Class & Senate Filing Positions Open Now for Spring Elections

Filing for Student Senate and class offices opens today at noon and closes April 27 at 1:30 p.m. Applications are in the ASSU office. Class office elections and Senate primaries are May 5. Senate final elections are May 21.

Movie and Mixer Tomorrow Night

Students may attend both a movie and mixer tomorrow night for 50 cents.

THE SAILING Club will present "Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing," starring William Holden and Jennifer Jones, at 7:30 p.m. Chairman of the movie is Ann Hempelmann. For those attending the movie only, admission is 35 cents. It will be in Pigott Auditorium.

A Phi O will sponsor the mixer from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. It will be in the cafeteria and admission for the mixer only is 75 cents.

THE MIXER will feature the music of a six-piece band, "The Debonairs," a Seattle group which entertains in local clubs.

Co-chairmen of the mixer are Jerry Lavell and Fred St. John.

Candidates for sophomore offices must have completed between 30 and 49 credit hours, juniors between 80 and 99 credit hours and seniors between 130 and 149 hours.

ELECTION RALLIES will be on the open forum system, according to election board chairman Oneal McGowan. No campaign managers will speak. The candidates will present their platforms and answer questions by the audience, McGowan said.

Sophomore Class office election rally will be held May 4 in the Marycrest activities lounge from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

SENATE ELECTION rallies will be on May 18 for sophomores, May 19 for juniors and May 20 for seniors.

More information may be obtained from chairman McGowan, or election board members Mary Noel Keough, Patricia McDonald and Adrienne Kernan.

Five-Story Science Building Next on Expansion Agenda

THE ARCHITECT'S SKETCH of the five-story Science Building which will be the next major addition to the campus. The Seattle University Building Fund drive has been organized to finance construction.

A five-story Science Building, at an estimated cost of $2,150,000, will be the next major campus addition, the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J.,

Spurs Sponsor 'Young Lions'

"The Young Lions" will be on-campus movie fare next Wednesday in Pigott Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Spurs, sophomore women's service honorary, are sponsoring the film.

The movie stars Marlon Brando, who copped an Academy Award nomination for his sympathetic portrayal of a German officer in World War II. Assisting Brando are Montgomery Clift, Dean Martin and Hope Lange.

Admission will be 35 cents, according to Spur president Irene Tobener.

Vets to Dance, Install Officers

The new officers of the Vet's Club will be installed at a dance at Ft. Lawton Officers' Club this Saturday. The dance, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., is open only to members of the Vet's Club.

The officers elected at Tuesday's meeting are: president, Dennis McElwain; vice president, Bob Anderson; treasurer, Floyd Jonak; secretary, Rico Parenti; and sergeant-at-arms, Fred Squier.

Everyone attending the dance must have identification proving they are 21, said Vets' president Tom O'Neill.

president of the University, announced today.

THE BUILDING will include 20 laboratories, 25 research rooms, nine demonstration-lecture rooms and specialized laboratories for nuclear testing and antenna research. A nuclear reactor, a Van de Graaff generator and an antenna tester will be among the equipment.

Electrical engineering, biology and physics will each receive one floor. Two floors will be provided for chemistry. Civil, mechanical and chemical engineering facilities will be expanded in the present science building.

THE SEATTLE University Building Fund has been organized to finance construction. It is under the co-chairmanship of Father Lemieux and Thomas J. Bannan, chairman of the University Board of Regents and president of the Western Gear Corporation.

The entire campaign will be under way June 29. Solicitation of important corporation and individual gifts has already begun. An appeal for funds is being made to corporations, foundations, organizations, alumni and other individual friends of the University.

WILLIAM E. BOEING, JR., a regent of the University, is chairman for the advance effort. Stephen J. Hall is chairman of the commerce and industry division of the drive. Mr. Hall is vice president of the Simpson Timber Co.

The drive is the first general public appeal for funds by Seattle University, said Father Lemieux.

There has been an enrollment increase of more than 7,000 per cent since 1931—from 34 students to 3,400 today. The anticipated enrollment increase is to 5,000 students by 1965.

7 Delegates Leave Today For CNCCS at Portland U.

The Spring conference of the CNCCS will be today through Sunday at Portland University.

Delegates from SU are Burke Harrell, Sam Brown, Chuck Schmitz, Diane Chaney, Irene Tobener, Rick Starr and Mary Grace LaBuda.

THE CONFEDERATION of Northwest Catholic College Students is built on the exchange of ideas among student governments, according to senior voting delegate Mary Grace LaBuda. Participating in the conference will be Carroll College, Holy Names College, Gonzaga University, Maryhurst College, Mt. Angel College, St. Martin's College, Seattle U. and the University of Portland.

ACTIVITIES of the conference will include seminars on phases of student government. Burke Harrell will lead a discussion on the "Purposes of Student Government," and Rick Starr will speak on the "Coordination of Student Activities with the Curriculum."

Election of CNCCS officers for the year 1959-60 will be on Sunday, followed by the final plenary meeting and the close of the conference.

'Coral Fantasy', Ocean Scenes To Greet Prom-Goers May 6

Scenes of underwater illusion will greet prom-goers May 6, when the Olympic Ballroom will be transformed into a "Coral Fantasy." An ocean floor scene, a lowered ceiling and the stage arrayed as a sunken galleon will provide the "aquatic atmosphere," according to Chuck Schmitz, decorations chairman.

Music for the occasion will be by the Billy May Orchestra, well-known for their background work with recording artists Frank Sinatra and Keely Smith.

Honored Prom guests will include Mr. and Mrs. W. Price Sullivan (King Neptune Rex IX) and Mayor and Mrs. Gordon S. Clinton.

Dance programs will go on sale in the Chieftain April 28, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and will be sold until the date of the Prom. Ticket sales to seniors will be Tuesday and Wednesday, April 28 and 29, only. If, on May 6, any programs are remaining, these will be offered for sale to seniors. Programs for underclassmen are $4 and for graduating seniors, $2. All programs will be checked on the evening of the Prom.

Mr. Jack Brooke, photographer, will make photographs available to students at $1.85 for two 5-in. x 8-in. black-and-white photos.

Engineer Writes First Prize Paper

Robert L. Everett won $35 first prize in the student prize paper contest sponsored annually by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The title of his paper was, "The Logical Design of a Direct-Coupled Transistor Amplifier." Michael Dormann, of SU, won fourth prize with his paper on, "The Radio Telescope"; and fifth prize was taken by David Albright.

Dinner, Dance For Engineers

A dinner-dance for student and alumni engineers will be Saturday in the Edmund Meany Hotel. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., followed by dancing to the music of Al Rinaldi and his Vagabonds.

Tickets are $3.50 per person. Engineers' Council president Larry Shannon said the purpose is to acquaint student engineers with engineers active in industry. "This will help us in our choice of specialized courses here and in choosing our field of employment," Shannon said.

Tickets are available from Dr. Donald K. Reynolds, Jack Radcliffe, David Albright and Larry Shannon.

Women's Honorary To Accept Pledges

Applications for membership in Silver Scroll, upperclasswomen's scholastic and activities honorary, will be available in the ASSU office from now until May 1, according to president Celine Hulbert.

Membership is based on activities and a minimum grade point of 3.0. Applicants must be juniors or non-graduating seniors. The honorary is limited to 15 members.

Applications must be returned to the ASSU office by 1 p.m. on May 1. None will be accepted after that time, Celine said.

Education Discussion Draws 150 to Lounge

Dr. Ralph K. O'Brien of the Education Department and the Rev. J. Gerard Bussy, S.J., of the Philosophy Department, discussed modern education Tuesday night. Dr. O'Brien was the apologist and Father Bussy was the critic of modern education.

Approximately 150 students and faculty members attended the Education Club-sponsored debate in the Chieftain lounge.

IN HIS OPENING statement, Dr. O'Brien pointed out that increased efficiency in agriculture, industry, technology and automation has altered society. He said one of the problems of education is that "the knowledges we must encompass have increased since the turn of the century."

"Thirty-five years ago," said Dr. O'Brien, "fourth and fifth-graders were one year older than today, yet reading and math achievements are above those of that time." He said the enrollment in science, math and second foreign languages in high school has increased since the turn of the century.

DR. O'BRIEN cited statistical tests showing improvement in spelling, reading and writing in the last 35 years.

"Teacher education is greatly improved over the past," said the education professor, "not only in the number of courses (and not only the 'whipping post' of education, the methods courses). The number of teachers without a B.A. has been reduced eight per cent in 20 years, he added.

FATHER BUSSY, as the critic of modern education, launched an attack which several times roused cheers and applause from the predominantly student audience.

"Education may have improved in the last 20 years," admitted Father Bussy, "but it drags, so that something must be done. There are gross defects."

Father Bussy illustrated his point by reading what he termed "dreadful" examples of grammar on test papers.

Building for the Future

Plans for a five-story Science Building were released today by Father President. With the notice came an announcement of the Seattle University Building Fund.

Seattle University is a growing force — not only in Seattle, but on the entire Pacific Coast. One-third of the present enrollment is made up of members of 15 non-Catholic denominations. There are an estimated 25,000 alumni of the University. The enrollment has grown 7,000 per cent since 1931. And in 1965 there will be an estimated 5,000 students at Seattle University.

THE FUTURE STUDENTS, as well as the present student body, need an expanded and modernized campus. These facilities are needed in science and engineering more than in any other major.

This is the first fund drive that Seattle U. has turned to the community as a whole for support. Many of the key figures in the Fund drive organization are leaders in civic affairs and industry — and many of them are not Catholics.

The students of Seattle U. have contributed to expansion through the Student Development Drive in the past two years. The Administration is aware of the student efforts and appreciative of them. But our support is only natural because we, and the students after us, are the sole benefactors of any fund drive.

THE UNIVERSITY of California student center fund has raised $2,375,000 from 4,500 individuals. Seventeen Ohio colleges are conducting a cooperative campaign in Akron and Toledo. Cornell, Columbia, Oberlin, St. Joseph, Fordham, U. of Dayton, Dartmouth, U. of Hartford and Gonzaga are only a few in the funds rivalry.

Seattle U. is not alone in its campaign. It is for this reason that our support and enthusiasm is most needed.

FATHER GERALD BEEZER, S.J.:

He Dedicated His Life to SU

By KAM MALLOY

"Now there's an example of poor teaching," said the sandy-haired man as he put down the poor grade in the book. He always worried about getting and keeping his students in school, and there was always a panic to get into his algebra class at Gonzaga. He could make even the dumbest learn.

This popular teacher had more social invitations than he could handle and he was present at every club function, including the dances. He must have served on every financial and academic committee in the school, besides being head of the chemistry department and manager of the bookstore.

When Father Gerald Beezer, S.J., first came to Seattle University, the bookstore was on the second floor of the Science Building. After the Student Union Building was set up, the bookstore was moved into the old cafeteria that had been in the Science Building basement.

Fixing watches and radios was a hobby of Father Beezer's and he found time to fit it in along with everything else. Practically a "jack of all trades," he fixed watches for almost the whole community. Father began his hobby while studying at Mount St. Michael's and became an expert at it. During the war he was offered a job with a city jeweler.

Having promoted and officiated at weddings and baptisms, there must have been a good many "Gerald's" named after him.

This understanding teacher always worried about his students and made their problems his own. After they graduated they would return and report their recent activities and problems to their adopted spiritual adviser. Father would sit and listen to each one for hours as they told him these problems and plans for the future and, although having heard it from each one, he never seemed to tire of listening.

Fr. Beezer seemed to run the school by remote control and, whether good or bad, you always took away something of inspiration from him.

Following the war years, SU increased to thousands and, in trying to provide study equipment for all, Fr. Beezer spent hours combing the pawnshops getting engineering tools and other necessary equipment.

All his interests and activities kept him going night and day, and after years of hard and devoted work fatigue began to tell on him and he was taken to the hospital.

From then on Father was confined to a wheelchair and, after a last attempt to return to teaching, Fr. Beezer gave up his activities that he worked so hard to make successful.

One last time he returned to the hospital and on April 14, 1959, Fr. Gerald Beezer, S.J., passed away at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Yakima.

Students Query Teachers on Education

The papers were chosen, said Father, "simply because I happened to be correcting them today. They are not at all unusual."

A MATH TEST given to 3,000 11-year-olds in California and England by a University of California researcher was mentioned by Father. "One hard fact that emerged," said the philosophy professor, "is that English pupils at age 11 showed a two-to-one superiority in math."

The English Jesuit asserted, "Folks, there's something screwy here. This methods business comes from Dewey, the 'dean of American education,'" he continued, "and Dewey had a lot of good insight about details, but he was busting wrong about everything that matters. For Dewey there is no final end or goal. The means become important as ends because there is no final end."

One remark by Father brought approving applause from the audience: "The only thing I can see about arts and crafts is that the mother of this poor beknighted child has to take the animal, for fear of hurting the child, and place it on the mantel!"

DR. O'BRIEN and Father Bussy engaged in brief skirmishes over the "quantity vs. quality" question. Father Bussy agreed that the U.S. is educating a higher percentage of the population than the European schools.

"In fact," he said, "American students are considerably advanced in self-confidence, making their own way, and taking apart engines — but they leave high school two years behind European students in the liberal arts."

The rest of the program was devoted to questions from the audience.

Jane Merryman Awarded Scholarship to Stanford U.

Jane Merryman, graduating senior in political science, from Menlo Park, Calif., has been awarded a $1,000 graduate fellowship at Stanford University for 1959-60. Jane will study international relations in preparation for a career in the foreign service.

JANE HAS received the annual Silver Scroll award for the sophomore woman with the highest grade point and the Kappa Gamma Pi award for the outstanding junior woman in scholastic and campus activities.

She is a member of the upper-class women's honorary, Silver Scroll, and the Catholic women's graduate honorary, Kappa Gamma Pi.

SINCE JANE'S graduation with distinction from Sacred Heart High School in Menlo Park, Calif., she has attended SU on scholarship and will graduate summa cum laude. A member of the Honors Program, Jane is chairman of SU's Bulgarian delegation to the Model United Nations, at USC later this month.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Thoughts for Candidates

Dear Editor:

Electiontime is at hand. As next year's chairman of the student senate I am particularly interested in the outcome of the senate races.

The student senate is the most powerful student group on our campus. For this reason it is important to have senators willing and able to shoulder the responsibilities. Your new student government officers feel that each student who has a sincere interest in student government should seriously evaluate his qualifications.

We feel that a student senator must have a knowledge of the workings of a student government; be actively interested in student government; not content to wear a black blazer and sit silently at meetings or not bother to come at all.

We are interested in stimulating especially the students who have the qualifications but possibly haven't seriously considered the need. We ask you in the interest of better student government to take an active part in these forthcoming elections.

Sincerely,
LARRY DONOHUE,
ASSU 1st vice pres.-elect.

New Springtime Fashions Aim At Eliminating 'Elbow Grease'

By ANN O'SULLIVAN

What will the collegiate fashionplate be wearing during Spring and Summer, '59?

Dame Fashion has decreed that the shirtwaist is to be reinstated as basis for relaxed living this year. Fitted sheaths will reappear, no longer the "rib-hugging silhouette" of the pre-sage saga but with a looser line. Petticoats will add soft body to full skirts.

"EASY CARE" is the byword, with dresses and separates appearing in cottons and synthetics designed to eliminate elbow-grease, and silk in varying textures steps up as an important fabric for playclothes.

Shirts 'n' shorts will appear in a riotous explosion of colors, and daring fashion experts predict startling, offbeat combinations. Femininity will be preserved, however, with plenty of laces and fringe added to otherwise sporty creations.

The question of the hour is, "Will the two-piece swimsuit be accepted?" They are fashionable at present, but 'tis the wearers who decide if they stay. The Bikini is also in fashion, but only for those with one indispensable accessory — a private swimming pool.

EVENING WILL find our fashionplate repeating the basic lines of daytime wear and adding some frivolous accessories to express her individuality. Little veils trimmed with flowers and ribbons will be "just right for those occasions when some hat is called for but she wants to show off a pretty hairdo.

The controversial flower caps provide lots of fun for the gals brave enough to wear them, and the classic Breton offers that "youthful look" to those young at heart as well as in age. Jewelry is chiefly a matter of personal taste. Tiny blossoms enameled to match a costume and set in gold or silver, chalk bracelets, and classic pearls are the thing for the new season.

SHOES WILL appear in soft, glove-like leathers, with a trend toward a color-matched ensemble right down to the diminutive heels and tapered toes.

The basic point to bear in mind when a shopping spree draws near, is that fashion must be adjusted to the individual. A sprinkling of imagination, however, and the courage to try something new are what transform clothes into fashion.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF ROOM-MATES

Room-mates are not only heaps of fun, but they are also very educational, for the proper study of mankind is man, and there is no better way to learn the dreams and drives of another man than to share a room with him.

This being the case, it is wise not to keep the same room-mate too long, because the more room-mates you have, the more you will know about the dreams and drives of your fellow man. So try to change room-mates as often as you can. A recent study made by Sigafos of Princeton shows that the best interval for changing room-mates is every four hours.

How do you choose a room-mate? Most counselors agree that the most important thing to look for in room-mates is that they be people of regular habits. This, I say, is arrant nonsense. What if one of their regular habits happens to be beating a Chinese gong from midnight to dawn? Or growing cultures in your tooth glass? Or reciting the Articles of War?

...there wasn't a blessed thing I could use in his wardrobe...

Regular habits, my foot! The most important quality in a room-mate is that he should be exactly your size. Otherwise you will have to have his clothes altered to fit you, which can be a considerable nuisance. In fact, it is sometimes flatly impossible. I recollect one time I roomed with a man named Osage Tremblatt who was just under seven feet tall and weighed nearly four hundred pounds. There wasn't a blessed thing I could use in his entire wardrobe—until one night when I was invited to a masquerade party. I cut one leg off a pair of Tremblatt's trousers, jumped into it, sewed up both ends, and went to the party as a bolster. I took second prize. First prize went to a girl named Antenna Radnitz who poured molasses over her head and went as a candied apple.

But I digress. Let us turn back to the qualities that make desirable room-mates. Not the least of these is the cigarettes they smoke. When we bum cigarettes, do we want them to be shoddy and nondescript? Certainly not! We want them to be distinguished, gently reared, zestful and zingy. And what cigarette is distinguished, gently reared, zestful and zingy? Why, Philip Morris, of corris! Any further questions?

To go on. In selecting a room-mate, find someone who will wear well, whom you'd like to keep as a permanent friend. Many of history's great friendships first started in college. Are you aware, for example, of the remarkable fact that Johnson and Boswell were room-mates at Oxford in 1712? What makes this fact so remarkable is that in 1712 Johnson was only three years old and Boswell had not yet been born. But, of course, children matured earlier in those days. Take Mozart, who wrote his first symphony at four. Or Titian, who painted his first masterpiece at five. Or Hanso Felbgung, who was in many ways the most remarkable of all; he was appointed chief of the Copenhagen police department at the age of six!

It must be admitted, however, that he did badly. Criminals roamed the city, robbing and looting at will. They knew little Hanso would never pursue them—he was not allowed to cross the street.

If you are allowed to cross the street, hie yourself to a tobaccoist and stock up on Philip Morris, outstanding among non-filter cigarettes, or Marlboro, the filter cigarette with better "makin's." Pick your pleasure.

Brown Offers ASSU Jobs

Several student body presidential appointments for next year will be offered to students this week, according to Sam Brown, ASSU president-elect.

THE OPENINGS to be filled are: (1) Executive secretary; (2) Homecoming co-chairmen; (3) three members for the student disciplinary board; (4) three members for the judicial board. (Applicants for this office must have sophomore standing by next fall.) (5) Movie board chairman; (6) freshman orientation co-chairmen; (7) ASSU third annual Leadership Conference co-chairmen.

A final opening is the newly created position of personal representative of the ASSU student body president. This public relations job requires an individual who is well acquainted with student affairs and ASSU administration. He will communicate information to individual clubs, living and faculty groups in his district. In turn, he will inform the ASSU president of all matter gathered from these, said Brown.

FILING FOR these positions will open today and will close April 30. Sign-up sheets will be placed on the ASSU bulletin board, second floor, Student Union Building, and on the first floor bulletin board of the LA Building.

Those who petition will be interviewed and then screened by the executive board branch of ASSU. Final approval will be made by the Student Senate after consultation with Father President and the dean of students, according to Brown.

Both men and women students are eligible. Those not especially interested in holding a chairmanship, but who would like to help in a lesser capacity, are strongly urged to sign up.

Victoria Cruise in May

The third annual one-day cruise to Victoria, B.C., will be on May 23, according to tour leader Patrick Martin. Details and cost will be in next week's Spectator.

Math Professor to Talk On 'What is an Average?'

Dr. Tom Apostol, associate professor of mathematics at the California Institute of Technology, will lecture tonight on "What Is an Average?"

The lecture will be in Pigott Auditorium at 8 p.m. and is sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America and the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Apostol will be available Friday morning for conferences with students interested in mathematics. Anyone wishing a conference should contact the Mathematics Department.

A second lecture on "Farey Fractions and Ford Circles" will be given at 11 a.m. Friday in Pigott Auditorium.

Dr. Apostol is a graduate of the University of Washington and received his Ph.D. at the University of California at Berkeley. He has taught at Berkeley, MIT, and has been at the California Institute of Technology since 1950. He is the author of the textbook, "Mathematical Analysis."

Dr. Apostol's field of academic research is the analytic number theory.

CCD Appoints New Officers; Work to Continue in Summer

Appointment of officers and chairmen for CCD has been announced by the Rev. Vernon J. Harkins, S.J., CCD chaplain. New appointments are Elissa Eberhart, vice president, and Therese Martin, treasurer. Reappointed were Bill Christensen, president, and Colleen Meehan, secretary.

'Miss Capitol Hill' Contest Now Open

Seattle U. coeds interested in trying out for the "Miss Capitol Hill" of 1959 Contest are asked to contact Jim Plastino in the public relations office.

ACCORDING to Jim, contest officials are seeking Seattle U. coeds who would like to enter.

To be eligible, a girl must be a resident of that district, single and 18 years of age or over. The winner will be chosen June 18, but entries should be submitted now.

THE 1958 "Miss Capitol Hill" was Brigid Flood, now a senior here, and in 1957 Joan Parker DeDomenico, another SU student, held the honor.

"Miss Capitol Hill" is automatically a Seafair princess and becomes a candidate for Seafair Queen.

OTHER OFFICERS will include Mike Toutonghi, chairman of the blind committee; Pat Pederson, Blind Committee secretary; Tom Kaiser and Ethel Serfozo, co-chairmen of the exceptional children committee; Terry Martin and Elissa Eberhart, deaf committee co-chairmen; and Lois Dideon, secretary of the deaf committee.

The committee for the blind will continue a visiting program and discussion series throughout the summer months.

THE EXCEPTIONAL children committee will continue teaching religion classes during the Summer, with the assistance of Sisters attending the Summer school session.

The end of May will see the wind-up of the adult discussion group for the deaf committee. The committee is also teaching 12 children Saturday mornings, preparing them for their first Communion. Mary Malloy has been in charge of this program, which will continue through the Summer. The committee is also making tentative plans to send a member to Chicago for special training in the methods of teaching religion to deaf children.

IK's Travel to Convention

Ferdy Reichlin, Tom Sell and Bob Bouse will represent SU's Wigwam Chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights at the national convention in Billings, Mont.

The convention, hosted by the Montana School of Mines, starts today and ends Sunday. The group will discuss the problems of the national secretary and his duties.

IF THEY CAN FIND THE RULES:

U.W. To Meet Cambridge In Tiddly Winks Match

The Spectator received an urgent call from the University of Washington Daily last Tuesday. They lost their tiddly winks rule book.

The book was sent by Cambridge University, which boasts the champion tiddly winks team of the British Isles. (Cambridge recently defeated Oxford to claim top tiddly winks honors.)

CAMBRIDGE is considering a U.S. tiddly winks tour — and U.W. wants to get in on the fun by forming a tiddly winks team. But the misplaced rule book is all-importance since, apparently, tiddly winks is not one of the more popular diversions of the U.W. student body.

Jerry Lavell, Spectator sports editor, is considering forming a Seattle U. tiddly winks team. The unformed team has already been challenged by the rule bookless Huskies.

EDITOR LAVELL stressed that those interested should begin thumb exercises immediately. "Bottle-opening seems especially beneficial," he said, "in the development of proper thumb coordination."

So, just in case anyone has recently received a tiddly winks rule book from Cambridge, would you bring it to the Spectator office. The Daily is, really and truly, looking for one. And to quote one U.W. staff member, "This is serious!"

Pearsall Takes Medalist Honors

SU's golfers whacked CPS for the 33rd-straight team victory Monday at Inglewood Country Club. Eddie Pearsall took medalist honors with a one-under-par 72. Unbeaten in two years, the Redskin win over the Tacoma swingers was the seventh this year.

Tennis Squad Trips Olympic

The Seattle University tennis team won its third-straight match Monday in downing Olympic College, 7-0. Previous wins were over SPC and CPS.

The Chieftain netters have a match scheduled tomorrow against Western Washington or Idaho.

Matches scheduled for May will be against CPS, Central, Olympic, SPC and Western. The latter match will be played at Bellingham, the others home games for the Chieftains, played at Volunteer Park.

Tentative plans are being made for a match against arch-rival University of Portland, as well as a road trip east of the mountains for matches against Inland Empire schools, according to Mr. Everett Woodward, the team coach.

AWS Softball Meeting

Women students who intend to play in the softball game against the Jesuit faculty will meet tomorrow at 12:45 p.m. in the Chieftain lounge.

Attendance is compulsory for those who will play in the game April 27, said AWS recreation director Valerie Fernandes.

Trout Lake Hikers' Goal

The Hiyo Coulees will hike to Trout Lake in the Cascades this Sunday. The hike is the last "counting hike" for eligibility to go on the overnight hike to Olympic Hot Springs on May 1 to 3. Students going on the overnight have to have participated in two hikes this year.

The hikers leave for Trout Lake at 8:30 a.m., from the north end of the Liberal Arts Building. They will return by 5:30 p.m. Hikers should bring a lunch and $1 for transportation, said president Pat McNulty.

Simmons Leads Chieftains To Seattle-Pacific Win

Pitcher Bob Simmons led the Chiefs to a baseball victory over Seattle Pacific last Tuesday. The Vikings were defeated, 8-6, in a 12-inning game.

SIMMONS came on to relieve Don Carlson in the top of the ninth while the Redmen trailed, 5-2.

The Chieftains, trailing after five innings, came to life as Larry McCauley smashed a three-bagger to bring in two runs. But it was the two crucial singles by Bob Polhamus who put the Chiefs ahead, 6-5, and enabled them to stay in the game.

IN THE NINTH inning the Vikings bounced back by loading the bases and scoring one run to tie the score again.

With two men on in the 12th, Ken Sakamota bagged a double that scored two runs that put the Chiefs ahead for the final tally of 8-6.

Last Friday the Chiefs shut out Portland State in two games. The next game is a doubleheader again Gonzaga U., on May 2 in Spokane. The next home game is against Western Washington on May 6.

Co-ed Track Meet On Memorial Day

An intramural track and field meet for men and women students is scheduled for Memorial Day. All campus organizations and halls are asked to participate, according to Val Fernandes, AWS recreation director.

Men's events will include the 880 and 440-yard runs, 60 and 220-yard dashes, 880 and 440-yard relays and sprint medley relay. Field events will feature the shot-put, high jump and broad jump.

The women will engage in relays, sprints and a softball throw. Individual and group applications may be made in Room 561, Pigott, between 1 and 2 p.m. daily. Further information can be obtained from Mr. Everett Woodward, intramural athletic director, or from Frank DeMartino.

The meet is set to begin at 9:30 a.m. at Catholic Memorial Field.

SIGN UP BY TOMORROW:

Comprehensive May 14

The philosophy comprehensive for Spring Quarter will be given May 14. Students taking the comprehensive must sign the list in the registrar's office by tomorrow.

Senate Debates CNCCS Money

Debate over the number of delegates to the CNCCS and the amount of money allotted to them was the major issue at the student senate meeting last Tuesday.

THE NUMBER of delegates was finally set at seven and $85 allotted the group. This money includes $10 per person registration fee and $15 for transportation.

Other business at the meeting included a request from the bowling team for $95 to attend the bowling tournament at Eugene, Ore. The request, put in the form of a motion, was defeated.

SENATOR DENNY Johnson moved that the senate accept April 24 as the date for an A Phi O mixer. The motion passed.

Reports from Senator Brenda McGroarty and ASSU treasurer Mike Desmond indicated the ASSU is approximately $900 in the black.

Only students who have completed their philosophy requirements or are taking the last one this quarter are eligible.

Review classes in philosophy will be conducted before the examination. The dates and times will be posted on the bulletin boards in the near future, according to the Rev. Louis T. O'Callaghan, S.J., head of the Philosophy Department.

Students should review the subjects before attending the review classes.

Free Candy Bars Say, 'Thank You'

"Thanks a Thousand" will be written on the free candy bars the Rev. Haydon A. Vachon, S.J., will be passing out tomorrow in the Chieftain.

This is Father's way of thanking the students who pour their pennies, nickels and dimes into his tiny box every day for the erection of a new art building. $1,000 has been donated by the students this year in small change.

The official total this week is $4,581.

Carolyn Eckstrom Receives Award

Carolyn Eckstrom, senior marketing major from Tacoma, has received the American Marketing Association's award for the outstanding senior marketing major from Seattle University.

THE AWARD was given at a banquet in the Norselander last Tuesday. Selection is based on grade point, leadership, and participation in the Marketing Club during the past four years. Carolyn is graduating with honors and will continue her education in Europe next fall.

Valedictorian Auditions Set

Next Tuesday all scholastically qualified seniors will be eligible to try out for valedictorian.

This announcement was made in letters sent to those persons by the registrar.

The tryouts will be held in Room 123 of the Liberal Arts Building at 1:30 p.m., and those interested in trying out will deliver memorized speeches lasting three to five minutes.

The talks will be judged by the valedictory committee, comprised of the Rev. William J. Codd, S.J.; the Rev. Frederick P. Harrison, S.J.; and Dr. Helen E. Shimota.

Architectural Tour Tickets

Tickets for the Seattle Art Museum's Architectural Tour of the homes in Broadmoor and the Lakeside area are available from Mr. James Metcalfe, in P165.

The tour is April 30 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Regular tickets are $3 and student tickets are $1.
