Blair Retains MUN Post

By MARY K. HICKEY

By a vote of 7-1 the ASSU Judicial Board ruled yesterday that Jim Blair, elected president of the Model United Nations last spring, was the constitutional head of the organization.

Blair had appealed the case to the Judicial Board after Howard Shenson had been elected to the office of chairman at the MUN meeting on Nov. 18. The new election was held by the club on the grounds that the head offices were specified in the constitution as "chairman" and "administrative co-chairman" and that the officers elected spring quarter of last year were "president" and "vice president," and thus the constitutional positions had never been filled at a valid election.

BLAIR WAS defended by Brian Gain and Jim Picton. Their case was that Blair had been validly elected according to the provisions of the MUN constitution and was de facto recognized in his office although the term "chairman" was not used.

"The game of semantics may be played but this does not change the fact that Blair was elected head of the organization," said Picton in his concluding statement. He referred to the testimony of witnesses and the minutes from last year's meetings in attempting to prove that the terms were interchangeable.

Shenson, defended by Joe Howard, countered that the duties prescribed by the two sets of terms were different, and that this difference was material in the handling of the delegation to the MUN convention to Claremont Calif., last year by the officers.

THE DEFENDANTS maintained that since the offices had never been properly filled, the Nov. 18 election was called for and legal. They called upon the precedent of several previous out-of-season elections, since the MUN constitution provides for only one election in the spring of the year.

The prosecution also attempted to prove that the election had been deliberately planned to remove Blair from office since the constitution provides no method of impeachment.

A Phi O's Sponsor Annual Food Drive

S.U.'s A Phi O's are conducting their sixth annual Thanksgiving food drive. To date, members have collected over 2,000 pounds of food from homes and businesses in the Seattle area.

The food will be distributed to 35 needy families tonight. The names of needy families were received from the Seattle St. Vincent de Paul headquarters.

Former Bookstore Given To Biology Department

The space recently vacated by the bookstore has been granted to the biology dept., Fr. Timothy Cronin, S.J., assistant to the president, announced last week.

ACCORDING to Dr. Richard Neve, biology dept. head, "The acquisition of new faculty trained in the techniques of modern biology requires additional space for their research efforts and to initiate and carry out the research programs of upper division students."

Dr. Neve said the space under the Old Science Bldg. will be used in connection with small laboratory animals (mice, rats, guinea pigs and rabbits) for classroom use and research. The facility will be used by both the biology and psychology departments.

Mentioning that the space problem is critical, Dr. Neve said the molecular needs are many, particular in terms of heavy equipment. The space vacated by the bookstore will provide convenient and essential shielding (underground facilities) for the biology department's electron microscope.

SOME OF THE space will be used for a marine aquaria. This requires housing marine aquaria. This requires housing and refrigeration units for the specimens.

The space may make future national grants available to the biology department, Dr. Neve said.

JIM BLAIR

JIM PICTON

In the final statement of their case the defense stated the motives of the election were immaterial and the only case before the board was the constitutionality of the Nov. 18 election.

THE MAJORITY opinion of the justices, read by Justice Mike Parks, stated that it was the opinion of the court that the spring elections were valid because a head of the organization was elected and the terms were used interchangeably by members to describe the offices. Since the offices were not vacant in November they ruled that the constitutionality of extra elections did not apply to the case before them. "The majority chooses to follow the spirit of the law," he read, and added the recommendation of the court that the constitution of the club be improved.

JOE HOWARD

The dissenting opinion was that of Chief Justice Mary Donovan. Her minority statement was that the spring elections were invalid because the correct terminology was not used and that "ignorance of the constitution did not excuse the error." Her further opinion was that the Nov. 18 election was also invalid because it was not provided for in the constitution and that the offices of the MUN are vacant at the present time.

Senators Charter A Phi O Following Two-week Debate

The senate granted a full charter to Alpha Phi Omega Sunday and brought a climax to a two-week-old controversy in which many of the facts have been shrouded in secrecy of executive session.

Before the club was rechartered by a vote of seven in favor with eight abstentions, the clubs investigation committee made public three rumors which they said prompted the investigation.

SEN. BRIAN McMahon, chairman of the committee made the report. He indicated beforehand he was not in favor of making the rumors known, since whether or not they are true is known only by the members of the clubs investigation committee.

Since the committee made its investigation in executive session, the records of its meeting are under lock and key and not available to any but the members of the committee.

The rumors related to misconduct on and off campus were given in open session. A move to have the senate go into executive session was defeated.

AFTER THE report, the committee recommended to the senate that A Phi O be given a temporary charter until Jan. 31, 1965. The motion failed. Later, Sen. Brian Gain's motion that A Phi O be rechartered without restrictions passed.

In another action involving A Phi O, the senate defeated a motion to have A Phi O investigated from now until Feb. 1, 1965. Sen. Bart Irwin's argument that the bill was useless, since the senate can investigate any club at any time prevailed. The vote was nine opposed, six in favor.

THE SENATE also granted new charters to: Hawaiian Club, Mu Sigma, Hiyu Coolees, Gamma Pi Epsilon, Mu Rho Lambda, Chemistry Club, Lambda Chi Theta, Marketing Club and Education Club.

Sen. Terry Dodd's motion that 200 seats be reserved for the senior class at the basketball game Dec. 8 was passed after a brief discussion. The bill was amended to state that the seats will be reserved until 7:45 p.m.

The senate also decided that committees have the right to have executive sessions. A motion that would have allowed all senators to attend all portions of all committee meetings failed by a 9-6 vote.

NSF Grant Awarded To Summer Institute

The National Science Foundation has granted $75,620 to S.U. for its 1965 summer institute in Chemistry, Physics and Mathematics for Secondary School Teachers, according to Fr. James Cowgill, S.J., physics dept. head.

This grant is the sixth S.U. has received in the past seven years. It not only provides for the operational costs of the institute, but also awards funds for stipends for 70 secondary school teachers and gives dependency allowances and travel expenses where necessary.

More Than a Job

It's time to say thanks. Our lay faculty is far more than a group of substitutes who teach classes when there aren't enough Jesuits to go around. They are indispensable parts of the University, who contribute an air of vitality that could come from no other source.

THREE OF THEM deserve special mention, as perfect examples of what we mean. Mr. Charles Harmon of the history dept., Mr. Joseph Monda of the English dept. and Dr. Richard Neve of the biology dept., are all important faces at S.U. All three are excellent teachers who have and communicate real fascination with their subjects. They are interested, of course, in promoting scholarship among their most capable students; but they are available also to help slow students who struggle with the simplest material.

Their contributions are not just academic. They are easy for students to approach and are as willing to help with students' personal problems as their academic ones. They are, finally, stable personalities to whom immature students can look for example, a pat on the head or a swift kick. All of these things require time and attention and effort. None of them are stipulated in employment contracts, or rewarded by paychecks.

THESE THREE MEN are, of course, only examples. Many other teachers make the same or similar contributions, and are equally generous with their time and effort. Nor can we ever justly praise others' contributions if we forget the lifelong dedication that every Jesuit brings to his work.

But we have chosen to thank and praise the laymen, and these three laymen in particular, because they do so much more than they are required to do. They, who have families and concerns outside the University, might be expected to regard teaching as just a job, and do only what they must. They devote themselves instead to helping students grow to academic and social maturity . . . for this we say thanks.

A Question of Slander

Two weeks of debate over the charter of Alpha Phi Omega has insinuated much and clarified little. This Sunday the Senate rechartered the organization even though "unconfirmed rumors" dealing with on- and off-campus misconduct, were presented.

WE HAD ASSUMED that the clubs committee had gone into an unprecedented executive session to investigate these unconfirmed rumors in order to protect the club's reputation and save it needless slander. The committee's executive session we then supposed would have considered the veracity of hearsay before making a recommendation to the Senate to recharter Alpha Phi Omega. We then fail to see why the unconfirmed rumors were then read into Senate record and made public at the Senate meeting.

If the rumors presented to the senate were not confirmed by the clubs committee investigation they should have never been made public. If the rumors were verified, Alpha Phi Omega should not have been rechartered and the evidence made public. We feel that in the latter case Alpha Phi Omega does not meet the demands made by the ASSU of chartered organizations—mainly to obey the ASSU constitution.

WE DO NOT CONSIDER the nature of the rumors in keeping with the purpose of ASSU organizations—"the support of the ideals of our university" and "the obligations of responsible leadership in the formation of the Christian scholar."

"By the best cultivation of the physical world beneath and around us, and the best intellectual and moral world within us, we shall secure an individual, social and political prosperity and happiness."

mild protest

To the Editor:

As of Friday, the recent meeting of the Ecumenical Council came to a close and will probably resume some time in 1965 or 1966. As a non-Catholic, but a highly interested observer, I say the schemas passed in this session were of very little value to our present-day society. I cannot see where too many Catholics can become intellectually excited over the fact that bishops may now have an echoing voice in the theological halls of the Vatican.

I urge the Cardinals, Bishops, and other prelates to climb out of their theological trees and set themselves to solving the problems of a real world—anti-semitism, overpopulation, and civil rights to name a few.

I don't feel that a religion should necessarily change itself with all the norms of society (as these can often be of questionable value), but I do feel that the outstanding problems, such as those mentioned above, have been constant problems of recent generations.

Evading reality is the solution of the fearful and results in Galileo episodes — which students of Catholic theology might well desire to forget.

Tod Williams.

To the Editor:

In answer to many inquiries regarding the ad entitled "S.U. and U.W. Ski Ball" which appeared in the Spectator last Friday, I want to state that as far as it could be ascertained this so-called "Ski Ball" is in no way sponsored or endorsed by S.U. authorities or the ASSU and certainly not by the S.U. Ski Club.

Nor is implied cooperation of S.U. and U.W. in this activity a fact. The whole enterprise is a private activity, notwithstanding the impression created by the wording of the ad, especially its heading.

Teatro Inigo's Company Pleasurable

By KATHY ROBEL

The artful direction of Fr. James Connors, S.J., makes Samuel Taylor's "The Pleasure of His Company" another rung in Teatro Inigo's ladder of successes. The comedy is rendered with nervous aplomb by a well-casted, talented and trained group of student actors and actresses.

Everyone manages to have at least one moment of convincing performance. Jim Love as the dilettante cosmopolite Pogo Poole, and Bob Lee as the Thoreauvian grandfather Savage, emerge with the top performances, and together keep the production out of an otherwise unconvincing melange of apprentice acting.

LEE'S FIRST appearance is momentarily reminiscent of another play, as if Sir Toby Belch has wandered jovially onstage with a new set of clothes. He's really McKenzie Savage, one of the most entertaining character of the play mainly because he utters some of the funniest lines. ("Nature has not kept up with the times," he says, "young men of this day are meant to be mothers!")

Mary Jane Lagozzino also registers a fine performance as Kate Dougherty, a performance marred only by an occasional loss of control over her characterization. As a result, Kate's reactions in the final scene come as more of a surprise to the audience than the playwright probably intended.

Others in the cast include Marie Millet as Jessica Poole, whose natural grace excuses her too often using exaggerated facial expressions to convey emotional reactions; Ron Borowsky as Jim Dougherty, an adequate if monotone performance; and finally Charles Pattok and Paul Pival, as Roger Henderson and Toy. Their contributions to the production are some of its most hilarious.

Sets and costumes were appropriate, though the lighting by Jim Naiden and Mary Bero seemed a little unimaginative.

THE PLAY ITSELF is one of those quite superficial but thoroughly enjoyable comedies—gibing witticisms and eccentrically interesting characters

Title Game to Match Red Onions, Spartans

The Red Onions remained undefeated Tuesday by taking their eighth straight win with a 26-6 decision over the Frosh 101.

On the strength of the victory, the Onions have clinched the 2 p.m. intramural football title and the right to meet the Spartans of the 1 p.m. league for the championship on Dec. 7 or 9.

IN THE FIRST half the determined Frosh played some fine defense and were behind only 6-0. They continued their fine hustle in the second half. After the kickoff, the Frosh dropped Onion quarterback Bill Meyer twice for large losses.

On the third play of the second half the Onion center snapped the ball into the end zone giving the Frosh two points. However, from this point on, the Onions' manpower began to be felt as they scored three more touchdowns while the Frosh could manage only one.

The outstanding Onion defender was safety Louis Cozzetti who limited star Frosh receiver Hurley De Roin to one reception.

THE 1 P.M. league standings find the Fubars, 5-4, Bellarmine Football Deacons, 5-5, and the Beavers, 4-6, fighting it out for third place. The Chieftain Riflers, 0-10, will finish last. The Spartans are 10-0.

The Alpha Kappa Sigma team has clinched second spot with a 6-2 record in the 2 p.m. league. The Menehunes have claimed third position with a 4-4 mark. There will be a contest for fourth and fifth between the Frosh 101 and the Bad News team. The Catholic Boys will finish in the league cellar.

Last Monday the Spartans flexed their muscles by beating the Fubars 53-0 while the Alpha Kappa Sighs beat the Menehunes 12-6.

Surefires Move Into First Place

After four weeks of disputed leadership in the rifle league, the Surefires moved into the first position. Marycrest Hall went down to defeat before the barrels of the Surefires last week 353-253.

The Military Science Staff, although unbeaten, are in second spot with a 2-0 record. They are tied with the Military Science IV group who are also 2-0.

Chiefs Open Season:

Play U. of Arizona First

BEAT 'EM, CHIEFS! Pictured above are the S.U. songleaders and cheerleaders for basketball. By RICHARD HOUSER

It's basketball time again. In less than a week the S.U. Chieftains embark on their 1964-65 basketball season.

The first opponents of the young Chiefs will be the University of Arizona Wildcats Tuesday. Last year S.U. posted a 1-1 record with the Wildcats.

Bruce Larson, Arizona coach, describes the Wildcats' prospects as "good". Returning this year are eight lettermen from the '63-'64 team which had a 15-11 season record.

TWO OF the returnees are Albert Johnson and Warren Rustand. Johnson, a 6-foot-5 senior, led the Wildcats in scoring and rebounding. Rustand, also a senior, placed second in both departments. Both players were instrumental in trimming the Chiefs in their first encounter last season.

Gerald Jacobs, a 6-foot-6 junior college transfer, should bolster the Arizona forward wall. He averaged 16 points per game at Eastern Arizona J.C. last year. Three sophomores will give Larson some bench depth. They are Mike Aboud, 6-foot-5, Ken Kurtz, 5-foot-9, and Tom Sutton, 6-foot-7.

THE S.U. CHIEFS playing their first game in their new home, hope to avenge last year's regular season loss to the Wildcats. In last year's meeting the Chieftains committed 26 personal fouls to the Wildcat's six.

The Chiefs starting line-up for the opener probably will see the varsity debuts of two sophomores. Tom Workman, a 6-foot-7 forward, led the Papooses in scoring last year with a 23.37 points per game average. Presently Workman has been looking extremely good in practice.

The other sophomore who may get the starting call is Plummer Lott. Lott, a 6-foot-4 guard or forward, placed third in scoring for the Papooses. His adeptness in practice has pushed him to the front, making him a natural choice for starting guard over Peller Philips and Jack Tebbs.

THE OTHER starters will probably be L. J. Wheeler at center, Rich Turney at forward and captain Charlie Williams at the other guard position.

Wheeler stole the show in a recent scrimmage game by making many long shots and by doing an outstanding job of rebounding. Turney has the experience which places him in front of sophomore, Elzie Johnson. Williams has been a sure pick ever since Boyd named him captain for the coming season.

Xavier 1-2 Take Volleyball Crown

The junior girls from Xavier 1-2 emerged as the girls volleyball champions among an array of closely matched teams in Monday night's playoffs.

After a three-way tie in league "A" was broken, Xavier 1-2 met the Xavier 4 team, the undefeated winner of the "B" league for the championship.

Tied with one win each in a best-of-three series, Xavier 4 surged into a strong early lead in the final game. Xavier 1-2, however, completely dominated the final two minutes of play to become the champs.

Students Display Art in Chieftain

A collection of bronze works created by S.U. art students is currently on display in the Chieftain cafeteria where it will remain for two weeks.

Students exhibiting pieces include Penny Gill, Barbara Sedlak, Sid Morton and Albert Sauhy.

S.U. has offered classes in bronzing for the past three years. "It is an art gaining prominence," stated Marvin Herard, S.U. art instructor.

Most of the pieces are done by elementary art students. "This is something of an innovation," stated Herard. "Bronzing is usually done by the graduate student but we use the casting process such as a beginning student uses pen and pencil."

The student first constructs a wax model and then casts the mold in the art department's own "monster oven." The mold is then taken to a foundry where the actual bronze casting is done.

Spirits Pep Parade Monday To Set Stage for Basketball

The Spirits' Pep Parade and Rally Monday at 6:30 p.m. will kick off the 1964-65 Chieftain basketball season. The rally will be centered around the traditional Indian theme, hoping to bring the Chieftains good luck against the University of Arizona the following night.

Pat O'Day, KJR disc jockey, will be master of ceremonies. KOMO's Lee Desilet will be the guest speaker.

The homecoming court, cheerleaders and songleaders, the team, Bob Boyd, head coach, Ed O'Brien, athletic director, and Lionell Purcell, frosh coach, will be introduced at the pep rallies at 7:45 and 9 p.m. The rallies will be in the new student bookstore parking lot across the street from Bellarmine.

A dance will be held from 9 to 11 p.m. in the parking lot unless it rains, in which case it will be in the gym.

For girls residing in dormitories there will be late leave of 11:15 p.m. There will be no study hours.

Moot Court Trial To Be Presented

Students will have an opportunity to witness a moot court martial Monday afternoon.

The senior cadets in the S.U. ROTC program will stage the annual event as part of their military law instruction. Court will be conducted from noon until approximately 3:30 p.m. in Pigott Aud.

All principals in the case will be played by senior cadets. They have been given a history of the character they will play but the rest is left up to the ingenuity of the individual members. The case will follow the procedure of a regular military court martial.

MAN?

● The Paulist Father is a modern man in every sense of the word. He is a man of this age, cognizant of the needs of modern men. He is free from stifling formalism, is a pioneer in using contemporary ways to achieve the conversion of 100 million non-Catholic Americans. He is a missionary to his own people — the American people. He utilizes modern techniques to fulfill his mission, is encouraged to call upon his own innate talents to help further his dedicated goal.

● If the vital spark of serving God through man has been ignited in you, why not pursue an investigation of your life as a priest? The Paulist Fathers have developed an aptitude test for the modern man interested in devoting his life to God. This can be a vital instrument to help you make the most important decision of your life. Write for it today.
