Chairmen Appointed For Fall Orientation

Next year's Frosh orientation committee has begun plans for the major fall undertaking.

Mary Clare Stocking and Dan DeLeuw, general chairmen, announced the appointments of committee chairmen Monday. All chairmen are freshmen and will consult last year's chairmen for advice.

FINANCES will be handled by Phil Cummins, business manager. The committee will have an open account in the treasurer's office in July, and will use the "package deal" initiated last year.

Brian Gain will head the welcoming committee and will be assisted by co-chairmen Lenny Beil, Bob Ostlund, Gail Gordon, Margie Disotell and Sheila McHugh.

OTHER committee chairmen and their co-chairmen, respectively, are: Cruise, Mike Torre, Mary Helen Whipple; Beanie Ball, Rick Shepherd, Ann McKinstry; tours, Pat McGovern, Sarah Stanley; movie, Jim Ballard, Marianne Fattorini; mixer, Joe Gaffney, Toni Smit; Variety Show, Rick Berry, Jane Cunningham; banquet, Ed Markle, Sue Thoma, and publicity, Bob Frause and Gail Matthiesen.

NEXT YEAR'S freshman banquet will be a "more formal" affair and the variety show will be on a separate night, according to DeLeuw.

He said, "Mary Clare and I and the other chairmen are helpless without student backing." They are planning a general meeting for all interested freshmen early next week and hope to have a theme decided by that time.

Songleader Tryouts

Tryouts for 1964-65 song and cheerleaders will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Pigott Aud. There is also a position open for the Chieftain, the team mascot.

Each contest will try out individually. Potential songleaders should have a dance routine prepared and bring their own records. Cheerleaders must have a yell prepared.

Those interested should submit their names today to Andy McClure, publicity director, in the ASSU office. He will assign tryout times.

Winners will be announced at 7:30 p.m. by Bob Boyd during the Spirits' meeting in the gym.

Senate Bill Shelved:

ASSU Relations Debated

By MARY KAY HICKEY

Debate at last Sunday's senate meeting centered around the relationship of the senate to the ASSU executive offices.

Sen. Tim Sullivan's bill, which would require the executive officers other than treasurer to give brief reports to the senate every other week, occasioned the discussion.

IN SUPPORT of the bill, Sen. Mike Griffin maintained that such reports were necessary to keep the senate informed of the actions and policies of the executive offices.

The value of such reports in view of the ever-increasing length of the meetings was questioned. The most serious opposition was voiced by Senators Wally Toner and Dick Twohy. They stated that the passage of the bill would enable the senate to exercise undue pressure upon the officers and infringe upon "executive policy." The bill was finally shelved for the consideration of the new senate to take office next Sunday.

THE RELATIONSHIP of the treasurer to the senate was clarified by the passage of a bill submitted by Sen. Twohy. The by-law states that all funds are to be allocated by the senate but that the treasurer was to determine the policy of records and disbursements.

Five finance bills submitted by Sen. Bob

Turner were considered. The first bill required the treasurer of any club in debt beyond its assets to submit a report of the debt and the course of action envisioned by the club. The other bills provided for a special grouping of finance by-laws in the Senate Handbook and a definition of financial terms.

THE THIRD BILL proposing senate approval for the transfer of funds from one ASSU account to another, was withdrawn for further study by Turner.

A letter from the University treasurer dealing with financial policy of the administration and a statement by Kip Toner, ASSU treasurer, outlining future plans for the handling of ASSU special accounts resulted in the referral of Turner's fifth bill to a standing committee. The bill proposed the transfer of the balance in a special account (such as that for Homecoming) immediately after the event into the ASSU general fund.

OTHER ACTION included the rescinding of a bill which had temporarily placed the high school affiliation committee under the auspices of the ASSU. It will now be an organ of the administration. Also provision was made for the calling of non-scheduled senate meetings.

Turner introduced a bill which provides the senators with a one-year pass to student activities

Amigos to Attend Practice Camp

By JEWELL DRAKE

The Amigos Anonymous will spend this weekend at Camp Cabrini speaking Spanish and learning to live the same way as their Mexican friends. Only one month remains before the group leaves for Mexico.

At the camp on Beaver Lake, Jerry Harnish, student director, Daveen Spencer, project director, and Annie Curfman, training program director, will complete plans for a supply drive next week. They will prepare for their appeals to S.U. students and to the community.

S.U. students are urgently requested to donate school supplies such as construction paper, crayons, water colors and books in Spanish for all levels. Clothing, canned foods, sports equipment and medical supplies are also needed, Harnish said.

THE AMIGOS have contacted a Catholic service club for the use of a truck, for a one to one and a half kilowatt generator, kerosene lamps, sewing machines and outdoor garden tools. Previous activities have raised only $300 and $3,500 is needed.

S.U. Amigos Anonymous are working with the Newman Clubs of Northern California universities. They will serve five areas in Michoacan and Guanajuato from June 15-Aug. 31, in this program of reciprocal social interaction.

Hootenanny to Salute S.U.

This Sunday's "Seattle Center Hootenanny" will be a salute to S.U. at 6:30 p.m. on KING-TV, Channel 5.

The program was video-taped on May 6. The audience is made up of two service organizations, Gamma Sigma Phi and I.K.'s.

Featuring a performance by Gil Bateman, S.U. junior vocalist, the program also includes the debut of Billy Roberts from Georgia, who has been touring Canada for the past few years.

Dedication to Justice

The Washington March for jobs and freedom last August 28 resulted in the recognition that the cause for the Negro advancement was a just cause. The logical response appeared to be the passage of a civil-rights bill. Now, nine months later, the movement to eliminate obvious and flagrant injustices has apparently reached a stalemate as the senate moves into its 10th week of debate.

Governor Wallace, however, campaigning on a segregationist platform, has captured 30 percent of the Democratic vote in both the Wisconsin and Indiana presidential primaries.

LAST WEEK THE Supreme Court, on the day before the Indiana primary, announced that it refused to hear the Gary school case (a de facto segregation issue), thereby causing a painful setback to the integration movement.

This week Gov. Wallace continues his campaign in Maryland with enthusiastic cries of "We'll win! We'll win!" to bolster his cause. His opinion of the civil-rights bill — that it will "destroy every business, every farm, every school, every union seniority list" — appears to be condoned by many U.S. voters, if by nothing else than by their apathy.

"A GREAT UNIVERSITY," states President Clark Kerr of University of California, "has a duty to the future as great as its duty to the present... it must try to open new doors." Our duty to the future is to control and combat extremism; our duty to the present to dedicate ourselves to justice by resolutions of support.

Our Coeds Need More Light

To the editor:

Concerning the editorial on cautioning the coed, "A Cautionary Note," which appeared in last Friday's Spectator, we have detected certain absurdities and inconsistencies in the article.

These are as follows: First, it is true that the problem of sexually unbalanced people can occur anywhere in this city, but some sections are more vulnerable to this problem than others. A coed university campus is especially prone to this problem.

SECOND, the proposed legislation, which would make it a misdemeanor to loiter on campus unless one is either a student or has specific business, will hardly be effective unless there is lawful authority to enforce the proposal. Therefore, campus police are necessary to enforce this legislation.

As for not needing more lights on campus, this statement is absurd. The safer walk from Mary-crest is from Teatro Inigo to the mall between the I.K. House and Loyola Hall. This walk is dimly lit. The approach to the theater is not lit, and neither is the alley behind it. Lights should be added at the approach to the alley on Columbia and Loyola Hall itself. At Xavier Hall, lights should be added as one walks past the Chieftain toward the L.A. Bldg. The area around Lyons and Buhr Halls bordering this walk from Xavier to the L.A. Bldg. is a potential danger spot and added lights on this walk would lessen this danger.

FINALLY, the suggestion of coeds accompanying each other at night is most ideal, but hardly practical. For example, suppose a coed has a night class; how can

Anyone But Barry:

S. U. Leads Scranton "Election"

By MARCIA WALDRON

The Pennsylvania delegation composed of political science students from S.U. scored a smashing victory Saturday night in Salem, Ore., at a mock GOP convention sponsored by Willamette University.

They succeeded in gaining the presidential nomination for Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton on the third ballot. Four hundred students from 19 schools in Oregon and Washington gave the vice presidential nod to Oregon's Gov. Mark Hatfield.

S.U. DELEGATES were prominent in the convention activities. Paul Hill, Pennsylvania, gave the nomination speech for Scranton, and Dick Twohy seconded the nomination. King Lysen, South Carolina, seconded the Goldwater nomination, and organized the vigorous floor demonstration for Goldwater.

THE CONVENTION began Friday evening with a keynote speech by Elmo Smith, GOP state chairman and former Oregon governor. The speech centered around Bobby (Baker), Beagles and Billie (Sol Estes); as Smith assailed the Johnson administration and urged the delegates to "turn the White House lights back on" in '64 by electing a GOP slate.

Later Friday night, the Scranton forces led by John Fattorini, chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation, launched their well-organized campaign at a caucus of the liberal and moderate states in a smoke-filled room. After several hours, the Scranton camp united with the Rockefeller and Lodge forces and constructed a "Stop Goldwater" movement.

ON SATURDAY morning, after more talks on poverty, pooches and politics, the moderate-liberal coalition succeeded in adopting a number of minority reports as the official platform was transformed into a moderate document, especially in the area of civil rights. Mike Manning of the Pennsylvania delegation maneuvered with the Rockefeller forces to adopt the moderate platform, while Gary Baldwin for South Carolina led the conservative Goldwater forces.

Within an hour of roll call, the Goldwater forces, led by the California delegation from Seattle Pacific College, had nearly 40 more votes than the necessary 665 to secure the nomination. Fattorini and the liberal-moderate forces locked themselves up in another caucus and within an hour had secured enough votes to throw cold water on Goldwater. As the balloting proceeded on the first roll call, Goldwater stormed to the front, but fell 33 votes short of the 665 goal.

On the second ballot, the Scranton machine began to gain momentum as Goldwater slid to 593 votes, and Scranton jumped to 322 followed by Rockefeller (159) and Lodge (152). The rest fell further back.

FINALLY, on the third ballot, the New York delegation threw their 92 votes behind the Scranton bandwagon "in the interest of moderation." The nomination became a reality when the Lodge forces switched to Scranton, as part of the "anyone but Barry" move.

Comic relief was provided when Brian McMahon, buried under a Morton-For-President hat, nominated Sen. Thruston Morton as a favorite son from Kentucky. Kentucky's chairman, J. Michael Griffin, lifted himself from the bluegrass momentarily to second the nomination for the blue grass man with the grass roots policy."

WITH THE OREGON presidential primary Friday, the Scranton victory spearheaded by S.U. at the Willamette convention, received national and local publicity in all the news media. It was also filmed by the Canadian Broadcasting Company as a part of their documentary on the Oregon primary.

Game Rained Out:

Husky Game Rescheduled

Yesterday's baseball game between the U.W. and S.U. at Sick's Stadium was rained out. The game has been rescheduled as part of a double-header with the Huskies at 1 p.m. May 25. The contests will be played at the White Center Stadium.

In a make-up game Monday, S.U. went through three Yakima Valley College pitchers for a 7-1 success.

Out-hit 7-6, the Chiefs used four Indian errors to scoring advantage. Six of Yakima's hits were split between Bud Baker and Bob Erickson, former In-graham teammates.

HAL EDWARDS gave S.U. a 1-0 lead in the fourth frame when he lined a slow curve over the left-field fence. Yakima came back with one in the fifth when Erickson singled, went to third on a wild pickoff try and scored on an infield flub.

S.U. scored thrice in its half on two walks, an error and Prince Hal's infield single.

TWO MORE Chieftains tallied in the sixth on Steve Hunter's screaming double, a walk, fielder's choice and an error.

George Bettineski singled in Steve Foertsch, winning pitcher, with the final run in the eighth. YVC loaded the bases in the ninth before Foertsch retired the side. Foertsch had relieved Jerry Watts in the fifth.

JOHN MAJOR, ex-Blanchet ace, was the loser.

The S.U. baseball team lost two games to the University of Oregon last weekend.

Friday, the Ducks ran to a 10-0 win but had to battle for a 9-8 win Saturday.

MIKE ACRES started for the Chiefs Friday. The Ducks were quick to answer the challenge of the undefeated S.U. hurler. Oregon scored seven times before Acres was relieved in the second inning by Foertsch.

The Chiefs collected only five hits to the Ducks' 16. Three of Oregon's hits were home runs.

IN SATURDAY'S game the Ducks scored the winning run in the ninth inning on an S.U. error.

Tresvant Travels

S.U.'s John Tresvant, drafted May 11 by the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association, will travel to rookie camp at the end of spring quarter.

The camp will start on June 10 in St. Louis. During the six days that the camp lasts, the players will be watched closely.

At the end of the camp the Hawks will choose which rookies they want to take on the exhibition tour. Each rookie chosen will receive a contract with the Hawks.

Varsity Divoteers Win Four Straight

Monday the S.U. golf team beat the Huskies for the second time this season, evening the series with U.W. at two all.

Netmen to Play Huskies; First Meeting With U.W.

By STEVE HOPPS

The S.U. tennis team will meet the U.W. team on May 25 on the U.W.'s home courts.

This is the first tennis match between the two schools. The match was arranged Monday night at a meeting between S.U. Coach Cliff Hedger and U.W. Coach Ed Meyerson.

THE HUSKIES are generally considered to be a stronger team than S.U. and the scheduled match shows recognition of S.U.'s 11-1 record which includes two victories over the University of Oregon and a split of two matches with Oregon State.

Today the Chieftains travel to Pacific Lutheran for a match. The S.U. netmen host Yakima Valley College at the Evergreen Tennis Club at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

LAST WEEKEND S.U. traveled through Oregon meeting the University of Oregon and Oregon State. The Chiefs avenged their lone defeat of the season by nipping OSU 5-4, winning three set victories in two of the three doubles matches after dividing the six singles matches.

At Eugene, S.U. pinned a 7-0 defeat on the Ducks. All five S.U. singles players swept their sets.

'Leap Year '64':

AWS Clubs Plan Tolo Week

By JUDY RAUNIG

Men of S.U. unite! This year's theme of Tolo Week, May 26-29, is "Leap Year '64."

According to Lonna Tutman and Nicki Cruz, general chairmen, plans are tentative so far.

A MIXER, "Catch Him If You Can" will kick off the festivities on May 26 in the S.U. gym. Music will be provided by the Stags. Caroline O'Shaughnessy and Carla Holden, chairmen, said a "mouse trap" may be included with decorations. Tolo King finalists will be announced during the mixer.

AWS clubs will sponsor booths on the mall or in the Chieftain, if it rains, on Tolo Day, May 28. Flowers and pickles are two items to be sold.

Police Check Cars

The Seattle Police Department has sent a warning about cars parked near the S.U. campus.

The police are going to mark each car and check to see if the car has been parked in the same spot for over 24 hours. Any car found to have been there for over that period of time will be impounded at the owner's expense.

ON TOLO DAY girls will cast their votes for the 1964 "Tolo King." Each male campus club is eligible to submit an entry. The applicants' names are due in the AWS office or at the Xavier Hall switch board Friday.

"The Last Straw" is the title for the annual cotton tolo on May 29. It will be from 9 p.m.-midnight at the Norselander, a seafood restaurant near the Space Needle.

Music for the dance will be played by Burke Garrett and his orchestra. Dance chairmen are Terri O'Day and Patti McCabe.

Bridal Counselor To Talk at Brunch

A bridal coordinator from Frederick & Nelson's will give helpful hints on planning a wedding during the Senior Brunch at 12:30 p.m. May 17 in the Marycrest dining room.

She will also display gowns from their bridal department.

Tickets priced at 75 cents have been mailed to each senior woman. Madeline Wells and Lynn Teplicky, chairmen, said it is important that students turn their replies on the invitations in at the AWS office immediately. They can be dropped off in the mailroom addressed to the AWS office.

The Senior Brunch is an annual affair to honor senior women.

Colhecon Gives Seniors Awards

DURING the evening, new officers were installed. They are: Judy Comfort, president; Susan Picht, vice president; Charlene Sandifur, secretary; Joice Wienir, treasurer; Barbara Schaffer, membership chairman, and Sharon Williamson, historian.

Foundation Gives Equipment Grant

Notification of a National Science Foundation grant to the psychology dept. was announced by Fr. James Royce, S.J., dept. head, Monday.

THE $3,180 from the government will be matched with S.U. funds, as stipulated in the proposal. The grant is an instructional equipment grant and will be used mainly for equipment in the experimental lab in the Pigott Bldg.

THE GRANT was proposed and drawn up in January by Mr. Thomas Hamilton and submitted by Dr. Thomas Killian, both of the psychology dept.

The grant "will give our undergraduate psychology majors first-hand contact with very modern experimental equipment," according to Fr. Royce.

Milk makes a meal

Pour a glass—tall and cold and fresh. How could anything so great-tasting possibly be good for you! But, then, that's Milk. No other food quite like it. A glass with every meal assures us the "instant energy" we need — while it builds strong bones and teeth, maintains bright eyes, and generally contributes to our well-being. What a refreshing way to stay in good health!
