. The steady Blobs meet the red-hot Four Horsemen in today's other highlight match.

THE BEARS, 164 into today's play, hold a narrow .008 percentage point lead over the IGP's and Elbow Benders (19-5). With time running out, the Bears-Bender match is a must to win for each.

The IGP's are fresh from the best team series of the year which they rolled last Thursday. The Blobs (18-6) have won three games per week and are in fourth spot.

THE IGP's last week totaled a 2,140 series, scratch. Mark Hanses' 523 pinfall and Father Rebhahn's 224 game were high for the day.

Grace Orchard took honors for the girls with her 539 series (best this fall for the girls) and a 188 game.

ADVANCING into the seventh week of play, Hanses and Grace Orchard hold down the top individual averages.
