S.U. to Open Bidding on New Men's Dorm

Harbor Club Site For Junior Prom

Seattle's Harbor Club has been chosen as the site for this year's Junior Prom. Located on the top floor of the Norton Bldg. on Second Ave., the club has a dining room facing the harbor and Puget Sound and a dancing area with a view of downtown Seattle.

"HARBOR LIGHTS" is the theme for the semi-formal prom, which is scheduled for 9 p.m. to midnight, Friday, May 3.

Jackie Souder's seven-piece orchestra will provide music for the evening. Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and punch will be served.

BIDS, $3 EACH, will be sold in the Chieftain in limited numbers to each class on various days next week. Monday, 70 bids will be available to seniors; Tuesday, 70 to juniors; Wednesday, any of the 140 unsold to seniors and juniors; Thursday, 60 to sophomores and freshmen; Friday, any unsold to whoever comes.

Co-chairmen for the event are Sara Etchey and Bob Turner.

Hawaiian Luau 'Calls' May 18

"Hawaii Calls," the second annual Hawaiian Club luau, will be from 7 p.m. to midnight, May 18, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 722 E. Union St.

HIGHLIGHT OF the evening will be a full-course Hawaiian dinner. Fresh flowers flown directly from Hawaii and an entertainment program depicting the stages of the hula from ancient to modern times will lend an "island" atmosphere to the program. The luau will conclude with a dance.

Admission is $2.50 each and will be limited to 350. Tickets are available from members of the Hawaiian Club and will not be sold at the door.

DIRECTING luau plans this year is Tony Baron, chairman.

S. U. Drama Dept.:

Bad Luck Plagues 'Beautiful People'

By HUGH O'DONNELL

Misfortune has shadowed S.U.'s drama dept. for the entire 1962-63 school year. Postponement of the "Beautiful People" from November to February was merely an omen of the difficulties which ultimately forced the production's cancellation.

The rescheduling of the play was necessary, according to Fr. James Connors, S.J., head of the speech dept., because of difficulties with the play itself and the dispersal of rehearsal dates. The quality of the student actors was not a factor involved in the delay, he said.

THE PLAY'S cancellation was the result of interference by the city fire inspector. Under the direction of Fr. Connors, students Bill Moreland, Jim Kriley, Jeff Flowers, Dean Maher, Al Vanik and Tom Bangasser constructed a proscenium arch—an opening in the "fourth wall"—over the stage in the former Jehovah's Witness church at Broadway and E. Columbia St. The structure was refused fire department approval on two counts. The arch was classified as a permanent structure, the building of which requires a license, and it was constructed of fiber board and wood which are flammable.

The drama dept. did not have a building license, but a temporary structure would have been permissible. The alternative is to hang heavy curtains which would be "completely mobile," according to Bill Moreland.

Tom Trebon Wins National Contest

Tom Trebon, of the freshman honors program, won second place in the Young Adult Division of the National Catholic Youth Oratory Contest April 15 in Washington, D.C. This was Trebon's second jet flight to the capitol representing the Seattle Archdiocese CYO in the national oratory contest.

The contest was divided into two sections, high school, and young adult, the college student division. Competing against Trebon were six other outstanding speakers from the eastern seaboard area. The topic for their speeches was the Ecumenical Council.

During each of three rounds contestants presented their prepared speeches, and then spoke extemporaneously on a topic selected by the judges.

Contract bids for a new 13-story, $4 million men's dormitory will be let within the next few weeks. According to Fr. Edmund McNulty, S.J., financial vice president, building will begin this summer. Completion is scheduled for fall 1964.

THE NEW HALL, which will follow the same general plan as S.U.'s new Bellarmine Hall, will be located between James and Jefferson streets, adjacent to the ASSU parking lot. The capacity will be approximately 700.

The original plans for the dorm called for two five-story wings with dining and recreational facilities between. Fr. McNulty said that the plans were revised since the school was not able to obtain two key pieces of property. Financing will be through a federal housing loan.

FR. McNULTY also said that residence hall changes will include the return of men students to Xavier Hall and boarding of women students in Bellarmine when the new structure is completed.

New plans for the S.U. library were also announced this week by the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., president of S.U. The plans for the building now include an increase to five stories, two stories higher than the original proposal. The completed structure will be 80 feet tall and will stand higher and wider than the Bannan building.

He added that construction will begin a year from this spring, "at the outside." The cost of the project, which was originally to be $1.6 million has risen to $2.3 million with the addition of the two extra floors.

LAST YEAR the student body voted an increase from $3 to $6 in the student building pledge contract. The pledge will contribute $800,000 plus interest to the library. The remainder will be financed from donations. Fr. Lemieux pointed out that if the U.S. Congress passes a federal aid bill allowing funds for library facilities, construction may begin sooner.

Defeat of the facilities aid bill by Congress last fall brought a halt to hopes of beginning the library this year. The University then undertook a campaign to the public to obtain funds from private sources.

Senate Meet Rescheduled

By MIKE PARKS

Thirteen senators assembled for last Sunday's afternoon senate meeting. They did not conduct any official business, however, for lack of a quorum. A senate quorum consists of 14 members.

The senators who did not attend the meeting were John Brockliss, Kathy Keely, C. J. Michaelson, Nick Murphy, Jim Preston, Tim Sullivan and Patti Wenker.

The meeting has been rescheduled for 7 p.m. this evening in the Chieftain conference room. The main business on the agenda is consideration of the judicial act of 1963, a set of procedures to be observed by the judicial board, and the newly revised election code. The group also will discuss a charter request by Alpha Gamma Delta, a women's honorary.

fraternity. Under Miller's leadership, club membership increased from 10 members at the beginning of the year, to 37 members and 20 pledges at present.

HONORED FOR outstanding contributions to the student body this year were Burke McCormick and Kathy Hogan, co-chairman of '63 Homecoming.

BECAUSE OF these disturbances, there will be no productions for the remainder of the school year. The new playhouse has not been completed, and, according to Fr. Connors, Pigott Aud. is unsuitable.

However, two plays have been tentatively scheduled for summer production. No definite title selection has been made.

State Department Aide To Visit Campus Today

Mr. Thomas P. Carroll, college relation officer with the U. S. Department of State, will visit S.U. today to answer questions and discuss student opportunities in the foreign service.

He will be in the Chieftain lounge at 1 p.m.

Mr. Carroll served in the executive office of the President for a number of years in various capacities and was head of the foreign service division during World War II.

In 1947 he joined the U.S. foreign service and later served as attache and first secretary in Rome, London, Ottawa and Iran. Mr. Carroll was appointed foreign service inspector in 1959 and since January, 1962, has worked in his present position.

Debate Tourney Exhibits Best Individual Speakers

In S.U.'s first annual intramural debate tournament last Saturday, Bryan Floyd, Tom Trebon and Sharon Schulte emerged from the field of 30 with trophies as outstanding individual speakers.

Floyd took first in interpretive reading and second in oratory. Trebon, a freshman, who last weekend placed second in the national C.Y.O. speech tourney, was tops in extemporaneous speaking and third in oratory. Sharon, another freshman, bested all comers in oratory. The debate title was taken by the team of Andrea Bahlay and Ruth Polhemus.

SECOND PLACE IN extemporaneous speaking went to Jack Kerry and third to Bernadette Carr. The runner-up in interpretive reading was Liz Hermann, with Jim Warne capping third.

Kerry, Gavel Club president, announced that a team composed of Saturday's winners and other regular S.U. competitors will leave today to compete in the Montana State inter-collegiate speech tournament. According to Kerry, it is expected that "the talent and enthusiasm exhibited in our intramural tournament, plus its training value, may well make us one of the strongest individual event teams at Montana State."

Former President Dies in Montana

S.U.'s twelfth president, Fr. John J. Balfe, S.J., died suddenly April 20 in St. Ignatius, Mont. Fr. Balfe was president here from April 7, 1934, to June 11, 1936. It was during this time that S.U. became coeducational.

Father was 73. Most of his priestly life after leaving S.U. was devoted to the Indian missions in Montana.

Outstanding Senators Named

By JUDY KING

Leo Penne and Mike Reynolds were awarded the outstanding senator awards at the annual President's Banquet Sunday. In past year's one senator has been named for the award but Bob Burnham, first vice president, who made the award, said that this year both senior senators had done such an outstanding award that it was impossible to choose between them.

This was the second year in a row that Penne has received the award. The 21-year-old political science major is the only senator in the history of the legislative body to have held a senatorial post for four years. Reynolds, a 21-year-old English major, has been a senator for two years.

THE PRESIDENT'S CUP, awarded to the year's outstanding service club, went to Spurs, the women's service organization. Sarah Jullion, Spur president, accepted the trophy.

Mick McHugh, president of Pep Club, accepted the award for the most improved club of the year, and Joe Miller was presented with the plaque for the best club president. Miller, a

Old Year... New Year

As we glance back over the events of this year we get the impression that it has been a year of beginning. Many new ideas have arisen and have been initiated. There have been many striking changes, and fortunately most of these have been for the good. Now that the officers-elect of the ASSU are on the eve of office-taking, we have a good opportunity to take a summary view of the last eight months.

Among the more notable achievements this year are those in the executive area: the improvement and expansion of the calibre of social and intellectual activities sponsored by the ASSU; the enforcement of new regulations on the financial status of campus clubs, a move which contributes to the solvency of the ASSU in general; the reactivation of the activities and financial boards into more effective mechanisms. Each of these areas has many facets in which concrete improvement has been accomplished by dedicated individuals.

IN THE FIELD OF legislation, the enforcement of Standing Rule 18 alone would almost justify the existence of the senate. But the year on the whole has been one of remarkable constructivity. Possibly this has been the most productive year in its history.

The judicial board has also experienced great progress. Another year may bring about the establishment of a judiciary force on campus that figures significantly in the operation of student affairs.

In general, relations and communication between the student government and the administration and faculty have grown.

BUT ALL OF THE stones have not yet been turned. A serious challenge faces the new student government not only to maintain the level established this year, but to make even greater strides next year.

We congratulate the outgoing officers for their dedicated efforts, and we urge the new officers to get an earlier start in applying their untried energy and enthusiasm.

Saturday Night Discussion:

'Anarchist' Stresses Individual

By R. LEO PENNE

No taxes, no wars, no jails—visionary goals, perhaps, but it was just these considerations that formed the nucleus of last Saturday night's discussion, led by Ammon Hennecy.

Hennecy, known as the "Catholic Anarchist," lived up to his reputation and in a lengthy account of his life enumerated many of his principle-defending encounters including 32 trips to jail. The total impression given by the wispy, white-haired gentleman was one of cheerful individualism typified in his accounts of official and unofficial adversity.

IN HIS BIOGRAPHY, he emphasized his conviction that the individual is the base of society and in his presentation, style and factual material, he demonstrated his own personal adherence to this conviction.

Although fervently holding to his principles, Hennecy maintains that decisions in this area are for the individual to make and each person is responsible for his own commitment, in reference to his own ideals.

Encyclical Issues New Call for Peace

By DON HOPPS

In "Pacem in Terris," the encyclical issued on Holy Thursday, Pope John XXIII calls his flock, and most significantly, all of mankind once again to the search for peace. In the encyclical he declares that there is hope for peace. He declares that there are rights of man, so there must be dignity in peace. Finally, he declares that man demands order, so that there must be international organization to preserve peace.

"Pacem in Terris" is both an intellectual treatise and a spiritual call. If we fail to understand what the marriage of these two implies, then we will fail to understand it.

THOSE WHO see it exclusively as a spiritual call, who see it as teaching of the Church, leave themselves open to being led—docilely, unthinkingly—into error by it. Those who see it exclusively as an intellectual treatise will miss its tremendous power, its great import.

As an intellectual treatise, the encyclical is open for critical analysis. The philosophic premises which are at its foundation, the ideas which it espouses and puts forward are not to be blindly accepted, but are to be subjected to close scrutiny—and judged on their merits.

WE MUST NOT forget that this is the Church—the possessor of spiritual light, the ultimate reality, and the leader of man to his final end, that has deigned to come down from her sunny mountain top and grope with poor man in this foggy political order.

Here she will not merely give us truth, but she will give us hope.

ASSU ASSEMBLY

The annual ASSU assembly will be at noon tomorrow in Pigott Aud. The Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., president of S.U., will speak, honors will be awarded and incoming ASSU and AWS officers will take their oaths of office.

Probings

New Slate

by Paul Hill

Tomorrow a whole new slate of ASSU officers takes power. The fact that new personalities will be involved in leadership assures us that some changes will be forthcoming; among these changes should be the addition of many new people to the list of "actives" who support and administer ASSU projects.

During the election campaigns, some candidates made a great issue of "being tired of seeing the same people in the ASSU office all the time." That the raisers of this issue gained considerable support is proof that many students agree. In fact, it's likely that no one—not even members of the so-called inner circle—is happy with the fact that significant participation in student affairs is limited to a few.

THE SOLUTION, of course, is for more students to become active. This simple answer may seem inadequate, especially to those who want to take positions of power without just working in the lower ranks—but it is the answer nonetheless. Our new officers, all of whom "came up from the ranks," are proof that the way to leadership is through participation.

We hope that everyone—especially those who want to see some new faces in the ASSU office—will let the officers know of their willingness to help. There are dozens of things that must be done for the senate, the cultural committee, the activities board, etc.; these will necessarily end up in the same few hands unless others appear to share the burden. The time is ripe for new people to play parts in the operation of the ASSU. It's up to those who want to work to take this opportunity to assert themselves.

Last Sunday, the student senate furnished a splendid example of democracy at play. The senate, assembled to consider such vital matters as changes in the election laws, was unable to act due to lack of a quorum. Of the 14 members required for the senate to do its business, 13 were present; those 13 waited in vain for 45 minutes, hoping that another senator would appear.

THE FIRST VICE PRESIDENT has called an emergency meeting for tonight at 7 p.m.; if the required number of senators can find their way to the conference room at that time, the senate may conduct its business.

Music Listening Hour

Tomorrow's music listening hour will include "Coronation Scene" from "Boris Godunov" (Mussorgsky); "Barcarolle" from "Tales of Hoffman" (Offenbach); "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini); "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore" (Verdi), and "Polka and Fugue" from "Schwanda" (Weinberger). The hour begins at 1 p.m. in Pigott Aud.

S.U. Nine Lose Three, Win One

By BOB COFFEY

In a pair of double-headers on Sunday and Monday, the S.U. baseballers ended up winning only one. The two games against Gonzaga at White Center Sunday found the Chiefs going down 3 to 0 in the opener, then coming back to take the nightcap 3-1 in a contest climaxed by Rich Kayla's blast over the left-field fence in the fifth inning.

Andy Erickson was the losing hurler for the Chiefs in the first game while Denny Hodovance won the second game for his fourth victory against no losses.

IN THE PAIR played in Yakima against Yakima J.C. on Monday, a look at the scorebook finds that S.U. was on the short end of both counts, 8-2 and 5-3.

The four games on two consecutive days would seem to be somewhat of a record for the Chieftains, who have been plagued by the famous Washington Liquid Sunshine throughout the season.

Conversations with players concerning the Yakima games would seem to indicate the S.U. team was "just not playing up to par." The two losses at Yakima bring Seattle's record to a respectable seven wins and five losses.

RUMORS DRIFTING across town from the University District indicate that the University of Washington is somewhat rankled at the thought of its recent defeat by S. U., and is chafing at the bit for a return contest. Said contest will transpire at 2 o'clock tomorrow at White Center. The U.W. baseballers are especially anxious to haul down a victory at the present, due to the 15-2 plastering administered by the Idaho Vandals following their defeat by the Chiefs.

Golf Team Wins, Netmen Humbled

In the S.U. spring sports roundup the golf team beat Idaho University 20½-15½ Monday and trounced Gonzaga 25½-11½ last Saturday. In the Idaho victory Roy Niznik, making his first appearance for S.U., turned in a fine performance by winning three points. John Shanley also contributed three points along with being the day's medalist with a 77.

The tennis team captured third place in a four-team round robin tournament at Ashland, Ore., last Friday and Saturday by defeating Chico State 4-3. Oregon won the tournament. Southern Oregon placed second while hapless Chico State went winless.

Two Softball Teams Win Opening Games

The Rat Pack and the Wetbacks won the opening contests of this spring's intramural softball season Saturday. The Rat Pack drubbed the Giants 16-9 and the Wetbacks slid by the Menehunes 7-6.

The Giants opened the first game with a four-run barrage. This lead didn't last long, for in the bottom of the second inning, the Pack wound up with nine scores. John Hardy led the second inning rally with a grand slam homer.

JIM SCHAECHER slammed out a two-run homer later on in the game for the Pack. Chuck Butler put two men across for the Giants with a long double.

In the day's final contest neither the Menehunes nor the Wetbacks scored until the third, when Menehunes' Buddy Lum rapped out a triple to bring in two runs for that team. The Wetbacks evened up the count in the fourth inning but the Menehune team returned shortly with four more runs.

THE MENEHUNES came back in the fifth to tie the score a second time at six apiece and won the game in the seventh when Kip Durrell wrangled out a triple and pitcher Larry Fulton sacrificed Durrell across the plate.

Tomorrow, the Tartars will meet the Pioneer Squares at 1 p.m. at Washington Park and the Beaver Hunters play the CCT's at 2 p.m. at Broadway.

Sailors to Pick Future Officers

The S.U. Yacht Club members will vote for their '63-'64 officers at the club's meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in Bannan 501.

Nine yachters have been nominated for the four positions. Nominees for commodore are: Joe Swallowell, Frank DeBernardi and Mike Solon.

VICE COMMODORE: Mike Solon, Roger Smith, Jim Jordan and Frank DeBernardi. Secretary: Marianne Sprecher, Carolyn Smith and Paula Schedler. Treasurer: Carolyn Smith and Judi Gillette.

Nominations for the election will be reopened at the meeting before voting begins. Plans for the group's spring activities will also be discussed.

THE SAILORS will join forces with the Ski Club and will begin water skiing in the near future. Plans for the water skiing and a home-and-home regatta will be brought up.

Skiers Elect Officers; Last Trip Scheduled

The S.U. Ski Club recently elected officers for the '63-'64 school year. They are: Neal Yapachino, president; John Callahan, vice president; Kathy Coffey, sec. - treas., and Tari Prinster and Jack Gallivan, publicity chairmen.

The Ski Club will make its final trip of the year next Sunday to White Pass. The club's bus will be available but a car pool will be formed if there are not enough members making the trip to warrant taking the bus.
