Jesuit Leader to Visit S.U. Tomorrow

The Very Rev. Pedro Arrupe, S.J.
Leader of the world's Jesuits on campus tomorrow.

The Very Rev. Pedro Arrupe, superior general of the 36,000 members of the Society of Jesus throughout the world, will visit the S.U. campus for four hours tomorrow.

All students, faculty members and other members of the University community have been invited to a convocation honoring Fr. Arrupe at 2:15 p.m. The convocation will be on the mall at 11th and Marion, weather permitting. It will be moved to the gym if the weatherman fails to cooperate. The public is also invited.

STUDENTS WILL be dismissed after 1 p.m. classes so they can attend the convocation, according to Fr. Edmund Morton, S.J., academic vice president.

Fr. Arrupe, who was elected 28th father general of the 426-year-old Society last May, will arrive at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport at 10:12 a.m. tomorrow. He will conduct a news conference at 11:30 a.m. in the lobby of Marycrest Hall.

At 12:15 p.m. he will lunch with some 250 Jesuits at Marycrest Hall. The Jesuits will be from the various Jesuit institutions throughout Western Washington and Northern Oregon.

After the convocation (which will last about one-half hour, according to Fr. Joseph Perri, S.J., vice president of University relations), Fr. Arrupe will leave the campus at 3:15 p.m. He will fly to Spokane where he will stay overnight.

SEATTLE IS THE eleventh stop for Fr. Arrupe, who is on a whirlwind two-week tour of U.S. Jesuit houses which began April 2 when he left Rome. His is the first visit to the U.S. by a presiding superior general. His tour has taken him to New York City, Boston, Washington, D.C., Baltimore, New Orleans, St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Fr. Arrupe will leave Spokane Friday morning for Milwaukee where he will attend the National Convention of Alpha Sigma Nu, Jesuit scholastic honorary.

He will leave Milwaukee Sunday on a flight to New York. From there he will fly back to Rome.

Spanish-born Fr. Arrupe, who spent two years in the U.S. as a student while he was a young priest, said, "I have come here because I want to understand America, so that the Society I serve can serve America better," upon his arrival in New York City last week.

FR. ARRUPPE WAS a student of medicine at the University of Madrid when he decided to join the order in 1927. Five years later, the Jesuits were banned from the Spanish Republic. Fr. Arrupe continued his schooling in Belgium and Holland.

He then came to the U.S. to study at St. Mary's College in Kansas and at St. Stanislaus in Cleveland. He also worked three months among the Spanish-speaking people of New York.

He was master of novices at Japan's Jesuit novitiate six miles outside of Hiroshima in 1945 when the atom bomb was dropped on that city. At the time, he organized a medical supply team to aid the people of the bombed city. In 1954 he was named Jesuit vice principal of Japan and later became provincial in Japan.

English Graduate School Expanded

Beginning fall quarter 1966 the English department will offer a year-round graduate program, according to Fr. Edmund Morton, S.J., academic vice president.

Presently the department offers graduate courses only during the summer quarter. In the new program, at least one course will be offered fall and winter quarters, two will be offered in the spring and six in the summer.

The graduate seminars will be limited to 15 students and will be offered in the afternoon but not in the evening.

Next fall five teaching assistantships will be offered. The assistants will receive full tuition and a $900 stipend. They will be assigned to senior members of the staff and will tutor freshmen in the lowest quadrant of the class. An assistant will not have a class for which he is solely responsible.

Presently S.U.'s English faculty includes Ph. D. specialists in almost all major areas of study.

Fr. Morton said, "For some time S.U. has been convinced that a master's degree in English which is earned only through summer work is not a valuable degree. Offering a graduate program throughout the year is a significant step forward in our graduate program."

Peace Corps on Campus To Administer Tests

A team of three Peace Corps recruiters are on campus in the Chieftain this week to answer questions about the Corps and administer the Peace Corps test.

The three, Kathy Brown, Steve Knaible and Tim Kraft, have served with the Corps in The Philippines, Venezuela and Guatemala, respectively.

This team is the second to visit S.U. this academic year. Kathy explained that revisiting campuses is an experimental effort on the part of the Corps this year to encourage more students to apply. Approximately 86 S.U. students applied for training last fall, according to Dr. Thomas Downey, S.U.'s Corps representative.

Kathy, who was graduated from Temple University, Philadelphia, with a B.A. degree in political science, said the length of time it takes for students to receive an invitation for training after they have applied depends on their availability dates.

She said students available for training in June would hear from the Corps within six weeks; those available for training in September, by mid-July.

Times for the Peace Corps test, administered in the Chieftain Conference room, follow: 2 p.m., tomorrow; 10 a.m., Saturday; 2 p.m., Sunday and Monday; 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., Tuesday.

Talk on DeGaulle Set for Tomorrow

Dr. Norbert Einstein, international expert and economic adviser to past President Eisenhower, will talk about "The Mysterious Charles DeGaulle" at noon tomorrow in Bannan Auditorium.

Dr. Einstein was featured speaker on KIRO Radio's "Public Pulse" Tuesday night. On that program he said those who voted against DeGaulle in France's last election did so because of his strict economic rules, not his foreign policy. Dr. Einstein's talk is being sponsored by S.U.'s Political Union.

Born in Germany, Dr. Einstein was educated there and in Switzerland. He is currently a commentator for a radio program on current events.

ASSU Card Probe Ends With Dismissal

The mysterious disappearance of about 60 student body cards from the ASSU office before student body elections last month has resulted in the dismissal of one S.U. student and the suspension of another according to Fr. Robert Rebhahn, S.J., dean of students and vice president for student affairs.

The action was taken after an investigation by the conduct review board which is composed of faculty members.

FATHER SAID TWO other students involved in the incident had rights to participate in ASSU activities suspended for spring quarter.

According to Fr. Rebhahn, the student who was dismissed may apply for readmission following summer quarter. The case will be reviewed if and when he does apply.

The disappearance of the student body cards was one of a series of incidents which marred the March elections. The election was declared valid after investigations by faculty members and students.

The student body cards were taken from a locked file cabinet in the office of the ASSU first vice president. In the report by the investigative body, Fr. Lawrence Donohue, S.J., dean of men, recommended that "the custody and distribution of cards be turned back to the treasurer's office effective the next registration period."

APPARENTLY THAT recommendation has not been followed.

An inquiry at the treasurer's office last Thursday showed that workers in the office did not know the whereabouts of the cards.

Marianne Fattorini, ASSU secretary-elect, said Thursday the unused cards are in a file cabinet in the ASSU office. They were distributed by ASSU officers and secretaries at spring quarter registration.

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE: Sharmon Rice, S.U. freshman, receives a Peace Corps application from Dr. Thomas Downey, S.U. Corps representative, Kathy Brown, Corps recruiter, and Mary Helen Madden, S.U. senior recently accepted as a volunteer to Turkey. Half-hidden is another S.U. senior, Steve Hilterbrant, recently accepted by the Corps for training.

Editorials

Welcome to S.U.

S.U. will host its most important and renowned visitor in years tomorrow in the person of the Very Rev. Pedro Arrupe, S.J., leader of the world's Jesuits.

HIS VISIT MAKES it appropriate to note something that we sometimes tend to forget. Despite the shortcomings which we, as students, may notice in our day-to-day dealings with some Jesuits, the remarkable record of the Society in its educational and missionary endeavors is without parallel in history.

Mankind's debt to the Society is great. As students who benefit directly from the training of its members, ours is even greater.

THE STUDENTS OF S.U. welcome this precedent-breaking priest, who, as only the 28th superior general of the 426-year-old Society, is the first to make a visit to the U.S. We hope that his visit to S.U., during which he will meet about 250 novices, juniors and priests of the Society, will be pleasant and profitable.

And an equally warm welcome is extended to those many Jesuits, from as far away as Sheridan, Ore., and Yakima, who will be on campus tomorrow to meet their superior.

Looking for Something to Do?

Trying to think of something to do tomorrow night? You don't have far to look.

The student senate will meet at 7 p.m. in the Chieftain conference room to discuss a long agenda. With senate elections just around the corner, it would be a good idea if a few students took it upon themselves to find out what kind of a job their representatives are doing.

The University Family Action section of the Catholic Action Program is sponsoring a panel discussion on the topic of birth control pills. The discussion is a continuation of the UFA's Lenten series. We hope that attendance at these discussions will not lag because it is spring quarter. The discussion will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Pigott Auditorium.

This week's Repertory and opera performances close the season among Seattle's major companies. The April calendar shows spring rites, art festivals, and new series opening everywhere.

Small groups and communities have resourcefully used Northwest artists and entertainers in programming slices of the fine arts. "Six Centuries of Choral Music" sung by the U.W. Madrigal Singers and Songcrafters will open the Fine Arts Festival at the University Unitarian Church at 7 p.m. Friday. Also included in the festival will be "Sound, Sight, and Motion," a combination of dance and art at 8 p.m. Saturday; a jazz-poetry reading by the Chuck Metcalf Jazz Group and Paul West at 3 p.m. Sunday; a reading of Negro poetry, "Counterpoint in Black," by Le Roi Jones and a production of his play, "The Dutchman," at 8 p.m. Sunday. There is a $1 admission charge for each event.

Shoreline Community College is offering a lecture series every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. entitled "The Arts and Seattle." Pirie MacDonald of the Seattle Rep will speak next Tuesday in the Little Theater, Greenland Avenue N. and 160th Street. Others in the series represent the musical, artistic and architectural aspects of Seattle. Tickets are $1.50 or 25 cents with a student body card.

THEATER
Shaw's "Arms and the Man" master's thesis production by James Kriley, S.U. graduate, at the U.W. Showboat, Thursday through Saturday. Call 543-5636 for reservations.

"The Bernard Shaw Story" performed by Bramwell Fletcher, famous Broadway actor, at A Contemporary Theatre, April 27 to May 7. Tickets are reserved for $3 but groups of 25 may go for $1.50 on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Pirie MacDonald will discuss the Repertory's production of Brecht's "Galileo," 10 p.m., Saturday, at Le Rapport Coffee House, 7716 Greenwood Ave. N. The play about a seventeenth century dispute between religion and science has electronic music for a background and a definite modern tenor. The five Ray Bradbury plays, glimpses of Irish life, continue for two more weeks at the Cirque. The cast includes has been American assistant to the superior general of the Society since 1960 when he was appointed by the late Very Rev. John Janssens. He was reappointed to that position by Fr. Arrupe last year.

Also accompanying Fr. Arrupe through the U.S. is the Very Rev. Vincent O'Keefe, S.J., general assistant to Fr. Arrupe. Fr. O'Keefe is former president of Fordham University.

The Very Rev. John Kelley, S.J., provincial of the Oregon province, will accompany the superior general's party through Washington. Fr. Kelley is a former executive vice president of S.U.

THE PROGRAM for the convocation honoring Fr. Arrupe tomorrow is as follows:

Presentation of Colors and National Anthem by the S.U. ROTC color guard and the S.U. band.

Invocation by the Very Rev. Richard Bradley, rector, Seattle Prep.

Welcome and introductions by the Very Rev. John Fitterer, S.J., president of S.U.

Introduction of Father General by Fr. Small.

Address by Fr. Arrupe.
Recessional by the S.U. band.

S.U. Chieftain Guard To Host Drill Meet

The Chieftain Guard, S.U. ROTC drill team, will host the third annual City of Seattle Invitational drill meet Saturday at Sand Point Naval Air Station.

A total of 10 teams will compete for the revolving trophy which is awarded to the overall champion. In addition to this trophy, permanent trophies will be given to the first four finishers and to the outstanding drill commander. All the trophies will be presented by Fr. Joseph Perri, S.J., vice president for university relations.

Defending champion Oregon State Army ROTC team will head the list of competitors. S.U. placed second last year after winning the title the first year. Commander of this year's Chieftain Guard is Cadet Col. Roger Smith. His executive officer is Roman Millet.

Other teams entered are: U.W. Army, Air Force and Navy units; University of Puget Sound Air Force; Gonzaga University Army; Central Washington Air Force; Idaho State Army, and Oregon State Navy.

The meet will also be highlighted by the first appearance of the Burgundy Bleus, newly formed girls' drill team. The girls are commanded by Marilyn Mossman. Second in command is Tessie Volpe. The girls' team will perform some time in the afternoon portion of the all-day program which runs from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In the morning the teams will do required drills with all teams doing the same movements. In the afternoon the teams will perform fancy drills. S.U. has put some new movements into its routine this year. The Guard, however, still retains its famous ripple drill.

There is no admission charged for the meet. Directions to the site of the meet can be obtained at the main gate.

Diamond Men Lose Two More

The Chieftain baseball team lost two games over the weekend, both to Oregon. Saturday the Ducks set down the Chiefs 7-1 and Sunday the score was 8-7.

In the second contest walks proved to be Seattle's downfall. In the final frame four straight walks gave Oregon its one run win. The first game loss was a result of poor hitting by the Chieftain batters.

Coach Eddie O'Brien used almost all of S.U.'s pitching staff to try to stop the rampaging Ducks. The S.U. pitchers credited with the losses were Jeff Sims and Paul LaBissonniere.

After 10 games eight Chiefs are hitting over .300: Lenny Fel-lez, .310; Bill Malecki, .300; Lar-ry Buzzard, .348; Lee Sherry, .600; Dave Borden, .300; Lou Stevenson, .333; Steve Looney, .500, and Mike Gonzales, .500.

Today the Chiefs meet the U.W. Huskies in a doubleheader at 1 p.m. at White Center play-field.

Staff Cops First Place

The S.U. rifle league ended the 1965-'66 season with no team undefeated.

In the regular season the Military Science staff tied Grandon's Grenadiers with 8-1 records. In a playoff match the Staff clobbered the Grenadiers to cop first place.

Following the top two teams, the Bonnie Patrol and Pele and the Kahunas tied for third with 7-2 marks. The Editors grabbed fourth with a 7-3.

The other places were as fol-lows: Hiyu Coolees, 6-2; Awk-ward Squad, 6-3; Nirvaneh, 6-3; Fossils, 5-5; Slop Shots, 4-6; M.S. III's, 3-6; Felons, 2-7, and Draft Dodgers, 2-8.

Mountaineering Class Organized

This spring and early sum-mer, there is a unique oppor-tunity being offered S.U. stu-dents to see the Northwest coun-try close up.

The opportunity offered is an experience of climbing some of the beautiful Cascade and Olym-pic mountain peaks.

THE MOUNTAIN E E R I N G course will start with a few of the smaller peaks and advance to some of the more challenging ones in the state of Washington. Instruction will be given while on the peaks themselves.

The starting peaks will prob-ably be in the Snoqualmie Pass area or the Monte Cristo Range, north of Stevens Pass. From these peaks the class plans to make ascents of Mt. St. Helens, Mt. Baker, a peak or two in the Olympics, and then a special July climb of Mt. Rainier.

INCLUDED AS part of the early experience will be instruc-tion and practice in rock climb-ing, use of the ice-axe, use of crampons, use of ropes and general climbing techniques.

Any interested students can contact either Dennis Harkins at 1016 Campion Tower or Tom Morris at LA 2-2305 after 5:30 p.m. this week. There will be an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in P 301.

Chieftain Golfers Tenth; Tennis Team Wins Three

The S.U. golf team fin-ished tenth at the Northern California Intercollegiate tourney in Santa Cruz, Calif. over the holidays.

The Chieftain team score was 620. Orrin Vincent shot rounds of 73-79 for a 152 total to lead the Seattle contingent.

THE OTHER S.U. duffers were John Van Doren, 156; Har-ry Jewell, 155; Mike Friel, 162; Terry Thomas, 166; and Jim Murphy, 167.

Of the field of 31 tournament teams, U.S.C. wound up as even-tual winner. The U.W. Huskies placed fifteenth with a 626 total.

The tennis team's trek into the hinterlands of California proved fruitful as the netmen posted three victories in five matches.

THE FIRST win was a 9-0 pasting of Southern Oregon; the second an 8-1 drubbing of Cali-fornia State; and the third a rain-abbreviated 6-0 slaughter of Santa Clara.

Bad luck hit the Chiefs against San Jose State. The staters edged Seattle 5-4. Stanford ac-counted for the other S.U. loss, beating the Chieftains 7-2.

TOM GORMAN, number one Chieftain, was undefeated in all five matches; Steve Hopps lost only once; and Gorman and Hopps went undefeated in dou-bles competition.

The team's record to date is five wins against three losses.

Controversial 'Pill' to Be Discussed ASSU Amendments On Senate Agenda

By EMMETT LANE

"Love, Passion and the Pill" is the topic for discussion at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Pigott Auditorium. The "Pill" is the first of seven scheduled topics for the UFA spring quarter for the University Family Action (UFA) spring quarter Thursday night discussions.

The purpose is to promote thought and dialogue on topics relevant to the present generation and to their personal Christian commitment and that of the university.

The format of the discussions, open to all members of the university family—students, faculty and administration—will be the same as last quarter. All discussions, except tomorrow's will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Chieftain Lounge.

Tomorrow's discussion leaders are Dr. Raymond Clark, M.D., chief of staff at Providence Hospital; Mr. Fritz Hull, Presbyterian minister and youth counselor; Mrs. Vivian Hull; Fr. James Robinson, O.S.B., of S.U.'s theology department.

Topic of the April 21 discussion, co-sponsored with Alpha Sigma Nu, Gamma Pi Epsilon and Silver Scroll is "A Core Critique." Leaders are: Fr. Robert Bradley, S.J., dean of Arts and Sciences; Fr. Gerard Steckler, S.J., head of S.U.'s history department and several student panelists.

Those discussing "The Draft" on April 28 will be Dr. Richard Collins, of S.U.'s political science department; Mr. Soren Sorenson, a conscientious objector, and a selective service representative.

"The Role of the Faculty in a University" will be discussed May 5. Panelists are unknown at the present time.

The May 12 topic, "God—Dead or Alive? The Relevance of Religion in the University" will be discussed by Rabbi Arthur Jacobowitz of S.U.'s theology department. Other panelists for this talk will be announced later.

"Homosexuality — Sin, Sickness or Way of Life" will be discussed May 19 by Dr. James Riley, head of counseling and testing, and other unannounced panelists.

The UFA, a CAP section, will also sponsor "Student Government—Myth or Reality" at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Pigott Auditorium.

Two constitutional amendments, another addition to the long list of legislation on the Spirits and a request for $1,000 for the President's Weekend will be the main items up for consideration when the student senate meets tomorrow night at 7 p.m. in the Chieftain conference room.

The constitutional amendments, one on the chartering of clubs and the second on the judicial board, will be put on a ballot for final voting by the student body if they are passed by the senators.

THE AMENDMENT on the charters defines the charters and outlines procedure for their use and approval. A related bill before the senate would require that each chartered club give a copy of its constitution to all new members.

The judicial amendment would change the makeup of the board, eliminating the sophomore members and allowing for only seven members—four seniors and three juniors.

The judicial board amendment would also extend the power of the board to "decide, and, when necessary, pass sentence in disciplinary proceedings initied by any member of the ASSU or the faculty of S.U., in those areas delegated to the ASSU by the dean of students."

THE REQUEST for the President's Weekend includes: band contracts, $400; refreshments, $205; flowers, $125; trophies, $65; invitations, $65, and miscellaneous, $140. The amount will come from the reserved portion of the senate general fund. The fund contains $1,000, the amount of the request.

A by-law to the constitution concerning the Spirits defines Spirits and procedure for its operation. Membership would be limited to 200 students, to be "screened to evaluate interest and desire." The amendment makes no mention of membership fee or a reserved section at basketball games for members.

The ISCM will begin their meetings April 22. There will be an informal coffee hour in the afternoon in Buhr 412 for students to meet the members of the society. That evening at 8:30 the ISCM will present a projection concert by the San Francisco Tape Music Center.

April 23 the American Musicological Society will present papers on the experimental spirit from 10 a.m.-noon and from 2-4 p.m.

At 8:30 p.m. the ISCM will present a concert featuring works of Gesualdo, Webern Opus 24 and Pousseur's Madrigal No. 2 (1961). Alastair Hood, a local composer, will direct the chorus that sings his own "Three Songs."

Let's hear it for the cheerleaders!

Everybody cheers for ice-cold Coca-Cola. Coke has the taste you never get tired of... always refreshing. That's why things go better with Coke... after Coke... after Coke.
