Housing Undergoes Change

Campus housing has the "new look" this quarter, and changes may continue to the fall of 1962.

According to University officials, application has been made to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for a $2 million loan. Dependent upon approval of the Board of Regents, Jesuit higher superiors and the federal agency, this loan would be used for a nine-story men's dormitory with a capacity of about 480.

IF ALL APPROVALS are granted, construction could begin next March. Tentative plans include dining facilities in the new building and a new home for the bookstore.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency recently received an additional $500 million grant from Congress. The agency may use these funds for loans for living quarters at colleges at a low interest rate.

BORDEAUX HALL, "The Castle" on 17th and Union no longer is a women's hall, but now houses about 22 men. Casarucia Apartments opposite the Pigott Building has a new name, Marion Hall. It houses now about 126 upper class women.

Crowded housing made it necessary for Fr. Edmund McNulty, S.J., business manager, to lease on a temporary basis five units for 15 women in the new Manhattan Apartments, 1200 Boylston.

The Intercollegiate Knights no longer live in Berchmans Hall. Eight IK's now live at 919 E. Columbia St.

ABOUT 328 WOMEN live at Marycrest Hall and about 24 in McHugh Hall. About 206 men are in Xavier Hall, 38 in Belarmine, 15 in Berchmans and 25 in Regis.

According to the sheriff's office in Council, Mr. Ball was working in a fruit cellar about 9:15 a.m. yesterday when the wooden shoring gave way and he was buried under several feet of dirt.

THE DOCTOR called to the scene said Mr. Ball was dead when rescuers reached him some 30 minutes later.

Mildred and her sister, who was visiting in Seattle, flew back to Mesa yesterday afternoon.

Enrollment Up Over 5 Percent

Day school registration hit 2,425 at 5 p.m. yesterday according to the Registrar's office. The total, four days before late registration closes, is 125 more than final figures for fall quarter last year. Registration is presently the largest in day school since 1955 (2,446) and may exceed the 1950 total of 2,547.

Preliminary figures show there are about 75 fewer seniors than last year, 75 more juniors, 100 fewer sophomores and 200 more freshmen. Incomplete totals indicate the freshman class, with about 875, is the largest in recent years.

Editorial:

The Election Year

In every election year a newspaper takes on the job of intelligently informing its readers on the issues, the candidates' campaigning and the innumerable "human touch" sidelights that make a campaign the uniquely American process it is. The interest generated in other countries by a Presidential campaign is typified by the large television audience which watched a rerun of the first Kennedy-Nixon debate in Great Britain.

IN ADDITION to objective reporting, newspapers and other news media frequently take an editorial stand backing one or more candidates, locally and nationally.

In this campaign year, highlighted by the importance of the "television image," The Spectator will offer equal opportunity to both major parties to make known to this newspaper's readers the parties' aims and objectives. While the opportunity is offered, this will not guarantee equal space.

WE BELIEVE that, in this way, the voter will be left to form his own opinion on the issues and candidates and thus be able to make his decision on Nov. 8.

The Spectator supports only one candidate: Miss Ann O'Donnell. A former editor of The Spectator, from 1955 to 1957, Miss O'Donnell, a Democrat, is running for re-election to the state House of Representatives from the 37th (Capitol Hill-S.U.) District.

Except for Miss O'Donnell, The Spectator does not endorse any candidate . . . we only urge that you study the issues and use your franchise on Nov. 8.

TV Debate Arouses Student Interest

By SUE HACKETT

Because of the high amount of interest in the debate between Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kennedy last Monday night over all the TV and radio networks, the Spectator interviewed several of the students who have shown an active interest in politics here on campus.

JOE DEMO, president of SU's Young Republicans, after much reflection said this: "Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kennedy, due to circumstances and time, were unable to deal with anything short of generalities. Surely we cannot expect the majority of American citizens to make a decision for the best executive leadership on this debate alone. The influence that this had, and the others that will follow, can be of some consequence.

"Yet, in my opinion, it is hardly an apt premise upon which to base a most important political conclusion. I believe that only through political study of party structure, organization, history and the issues can a citizen truly choose one candidate over the other.

SUE ETCHEY, a member of SU's Young Democrats, stated: "Kennedy made a better overall impression. Nixon seemed to be patronizing the people by having them stand behind him. I think the debates will sway only the independent voters. The candidate who can better put forth his personality over the medium of TV will draw these voters. The debates will familiarize the voters much more with Kennedy the man and Nixon the man."

LEO PENNE, a sophomore who is an independent, gave us these thoughts: "Nixon said more but Kennedy looked better and may have made a better impression. The debates gave the public a better idea of the basic differences between the two major parties."

DAVE IRWIN, past president of the Young Democrats said: "The debates will undoubtedly stimulate a tremendous amount of interest in the candidates and the election. The appeal in the program Monday night was definitely to the independent voter because the Democrats who believe in Kennedy would say he won the debate and the Republicans who believe in Nixon would say that Nixon won the debate. Gene Kresach, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Kennedy in Washington state, and Bud Cavino, of the same organization, took a telephone poll right after the telecast and 99% of those called were enthusiastic about Kennedy's appearance."

RONNIE MILLER, treasurer of the Young Republicans, interpreted the effect of the debate in this way: "Most people will stick to what they thought before the debate. Both candidates held up their ends equally well. The debate was meant to influence the independents.

New ASSU President Gives Policy Preview

By JUDY KING

A sure sign of a successful organization is its ability to continue operation during the unexpected. S. U.'s student government did just that when Greg Barlow, newly elected ASSU president, entered the seminary the middle of the summer.

HIS DECISION came at the time when the new officers were setting up their committees and policies, based around Greg's campaign promises. The unusual situation was handled with a minimum of operational upset and the new student government has already proved itself capable of handling the needs of the student body that revolve around it.

THE REASONS for the successful transfer of officers was brought out in an informal interview with Tom Kearns, who moved up from the 1st vice-president to the difficult job of president. Tom is well-qualified for the job because of his past experience as sophomore class president and senator.

WHEN ASKED how Greg's decision affected him, Tom said, "I'm very happy for both Greg and myself. I'm sure that Greg will make a good priest, and for myself, I welcome that challenge the office affords.

As far as policy changes go, Tom stressed the fact that he and Greg had worked out many new ideas between themselves so there would be no need for drastic changes.

"I CAN'T STRESS enough the fact that we have an 'Open-door Office,'" said Tom. "In the past, the ASSU officers have seemed aloof. This year we want this part of university life to be recognized for what it is, an organization of students, working for other students. We encourage all the students to come in any time, with ideas or complaints."

ONE BIG thing will be the Cultural Committee, under Ed Chow, 2nd Vice President. Through this committee the clubs will have the opportunity to work closer with the ASSU because they will sponsor the speakers and other activities. In this way everybody will benefit."

25 Years Ago

THE GOOD OLD DAYS...

By MARY JO SWALWELL

It's nice to know that S.U. always had a sense of humor. Proof of this rather ambiguous statement appears in black and white print of The Spectator" . . . 25 years ago.

The following excerpts are taken from the September issue of the paper, 1935.

"THE THING this country needs is an automobile with brakes as tight as the driver gets."

"If you've bought your new fall hat, don't throw away your old derby, use it for a Jello mold."

"Well, folks, every cloud has a silver lining . . . Myrde Lecture's suit has its shinside too."

"THE BIOLOGY CLASS, composed largely of girls, stands in urgent need of whatever you have or can scare up in the way of toads, fish, snakes, cats, pigeons, etc, including any unused arms, legs, or perhaps heads that you may know of.

"Mr. Schimdt added, with a smile, that all donations of fresh fowl would be 'greatly appreciated.' The younger female variety especially, he assured me, could be much more easily disjoined than the older, tougher birds."

'Country Players' Provide Dramatic Entertainment

After a dramatic drought, the ASSU Cultural Committee has taken a step forward in bringing to the campus the Countryside Players in the melodramatic comedy, The Great Sebastians.

This is the same group that presented the play Good Bye My Fancy in the student lounge last spring—only then the players were not sponsored by the ASSU.

THE PRODUCTION, the first major extra-curricular activity sponsored by the ASSU, will have a student and faculty night. On Thursday, Oct. 13, students will be admitted free with a student body card. The curtain will rise at 7 p.m. in Pigott Auditorium.

Curtain time on Friday, Oct. 14, and Saturday, Oct. 15, is 8:30 p.m. The price of admission will be 65 cents for students and $1 for adults.

THE PLAY is produced and directed by John Howell. John is also playing the leading role of Rudi Sebastian. Playing opposite him is Maureen Haughian, a former S.U. student.

Other S.U. students in the play are Bill Wood, Jim Kriley, Wally Toner, Marilyn Hoyt, Molly Gray, Eileen Nolan, Leo Penne, Jim Bradley, Mike Fisher, Dave Boulanger, Frank Ring, and Jerry Flynn.

All stage work is handled by the cast and other members of the Countryside Players.

Cultural Plans Set For Year

By PHIL CRONIN

The Cultural Committee is an old organization which has been revitalized this fall with new ideas. ASSU President Tom Kearns has appointed Dave Killen and Phil Cronin as cultural chairmen. They will handle the time spots, the publicity, and the funds for any imaginative individuals who have the talents and energy to organize and present programs of an intellectual or aesthetic nature such as dramas, great book seminars, philosophical symposiums, political debates, musical concerts, and art exhibits.

The faculty and student body officers are offering their advice and cooperation for these endeavors, but the initiative must come from the students themselves.

The motivating principle behind the Cultural Committee is the theory that the individual can and will perfect himself.

The committee has already arranged to sponsor "The Country Players" in their fourth coming effort, "The Great Sebastians." Also on the cultural agenda for this month are a series of lectures for freshmen only on the art of studying history, English, and mathematics.

The first talk, "The Art of Studying History," will be given by Fr. Joseph P. Donovan, S.J., Ph.D., at 8 p.m. Sunday in Pigott Auditorium. On Oct. 12 there will be a political debate between the Republican and Democratic members of the faculty.

Speculating

WITH GENE ESQUIVEL

Sportswise, S.U. was "swinging" in the news this summer.

Throughout the summer months, the Chieftains received noteworthy mention in a wide array of sports.

Our undefeated golf team, however, ran into somewhat of a snag when it tangled with the nation's best golfers in Colorado Springs, Colo. Only one Chieftain was able to qualify for the National Collegiate Athletic Association golf finals. The hot, dusty Broadmoor course proved too tedious to cope with. Even the National Open runnerup and the National Amateur Champion Jack Nicklaus succumbed in the semi-finals round.

EDDIE PEARSALL represented Seattle in the National Public Links championships in Hawaii. Later in the summer, he fell to ex-Publinx champ Bill Wright in the City Amateur after a playoff match. "Steady" Eddie was named to the third team NCAA golf team.

Still highlighting the golf scene, DeRoss Kinkade captured the Hidden Valley Country Club title in Cottage Grove, Ore. Don Fuda received mention for his golfing prowess when he scored a hole-in-one in the Post-Intelligencer's "dodo" contest.

Glenn Mattison, winner of last year's Dave Tripp perpetual trophy, was a stalwart for the Cheney Studs who won the American Baseball Congress national championship in Battle Creek, Mich. Joe Budnick, the team's coach, had this to say about Glenn: "Mattison was sensational at shortstop. We had ten double plays and he figured in most of them."

CARL GILLEN and Sam Brown represented the school in the NCAA tennis finals at the Seattle Country Club. The S.U. duo lost to the UCLA team of Larry Nagler and Allen Fox who ultimately won the finals.

Don Carlson, who is now the property of the San Francisco Giants, compiled a record of 4-3 in the Calif. State League.

DON CARLSON

DON OGOREK, co-leading scorer for the Chiefs last year, is out of the Denver Truckers lineup for the time being with sprained ankle tendons.

Elgin Baylor continued to merit a few headlines even though he didn't participate in regular competition. Big "Elg" was offered $200,000 for his basketball services but decided to stay with the now "lakeless" Los Angeles Lakers. When learning about the prodigious sum, one veteran observer remarked, "I thought they were talking about buying Baylor University."

Basketball Outlook 'Real Good' For 60-61 Season-Cazzetta

By R. LEO PENNE

Head basketball coach, Vince Cazzetta, yesterday advised S.U. fans to be ready for "some real good basketball" from the '60-61 Chieftains.

CAZZETTA AND assistant, Clair Markey, have only one returning senior. But they hope to overcome the lack of experience with an abundance of sophomore talent and two outstanding transfers.

Dave Mills, the lone senior, will be backed by juniors Tom Shaules, Dan Stautz, Richie Brennan, Ray Butler, Jake Stepan and Bob Gillum. Sophomores returning from last year's outstanding frosh squad are: Eddie Miles, Jim Preston, Paul Plunkett, Jack Fitterer, Ernie Dunston, Jim Dynes, Jack Kavanaugh, Jim Arnsberg and Don Amundson. Other sophomores include: Sylvester Blye, Leon Gecker and Elbert Burton.

SUCCESS FOR the season depends on several big "ifs." If Butler and Blye, 6-5 transfers from California J.C.'s can perform as hoped; if either Brennan, 6-9, Burton, 6-11, or Amundson, 6-9, can take over as the "big man,"; if Miles and Mills can repeat their great seasons; and if the lift of the N.C.A.A. tournament ban brings the expected morale boost, this could be one of S. U.'s greatest seasons.

One big obstacle, of course, is the improved schedule which features the strongest of the Far West independents. It includes for the first time a home-and-home series with both the University of Oregon and Washington State.

THE SEASON opens with the Chiefs appearing for the first time in the L.A. Sports Arena against Pepperdine. The first home game will be against Pepperdine, Dec. 8, in the Civic Ice Arena. All of S.U.'s '60-61 home games will be in the Ice Arena.

A high point of the season will be the Far West Classic which will include along with S.U., W.S.U., University of Oregon, Oregon State, Idaho, Portland, Wisconsin and Arizona State.

Mixed Bowling Leagues Start Rolling Thursday

The intramural bowling league will open Thursday at 1 p.m. at Rainier Lanes.

The league is open to all students and members of the faculty, regardless of their abilities or years of experience.

Those who want to join the league should be at the bowling alley, located one-half block south of Sick's Stadium on Rainier Avenue, according to Fr. Francis Logan, S.J.

Girls wishing rides to the lanes should be at Marycrest Hall at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday.

Fr. Logan explained that poor or inexperienced bowlers had a good chance in team competition because they have high handicaps.

Intramurals Schedule Busy Year

By JOHN FATTORINI

The starting date of the S.U. intramurals for the coming year is Oct. 10. Under the direction of Mr. Everett Woodward, intramural director, a strong schedule has been drawn up, comprising the athletic and leisure interests of a majority of S.U. students, both men and women.

THE ACTIVITIES included in the program for the coming year are: touch football, volleyball, table tennis, gymnastics, bowling, basketball, track and field and softball.

During fall quarter there is touch football for the men, with volleyball, bowling, table tennis, and gymnastics open to both men and women students.

TWO STUDENT ASSISTANTS, Dale Shirley and Frank Gatto, are aiding Mr. Woodward in the facilitating of this program. These two students, along with Mr. Woodward, select the officials for the games and organize the leagues. Anyone may join the program.

Those students wishing to sign up for the fall programs can contact either Mr. Woodward in the Pigott Bldg., room 562, or Dale Shirley at Xavier Hall, room 207. Any student wishing to officiate may contact the intramural officials. An organizational meeting for team captains and prospective officials is slated for Oct. 5 in the gym.

Montgomery Elected YD Head

Bill Montgomery, Ketchikan junior, was elected president of the Young Democrats club Wednesday night. Montgomery, a C&F major, fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Dave Irwin who has been appointed ASSU first vice president.

ONCE MORE UNTO THE BREACH, DEAR FRIENDS

Today, if I am a little misty, who can blame me? For today I begin my seventh year of writing columns for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes.

Seven years! Can it be possible? It seems only yesterday I walked into the Marlboro offices, my knickers freshly pressed, my cowlick wetted down, my oilcloth pencil box clutched in my tiny hand. "Sirs," I said to the makers of Marlboro—as handsome an aggregation of men as you will find in a month of Sundays, as agreeable as the cigarettes they make—mild yet hearty, robust yet gentle, flip-top yet soft pack—"Sirs," I said to this assemblage of honest tobaccoists, "I have come to write a column for Marlboro Cigarettes in college newspapers across the length and breadth of this great free land of America."

We shook hands then—silently, not trusting ourselves to speak—and one of the makers whipped out a harmonica and we sang sea chanties and bobbed for apples and played "Run, Sheep, Run," and smoked good Marlboro Cigarettes until the campfire had turned to embers.

"What will you write about in your column?" asked one of the makers whose name is Trueblood Strongheart.

"About the burning issues that occupy the lively minds of college America," I replied. "About such vital questions as: Should the Student Council have the power to levy taxes? Should proctors be armed? Should coeds go out for football?"

"And will you say a kind word from time to time about Marlboro Cigarettes," asked one of the makers whose name is Honor Bright.

"Why, bless you, sirs," I replied, chuckling silverly, "there is no other kind of word except a kind word to say about Marlboro Cigarettes—the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste—that happy combination of delicious tobacco and exclusive selectrate filter—that loyal companion in fair weather or foul—that joy of the purest ray serene."

There was another round of handshakes then and the makers squeezed my shoulders and I squeezed theirs and then we each squeezed our own. And then I hid me to my typewriter and began the first of seven years of columning for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes.

And today as I find myself once more at my typewriter, once more ready to begin a new series of columns, perhaps it would be well to explain my writing methods. I use the term "writing methods" advisedly because I am, above all things a methodical writer. I do not wait for the muse; I work every single day of the year, Sundays and holidays included. I set myself a daily quota and I don't let anything prevent me from achieving it. My quota, to be sure, is not terribly difficult to attain (it is, in fact, one word per day) but the important thing is that I do it every single day. This may seem to you a grueling schedule but you must remember that some days are relatively easy—for example, the days on which I write "the" or "a". On these days I can usually finish my work by noon and can devote the rest of the day to happy pursuits like bird-walking, monopoly, and smoking Marlboro Cigarettes.

The makers of Marlboro are happy to bring you another year of Max Shulman's free-wheeling, uncensored column—and are also happy to bring Marlboro Cigarettes, and for non-filter smokers—mild, flavorful Philip Morris.
