Engineers win awards; regional contest next

Three S.U. engineering students were named winners in competitions recently at Washington State University and the University of Idaho.

Frank Hoare, a senior mechanical engineering major, attended the 35th annual Region IX student conference of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in Pullman last week.

HOARE, who is president of S.U.'s chapter of ASME, presented a paper on "Air Bearing Dynamics" and was awarded first place overall in the conference. As a regional winner he will compete against nine other students in the national contest next November 28 in Washington, D.C. He received a cash prize of $100.

Another S.U. student, Kim Lee, placed third in the conference. The senior mechanical engineering student's paper on "Static Mixing" was worth $50 in prize money.

Bill Crone, senior electrical engineering student, participated in the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers subregional contest in Moscow, Idaho, on April 24. Also represented were Washington State and the University of Idaho.

CONTESTANTS were required to present a paper and an oral talk. Crone's paper dealt with an "Anti-Collision Device for Automobiles," a device which he has built and tested. Crone, who is chairman of the IEEE student branch at S.U., received $30 for finishing second.

Lay members to join larger trustee group

Provisions for a larger, restructured Board of Trustees, which will include lay members, will be in effect by next fall, according to an announcement made last Thursday at a joint meeting of the Trustees and the Board of Regents.

THE JOINT BOARDS also called for completion of the revision of the Articles of Incorporation and the University By-Laws. This revision, undertaken last year by the Trustees, must be completed before laymen can be seated on that presently all-Jesuit board.

The Very Rev. Louis Gaffney, S.J., will continue to serve as Acting President while the nation-wide search for a permanent President continues.

The report of the Presidential Search Committee, chaired by Dr. Ray Howard, was a major factor in the decision of the Trustees and Regents to restructure the trustee board.

THE COMMITTEE stressed the need for a change in by-laws which would permit consideration of a larger number of presidential applicants.

Neither Fr. Gaffney nor Fr. Joseph Perri, S.J., trustee secretary, was available for comment on the decisions.

Eight seniors earn Army commissions

Eight graduating seniors have been commissioned second lieutenants in the U.S. Army after finishing their ROTC requirements here. Five of them are distinguished military students.

DISTINGUISHED graduates include Richard Kettlewell, Stephen Kriken and Joe Zavaglia, all of Seattle; Robert Dufficy, Mercer Island; and Robert Santillan Jr., Rosemead, Calif.

Kriken and Gary Bushman, Santa Ana, Calif., were also ROTC scholarship students.

Others commissioned include Patrick Fuller and William Ledray, both of Seattle.

Fuller, with a reserve commission in Infantry, will report to Ft. Benning, Ga.; Kettlewell, reserve commission in Infantry, and Kriken, reserve commission in Quartermaster Corps, will also report to Ft. Benning.

LEDRAY, reserve commission in Air Defense Artillery, will go to Ft. Bliss, Tex., as will Santillan, Regular Army commission in Air Defense Artillery.

Zavaglia, reserve commission in Military Police, will report to Ft. Gordon, Ga. as will Bushman, Regular Army commission in the Signal Corps.

Dufficy, reserve commission in Medical Service X Corps, will report to Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

President promises faculty lists

Complete lists of instructors returning to teach each year will be made available to students from now on, the student senate was told last night.

ASSU first vice president Lindsey Draper told the senators that the Very Rev. Louis Gaffney, S.J., acting president, made the promise in a meeting with the ASSU executive board last week.

FR. GAFFNEY, Draper said, promised to instruct each department head to prepare a list for release every spring, naming each faculty member returning the next year.

The ASSU officers had asked for disclosure of all faculty members terminated, but Fr. Gaffney, speaking at a senate meeting last week, objected to this on the grounds that termination was an instructor's private affair.

AS A COMPROMISE measure it was decided to disclose the names of those teachers returning without mentioning those who would not, for whatever reason.

In other business, the senate did its spring housecleaning, clearing up a long list of minor items left over from other sessions.

APPROVED WAS a long-awaited bicycle rack, a $64 18-bicycle metal model made by Columbia Distributing, a local firm.

The rack will be imbedded in the mall between the bookstore and the Cultural Center.

THE SENATE also approved six presidential appointees to head the Homecoming and Freshman Orientation committees.

Bryce McWalter, Jennifer

Pecot, and Miké Moothart were named to Homecoming. Jim Farro, Frank Siderius and Colleen Kinerk will head Freshman Orientation.

A constitutional amendment changing the working period of the financial board from fall to spring quarter was quickly passed. It will now go to the students in Friday's election.

THE VOTE to name a senate representative to the board ended in a tie between Sen. Dave Mariatt and Sen. Richard Otto. Draper decided the vote in favor of Otto by flipping a coin, but the action was protested by the senators.

A second vote was taken in executive session, again ending in a tie, again decided by Draper in favor of Otto, but this time without the coin toss. Mariatt will serve as an alternate.

Geritol mentality . . .

Nearly half the seats in the Student Senate will be up for grabs in next week's important ASSU elections, but it appears that few students are especially anxious to grab them.

ALTHOUGH IT IS obvious that so many new faces could give the Senate a new, more purposeful direction, the number of candidates remains typically low. In fact, as of yesterday afternoon, there were a total of four candidates for the seven positions.

With all the agitation for student involvement in the University's decision making process, that sort of pitiful figure makes us wonder just what type of stupor has gripped S.U. The long lethargic Senate badly needs a transfusion of new blood, but it seems most of the student body has already settled into a Geritol mentality.

WE DON'T think it will happen, but we'd like to see some hotly contested elections with real issues and reasonable platforms.

Without student support, the senate will continue to flounder aimlessly, despite the efforts of those few who still believe it can actually serve as a representative body.

Fr. Earl attends to priestly needs

by Shari Quest

Tending to all the temporal needs of the Jesuits at S.U. involves Father Arthur Earl, S.J., Father Minister, in a wide range of administrative work.

Father Earl was appointed to the post four years ago. He also is a professor of accounting at S.U.

HIS DUTIES as Father Minister include supervision of dining room and kitchen facilities, provision of cars for the Jesuits, purchase of all community supplies, serving as prefect of health, and caring for housing of all visitors.

"We also supply the parishes with Sunday supply calls," Fr. Earl said. This entails the dispensing of priests to say Masses, administer sacraments and other parish duties upon request.

As prefect of health, he is in charge of procuring medical aid and hospital care for the Jesuits, as well as arranging insurance coverage for them.

SUPERVISING dining facilities involves him in the buying of staples and supervision of the help. In this, Fr. Earl said that his assistant, Brother David Ronald, S.J., was indispensable. "There are infinite numbers of details," he said. "Without him, I couldn't make it!" Brother Ronald also assists him with the providing of cars for the Jesuits.

All supplies are purchased from wholesale houses with funds provided by the University, Mass stipends and fees collected for Sunday supply calls.

Although priests can purchase articles independently, such items must be authorized by Fr. Earl.

"THEY HAVE to have permission from the minister to buy anything," Fr. Earl said. "But about the only thing they have to buy on permission is clothing." The rest of the goods are furnished by a community-kept supply.

There is no fixed allotment for the priests, individually or collectively. Supplies are instead furnished "... as they need them," Fr. Earl said.

FR. EARL

Even for such major expenses as trips home in case of family emergencies, the community funds finance the transportation.

Fr. Earl said that the vow of poverty formed the basis for the need of the post of "Father Minister". He explained that the system of communal living was instituted to encourage generosity, brotherhood, sharing and awareness for the need of one another.

"NONE OF THE community 'owns' anything," he continued. "Common Life" is another way to express it. There are no such things as personal bank accounts."

Fr. Earl said that the S.U. budget cutbacks have affected the Jesuit temporal allotment funds.

"We've made our cutbacks—and some of them are substantial," he said. The tightening has affected no special area of needs, but instead has affected everything, from personal purchase grants to staple provision. Father Earl said that there has nevertheless been no difficulty in meeting personal requests.

FR. EARL said that to his knowledge the dispensation of goods to the priests was never done any differently than through one ministerial priest.

"It's traditional," he said. "The superior, of necessity, couldn't take care of all the temporalities. The superior has to deal with the overall government of the community."

Fr. Earl is originally from South Dakota. He joined the Jesuits in 1930 and came to S.U. in 1944, directly after his studies for the priesthood.

Asked about outside interests and hobbies, he replied that he "just can't find the time." Considering the variety of duties he is involved with as Father Minister, he smiled, "Too much to do!"

John Logan, anthologized contemporary American poet, will read from his own works at noon today in the second floor Chieftain lounge.

Logan edits Choice and teaches at Buffalo University, Buffalo, N.Y.

His appearance is sponsored by the English department and ASSU.

unity mass

A Mass for unity, sponsored by the Associated Women Students and featuring a U.W. coed as speaker, will be offered on the front lawn of the Liberal Arts building tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

Terry Forhan, a student at the U.W., will deliver the homily. Chairman of the Mass is Paula Wheeldon. All students are invited to participate.

Artwork was donated by Trevor T. Watson, Seattle artist and designer.

FRAGMENTS will sell for $.75 in the S.U. bookstore and other bookstores around the city which will agree to handle the publication, MacLean continued.

"We hope to make enough money from sales to support the publication as it goes along," he explained, "rather than drain student funds."

celibacy II

To the Editor:

The analysis of priestly celibacy by Frs. King, Greene and Delmore was excellent and interesting. Surveys other than that of NORC have also indicated motivations other than "loneliness" for leaving the ministry. Summing up both Protestant and Catholic recent surveys, Mike Mailway's P-I column for May 3 states: "Among Catholic priests who choose to leave the church, so-called 'stubborn leadership' is cited as the No. 1 reason."

The Gallagher Presidents' Report of two years ago prepared for interested company executives, surveyed 231 former Catholic priests. Although 73 percent of these former priests did name celibacy as their major reason for leaving the active ministry, note the high percentages in other reasons they cited: 63 percent, the irrelevancy of their Church work; 61 percent, ethical differences with the Church; 47.8 percent, theological differences (problems of faith); and 43.7 percent, relationship with Church authorities.

IN MISS Quest's well-written article Fr. Greene mentioned that "unmarried clergy would continue to have more respect from the people . . ." Why? The answer, I respectfully submit, is the dual value of priestly celibacy both as a precious sacrifice to God and a witnessing to the ultimate goal of all Christians. Herein I shall do little more than repeat the cogent reasons offered by Pope Paul VI in his fine Encyclical on Priestly Celibacy, June 24, 1967.

Although the single state, according to Vatican-II, is not demanded by the very nature of the priesthood, the Council did solemnly reaffirm the "ancient, sacred and providential law of priestly celibacy." Here I should note that the following statement by one commentator in your article is somewhat inaccurate: "Priests of the Eastern . . . Rites are permitted to marry . . ." The Apostolic Constitutions of the Eastern Churches (a.d. 400) forbade deacons, priest and Bishops to marry after their ordination; hence, candidates intending to marry would have to do so before the diaconate-ordination. This is still in binding effect. And only celibate priests are chosen for the episcopacy in the East.

OF GREAT importance are the statements of Paul VI that indicate the deep connection between celibacy and the shared priesthood of Jesus Christ. That is, the celibacy of Christ signified His total dedication to the service of God and men; and this total commitment is reflected in those today who share the priestly mission of the Eternal Priest.

Also, Paul VI pointed out that the priest's celibacy is a symbol of the supremacy of the value of the Kingdom over every other earthly value. It is also a witness to the final goal of all Christians in Heaven, anticipating that "new world" where "they shall neither marry nor be given in marriage . . ."

AS SPIRITUAL DIRECTORS point out, it is expected and normal that priests should like women. And herein is the spiritual significance of celibacy. Surely its greatest value lies in the priest's loving offering to God of a precious sacrificial-gift: the pleasure of union with a wife and children. Certainly Almighty God is highly pleased with this great human self-renunciation, and the priest reaps countless hidden and consoling rewards from it. It is inconceivable that the Holy Spirit would offer anyone the grace of a vocation in the contemporary Western Church without also granting the grace to fulfill the annexed obligation of celibacy.

As a black priest, Fr. Lawrence Lucas, puts it: "Celibacy leaves me free to give more of myself to more people . . . to give myself totally and permanently." However, this would not contradict my own view that worthy candidates, already married, should in the future be received into the priesthood of the Western Catholic Church.

Finally, the great number of apostolically fulfilled and happy priests still witnesses to the fact that God gives abundant graces to fulfill our privileged obligation of Christlike celibacy. As a married Protestant minister once put it to me: "You Catholic priests have a wonderful spiritual asset in celibacy. Why do you want to throw it away?"

Fr. Bill Prasch, S.J.

Yakima, Olympic CC fall in doubleheaders

Two triumphant doubleheader sweeps over Yakima Community College 9-2 and 10-4 on Friday and a pair of wins against Olympic Community College, 5-1 and 4-1 on Saturday boosted the Chiefs record to 18-5.

Lon Copenhaver then rifled the ball over the popular left field fence for a two-run homer sending the score to 3-0.

After Joe D'Ambrosio walked and starting pitcher Rich Newton's sacrifice fly in the second inning, Pat Smith carried the ball off the left field wires for a double and scored D'Ambrosio.

The S.U. nine capitalized on a flurry of their own hits, and Yakima errors in the fifth inning to end their scoring at nine.

The second game was a replay of the first. Again it was in the early innings of the ball game that the Chiefs disabled Yakima.

Gross signs letter of intent

Bob Gross, a 6'7" forward from San Pedro, California, signed a letter of intent with head basketball coach Bucky Buckwalter last Wednesday.

Gross was contacted by over 100 other schools including this year's NCAA champs, UCLA. The University of Southern California and Jacksonville are just a few others that approached Gross.

"Bob Gross is the best all-around freshman basketball player S.U. has recruited in many years. We are extremely pleased he has chosen our school," Buckwalter commented. During the 1970-71 season Gross averaged 20 points, 14 rebounds, 10 assists and 12 blocked shots per game.

Lasuen High School in San Pedro will be Gross' alma mater after June. Bob is the brother of Dick Gross, who started as a guard on the S.U. freshman Papoose team this past season.

The Chiefs pulled out another doubleheader Saturday against Olympic Community College.

Art Lagreid, Chieftain catcher, was the hero in the first game, with his two doubles scoring one run and knocking in two others.

Lagreid's teammate, Bob Polaski, took over heroism in the second game after Pat Smith had tripled to right field. Polaski ended the 1-1 ninth inning tie when he drove an inside-the-park homer scoring Smith.

CREW

The Chieftain lightweight crew fought its way to a first and second place finish in the Corvallis Invitational Regatta last weekend.

In the first heat, the Chieftains powered to an early lead and successfully held it against surges from the Oregon State boat. Near the 1,000 meter mark of the 2,000 meter course, Oregon State attempted to take the lead, but was matched by the Chiefs, who rowed to finish first in 6:41. Oregon State's time was 6:45 with St. Mary's finishing third at 7:35.

The Chiefs faced the undefeated University of Washington light-weights and Oregon State in the final. Oregon State jumped to an early lead and was ahead of S.U. by half a boat length at the 1,000 meter mark with U.W. holding a decisive lead.

The Chieftains caught Oregon State with 500 meters left and out-pulled them in the last ten strokes to finish in 6:40.6, four-tenths of a second ahead of Oregon State's 6:41. The U.W. finished first in 6:24.5.

In the Jayvee eight race, S.U. was defeated by a strong Oregon State junior varsity. The Chief junior varsity missed getting into the final heat by a close for tenths of a second.

GOLF

The Chieftain golf team finished second out of a field of 14 in the Eastern Washington Invitational at Spokane last Thursday and Friday.

S.U. trailed the winning University of Oregon team by 12 shots. After the first day of the tournament the Chiefs were one shot behind Oregon.

S.U.'s Jim Brady shot 70-74 and finished as the second best individual score for the tournament.

Chieftain netters fall in vollies against Stanford, Cal-Berkeley

"I don't feel badly at all. I think we played all right. You know it's awfully tough to play schools like Stanford and California."

THAT WAS the Chieftain head tennis coach Mark Frisby's remark after two 9-0 defeats against Stanford on Friday and University of California at Berkeley on Saturday.

Rosco Tanner, who is seeded the number one amateur in the country, walloped Chief Mike Prineas 6-1, 6-4.

Prineas did not play his usual game because, "I was too tight. I didn't get started until the second set. It was the first time that I can remember that I was really so nervous about a match," he said.

Other results from the match against Stanford were:

Singles: Tanner def. Prineas 6-1, 6-4; Sandy Mayer def. Don Gerstmer 6-4, 2-6, 6-2; Rick Fisher def. Warren Farmer 6-3, 6-3; Stan Pisarell def. Gary Dankleson 6-1, 6-2; Paul Sidone def. Dave Merrill 6-2, 6-0; Gary Grolimond def. John Galbraith 6-1, 6-0.

Doubles: Tanner-Mayer def. Prineas-Farmer 6-3, 6-4; Fisher-Pisarell def. Galbraith-Wenzel 6-2, 6-4; Sidone-Rick Evans def. Gerstmer-Merrill 6-3, 6-4.

SCORES from Saturday's match against California were:

Singles: Bob Allo def. Farmer 7-6, 7-5; Steve Stefanki def. Prineas 6-7, 6-2, 7-5; Larry Parker def. Gerstmer default; Mike Mullan def. Dankleson 6-1, 6-1; Pete Campbell def. Merrill 6-0, 7-5; Randy Thomas def. Galbraith 6-2, 6-0.

Doubles: Stefanki-Mullan def. Farmer-Prineas 6-2, 7-6; Campbell-Alloo def. Wenzel-Galbraith 7-5, 7-5; Parker-Thomas def. John Aldred-Merrill 6-1, 6-1.

Results from Sunday's 6-3 win over Mercer Island Tennis Club are:

Singles: Prineas def. Thayer Bliss 6-1, 6-2; Arnold Brotman def. Galbraith 6-4, 4-6, 6-0; Mark Frisby def. Merrill 7-6, 6-4; Tom Wenzel def. Bob Bratton 6-2, 6-1; Dankleson def. Royal Goldfarb 6-1, 6-2; Aldred def. Mike Green 6-4, 6-7, 6-4.

DOUBLES: Wenzel-Galbraith def. Bliss-Brotman 3-6, 7-5, 6-2; Prineas-Dankleson def. Ivan Hatfield and Frisby 3-6, 6-3, 7-6; Paul Moore-Pete Moote def. Aldred-Merrill 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

MIKE PRINEAS shows his overhand form in one of the Chief's two losses last weekend. Prineas played the Chiefs' number one slot in the California match.

Gerstmar departs court before California match

Tennis ace Don Gerstmar left the court abruptly Saturday afternoon, shortly after being introduced in a match against the University of California.

He was immediately suspended from the squad by head tennis coach Mark Frisby.

GERSTMAR said he left the court for "personal reasons."

"When you don't like the system," he said, "the best way to beat it is to leave. That's what I did."

Gerstmar, who has played in the team's second slot all season, was moved to third for the Cal match.

COACH Frisby explained that he put Warren Farmer, normally third, into first place for this game because Farmer had met Cal's number one player in previous matches during the summer.

Farmer, it was felt, would stand a better chance against him than Mike Prineas, who normally plays number one. So Prineas moved into the number two slot, bumping Gerstmar into number three.

And Gerstmar walked off the court.

Coach Frisby said he felt Gerstmar "never really knew what it meant to play for a team."

GERSTMAR said he hoped "I didn't hurt anybody by the action I took," but felt he had to leave the court.

He said his placement in the number three slot was not the only reason for quitting. Friction has arisen between Gerstmar and the coaching staff before.

At the beginning of the season, athletic director Eddie O'Brien asked him to shave his beard and told him he would have to wear a hat if he wanted to continue to play with long hair. Gerstmar agreed.

SUSPENSION from the S.U. squad could cause Gerstmar to be banned from future tournaments in the Northwest, possibly around the country.

A point definitely not in his favor was the fact that the president of the Lawn and Tennis Association witnessed his walk-out Saturday.

"There is no reason for me to be banned from any tournaments," Gerstmar said, "I have not harmed the Northwest or anyone else."

Coach Frisby gave a formal statement detailing the incident to O'Brien yesterday.

Menehunes squeak by I.K.'s, 1-0; remain on top in intramural play

by Ed Crafton

The Menehunes softball team squeaked by the Intercollegiate Knights 1-0, Sunday afternoon at Washington Park, to take sole possession of first place in league play.

It was a close game with both teams getting opportunities to win. It was nearly a perfectly played game. The number of mistakes could be counted on one hand.

IT WAS A scoreless game going into the bottom of the sixth. With the Menehunes at bat, they proceeded to make two quick outs. Then Mitch Ikeda lofted the ball over second base which deflected off the glove of Tom Villiers, sending Ikeda to second.

Al Lacro stepped up and sent a shot past a driving and stumbling George Wilber at third, to send Ikeda home for the 1-0 lead for the Menehunes. Ryan Nishikawa ended the inning when he hit a fly ball to left field.

The I.K.'s went into the seventh and last inning trying to recover from the lone run. Panisko lead off by flying out to left field. John Feurstien then pinch hit for Villiers and popped out to the first baseman.

WITH TWO OUT, Rich Cook was called safe on an error by the shortstop, Stan Tomasa. Bob Chambers was sent in to pinch-run for Cook.

Chambers was forced out at second base on Tim Proctor's ground ball to Tomasa, who flipped it to Stan Ching at second to end the game.

Leading hitters for the victorious Menehunes were Roger Murakami with a perfect two-for-two, with Tomasa, Lacro and Nishikawa chipping in with singles.

Top scramblers for the I.K.'s were Joe Fioretti and Proctor with two singles apiece, Cook with a triple and Wilber, John Nichols and Panisko all with singles.
